

NO. 20,956

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER
POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON: TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1933

**

COPYRIGHT, 1933, BY THE
WASHINGTON POST PUBLISHING CO.

THREE CENTS

U. S. Seeks British Pact
To Bar War
Of CurrencyTreasury Launches Move to Save Dollar From Interference.France Considers Embargo on GoldMarkets Lag as Price of Yellow Metal Gets Another Boost.

By Elliott Thurston.

Heroic efforts are being made by Treasury and Federal Reserve System officials to avert an international currency war and to reach an understanding with the British Treasury and Bank of England that will theoretically free the dollar from speculative or equalization fund interference with its depreciation in foreign exchange.

Treasury and Federal Reserve authorities, who believe ruinous results would follow if the administration went through with its foreign gold buying on an extensive scale, struggled all day yesterday to moderate the newly pronounced policy through some accord with the British.

To this end the Federal Reserve Board held two special meetings. Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British Treasury adviser, turned from the now paralyzed war debt negotiations to confer at length with Acting Secretary Dean Acheson and Eugene Black, governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Confer With President.

Mr. Black went to the White House later for further consultation with President Roosevelt, who also called in George Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

Meanwhile, though the dollar depreciated by more than 10 cents against the pound, stock and commodity markets failed to respond to the Administration's latest move to buy foreign gold as a device for forcing the dollar down and commodity prices up.

Another boost in the economic then Finance Corporation's posted price for newly-mined domestic gold, this time to $21.50 an ounce, 14 cents above Saturday's price, likewise failed once more to drive the commodity price level upward.

World markets, puzzled as was Wall Street and most of official Washington, doubted that the Roosevelt Administration would actually precipitate an international currency battle but prepared for retaliation and defense if the new presidential order to the R. F. C. to buy gold in world markets should

Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

Paris Payment
Faces DefaultSarrat Cabinet Expected to Dodge Debt Question
Before Chamber.

Paris, Oct. 30 (AP).—The French government was represented in official quarters today as intending to default on the $22,200,000 war debt payment due the United States December 15.

The new cabinet of Premier Albert Sarraut, it was said semi-officially, will not raise the troublesome debt question when it goes before the chamber of deputies early next month with a fiscal program.

This policy will cause former Premier Herriot, an advocate of payment, to stay away from Parliament because his participation would revive the problem, according to semi-official spokesmen.

M. Herriot has been ill.

Capital Withdrawn.

It was learned at the Treasury that much foreign capital had been withdrawn from its refuge in France, with the result that the dollar quotation has gone up. It was estimated that foreign capital remaining did not exceed 10,000,000 francs (now about $600,000,000).

In recent weeks it has been said Parliament would be asked to consider either flat repudiation or a possible lump sum proposal in an effort to end 15 years of discussion on the debt problem.

The debt, about $3,863,650,000, is roughly one-third of the total Europe owes Uncle Sam from the World War. Failure to pay installments due last December 15 and June 15 left the French about $80,000,000 in arrears.

Official quarters have indicated

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Zeppelin Half Way
To Azores Islands

Hamburg, Germany, Oct. 30 (AP).—The Nautical Institute announced as its latest information a message that the Graf Zeppelin at 7 p. m. today was at latitude 40°30' north, longitude 42°18' west, half way between Newfoundland and the Azores.

The dirigible is returning from Chicago.

HEINZ SPANKNOEBEL, alleged Nazi propaganda chief in U. S., who is being hunted as a Federal grand jury opens its inquiry into his activities.

Agent of Nazis
"Leaving U. S."
His Note SaysNew York Probers Told Spanknoebel Sailed on German Liner.

New York, Oct. 30 (AP).—As a Federal grand jury investigated his alleged Nazi activities, authorities sought tonight to answer the question:

Where is Heinz Spanknoebel?

Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, president of the League of Friends of New Germany, handed United States Attorney George Z. Medalla a letter purportedly from Spanknoebel which he said was slipped under his door Sunday.

In it, Spanknoebel—sought on a Federal warrant charging him with representing himself as a German government official without recognition from the American State Department—said:

"I am going to leave the United States of America somewhere."

Sender Being Aired.

The letter, handed to Medalla before the grand jury session, further said:

"You know that I did not leave because of being afraid and I am able to acquit myself against the heavy charges and slanderous accusations, but because I can not and will not find justice facing Jewish judges."

Julius Hofelder in a letter to Col. James A. Moss, president of the United States Flag Association—calling for an investigation on Nazi activities—said he had information that Spanknoebel left New York on the German liner Deutschland last Wednesday night.

Griebel, one of the prominent German-Americans called before the grand jury today, is a surgeon in the United States Army Reserve Corps.

Other witnesses were Bernard and Victor Ridder, publishers of the New York Staats-Zeitung, who charged Spanknoebel tried to establish a censorship of their newspaper after showing credentials reputedly from Berlin.

Absent From Hearing.

Spanknoebel, allegedly the chief of an American Nazi movement, failed to appear last week at a hearing called by Mayor John P. O'Brien on the petition of the United German Societies to use a city-owned armory for a "German Day" celebration—an annual affair.

In the letter reportedly from Spanknoebel, it was said, "I certainly hope they (citizens of German descent) demand for themselves the same right as any other citizens of this country—that is, the privilege of free speech. They can not be deprived of this, even if it is against the boycott which not only harms Germany, but even America more."

Proclaiming an admiration for President Roosevelt, the letter said it was the duty of every naturalized citizen to "stand up for his native country which it is dishonored and boycotted."

Civil Service Under Attack
For Banning Those Over 40

Reduction to a flexible limit of 40 years in the age of persons taking Civil Service examinations yesterday drew sharp criticism from Representative Cochran (Democrat), of Missouri.

The commission cut from 50 to 40 the age limit for stenographers and typists and from 50 to 35 the age maximum for under card-punch operators, junior tabulating machine operators and junior calculating machine operators.

Officials explained the lowered limits would not apply to persons receiving preference for military service or to aspirants for technical, professional or scientific positions. The new policy, however, will be followed in all clerical and allied occupations.

"If the Government," Cochran said, "rules that men and women over 45 can not enter the service, private industry will follow the Government's example and decline

G. O. P. Lays Broken Faith
To RooseveltPamphlet Asserts Most Major Promises Are Forgotten.Charges 2 Sets of Books
Keep U. S. in Dark on Expenditures.

In its first official attack on the National Administration, the Republican National committee, in a pamphlet called "Let's Look at the Record," accuses President Roosevelt of having broken nearly all the important pledges made in the Democratic platform and in his pre-election speeches.

The pamphlet is in six sections, covering the monetary policy, the promised reduction in Federal expenses, the public works program, agriculture, the tariff and numerous miscellaneous subjects.

In regard to the monetary program, the committee charges the President, by signing the bill authorizing currency inflation, by advocating managed currency and by refusing to subscribe to the monetary policy proposed by the London Conference, repudiated the pledge of the Democratic platform promising sound currency and an international monetary agreement, and that he broke his own promises of the same nature.

Charges "Two Sets of Books."

It charges that the promise of a 25 per cent reduction in the cost of Federal Government has not been kept, that promises to abolish old bureaus have been followed by creation of new ones and that the Administration "keeps two sets of books to deceive taxpayers."

In a list against the Public Works Administration, the committee says the Roosevelt administration has failed to keep its promise to put 1,000,000 men to work on public works, that only 5,000 have been employed, that public works are delayed by the "spoils system," and that President Roosevelt is personally responsible.

The entire program of the Roosevelt administration, in its relation to agriculture, has been a complete repudiation of the Democratic platform and the pledges of Roosevelt himself, the pamphlet charges, adding that Roosevelt in his speeches denounced the Republican program for acreage reduction and then put it in effect.

Tariff Program Hit.

The Democratic platform pledged to lower the tariff, but has been broken by provisions for a higher tariff, the pamphlet says, and President Roosevelt's denunciation of the policy of making loans to foreign countries to stimulate exports was followed by arrangements for a loan money to Russia and China.

The Republican committee further charges that President Roosevelt denounced taxing foodstuffs and followed this with the agricultural program based entirely on food taxes.

Despite Democratic pledges, the committee says, bank depositors have become "forgotten men," and the New Deal is urging unsafe banking to bolster the NRA program. It charges that the Democratic platform promised that antitrust laws would be strengthened.

Continued on Page 3, Column 6.

Maxim Litvinoff
Arrives in ParisMystery of Delayed Trip
From Berlin Unsolved.

Paris, Oct. 30 (AP).—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, was in the French capital tonight en route to the United States.

He arrived today, ending but not solving the mystery of his trip from Berlin, which he left Saturday with the apparent intention of reaching Paris yesterday. What caused his apparent delay en route was not revealed.

Although no official statement was made as to his plans, it was understood he probably would see Foreign Minister Paul-Boncour of France, as he did Foreign Minister Von Neurath, of Germany.

Will Leave Here Nov. 17
for Warm Springs.

President Roosevelt will leave Washington, November 17, for Warm Springs, Ga., where he will remain until after Thanksgiving.

On his way to Warm Springs he will stop at Savannah to participate in the bicentennial celebration of the founding of the Georgia colony. On his return trip he may inspect the Tennessee Valley power project.

The President will stay at the health resort which he founded at Warm Springs.

D. C. Man at Reno

To Quit 2 Wives

Reno, Nev., Oct. 30 (AP).—Noah Stanley, of Washington, D. C., today filed suit to divorce two wives.

Judge Thomas F. Moran granted him an annulment of his marriage to Carrie Stanley late today. They have one child, 17 months old.

Then Stanley filed suit for divorce from Jennie Stanley, of Lansing, N. J., whom he married at Perth Amboy in May, 1928.

Jennie Stanley deserted him in 1928. Informing she had died, Stanley married the second Mrs. Stanley at Baltimore on Aug. 25, 1930.

Waltman, Winner
Of Pugsley Prize,
Joins Post Staff

Franklyn Waltman, Jr., has joined The Washington Post.

Mr. Waltman, since 1928, has been associated with the Washington bureau of the Baltimore Sun. Previously he was State political reporter of the Sun, frequently covering political events in Virginia.

He was unanimous choice for the Pugsley Journalistic Award of $1,000 for the most noteworthy work by a Washington correspondent during 1932 on the basis of his stories describing the visit of the Forbes commission to Haiti.

Rebel Frsh
Battle Sophs
At Maryland U.First-Year Men Scurry
From Dormitories in Smoke Barrage.

A barrage of black smoke, unloosed by irate sophomores sent rebellious freshmen scurrying from their dormitories at the University of Maryland after a night of fist-fights between the classes.

The smoke bombs set off in the basement of Sylvester Hall, and filtered through the halls, sent the freshmen to the campus, clad in pajamas.

Earlier, the overloads of the freshmen had stormed the dormitory and gave it a thorough wetting with a fire hose, before the sophomore men were able to wrest it from them.

The university's rebels against hallowed tradition were gathering early today for a counter-assault on the sophomores quartered in Talburt Hall, while the policemen scratched his head in perplexity, hopelessly outnumbered and without a friend on the campus.

Frosh Dictate Rules.

Flaunting the oldest traditions of college life, the freshmen issued a set of rules for the sophomore to observe, and the sophomore classmen as "weak and doddering."

Then things started to happen. Angered by egotism of the "kids," the sophomores and frosh had a fist fight, with few casualties.

State Patrolman R. F. Lewis intervened, but without lasting results. One freshman took it on the run across the campus, with a flock of sophomores at his heels.

They laid hold of him and Officer Lewis decided to take the sophomores to the police station. Instantly he was surrounded by a score of his classmates, who issued the ultimatum: "Don't lock up sophomores."

Discreet, This Officer.

Deciding that discretion is the better part of valor, Lewis released them. Outraged at the action, the sophomores stormed Sylvester Hall and were well on the way to flooding it with a fire hose, when again Officer Lewis intervened and succeeded in halting the wetting down process, without, however, escaping unscathed.

Five rules were enumerated which the freshmen said the sophomores must follow:

1—All sophomores must say "sir" to freshmen.

2—Sophomores must discontinue cutting across the campus.

3—Sophomores must come to cheer practice three times a week, "stag."

4—Sophomores shall wait until frosh have entered the dining room to take their seats.

5—Sophomores shall purchase "rat" caps from freshmen at a "reasonable price," the price to be determined by freshmen, and wear these caps "religiously, morning, and night."

The freshmen announcement was signed by the three nominees for class president: John E. Downing, of Hyattsville, Md.; Bill Hickey, of Washington, and John K. Jimmy, of Baltimore.

Replying to the freshmen announcement, Gardner Brooks, of Washington, president of the sophomore class, called the freshmen "spiritless amoebae" and said the sophomores had tried to treat the freshmen as gentlemen.

"If they want to revert to the old way, we are willing," he said.

Roosevelt Plans
Holiday in SouthWill Leave Here Nov. 17
for Warm Springs.

President Roosevelt will leave Washington, November 17, for Warm Springs, Ga., where he will remain until after Thanksgiving.

On his way to Warm Springs he will stop at Savannah to participate in the bicentennial celebration of the founding of the Georgia colony. On his return trip he may inspect the Tennessee Valley power project.

The President will stay at the health resort which he founded at Warm Springs.

D. C. Man at Reno
To Quit 2 Wives

Reno, Nev., Oct. 30 (AP).—Noah Stanley, of Washington, D. C., today filed suit to divorce two wives.

Judge Thomas F. Moran granted him an annulment of his marriage to Carrie Stanley late today. They have one child, 17 months old.

Then Stanley filed suit for divorce from Jennie Stanley, of Lansing, N. J., whom he married at Perth Amboy in May, 1928.

Jennie Stanley deserted him in 1928. Informing she had died, Stanley married the second Mrs. Stanley at Baltimore on Aug. 25, 1930.

NRA Boycott
Against Ford
Up to McCarlWashington Dealer Hits
Move to Spike Bids as Illegal.Brooklyn Firm Gets an Injunction Here to Block Contracts.

Developments in the Administration's threat of a boycott against Henry Ford, still confined to the one limousine traded in by Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, yesterday took a legalistic turn.

Comptroller General McCarl called for records in two cases in which a Washington Ford dealer, whose bids were low, protested that it would be illegal for the Department of Agriculture and Commerce to deny him the contract.

The George F. Driscoll Co., Brooklyn, obtained a temporary injunction in the District of Columbia Supreme Court restraining the Government from granting a public works contract pending a hearing Friday to determine whether the New York firm should be denied the work for failure to sign an NRA agreement.

Decision Draws Near.

Mr. McCarl's procedure was routine, but in a day or two should determine whether the Government can carry out its reprisal against the Detroit manufacturer under the President's executive order of August 10. The Driscoll Co. case is similar in some respects to that of the Government against Ford.

The Ford case, which involves purchase of 1,000 trucks for the Civilian Conservation Corps and three cars by the Department of Commerce, were taken to the Comptroller General by the North-west Motor Co., 6720 Wisconsin avenue, R. F. Schaefer, president of the company, maintained his concern had a right to sell to the Government.

New Ruling Likely.

In the protest of the Northwest Motor Co., made also to the White House, it was contended that 5,300 manufacturers, who make parts and equipment for motor units, would be "injured" by reprisals against Ford. The principal contract involved, for the C. C. C. trucks, approximates $300,000.

Since Mr. McCarl will have the last word, some observers saw in a ruling August 31, in which he had held that a successful bidder did not have to be "a member of the NRA," an indication that the Administration would be unable to proceed with its threat. While the case resembles that of the Ford dispute, a new ruling may be necessary.

The Administration does not present an unbroken front in its contemplated boycott of Ford developed when it was learned yesterday that the act of the Veterans Administration in awarding a contract to the Northwest Motor Co. Saturday for one motor unit was taken after the statement of Gen. Johnson that Ford dealers were ineligible.

There was some speculation as to what the President might do if his intention to discriminate against Ford, announced last Friday, is overruled by the Comptroller General, who has held in many cases.

Continued on Page 3, Column 3.

12,000 Volts Fail
To Kill ElectricianSaved by Perfect Circuit
Through His Body.

Harrisonburg, Va., Oct. 30 (AP).—Claude Vance, 40, City of Harrisonburg electrician, today touched a wire carrying 12,000 volts and he is living to tell about it.

The accident occurred at the city hydroelectric plant on the Shenandoah River. Vance was standing on the iron top of a transformer when he touched the wire, thus a perfect circuit was formed through his body. He escaped with two seared fingers which may have to be amputated.

Morris Marries

Another Actress

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP).—Nelson Morris, member of the wealthy packing house family, who divorced one French wife in May because she wouldn't leave the stage for a domestic career, today married another French comedienne, Mlle. Blanchette. The marriage occurred at Flossmoor, near Morris' summer home at Homewood, Ill.

Mlle. Blanchette left the French stage to come to America. Two years ago, Morris left the French stage to come to America. Two years ago, Morris left the French stage to come to America. Two years ago, Morris left the French stage to come to America.

Fire Sweeps 2 Blocks
Of Resort in Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 30 (AP).—Fire, whipped by a strong wind from the Atlantic, today wiped out two blocks of ocean front property at Jacksonville Beach, causing loss unofficially estimated at $150,000.

Residence, concession booths and amusement buildings were burned and about 60 feet of the boardwalk destroyed.

President Forces Steel,
Labor Pact to End Coal
Strikes, Cut Rails PricePlot Against NRA Charged
To Edison Co.N. Y. System Is Accused of Plan to Compel Company Union.

New York, Oct. 29 (AP).—The New York Edison system was served with a temporary injunction today restraining it from any violation of the NRA and the President's re-employment agreement.

The injunction was obtained from Federal Judge Robert P. Patterson by Jerome Count, general counsel for the Brotherhood of Edison Employees of America, which claims to represent 33,000 workers.

The case was described as the first of its kind by Gordon Mitchell, secretary-treasurer of the brotherhood.

Conspiracy Charged.

In its complaint, the brotherhood accuses the Edison Co. of engaging in a "conspiracy" with John H. McNulty, president of the Association of Employees of the Edison Co., to violate the terms of the President's re-employment agreement.

The brotherhood alleges the company and its officials were about to "intimidate, influence and coerce" their employees into accepting a company union plan contrary to the NRA.

A statement denying the charges, Frank W. Smith, president of the New York Edison Co., declared "any suggestion of conspiracy on the part of the company or its officers is sheer nonsense, as will appear when the facts are placed before the court."

The order issued by Judge Patterson calling upon the company to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent, is returnable Thursday.

Complaint Set Forth.

After reciting that the President's re-employment agreement, which the company signed on August 1, gives employees the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, without interference, the brotherhood's complaint declares:

"That the company is engaged in a conspiracy with the officials of the alleged association of employees to deprive the employees of the Edison company of the right to organize and bargain collectively, and fraudulently interfere with, restrain, coerce and influence the employees of the Edison company in designating their own representatives for the purpose of collective bargaining."

Death Stayed

Second Time

Charles Washington Gets Respite Until Nov. 24,
Chair 4 Hours Off.

For the second time in a week, Charles Washington, colored, was saved from death in the electric chair at District Jail yesterday.

Washington, sentenced to die for his part in the slaying of Mannie Solomon, a taxi driver, was to have died yesterday at 2 p. m. His second reprieve, which will expire at 10 a. m. November 24, was issued through the Attorney General's office yesterday morning.

Last Friday a telephone call from President Roosevelt, four minutes before Washington was to have been ushered into the death house, saved the condemned man's life.

New evidence was the reason given by the Attorney General's office to Thomas Rives, superintendent of the jail, for the stay.

Washington has become resigned to his fate at the District Jail. He has been spending much time with the Rev. James L. Pinn, colored Baptist pastor. The first reprieve found him ready to die.

President Declared in Favor

Of $150,000,000 Canal in South

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt was described by Senator George (Democrat), Georgia, yesterday as "favorably disposed" toward linking the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Seaboard with a $150,000,000 ship canal through South Georgia and North Florida.

The President, George said after a call at the White House, likely will instruct the Public Works Administration to provide funds for a survey of the proposed canal to determine its feasibility.

From 500 to 800 miles would be trimmed from the water distance between Gulf and Atlantic seaboard ports, sponsors of the canal claim.

Engineers have estimated that approximately 26,000 men would be

Sees President

Underwood & Underwood.
MYRON TAYLOR,
chairman of the board, United States Steel Corporation, as he left the Executive offices yesterday following his conference with President Roosevelt and other steel officials.

President Roosevelt last night brought the Nation's steel leaders to terms to end the Pennsylvania coal strikes and clinch a Government-financed order for more than $36,375,000 worth of steel rails.

The agreements were reached at an all-day White House session, during which the steel interests were forced to grant concessions looking to union recognition—the first such concession in 33 years—and to whittle their steel rail prices from $37.75 a ton to $36.375 as the result of charges by Rail Coordinator James B. Eastman that the higher price was due to "collusion."

The labor concessions, accepted by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, but not yet approved by the miners themselves, would send back to work the 25,000 miners attached to steel-owned coal mines, who have been striking for the same working conditions granted by other operators.

Johnson Starts Tour Soon.

With the bituminous coal strike thus put out of the way, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, said he would leave probably this week on his trip to "sell" the NRA to dissatisfied Midwestern farmers. He said he plans to go by airplane, but added he is not sure where he is going, since Charles Michelson, the NRA publicity director, is framing his itinerary.

The steel order, already put under way as the result of the price reduction, will keep the steel mills working at capacity production for at least three months. The order put across at the White House conference is for approximately 800,000 tons. The spikes and straps will raise the total, however, to more than 1,000,000 tons.

Employment for thousands will be provided as the result of both agreements. Employment and peace, so that his recovery program might progress unimpeded, were the motives which caused Mr. Roosevelt to act against the recalcitrant industry.

That he succeeded—by persuasion or whatever other weapons he brought into play against the steel

Continued on Page 3, Column 5.

Radiators Balks

Girl's Suicide

Foot Catches When She Attempts Dive From Hotel Window.

New York, Oct. 30 (AP).—An attempt by a 25-year-old girl to jump from the fourteenth floor window of her room in a midtown hotel was frustrated today when her leg caught between the window and the radiator, leaving her suspended.

The girl, Vanda Windham, former model, told police she attempted to take her life because of despondency over lack of work and the recent death of her brother-in-law. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital for treatment of the leg injury and held for observation.

The girl, hanging from the window, attracted a crowd and caused a police emergency squad to be summoned.

Paraguay War Chief

Announces Victory

Asuncion

McKee Gaining On LaGuardia In Final Week

Big Mud-Slinging Deluge Awaited in New York Before Nov. 7 Vote.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Oct. 30 (Sp.)—Wearing the disarming aspect of small boys who have been washed, combed, brushed and sent along to Sunday school with the customary admonitions, New York's three leading candidates for mayor today entered the final week of what is perhaps the most extraordinary campaign in the city's history.

Each man promised to be good and stick to the issues. New York City, ever skeptical of such promises, is not taking them seriously, however, and is looking for an unprecedented deluge of mud-slinging between now and November 7, when the metropolis' heterogeneous population goes to the polls.

As matters stand tonight, the consensus of the "men in the street," the politician, the smart gambler and the homebodies—is that Fiorello H. LaGuardia, the city fusion candidate, has the best chance to win.

McKee Gaining Fast.
McKee, however, is coming on like a thoroughbred in the stretch run, and the closing odds against the Recovery Party nominee tonight were only 7 to 5.

The candidate, who claimed a vote for McKee is a vote for Roosevelt, has through a fortuitous train of circumstances overcome the handicap of his inexperience in the Blue Eagle on his campaign literature.

As for Mayor O'Brien—that straight-laced and somewhat bewildered gentleman who is carrying the burden of a Tammany tag into the campaign—his only chance of winning is considered to be contingent upon Messrs. LaGuardia and McKee blackening each other's reputations sufficiently to let the outsider slip in.

A poll conducted by a National magazine, based upon a canvass of some 2,500,000 voters, tonight showed LaGuardia well out in front, with McKee a bad second, and O'Brien nowhere. The betting odds against the Tammany candidate are 8 to 1.

Little Money Bet.
Comparatively little money has been wagered on the outcome of the campaign, however, as there is a strong feeling that each of the candidates has saved up a number of unpleasant things to say about his rivals. The promise to be gentlemanly about the affair are regarded as a joke, in view of what is at stake.

With every one anticipating a frenzied finish, the closing week of the campaign started off innocently enough except that shortly after daybreak several carloads of hoodlums sped through Harlem smashing windows which bore LaGuardia posters. After some 400 windows had been broken with several thousand dollars damage, five youthful former convicts were arrested and arraigned before Magistrate Bernard Mogilesky in Harlem court.

This promising prelude to an exciting week had no interesting aftermath, however, and aside from the studied stomp of about 50 hangers-on from a LaGuardia campaign address before the Greater New York Committee of Professional and Business Men, there was no disorder.

At this meeting the Fusion candidate stressed the need for "humanizing" city administration and unemployment relief, his major contribution to a decidedly dull day.

Seabury Accuses McKee.
During the evening Judge Seabury charged that McKee, when a member of the board of estimates, voted favorably on a petition of a client of his firm—the Hart Place Realty Corporation—for street changes in Brooklyn.

Judge Seabury said this was revealed in an affidavit by Francis T. McEnery, whom McKee ousted and then reinstated as chief examiner of the board. He declared McKee, while president of the board of estimates, had incorporated the Hart Place Realty Corporation in 1928, and later voted to change the grade of the street passing its property.

While this was the major accusation against any of the candidates during the last 24 hours, McKee replied that Judge Seabury had known all about it for more than a year.

Blue Eagle Up Again.
McKee, who had been frankly nonplussed regarding an answer to Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson's instructions to take the Blue Eagle off his campaign stationery, was heartened today by discovery that windows of LaGuardia's headquarters in North Harlem also bore the familiar NRA insignia.

While explanations were forthcoming promptly that the colored Pullman union had used the building previously and had left the Blue Eagles in the windows, the McKee forces felt that the stigma of having paraded behind the insignia had been removed, or at least shared by the Fusionist candidate.

It also was discovered today that George Harvey, Republican Fusionist candidate for Borough president of Queens, had been using the Blue Eagle on his campaign literature.

Early Handicap Nullified.
As a result, in the opinion of the voters, Administrator Johnson's demand that McKee get out from behind the Blue Eagle pin feathers has been nullified, as far as its effect upon the forthcoming election is concerned.

McKee, in a statement today, called upon LaGuardia to repudiate the Republican leaders of the city, "if he really is opposed to rule."

U. S. Seeks British Accord To Prevent Currency War

Continued From Page 1.

be executed on such a portentous scale as to endanger their trade and currencies.

France, sensing serious danger if an Anglo-American agreement results to have the dollar driven down and the pound unsupported, bristled with talk of a protective gold embargo to keep the United States from draining off her diminishing gold reserves.

However, despite adamant silence imposed by the White House on Administration officials, there were strong hints that some understanding might be reached with the British, through Lethbridge-Ross as the intermediary, which would prevent the dollar from depreciating in exchange.

Suspicious Aroused.
Prof. George F. Warren, of Cornell, who has emerged as the chief monetary mentor, while such experts as Prof. O. M. W. Sprague are disregarded, and other advocates of the new monetary experiments have long been imbued with the idea that the dollar would have fallen much more but for the machinations of speculators and collaboration between the central banks in London and Paris.

Failure of the domestic gold price-fixing to drive the dollar down last week increased the suspicions of the present monetary advisers of the White House. They point to the Laborite London Herald's reports of Bank of France and Bank of England collusion to substantiate the theory of interference with the dollar's decline.

They cite that the Bank of England, out of its £350,000,000 equalization fund, made a loan to the Bank of France at one juncture when the franc was imperiled. Hence they are thinking now, apparently, in terms of ending the alleged "alliance" and compelling the British into cooperation with the United States instead of with the French.

Default Recalled.
More warrant for this is found in the fact that the French defaulted on the war debts, held out on various disarmament plans at Geneva and obliterated the last hope of accomplishment at that gathering.

Senators Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, and David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, who are the spokesmen for opposite extremes of monetary views, found themselves in agreement that the new policy would be in vain. Thomas, the inflationist, while conceding that "theoretically or psychologically" there might be a temporary lift to prices declared that the new plan provided "little actual help."

Reed expressed a like view and added that to pursue the policy would arraign the rest of the world against the United States.

Senator Fletcher, Democratic chairman of the Banking Committee, thought the threat to buy gold might "coerce" a rise, but added that he had no faith in its effectiveness in raising prices. Representative Byrns, Democratic leader of the House, predicted that the Administration would try "reasonable and controlled inflation," upon a failure which he appeared to expect for the present program.

Inflation Issue Raised.
"We all realize the danger of inflation," said Byrns, "but as a last resort, it may be necessary."

Little or no surprise was felt in official Washington quarters over the Paris report yesterday that the French government had agreed to default upon the next debt payment becomes due on December 15.

The attitude of the Chamber of Deputies in Paris on numerous occasions had amply prepared Washington for the news.

Were it not for this indicated intention to default, $3,046,879 in principal would be expected in mid-December. On top of this there is the matter of the twin defaults of last December and June, totaling approximately $30,000,000.

Paris several times has requested a reexamination of its funding agreement, hinting at a desire to settle for 10 cents on the dollar. Nothing has come of these suggestions and it is held in well-informed quarters here that nothing is likely to develop until the arrears have been cleared up.

British negotiators have been in Washington several weeks seeking revision of the debt settlement negotiated by Stanley Baldwin in 1923. The discussions have sought to evolve a workable agreement out of the British public's unwillingness to pay much of anything more and the American desire to see debts paid.

Rumors have been current several days that these negotiations are soon to be adjourned, but vigorous denials have appeared at every turn. It is assumed the British, since they are seeking the revision, will do nothing hasty.

France has watched progress of these negotiations closely, in the belief that finding a clew to her own debt problems to the United States.

The committee, composed of five members of the House Judiciary Committee, met secretly. George C. Cunningham, investigator, presented reports of Chicago bankruptcy actions for many years and outlined his conclusions.

An open hearing was expected tomorrow, when the first of about 50 witnesses will appear. Representative Frank D. McCon, of Oklahoma, chairman, said some of Chicago's leading business men will be subpoenaed.

SPECIAL NOTICES
OWNING TO THE NRA TAKING OVER the 100 floor of the Shubert Bldg. Edward E. Norwood announces his office moved to Room 1112, 100 E. 10th St. SPECIAL RETURN-LOAD RATES ON FULL and part loads to all points within 1,000 miles. Rates include driver, fuel, and local moving also. Phone NA 1460. N. A. T. L. OF ASSOC. TEL. 1717. E. 10th St.

NO 1378
TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON, D. C. THE CURRENCY WHEREAS by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been shown that HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking.

NOW THEREFORE I, J. P. O'Connor, Controller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section fifty-one hundred and thirty-third of the revised Statutes of the United States.

TESTIMONY WHEREOF, witness my hand and seal of office this twenty-third day of October, 1933.

J. P. O'CONNOR, Controller of the Currency.

Probers Dig Into Wiggins Short Sales

Senators Also Seek Clw to Avoidance of Big Income Tax.

Short sales by Albert H. Wiggins in stock of the institution he headed, and machinery through which the former Chase National Bank head is said to have avoided large income tax payments, will be examined today by the Senate Banking Committee.

Wiggins' fortune in 1929 was estimated at $500,000,000. As the retired bank executive prepared again to take the stand, committee investigators near a completion of a "confidential" public examination of the Wiggins' financial records, which followed the throwing of light on Cuban loans by Chase and other New York financial houses.

Pending examination of questions of diplomacy involved, Secretary of State Hull has requested all information be held in strictest confidence. An understanding along these lines has been reached with Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking Committee.

Examination of Wiggins, who last week gave up a $100,000-a-year Chase payment, and whose policies as head of the bank were denounced by his successor in office, today will hinge on operations of his personal companies.

These privately-owned companies, including the Sherman, Murlyn and Clington corporations, enabled Wiggins to pocket millions in profits on Chase stock transactions, at the same time providing machinery for minimizing income tax payments, investigators charge.

Chairman Fletcher said the committee will make detailed inquiry into allegations of income tax avoidance and short sales in Chase stock during a declining market.

Paris to Default On Debt Payment
Continued From Page 1.

that France would like to settle up by paying 10 cents on every dollar she owes.

U. S. Not Surprised.
Little or no surprise was felt in official Washington quarters over the Paris report yesterday that the French government had agreed to default upon the next debt payment becomes due on December 15.

The attitude of the Chamber of Deputies in Paris on numerous occasions had amply prepared Washington for the news.

Were it not for this indicated intention to default, $3,046,879 in principal would be expected in mid-December. On top of this there is the matter of the twin defaults of last December and June, totaling approximately $30,000,000.

Paris several times has requested a reexamination of its funding agreement, hinting at a desire to settle for 10 cents on the dollar. Nothing has come of these suggestions and it is held in well-informed quarters here that nothing is likely to develop until the arrears have been cleared up.

British negotiators have been in Washington several weeks seeking revision of the debt settlement negotiated by Stanley Baldwin in 1923. The discussions have sought to evolve a workable agreement out of the British public's unwillingness to pay much of anything more and the American desire to see debts paid.

Rumors have been current several days that these negotiations are soon to be adjourned, but vigorous denials have appeared at every turn. It is assumed the British, since they are seeking the revision, will do nothing hasty.

France has watched progress of these negotiations closely, in the belief that finding a clew to her own debt problems to the United States.

The committee, composed of five members of the House Judiciary Committee, met secretly. George C. Cunningham, investigator, presented reports of Chicago bankruptcy actions for many years and outlined his conclusions.

An open hearing was expected tomorrow, when the first of about 50 witnesses will appear. Representative Frank D. McCon, of Oklahoma, chairman, said some of Chicago's leading business men will be subpoenaed.

SPECIAL NOTICES
OWNING TO THE NRA TAKING OVER the 100 floor of the Shubert Bldg. Edward E. Norwood announces his office moved to Room 1112, 100 E. 10th St. SPECIAL RETURN-LOAD RATES ON FULL and part loads to all points within 1,000 miles. Rates include driver, fuel, and local moving also. Phone NA 1460. N. A. T. L. OF ASSOC. TEL. 1717. E. 10th St.

NO 1378
TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON, D. C. THE CURRENCY WHEREAS by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been shown that HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking.

NOW THEREFORE I, J. P. O'Connor, Controller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section fifty-one hundred and thirty-third of the revised Statutes of the United States.

TESTIMONY WHEREOF, witness my hand and seal of office this twenty-third day of October, 1933.

J. P. O'CONNOR, Controller of the Currency.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM.
Stenographic... $1,440-$1,620
Typist... $1,280-$1,440
Special coaching classes in all subjects included—Dictation, Typing, Rough Drafting, General Tests. We guarantee a position in the Civil Service or a refund of our tuition. Our courses are of a superior type.

Review and Beginners' Course in Secretarial and Accounting—2-3 months. Position guaranteed. Service for Boys Training has real value. Boys trainees in select positions at better pay.

NEW CLASSES STARTING NOW
BOYD SCHOOL
1333 F St., Opp. Fox. Nat. 2349

Veterans Tie

Both Claim at 82 to Be Oldest Telegrapher.

Shreveport, La., Oct. 30 (P).—Two veterans of the Morse key, discovering they were celebrating eighty-second birthdays on the same day, claim to be "the oldest living telegraphers."

Lynden Hackett Clawson, of Shreveport, 82 last Thursday, said he was "the oldest," but J. T. Manry, of nearby Plain Dealing, La., also 82 on Thursday, said it was bound to be a joint honor.

Clawson sent his first message in 1871. He retired 10 years ago. Manry still works for newspapers.

10-State Farm Parley Hears Relief Demands

Heads of Dozen Agrarian Groups Offer Remedies for Troubles.

Des Moines, Oct. 30 (P).—Leaders of a dozen agricultural organizations offered remedies for the farmers' economic troubles today at a 10-State governors' conference.

Included in the demands were those for farm embargoes, moratoria on mortgage foreclosures, currency expansion and remonetization of silver.

The governors of five States and delegates of four others, meeting at the call of Gov. Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, also heard President Charles E. Heston, of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, urge the country's farmers to "stand by the Federal emergency relief program."

Govs. Berry of South Dakota, Langens of North Dakota, Olson of Minnesota, Schmedeman of Wisconsin and Herring of Iowa were present. Thomas S. Allen, of Nebraska; Joseph H. Mercer, of Kansas; Walter McLaughlin, of Illinois; and Leut. Gov. Townsend of Indiana, represented governors of their respective States.

Hard-Coal Men Submit Code

Minimum Wage of $12 a Week Provided; 150,000 Workers Affected.

(United Press.)
Fifty-four anthracite companies, employing 150,000 workers, all in Pennsylvania, have submitted to the Recovery Administration a code for their industry.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson announced last night. A date for public hearings probably will be set this week.

Compared to the wrangle over the bituminous code, little difficulty was expected. The existing contract prescribes an average wage for miners of about 80 cents an hour for a 48-hour week. The code provides a minimum weekly wage of $12.

Bankruptcy Rings Bared in Chicago

Stockholders Lost Profits, Investigators Told.

Chicago, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A congressional committee considered evidence tonight which was reported as tending to show existence of national "bankruptcy rings" that had managed to cheat stockholders of earned profits.

The committee, composed of five members of the House Judiciary Committee, met secretly. George C. Cunningham, investigator, presented reports of Chicago bankruptcy actions for many years and outlined his conclusions.

An open hearing was expected tomorrow, when the first of about 50 witnesses will appear. Representative Frank D. McCon, of Oklahoma, chairman, said some of Chicago's leading business men will be subpoenaed.

SPECIAL NOTICES
OWNING TO THE NRA TAKING OVER the 100 floor of the Shubert Bldg. Edward E. Norwood announces his office moved to Room 1112, 100 E. 10th St. SPECIAL RETURN-LOAD RATES ON FULL and part loads to all points within 1,000 miles. Rates include driver, fuel, and local moving also. Phone NA 1460. N. A. T. L. OF ASSOC. TEL. 1717. E. 10th St.

NO 1378
TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON, D. C. THE CURRENCY WHEREAS by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been shown that HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking.

NOW THEREFORE I, J. P. O'Connor, Controller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the HAMILTON NATIONAL BANK of the City of Washington in the District of Columbia is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section fifty-one hundred and thirty-third of the revised Statutes of the United States.

TESTIMONY WHEREOF, witness my hand and seal of office this twenty-third day of October, 1933.

J. P. O'CONNOR, Controller of the Currency.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM.
Stenographic... $1,440-$1,620
Typist... $1,280-$1,440
Special coaching classes in all subjects included—Dictation, Typing, Rough Drafting, General Tests. We guarantee a position in the Civil Service or a refund of our tuition. Our courses are of a superior type.

Review and Beginners' Course in Secretarial and Accounting—2-3 months. Position guaranteed. Service for Boys Training has real value. Boys trainees in select positions at better pay.

NEW CLASSES STARTING NOW
BOYD SCHOOL
1333 F St., Opp. Fox. Nat. 2349

Detroit Mob Battles Police In Shop Raids

Motorized Rioters Spread Havoc in Strike Zone; 5 Hurt.

Detroit, Oct. 30 (P).—Rioters, who sped in a motorized mob through Detroit's manufacturing section today smashed hundreds of windows, hurled missiles at police, burned blueprints in the streets and overturned automobiles in the first serious outbreak of a month-old tool and die makers' strike.

Five men were injured and six arrested as police massed forces against the demonstrators. A police lieutenant was struck by a brick. Tonight guards were posted about a score of tool and die plants, some of which were closed and barricaded as employers counted thousands of dollars in damage from the outbreak.

2,500 In Attack.
The rioters who numbered about 2,500 in more than 300 automobiles, struck swiftly at seven factories scattered throughout the manufacturing section, always ahead of the city's massed police, mobilized but unable to forecast the demonstrators' movements.

Shouting and booing, the men swept up to the factories, seized bricks and timbers, hurled them through windows, overturned automobiles in company parking lots, burned blueprints taken in raids on factory offices and terrorized employees. A factory manager at one plant fired several shots as the mob approached the place, but said he aimed over the heads of the rioters.

All Police Reserve Out.
Harassing police, who called out all available reserves, the demonstrators moved in rapid succession to the plants of the Keestling Tool & Die Co., Frederick A. Colman & Sons, the Faigle Tool & Die Co., the F. Joseph Lamb Co., the East Side Gear & Tool Co., the Midland Steel Products Co., and a division of the Murray Corporation of America, builders of automobile bodies for several local companies.

Police overtook them at the Murray plant and after six men had been arrested, the rioters retreated across the city limits into suburban Hamtramck, where they jeered at Detroit police, unable to arrest them.

The disorders came while the Detroit Regional Labor Board, a branch of the National Labor Board, was in session, at the request of the Mechanics Educational Society, an organization of skilled workmen, which called the strike.

Wagner Kept in Touch.
The board telegraphed Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman, in Washington, that strike representatives had asked them to aid in obtaining conferences with 130 employers in Detroit, in an effort to settle differences. The Senator was advised that the local board will keep Washington informed on conditions here.

Strikers and employers were called to Washington a week ago to confer in a settlement effort, with the result that the strikers were advised to return here and negotiate separately with employers. The strikers claimed that efforts at negotiation with the General Motors Corporation had been unsatisfactory and for that reason said they had asked the local labor board to mediate. They declared they wanted a 25 per cent wage increase, recognition of the Mechanics Educational Society as their union, and a 40-hour week.

Soviet Legation Crime Costs Youth Life Term
Lwow, Poland, Oct. 30 (P).—Nicholas Lemyk, 19-year-old Ukrainian youth, was sentenced to life imprisonment today for killing a Soviet legation employee October 21. In view of Lemyk's age, the court said it would not impose the customary death penalty.

5 Kidnap Suspects Nabbed by Ruse

Accused of Threatening Doctor's Grandson.

New York, Oct. 30 (P).—Five men, three of them Bronx youths, were in the police line-up today on charges of kidnaping and sending threats to kidnap.

The three youths were arrested as a result of detective work in which Federal agents were disguised as a tattered Harlem derelict, a street cleaner and a pencil vendor. They were alleged to have sent letters to Dr. Willard P. Beach, 75, retired physician, threatening to kidnap his 10-year-old grandson, Willard P. Beach 3d, and to kill the physician unless he paid $500.

Miss Gertrude Millard Dies at Vienna, Md.
Miss Gertrude Millard, former division chief of the Quartermaster General's Office, died yesterday at her home in Vienna, Md.

Miss Millard was retired last July. She left her home in Clifton Terrace, live years in Vienna. For more than 10 years Miss Millard was superintendent of the junior department of the Calvary Baptist Sunday school. She is survived by a sister, Miss Emma Millard, and a brother, George Millard. Funeral services will be held tomorrow in Vienna.

Seion of Rockefeller's Partner Sued by Wife
Redwood City, Calif., Oct. 30 (P). A plea for temporary alimony by Mrs. Alecia McDonald, wife of James McDonald 3d, young descendant of a wealthy associate of John D. Rockefeller in the development of the Standard Oil Co., was taken under advisement here today by Superior Judge Franklin Swart, who urged the opposing sides to settle their differences.

McDonald is the son of Maj. James McDonald, Jr., of Halley, Idaho, and grandson of James McDonald, sr., Rockefeller associate.

Issue Subscribed.
Acting Secretary Acheson last night announced the ordering of approximately $60,000,000, 81-day Treasury bills brought subscriptions to the amount of $232,713,000, of which $80,180,000 was accepted, according to the Associated Press.

The average price of the bills to be issued is $99.45, equivalent to 22 per cent annual interest on a discount basis.

NRA Ban for Politics.
(United Press.)
The NRA Blue Eagle should not be displayed in connection with political campaigns, although the Recovery Administration doubts its authority to prohibit such use, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson said last night.

French Leaders Face U. S. Gold Buying Calmly
Paris, Oct. 30 (P).—A bold embargo on gold to balk Washington's purchases of foreign gold was demanded by the conservative press today, but officials of the Bank of France asserted they were not worried over a possible danger to the huge French gold reserves.

Scanting an American attack on the franc, former Premier Tardieu's newspaper, the Liberte, and the Leftist Quotidien, demanded an embargo.

Former Finance Minister Paul Reynaud suggested the entire European gold bloc halt gold exits.

Uncertainty over the exact meaning of President Roosevelt's latest move was evident.

High bank officers said two things automatically protect French gold:

First, the value of French currency would rise as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation must buy it to get gold from the Bank of France.

Second, they doubted whether enough francs could be bought in the open market, in view of dollar fluctuations, to draw a troublesome amount of the bank's blood.

Gold Virtually Barred.
Officials explained gold bloc nations already had instituted a virtual embargo.

The same bankers predicted the greatest repercussions, if there were any at all, would be felt in London.

The newspaper Quotidien advocated a complete embargo, criticized French money with its recent government nickel issue, called France a "country without money," and urged gold coinage.

The American dollar moved sharply, meanwhile. It sagged to 16.70 francs (5.988 cents to the franc) and closed at 16.70 francs (5.9023 cents), compared to Saturday's final rate of 17.26 francs (5.78 cents).

Dollar Hits New Low.
London, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—President Roosevelt's gold purchasing policy sent the dollar to new depths today on foreign exchange markets.

The general close of the dollar in London was somewhat stronger, but still closer to the old par of $4.86 than at any time since the Roosevelt plan for a "controlled currency" was announced, or since the United States went off gold.

The close showed the pound sterling at $4.79, as compared with an opening of $4.80½ and a close last Saturday of $4.71¼—or a drop of 7½ cents since the week-end closing.

President Roosevelt's move to buy gold abroad spurred South African gold mining shares on the stock exchange in London, leading Kafr stocks gaining substantially.

dia to do the same where Republican "bosses" are concerned.

Meanwhile, the Tammany forces, who have been content to watch LaGuardia discredit his leading rival, McKee, whenever possible, even lending tacit support to the proceedings, tonight were reported ready to unshackle their claws in an attack upon the Fusionist candidate.

Among other things, the supporters of Mayor O'Brien proposed to release three news photographs of Maj. LaGuardia, one showing him shaking hands with red "hunger marchers," another showing a trunkful of documents LaGuardia brought before the Senate Committee on Banking, and a third showing him greeting a "radical."

"If that's the worst they can do," LaGuardia said tonight, "I'll consider myself fortunate."

As a possible forerunner to what may be expected on November 7, indictments were returned today against 29 persons in cases of false registration in the First, Second and Fifth Assembly Districts. The indictments were voted by two October grand juries in New York County.

While these indictments are insignificant in number compared with the several million voters who will go to the polls a week from tomorrow, they are regarded by observers as presaging a most immoral conclusion

Davis to Talk With President On Arms Meet

Silent About Rumored Retirement of U. S. From Parley.

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press.)
Geneva, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Norman H. Davis, chief United States delegate to the preliminary disarmament conference, announced tonight he would return to the United States in a few days to report to President Roosevelt on the international arms limitation efforts which Germany's withdrawal disrupted.

Davis said he would consult the President "on the whole situation relating to disarmament."

Neither Davis nor other leading members in the American Arms Delegation would discuss possibility that his departure meant the United States was prepared to withdraw from the arms parley.

Return Date Uncertain.

Davis said the date of his return was uncertain. He added that he definitely expected to return after his White House conversations, but in view of growing irritation in American quarters at recurrent delays among European powers to agree to any practical arms limitation or control scheme, there were rumors that he was through at Geneva for the time being.

Davis was reported to have let it be known he had no intention of returning until the Arms Conference was ready "to get down to business."

It was recalled that when Davis returned from the United States some weeks ago to confer in London and Paris prior to reconvening of the arms parley in Geneva, he had warned European powers that Mr. Roosevelt was not inclined to continue participation in futile gatherings.

Hugh Wilson Remains.

Davis probably will sail on board the liner Roosevelt from Le Havre, France, on November 4. Hugh Wilson will remain to represent the United States.

In some quarters it was believed Davis' return to Washington was connected with Japan's announced "policy of waiting" on the sidelines until the arms situation stabilizes. It is considered certain that he will discuss with Mr. Roosevelt what position the United States will take if Japan refuses to accept the arms treaty after it is drafted, particularly the control clause.

This clause, still tentative, would place all armaments under a test period of three or four years during which the League of Nations would name a commission to inspect every signatory's armaments—naval, land and air—at least twice a year.

Lindbergh, Blieriot Talk Air Exploits

Man Who Flew Channel in 1909 Host in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Louis Blieriot, called the "Lindbergh of his day" and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, tonight chatted about the progress of aviation since 1909, when the French aviator astonished the world by flying across the English Channel.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, after a day during which they visited the spot on Le Bourget field where the colonel ended his transatlantic flight six years ago, were dinner guests at the Blieriot home. It was a family function entirely, including the three Blieriot sons and a daughter.

The Lindberghs also visited the home of Paul Painleve, where the colonel expressed his sorrow at the death of the former premier.

Rockefeller's Son Fined for Speed

Pays $27 to Court, Says He Was Aiding Friend.

Darien, Conn., Oct. 30 (U.P.).—John D. Rockefeller, 21, son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., paid $27 in town court tonight for speeding on the Boston Post road. He promised not to do it again.

Rockefeller, a student at Yale, was arrested September 29. The complaining officer testified he was driving 64 miles an hour.

Rockefeller pleaded guilty. When Judge William A. Kelly asked him why he had driven so fast, he replied:

"I was going to New York. I realized I was going fast, but I was trying to get to New York by 2:30 to get a friend of mine from New Haven there in time to catch a boat for Europe."

France Plans National Funeral for Painleve

Paris, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—The body of Paul Painleve was placed in a casket today preparatory to lying in state tomorrow. The statesman died yesterday of heart disease after a long illness.

The cabinet unanimously approved plans to hold a national funeral Saturday, at which Premier Albert Sarraut will speak. Burial was expected to follow in the Pantheon Friday, if Parliament approves.

Bankers Pledge Help In Guarantee Move

Representatives of 16 mutual savings banks in the North and East yesterday assured President Roosevelt of their cooperation in working out participation by such banks in the deposit guarantee provisions of the Glass-Steagall act.

Philip A. Benson, president of the Dime Savings Bank, New York, said that mutual savings banks can qualify for deposit guarantees. The group offered no concrete suggestions as to how their banks will cooperate.

New Forestry Head

FERDINAND A. SILCOX, who has been appointed chief forester of the United States Forest Service, succeeding Robert Y. Stuart.

Fear Reigns In Holy Land With 30 Dead

Shops Stay Closed After Arab Outbreak Against Jews.

Jerusalem, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A tense situation arising from anti-Jewish rioting, in which at least 30 persons have been killed and 200 wounded, prevailed throughout the Holy Land tonight, but no new disorders were reported.

Even in the main towns, Jerusalem, Jaffa and Haifa, there were no recurrences today of the dangerous type of Arab demonstrations against an increase in Jewish immigration. Shops, however, remained closed because of a general strike.

A curfew order was recalled by the authorities because of the improvement in the situation, but a street press censorship was established in an effort to curtail incitements.

Women Plead for Arabs.

A deputation of veiled Moslem women petitioned the British high commissioner, Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchop, for the release of imprisoned Arab notables taken into custody last week as members of the Arab executive, believed responsible for the widespread outbreaks.

Arab crowds gathered in Haifa with the intention of staging a demonstration but were dispersed without trouble.

Measles Spreading.

Demonstrations in Damascus passed without bloodshed and Trans-Jordan also was quiet, although the movement was said to be spreading.

In Port Said, Egypt, the government refused 900 Jews, mostly Poles, permission to land. They were bound for the trade center, Roumania, aboard a Danish steamer.

The British high commissioner curtailed a ceremony opening the harbor works in Haifa because of the disturbances.

Larnaca, Cyprus, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Because of Arab disturbances in Palestine the liner Martha Washington, carrying mail and 800 passengers, anchored here today and awaited orders.

Rally Worries Cuban Leaders

1,000 at Turbulent Meet With Support of Martin at Stake.

Havana, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A turbulent meeting of 1,000 Havana University students tonight was regarded with anxiety by political leaders who believed it might mean the breaking or the making of the Ramon Grau San Martin government.

The students met at the university in a closed session. Sources coming from the meeting place indicated a fight was in progress.

So important was the conference considered that interest in a general strike scheduled for midnight was sidetracked.

Many of the students are known to favor dissolution of the Student Directory and withdrawal from all politics. On the contrary, others are known to favor continuance of active support for Grau.

Newspapersmen admitted after an hour beheld a scene of howling confusion. At least six fist fights were in progress.

Eddie Shibus, one of the staunchest supporters of President Grau and a member of the student directory, spoke and attempted to break up the meeting by asking all who supported him to leave the hall. The majority, however, remained, and speeches by persons opposed to the government began.

McDonald to Act As Refugee Aid

Accepts Post Tendered by League in Geneva.

New York, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—James G. McDonald, chairman of the Foreign Policy Association, today announced he had accepted the League of Nations appointment as high commissioner for organization on an international basis of assistance for refugees, Jewish and others, from Germany.

He said he expected to sail for Geneva within a few days, but would not make any detailed statement about the work he is to undertake.

Sarraut Looks For Colonies To Aid France

Will Outline Broad Plan to Utilize Resources of Overseas Empire.

Paris, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A vast scheme for a French economic revival through the utilization of resources of the colonial empire is planned by Premier Albert Sarraut.

He will announce the idea in a ministerial declaration Friday, when he also will outline a new national works program and fiscal reform measures.

The new Sarraut cabinet, meeting for the first time today, was unanimously of the belief that the government's financial position must be restored and appointed the budget minister, Abel Gardey, to present a plan Thursday.

Officials Look To Empire.

Under the new scheme officials will look to the empire, second largest in the world, for increased business to erase a huge trade deficit of the homeland.

Colonial trade has slumped less than foreign. Thirty per cent of French exports were bought by the colonies in 1932, while the mother country made 19 per cent of her purchases in the possessions.

Putting Africa to work has been a slogan of the French colonial policy for months.

Two Subsidy Schemes.

One project is to see colonial production of fruits and vegetables by paying producers a premium for like products bought by France abroad. Part of the necessary fund would be raised by increasing import taxes.

Another proposal has been to float loans here for construction of communication facilities connecting southern and northern Africa, to give a better outlet to the French market.

Large scale subsidizing of production of goods not made or grown in France proper is also proposed.

McCarl Will Pass On Ford Boycott

Continued From Page 1.

that awards must go to low bidders. The act establishing the office of controller general, whose term is for 15 years, provides that his rulings are not subject to appeal.

Executive Order Cited.

Comptroller General McCarl's decision on August 31, the only one since the President's executive order sought to restrict bidders, was made at the request of the Public Printer.

"The quoted terms of the executive order of August 10, 1933, do not require that a bidder, or contractor with the United States for the delivery of supplies shall be a member of the NRA, as expressed by you," the decision held, "but the requirement is that every contract for supplies shall contain a stipulation that the contractor shall comply with the applicable code of fair competition for the trade, industry or subdivision thereof concerned, and if no such code, then with the President's reemployment agreement without regard to whether the contractor is himself a party to such code or agreement."

"The contract must provide that in event of violation of such stipulation, the United States may terminate the contract and purchase the undelivered material and supplies in the open market and collect the excess cost, if any, from the contractor and his sureties."

Points to Procedure.

"That is to say, you are not authorized to reject the low bid in this case simply because such low bidder is not a member of the NRA, but the contract entered into with such low bidder should contain the stipulations required by the above-quoted terms of the Executive order of August 10, 1933, and such procedure should be followed in all similar cases unless and until the executive order should be modified or revoked or the law should otherwise provide."

Controversy over the awarding of a contract for the erection of an annex to the New York City postoffice involved in the suit brought by Driscoll Co., which asserts that specifications requiring NRA observance had been misinterpreted. The injunction was granted by Justice F. D. Letts.

The company said it was asked to bid on the New York annex last February 28 and that on September 18 the Treasury Department sought additional offers. At the latter time specifications required that bidders sign an NRA compliance agreement.

Bid Low by $112,800.

The company said that when bids were opened October 2 that its offer of $4,248,800 was low by $112,800. Two days later, it was stated, the bid was protested on the ground that the plaintiff had not signed a code of fair competition of the President's reemployment agreement at the time the bid was submitted. On October 25 the company received notice its bid had been rejected and that the award would go to the second lowest bidder, the Stewart Co.

In its action the company contended that by submitting a bid it automatically obligated itself to conform in all specifications concerning the NRA. It also stated when the bid was submitted a code for the construction industry had not been formally approved.

Strikers Accuse Ford.

Newark, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A committee of strikers from the Ford Edge-water plant conferred late today at State NRA headquarters with Harry L. Tepper, one of the mediators appointed by the National Labor Board.

Hugh V. Reilly, representative of the strikers, announced that specific charges against the Ford Motor Co. has been prepared by strikers. Tepper will transmit the charges to Recovery Administrator Johnson, Reilly said.

Four Mattresses Plus 1 Bed Equal $100,000 in Loot

New York, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—When a man and woman rented a second-floor front apartment in a Bronx building early this month, the janitor and the neighbors wondered why the new tenants had only one bed and four mattresses. They found out today.

The mattresses had been used to deaden the sound made by an electric drill. The drill was employed to cut a gaping hole through a 12-inch brick wall, into the fur storage vault of Krill Bros., Inc., next door.

The man and the woman were gone today, with about 180 fur coats worth $100,000. Detectives called it the smartest fur robbery in years.

Prisoner Again Arouses Court At Fire Trial

Dimitroff Rebuked for Telling Witness Not to Be Ashamed.

Berlin, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Georgi Dimitroff provided another striking interlude today in the Reichstag arson trial in which he and four others are defendants, by telling the court on one occasion it need not expect to "meet like a barracks soldier" and again that "I must say that Nazi eyes in this trial see things through very darkly colored spectacles."

Called on the carpet by Presiding Judge Wilhelm Buenger for telling a Nazi Reichstag member, Walter Ruppert, that "You ought to be ashamed of yourself," the impulsive Bulgarian refugee launched a passionate defense.

"I did not mean to insult the witness," Dimitroff cried. "I am a defendant up before a court and not a barracks soldier nor a prisoner of war. My defense is political, and sometimes it may be a bit rough."

Court Rebukes Him.

"You are to obey!" Justice Buenger admonished him.

"I merely told him he need not be ashamed to own up that he was a Nazi when I saw that he was hesitating," Dimitroff rejoined.

The interchange occurred after Police Commissioner Buenger testified that when Marinus Van Der Lubbe, the young Dutch defendant neither wanted to escape nor had any intention of making a martyr of himself.

"Van Der Lubbe said he would have let himself be captured under any circumstances," asserted the commissioner, who had charge of the investigation of the blaze.

Martyr Plan Denied.

"Even if there had been a way open for flight, Van Der Lubbe said he would have stood there and waited until somebody came along. I said 'you probably wanted to play a martyr,' the witness added, and indicated Van Der Lubbe's negative reply.

The other defendants were Wassil Taneff and Elagor Popoff, also Bulgarian refugees, and Torgler, former Communist whip in the Reichstag.

Judge Buenger accused Torgler of trying to humiliate the police when he interrupted the testimony of Olga Dern, Communist stenographer in the Reichstag, and asked her whether she recalled dropping a lump of sugar while she was bringing him a cup of coffee.

"Spying Dirigible" Flies Over France

Airship of Zeppelin Type Reported Seen.

Paris, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Lieut. Col. Magné, retired, writing in the Petit Journal on German armaments, declared today he had evidence that "a foreign dirigible of the Zeppelin type" flew over the artillery park at Salbris between Orleans and Bourges the night of September 30.

"It arrived over Salbris toward 1 a. m. in the moonlight," said the writer, "coming from the northeast with its light out and flying very low."

His article said the dirigible circled the military field for half an hour, then flew over the town of Salbris, where it was seen by a writer said the dirigible crossed a searchlight on the ground. The third of France without being detected.

Tropical Gale Kills Three in Jamaica

Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Three deaths and property damage estimated at $3,000,000 were caused today by a tropical storm which passed over the western part of Jamaica.

Two million banana trees were destroyed. Roads were damaged and houses wrecked.

Santiago, Cuba, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—A heavy storm lashed Santiago province today with strong winds and rain.

Girl So Sleepy Mouth Is Taped To Stifle Yawns

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Miss Grace Watson's mouth was bound shut today, to make certain that she would not yawn.

Miss Watson, 28, yawned so widely yesterday that she threw her jaw out of place. A surgeon helped her get it back. As she left the hospital, however, she felt the urge to yawn again. And again she could not close her mouth. Once more the surgeon put the jaw back, but to prevent further yawns he bound it tightly in place.

As soon as Miss Watson gets caught up on sleep, he said, the bandages will be taken off.

Steel-Labor Truce Driven By Roosevelt

Pact Is Forced to Halt Coal Strikes and Cut Price of Rails.

Continued From Page 1.

magnates in the session behind closed doors of his office—is proof of a great victory over forces which he felt were retarding his program.

It led some of his advisers to hope the steel men's retreat might cause Henry Ford to think twice. But it was only hope.

Identical Bids Start Row.

The row over the rails became public Saturday when Eastman revealed that the bids he had received from the four largest steel companies for the Government-financed purchases were identical—$37.75 a ton.

"It is obvious that sound money for the rehabilitation of silver and related questions."

It quotes numerous speeches by the President in which he insisted on sound currency. It quotes a statement in which he said:

"It is obvious that sound money for the rehabilitation of silver and related questions."

It quotes another:

"In line with the plan suggested by the Democratic platform, I shall advocate immediate action by our Government in cooperation with other governments. There are many ways of producing the results without disturbing the currency of the United States."

In reference to the gold standard, the Republican committee quotes a speech made by Mr. Roosevelt in Brooklyn, November 4, 1932, in which he said:

"No responsible government would have sold to the country securities payable in gold if it knew that the promise was the covenant embodied in these securities was as dubious as the President of the United States claims it was."

The reference was to the statement made by President Hoover that the country had narrowly escaped going off the gold standard.

Then He Takes It Off.

"The first official act of President Roosevelt," the pamphlet continues, "was a proclamation issued March 3, prohibiting the use of gold or gold certificates by citizens of the United States. On April 20, President Roosevelt, by executive proclamation, forced the United States Government off the gold standard in all international dealings."

The Republican committee charges that within 30 days after the administration had issued half a billion dollars promising both interest and principal payable in gold "it legally repudiated that obligation as well as all other obligations of like character made by the United States government, including the Liberty bonds sold the American people by a previous Democratic administration."

In reference to the American refusal to join with other countries in monetary stabilization, the Republican publication says:

"The conference, as well as the world, was startled and astounded to receive from President Roosevelt a flat refusal to subscribe to the declaration."

In reference to promised reductions in Federal expenditures, the pamphlet says the Democratic platform and Roosevelt himself pledged 25 per cent reduction. It says that on April 13, after legislation asked for by the President had been enacted, the administration announced that reductions of that amount had been made. On August 8, it says, it was revealed that reductions of only $3,000,000, or only 98 per cent of the $250,000,000 reduction promised, had been made.

Bureaucracy Taken Up.

In his speech at Pittsburgh, October 19, the President promised elimination of "unprecedented bureaucracy."

"The National Recovery Administration," the pamphlet continues, "starting out with the promise that it would not employ over 150, had, last reports, over 1,000 employees. The Public Works Administration announces that it will eventually need 2,000 additional employees."

The pamphlet goes into a detailed description of the various recovery organizations.

On the subject of bookkeeping, the pamphlet says:

"It (the Administration) has set up a system of tricky bookkeeping, whereby it hopes to deceive the public in the belief that the budget has been balanced. Under this system of bookkeeping, all expenditures which the Administration chooses to classify as 'emergency' are carried in a special account and do not appear in the 'ordinary' expenditures of the Government and are not included in the Government's routine balance sheet."

"These items are public expenditures. Every penny so expended is sweated out of the taxpayer. Furthermore, the deceit of the tricky bookkeeping has been greatly aggravated by the fact that not only the items which might properly be called 'emergency' expenditures charged up to the $3,300,000,000 appropriated for emergency expenditures, but items which are plainly and indisputably routine have also been shifted to this fund."

"Despite all this studied deception and manipulation in handling the fiscal affairs of the Nation, the budget is not balanced. Instead of being more economical than the Republican administration, the figures show that it kept its rate of expenditures down to the level of the Republican administration, it would have shown for the month of September a surplus of $54,000,000, whereas in point of fact, it showed a deficit of $8,000,000."

The Republican organization places squarely on the President responsibility for delaying public works. It says that when Roosevelt became President $150,000,000 in funds for public works had not been allocated.

"One of the first acts of President Roosevelt," the pamphlet says, "was Seen Sinker Motives.

He told a deputy administrator at a hearing on the structural steel and iron fabricating industry that the document had been drawn up "for the purpose of accomplishing the sinister and antisocial objectives of the United States Steel Corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation."

Broke Faith, G.O.P. Says of Roosevelt

Continued From Page 1.

ened and the recovery act repealed antitrust laws.

The Republicans point out that the Democratic platform pledged removal of the Government from all fields of private business and that the Government is now controlling private business.

Finally, it is charged that the President pointed to overproduction on the farms and then approved expenditures of $86,000,000 for land reclamation.

Platform Quoted.

The pamphlet quotes the Democratic platform which says: "A sound currency is to be preserved at all hazards and an international monetary conference called at the invitation of our Government to consider the rehabilitation of silver and related questions."

It quotes numerous speeches by the President in which he insisted on sound currency. It quotes a statement in which he said:

"It is obvious that sound money for the rehabilitation of silver and related questions."

It quotes another:

"In line with the plan suggested by the Democratic platform, I shall advocate immediate action by our Government in cooperation with other governments. There are many ways of producing the results without disturbing the currency of the United States."

In reference to the gold standard, the Republican committee quotes a speech made by Mr. Roosevelt in Brooklyn, November 4, 1932, in which he said:

"No responsible government would have sold to the country securities payable in gold if it knew that the promise was the covenant embodied in these securities was as dubious as the President of the United States claims it was."

The reference was to the statement made by President Hoover that the country had narrowly escaped going off the gold standard.

Then He Takes It Off.

"The first official act of President Roosevelt," the pamphlet continues, "was a proclamation issued March 3, prohibiting the use of gold or gold certificates by citizens of the United States. On April 20, President Roosevelt, by executive proclamation, forced the United States Government off the gold standard in all international dealings."

The Republican committee charges that within 30 days after the administration had issued half a billion dollars promising both interest and principal payable in gold "it legally repudiated that obligation as well as all other obligations of like character made by the United States government, including the Liberty bonds sold the American people by a previous Democratic administration."

In reference to the American refusal to join with other countries in monetary stabilization, the Republican publication says:

"The conference, as well as the world, was startled and astounded to receive from President Roosevelt a flat refusal to subscribe to the declaration."

In reference to promised reductions in Federal expenditures, the pamphlet says the Democratic platform and Roosevelt himself pledged 25 per cent reduction. It says that on April 13, after legislation asked for by the President had been enacted, the administration announced that reductions of that amount had been made. On August 8, it says, it was revealed that reductions of only $3,000,000, or only 98 per cent of the $250,000,000 reduction promised, had been made.

Bureaucracy Taken Up.

In his speech at Pittsburgh, October 19, the President promised elimination of "unprecedented bureaucracy."

"The National Recovery Administration," the pamphlet continues, "starting out with the promise that it would not employ over 150, had, last reports, over 1,000 employees. The Public Works Administration announces that it will eventually need 2,000 additional employees."

The pamphlet goes into a detailed description of the various recovery organizations.

On the subject of bookkeeping, the pamphlet says:

"It (the Administration) has set up a system of tricky bookkeeping, whereby it hopes to deceive the public in the belief that the budget has been balanced. Under this system of bookkeeping, all expenditures which the Administration chooses to classify as 'emergency' are carried in a special account and do not appear in the 'ordinary' expenditures of the Government and are not included in the Government's routine balance sheet."

"These items are public expenditures. Every penny so expended is sweated out of the taxpayer. Furthermore, the deceit of the tricky bookkeeping has been greatly aggravated by the fact that not only the items which might properly be called 'emergency' expenditures charged up to the $3,300,000,000 appropriated for emergency expenditures, but items which are plainly and indisputably routine have also been shifted to this fund."

"Despite all this studied deception and manipulation in handling the fiscal affairs of the Nation, the budget is not balanced. Instead of being more economical than the Republican administration, the figures show that it kept its rate of expenditures down to the level of the Republican administration, it would have shown for the month of September a surplus of $54,000,000, whereas in point of fact, it showed a deficit of $8,000,000."

The Republican organization places squarely on the President responsibility for delaying public works. It says that when Roosevelt became President $150,000,000 in funds for public works had not been allocated.

"One of the first acts of President Roosevelt," the pamphlet says, "was

JULIUS GARFINCKEL & Co.

F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

THIS IS GIRL SCOUT WEEK
and
TODAY IS HANDICRAFT DAY
This Afternoon, From 4 to 6 o'Clock
THE GIRL SCOUTS WILL BE ON OUR FOURTH FLOOR
where you may see them engaged in making many useful things... handicrafts in which they display great skill and expertness... It is a pleasure to invite you here to see the Girl Scouts at work.

REMARKABLE NEW STOCKS FOR MISSES
TODAY... ON OUR FOURTH FLOOR
The styles are the youthful, dashing sort that young people know we excel in, and there is a fascinating assortment not only for school and college, but for street, sports, afternoon and evening wear... Make a point of seeing them today.

The HAMILTON WATCH

Sets an enviable standard of watch perfection... Invest wisely and economically in a time-piece of this distinguished make.

The Webster
A popular Hamilton model—attractively priced.

Man's 17-jewel movement	$50
Ladies' 17-jewel movement	$55

Use Your Charge Account

R. Harris & Co.

F Street at 11th Phone District 0916
Jewelry and Diamond Merchants for Over Half a Century.

League's Narcotic Quiz Ignores Manchukuo

Geneva, Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Taking a practical step to ostracize Manchukuo as a state separate from China, the League of Nations Central Opium Board decided today not to include Manchukuo among countries to which forms will be sent for an estimate of narcotics needed. The forms will go to China, China, inferentially, will make the returns for Manchuria, which Japan has recognized as Manchukuo.

Indiana Death Laid To Sleeping Sickness

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Oct. 30 (U.P.).—Walter Engler, 44, died in a hospital here today from what Dr. Peter Brandman said was sleeping sickness.

Engler was stricken last week and isolated for treatment in a hospital here.

Lighter... yet warm

That's the Secret of the Special Pelage Process of</

Senators Told Of Huge Cost Of Bankruptcy

Receivers' and Legal Fees "Utterly Exorbitant," Investigator Holds.

Los Angeles, Oct. 30 (AP)—A tale of vanished millions of dollars of receiverships that cost as much as $1,000,000, was placed today before a committee of five United States senators.

They opened a hearing into the costs of administering receiverships and bankruptcies. The committee was told that half a billion dollars of assets had been involved in receiverships in Los Angeles in the last five years.

William H. Neblett, committee counsel, said the receiverships proved to be of little value to creditors or investors. He said the fees allowed receivers and others were "utterly exorbitant."

Analyzing the Richfield Oil case, Neblett told the committee $1,226,000 had been paid to the receiver, attorneys, appraisers and auditors in two years and eight months.

In addition to the fees and expenses totaling $396,558.17 allowed attorneys for the receiver, Judge William P. James said, other attorneys and legal firms were allowed large sums.

It was made clear the senatorial committee, of which Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona is chairman, was not interested in criminal matters, but only in ascertaining how well receivers and trustees performed their duties.

Wife Finds "Tired" Mate Shot Twice

Notes Show Victim, Idle, Ill, Tried Suicide.

Found unconscious by his wife in the garage of his home with a bullet in his head and another in his chest, Lewis Franklin Nichols, 57, of 2115 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, was reported in a critical condition last night in Emergency Hospital.

Two notes declaring he was "tired of it all," that he was unemployed and in ill health, were found by his wife Orla to whom they were addressed. He shot himself with a .32 caliber revolver, according to police.

Nichols formerly was a United States marshal here.

DIED—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at Georgetown University Hospital, MARY MACDONALD, beloved wife of James Macdonald, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the breast.

CHADWICK—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, THOMAS CHADWICK, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

CLARK—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. CLARK, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

GLORIA—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. GLORIA, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

MURD—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. MURD, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

WILLIAM—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. WILLIAM, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

KEENE—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. KEENE, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

The Federal Diary

(Trade-Mark Applied For)

Committee making arrangements for Halloween party and dance of the Tacoma Club, Tariff Commission, Thursday night at New Amsterdam Hotel. Left to right, seated, Dorothy Smith, Ted Meurer, and Anne Collins. Standing, George Uderitz and Norris Kenny. Music by Jarboe's Night Hawks; dancing from 9 to 12:30.

Your Federal Diary editor is Duncan Price, veteran reporter of The Post, until November 5, while Morgan Baker is on his vacation.

DELEGATION of officials of the National Federation of Federal Employees plans to attend the dinner meeting of Local Union, No. 66, in Pittsburgh, Pa., Thursday night. Approximately 800 persons are expected to attend the meeting, including high Federal officials in the Pittsburgh territory.

Among the guests of honor will be President Luther C. Steward, the principal speaker of the evening; Secretary-Treasurer Gertrude M. McNally; Seventh Vice President Urey J. Biller; Belle A. Trouland, president of Local Union, No. 108, and Henry G. Nolda, secretary-treasurer, Local Union, No. 2.

Under the direction of Joseph T. Lloyd, president of Local Union, No. 66, extensive plans have been made for this affair, and it will be the largest of its kind ever held by Federal employees in Pittsburgh.

According to Mr. Lloyd, this function "is being sponsored for the purpose of acquainting all Federal employees with the aims, purposes and accomplishments of the National Federation of Federal Employees."

Elect Officers. Ira D. Scott is the new president of Veterans Administration Lodge, No. 17, American Federation of Government Employees, elected at the recent annual meeting. The other officers are:

Miss M. Regina Royle (*), vice president, in charge of membership and publicity.

Matthew R. Beebe, vice president in charge of resolutions, legislation and general policies.

John F. Thompson, vice president in charge of general welfare and relief.

Emmett R. Carroll (*), secretary-treasurer.

Miss Catherine V. Moran, recording secretary.

Arthur Fowle, registrar.

Charles P. Medley, sergeant at arms.

Harland R. Morris, A. E. Golden and Miss Maddox were named members of the executive committee.

DIED—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

ROBERTSON—On Monday, October 30, 1933, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, MRS. ROBERTSON, died at 10:30 a. m. Cause of death, cancer of the stomach.

In Yesterday. The days of horse and wagon And the cheering elder dragon Are rightfully heralded in prose and verse.

But those times when autumn's luster Brought friends around in cluster Are now far beyond the ordinary purse.

For to reach the la rustic With a setting wholly classic Many miles we must traverse— And it requires efforts quite dolorous.

To get in groups melodious And their bills and bills to reimburse.

—Another Contribution.

Another Bridge Party. The success of the recent progressive contract bridge party at the Federal Clubhouse under the auspices of the Federal Bridge League has prompted Director George C. Hill to announce another for Friday night, under approximately the same conditions and rules.

As before, the affair will be open to all, and Federal workers who enter will be invited to join the club and continue as active participants in the club's events. Two larger trophies than those previously awarded will be at stake.

The hours of play from 8 to 11:30 p. m. Card fees of 50 cents per person will be assessed.

The entertainment committee of local 2, Federation of Federal Employees, is organizing an orchestra, comprised of members of the local. Any member of the local interested in joining the group should communicate with Henry G. Nolda, secretary-treasurer of the local.

More Nonsense. Days and days in long array, Going onward and onward toward Domesday;

Yet what's tomorrow would be ever anon, If there were no yesterday to start from.

Did you ever think when the rain pours by That your soles are squeaking, an awful squig?

And longing to cling so nice and dry Beneath a pair of good overshoes.

Lamp, lamp, the boy's are lighting, With candles neatly trimmed, Damp, damp, the day's are getting, And moist overcoats are mighty thin.

—All contributed.

THOSE questions in the second of living questionnaire on automobiles and transportation undoubtedly would reveal changed conditions if answers for 1933 were required as well as for 1932. The questions are:

A. Did you own an automobile?

B. If so, what make?

C. How many cylinders?

D. How many passengers did it seat?

E. Was it new when you bought it?

F. What was the price of the car?

G. What were the total cash payments on the car in the year ending June 30, 1932?

H. Type of insurance carried? (Types listed.)

I. Other transportation:

In the year ending June 30, 1932, what was your total personal family expense for—

A. Railroad and Pullman fare?

B. Boat trips?

C. Interurban bus trips?

D. Airplane trips?

Asks Blanton's Pay. Babcock responded:

"Entered Government service as soldier, $30 month, April 18, 1917. Ten years in Civil Service starting at $1,100 year. Was secretary Civil Service Commission. Resigned service last month. Now hold no Federal position. When did you enter Government service and at what salary?"

Blanton drew the following reply from Blanton:

"Congratulations you on splendid record. Please wire me collect the salary you received as secretary of Civil Service, also present salary you now receive as president Federation of Government Employees. I am earnestly studying problem you presented me, seeking solution just alike to employees and public.

Tells of Court Duties. "For eight years I held court in five big counties as circuit judge with salary of only $3,000. Then entered Government service as congressman, salary $7,500. Thank you for your prompt reply."

The final wire was sent by Babcock:

"Salary as secretary Civil Service Commission was $5,600. Present salary as president American Federation of Government Employees is $5,000."

New Insurance Fraud Is Bared

Prisoner Pleads Guilty in District Drive Against Unlicensed Firms.

The second plea of guilty to charges resulting from the District's drive on insurance companies not licensed here was obtained in Police Court yesterday.

Brode E. Odom, alleged to have accepted money for an insurance company operating here without a District license, admitted guilt to three charges of false pretense before Judge Isaac R. Hitt. Sentence was deferred until November 2 to permit probation officers to look into the case. Odom is free on $900 bond.

Sidney F. Tomes, arrested with Odom October 27, pleaded guilty to the same charges last week. His sentence will be passed November 4. Both said they represented the National Accident Society of Springfield, Ill.

Philippines Fail To Limit Sugar

Legislators Prove Unable to Agree on Program.

Manila, Oct. 30 (AP)—Legislators said tonight efforts to agree upon a voluntary sugar production limitation measure had failed.

With the end of the current session imminent, the latest bill fixed a maximum annual production of 1,400,000 long tons. The crop being ground is estimated at 1,322,320 tons. The bill would provide a tax of one cent per pound (134 1/2 pounds) to finance administration. Foes of the measure charged it favored big planters.

Manuel Quezon, president of the senate, favored its enactment.

Everett R. Perry, Librarian, Dead

Los Angeles, Oct. 30 (AP)—Everett Robbing Perry, 57, city librarian since 1911, died today.

He was educated at Harvard and worked at the Harvard Library and at the St. Louis and New York public libraries. In 1929 he was elected first vice president of the American Library Association.

He was born in Worcester, Mass. His widow and four children survive.

Bar Funeral

Drinks to Be Served Over Casket at Club Rites.

Mendota, Minn., Oct. 30 (AP)—Guy Moon's business in life was serving drinks over a bar, and in death the drinks are going to be served over his open casket, providing anybody wants a drink.

Moon, proprietor of a night club, died Saturday. Mrs. Maud Moon, his widow, decided to hold the funeral at the club.

Moon's body will lie in state in front of the bar, and if anybody wants to buy a drink he'll have to reach over the open casket to get it.

Babcock Fights Telegram Duel With Blanton

Pay Records Asked and Answered in War on U. S. Wage Cut.

After an exchange of telegrams Representative Blanton (Democrat), Texas, and E. Claude Babcock, president of the American Federation of Government Employees, know more about each other's records.

Making public the messages yesterday, Babcock charged Blanton with attempting to "intimidate" him because of his fight for restoration of the 15 per cent Federal pay slash.

Blanton's original communication follows:

"Kindly wire me today collect whether you are the same Babcock who has been acting secretary of the Civil Service Commission, whether you have Government position now, and if so, what salary now received and when did you first enter Government service and the first Government salary you received when entering."

Asks Blanton's Pay. Babcock responded:

"Entered Government service as soldier, $30 month, April 18, 1917. Ten years in Civil Service starting at $1,100 year. Was secretary Civil Service Commission. Resigned service last month. Now hold no Federal position. When did you enter Government service and at what salary?"

Blanton drew the following reply from Blanton:

"Congratulations you on splendid record. Please wire me collect the salary you received as secretary of Civil Service, also present salary you now receive as president Federation of Government Employees. I am earnestly studying problem you presented me, seeking solution just alike to employees and public.

Tells of Court Duties. "For eight years I held court in five big counties as circuit judge with salary of only $3,000. Then entered Government service as congressman, salary $7,500. Thank you for your prompt reply."

The final wire was sent by Babcock:

"Salary as secretary Civil Service Commission was $5,600. Present salary as president American Federation of Government Employees is $5,000."

New Insurance Fraud Is Bared

Prisoner Pleads Guilty in District Drive Against Unlicensed Firms.

The second plea of guilty to charges resulting from the District's drive on insurance companies not licensed here was obtained in Police Court yesterday.

Brode E. Odom, alleged to have accepted money for an insurance company operating here without a District license, admitted guilt to three charges of false pretense before Judge Isaac R. Hitt. Sentence was deferred until November 2 to permit probation officers to look into the case. Odom is free on $900 bond.

Sidney F. Tomes, arrested with Odom October 27, pleaded guilty to the same charges last week. His sentence will be passed November 4. Both said they represented the National Accident Society of Springfield, Ill.

Philippines Fail To Limit Sugar

Legislators Prove Unable to Agree on Program.

Manila, Oct. 30 (AP)—Legislators said tonight efforts to agree upon a voluntary sugar production limitation measure had failed.

With the end of the current session imminent, the latest bill fixed a maximum annual production of 1,400,000 long tons. The crop being ground is estimated at 1,322,320 tons. The bill would provide a tax of one cent per pound (134 1/2 pounds) to finance administration. Foes of the measure charged it favored big planters.

Manuel Quezon, president of the senate, favored its enactment.

Everett R. Perry, Librarian, Dead

Los Angeles, Oct. 30 (AP)—Everett Robbing Perry, 57, city librarian since 1911, died today.

He was educated at Harvard and worked at the Harvard Library and at the St. Louis and New York public libraries. In 1929 he was elected first vice president of the American Library Association.

He was born in Worcester, Mass. His widow and four children survive.

Mann Funeral Will Be Today At His Home

Financial Worries Blamed for Capital Broker's Suicide.

Funeral services for William T. Mann, 33, socially prominent broker who shot himself to death in the library of his home at 2324 Tracy place northwest, Sunday, will be held at the residence today.

Dr. C. Ernest Smith, St. Thomas Episcopal Church rector, will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot at Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mann's body will lie near that of his father, Col. Isaac Mann, millionaire West Virginia coal magnate, who died last year.

A suicide verdict in the death was issued Sunday by Acting Coroner MacDonald. Financial worries were blamed for his act.

Mann, associated with the brokerage firm of Clark, Childs & Keech, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nancy Beale Mann; his daughter, Nancy, 8 months old; his mother, Mrs. Isaac Mann, and his sister, Mrs. Churchill Owen, of Denver.

Rail Chemist Dies After Operation

J. H. Gibboney Succumbs in Roanoke at 54.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—James Haller Gibboney, 54, chief chemist of the Norfolk & Western Railway, and a nationally known figure in chemical engineering, died here today, following an abdominal operation.

A resident of Roanoke, he had been connected with the chemical department of the railway since August 15, 1906. He had been chief chemist since February 1, 1925.

He was president of the American Society for Testing Materials in 1926-27.

R. L. Hamill, Engineer, Succumbs in Cambridge

Cambridge, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Robert L. Hamill, retired mining engineer, died here today.

He came here 17 years ago and purchased the house built by Annie Oakley, the famous pistol and rifle shot expert. He was born in New York City and spent much of his life in mining ventures in the West.

Col. William L. Luhn Will Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Col. William L. Luhn, retired, who died Thursday at Roswell, N. Mex., will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning from the Fort Meyer chapel. Burial will be in Arlington Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers will be Col. Henry Gibbons, Col. Henry L. Cavanaugh, Col. Llewellyn W. Oliver, Maj. Winifred M. Blunt and Maj. John J. Bohn, Chaplain Joseph R. Koch, of Walter Reed Hospital, will officiate.

Sugar Mill Strikers Free American Boss

Havana, Oct. 30 (AP)—C. M. Jervis, American manager of the Alto Cedro Sugar Mill at Antilla, Oriente Province, who was held prisoner last week by striking employees, has been liberated, it was learned today. He now is in Santiago.

Learn the power of tiny messages in Post Classified Ads. Low cost and quick response. Just phone National 4205.

No Witchery

—In the marvelous performance of Marlow's Famous Reading Anthracite. Just the logical result of super-cleaning and super-sizing of coal from the richest seams in America. Try a load and be convinced. Call NA. 0811 NOW.

BUY NOW!

Marlow Coal Co.

811 E St. N.W. National 0311
Dependable Coal Service Since 1858

Russian Troika

Washington's Favorite Restaurant and Night Club
1011 Connecticut Avenue

Special Halloween Celebration Tonight
Holiday Supper-Favors Brilliant Floor Show

featuring
MISCHA MARKOFF, Master of Ceremonies
VALIA VALENTINOVA, Mezzo-Soprano

Huge Railroad Savings Seen In Prince Plan

Joseph B. Eastman Studies Scheme to Merge Nation's Lines.

(Associated Press.)
Vast savings in operating costs, sufficient to have given the Nation's railroads nearly a half billion dollars profit in 1932 instead of a quarter billion deficit, are claimed by sponsors of the Prince plan for railroad coordination, now being studied by Joseph B. Eastman, Federal coordinator of transportation. The plan contemplates seven systems for the Nation.

System No. 1 would have 29,146 miles; No. 2, the Southeast, 20,810 miles; No. 3, the Southwest, 17,807 miles; No. 4, Mississippi Valley, 17,807 miles; No. 5, Northwest, 17,807 miles; No. 6, Central West, 33,577 miles; No. 7, Southwest, 27,513 miles.

The plan would provide that the 300,000 or more employees who would lose their jobs through consolidation be pensioned at half or two-thirds pay for two years. During that period an effort would be made to place them in jobs.

Total savings to both the Eastern systems are estimated as follows: St. Louis and East St. Louis, $2,138,000 annually; Louisville, $569,000; Indianapolis, $1,102,000; Cincinnati, $1,290,000; Columbus, Ohio, $1,085,000; Detroit, $2,000,000, and Toledo, $3,363,000.

Under the method of operation proposed for system No. 2 all east and west bound through traffic would be concentrated upon the Pennsylvania. The plan states "all through passenger service between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Chicago, St. Louis and other Middle West cities operated by the Baltimore & Ohio will be withdrawn and travel accommodated on existing Pennsylvania schedules. Likewise, all through service operated by the Lehigh Valley and Reading and their connections via Buffalo will be withdrawn.

The entire Baltimore & Ohio high-speed heavy coal-carrying lines between Pittsburgh and Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia would be reduced to a single-track branch line for handling strictly local business. The report calls for initial abandonment of the tracks between Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Pieces of Eight

A beautiful young girl, Prudence Luttrell, lived with her widowed mother near Bath, N. C., in early years of the eighteenth century. Her only ambition was to be able to care for her mother tenderly and well. She had heard of the wealthy Capt. Teach.

But she had not met him until, on a certain afternoon, the giant dandy introduced himself to her in her mother's garden. Could this handsome mariner be the same person as the terrible Pirate Blackbeard? Anyway, Prudence did not like him.

A Pirate's Courtship.

She liked him less when he frightened her by the pace of his courtship. Capt. Teach cried, "You are the lovely girl I have been seeking for years all over the world." And Prudence replied, "I pray you, captain, go more slowly!"

By Charles B. Driscoll

And Capt. Teach, known at sea as Blackbeard the Pirate, suffered a setback when Prudence landed a right smack to his left ear. He would remember that blow a long, long time! He went away muttering curses, and Prudence stood trembling.

Midwest Belt To Hear U. S. Corn-Hog Plan

Public or Farm Just Bear Tax, Packers' Agent Here Says.

Four meetings, at which the Agricultural Administration's corn-hog production program will be explained, will be held the next two weeks. The first will be in Indianapolis Thursday and Friday. Others will be in Kansas City, November 6 and 7; St. Paul, November 8 and 9, and Chicago, November 10 and 11.

Dr. A. G. Black, corn-hog production chief; Claude R. Wickard, his assistant, and several aids will attend. Ralph Moyer, Fairfield, Iowa, who served as secretary of the National corn-hog producers' committee, has been named regional consultant to the Administration.

Norman Draper, Washington representative of the Institute of American Meat Packers, told officials the processing tax on hogs, which starts at 50 cents a hundred pounds and will be increased to $2, will be passed on by packers either to consumers or producers. He said packers can not afford to absorb the tax, expected to raise $348,000,000.

He said increased cost to consumers always has resulted in decreased consumption. Secretary Wallace recently threatened a "showdown" with packers if they depress the price of hogs to force producers to stand the tax.

FROM MAINE TO FLORIDA!

Dead-Letter Action Speeded

$100,000 Saving Expected by 2-Day Disposal Replacing 7-Day.

A new 48-hour dead-letter service designed to save the Postoffice Department $100,000 annually was announced yesterday by Acting Postmaster General Joseph C. O'Mahoney.

Effective December 1, unclaimed and unmailable first-class matter will be handled and disposed of at the 966 first-class postoffices of the country. Similar matter from second, third and fourth class offices will be concentrated at central accounting offices.

Dead letters will either be on their way back to senders or destroyed within 48 hours. The present system, with four dead-letter branches, takes seven days for the process, and requires a $138,000 budget. The new service will cut this to $38,000.

Valuable inclosures, as at present, will be saved one year.

Operation Successful, Jean Harlow Is Home

Los Angeles, Oct. 30 (AP).—Jean Harlow, blonde film actress, left a hospital today and returned to her home after a successful operation for appendicitis.

Reward!

Church Attendance Frees 2 in Traffic Violation.

Two persons who went to church Sunday were released from a traffic violation in Traffic Court by Judge Ralph Given yesterday.

Francis Dermer, Brentwood, Md., and Marjory Mays, nearby Maryland, parked their automobiles too close to the intersection of Eleventh and D streets northeast. The two told Judge Given they had been attending a church in the neighborhood.

"So few people go to church these days the law can afford to be a little lax in this case," Judge Given said as he ordered their collateral returned.

Shots Wound Two Strike Mine Pickets

Gallup, N. Mex., Oct. 30 (AP).—In the first bloodshed of the two-month-old national miners' strike, two house-to-house picketers were wounded here today.

Lucio Ruiz, 32, and Victorio Correa, 30, were shot by an unidentified man as they began a door-to-door effort to keep miners from the coal mines. Ruiz was in serious condition. Correa was released after treatment.

News Men Act Against "Leak"

Alleged Roosevelt Press Confidence Violators Under Fire.

A special committee of Washington newspaper correspondents has been appointed to consider complaints of violation of the rules of President Roosevelt's press conferences.

The President has adopted a policy of frankness with newspaper men, frequently giving them information which he asks be kept confidential. Two recent occasions of violation of this confidence have been protested by certain correspondents.

The committee, composed of the heads of various newspapermen's associations, will pass upon the eligibility of correspondents to the President's conferences. They also will hear complaints by other newspaper men of violations and will pass their recommendations on to Stephen Early, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, in charge of the biweekly conference.

Any disciplinary action will be taken by the White House through Mr. Early.

Ready readers watch Post Classified Ads for new propositions every morning. Put your messages before them and get results the same day. Just phone National 4205.

Jury Upholds Will Of Mrs. Dunmire

Insanity Claim of Mate and Sister Fails.

Mrs. Edna Shaw Dunmire, wife of Roy S. Dunmire, was sane at the time she executed her will, a jury in the court of Justice Oscar R. Luhring, District Supreme Court, determined last night after a two weeks' trial.

An estate of $30,000 was disposed of by the will, which gave the husband a life income; gave a sister, Miss Harriett H. Shaw, $500, and provided several other small bequests.

Upon the death of the husband, the Baptist Home for the Aged and the Baptist Home for Children, are to get the estate. The will was attacked by Mr. Dunmire and Miss Shaw on the ground that Mrs. Dunmire was not of sound mind when she wrote the will.

Mine Hunger Strikers Win, Return to Surface

Warsaw, Oct. 30 (AP).—Mine owners agreed today to hunger striking miners' demands against pay cuts, and 96 miners, underground at Boryslaw since Saturday, returned to the surface.

Several miners fainted as the result of their self-imposed starvation and the long stay underground.

Roosevelt Gets Lynch Protest

Baltimore Students Ask Him to Probe Death at Princess Anne.

President Roosevelt yesterday was petitioned by a group of college students from Baltimore to assume the "leadership" in a determined effort to wipe out the "stain of lynching upon the country's honor."

A delegation left the petition with the President's secretary, Marvin H. McIntyre. The group represented the Goucher College chapter of the League for Industrial Democracy, the Johns Hopkins Liberal Club and the Morgan College Chapter of the L. I. D. They were headed by Miss Allen McQueen, of Goucher.

The petition urged the President to make a public statement censuring States where lynching has occurred, and to investigate the lynching of the Negro at Princess Anne, Md., October 18.

Mr. Roosevelt also was urged to aid in the passage of Federal legislation to curb lynching.

Philadelphia Priest Dies

Philadelphia, Oct. 30 (AP).—The Rev. George Loritz, assistant rector of St. Peter's German Catholic Church, died last night. He was 65. Father Loritz was a native of Baltimore.

Lt. Rice Gives Bail On Charge of Boy

Fire Officer Broke Lad's Jaw, Warrant Says.

Charged with fracturing the jaw of Nathaniel Smith, 13, of 4701 Georgia avenue northwest, by hitting him with a brick, Fire Lieut. Charles W. Rice, 833 Farragut street northwest, of Engine Company No. 22, surrendered at Sixth Precinct Police Station yesterday.

He was released under $500 bond. Rice had been on a 72-hour leave, fishing on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, when the warrant was issued Saturday, he explained.

The warrant was obtained by Harry Smith, delicatessen proprietor, father of the boy. He charged assault, maintaining that in an argument over some loose bricks in the lieutenant's yard the latter struck the lad.

Quake Damages Peru Dwellings and Crops

Lima, Peru, Oct. 30 (AP).—Many persons were made homeless today and scores of farm buildings were destroyed in Carabaya Province by an earthquake, the strongest of several felt in southeastern Peru in the last several days.

Inhabitants of the Atushualco region were thrown into a panic by the splitting of a hill. Damage to crops was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Chesterfield Signal...
T-H-E-Y S-A-T-I-S-F-Y
watch 'em hold 'em!

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's Milder • the cigarette that Tastes Better

The Washington Post

THE WASHINGTON POST PUBLISHING CO.
Eugene Meyer, President and Publisher.
Eugene MacLean, General Manager.
F. R. Harrison, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, which is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

OFFICES OF THE WASHINGTON POST
New York, N. Y., 570 Madison Avenue
Atlanta, Ga., 711 Glenn Building
Chicago, Ill., 300 North Michigan Avenue
Detroit, Mich., 231 General Motors Building
St. Louis, Mo., 300 Globe Democrat Building
San Francisco, Calif., 1000 Montgomery Building

DELIVERED IN WASHINGTON
Daily, Sunday, 1 yr., $7.00; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Daily, Sunday, 1 yr., $2.00; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Sunday only, 1 yr., $1.00; Sunday only, 1 week, 15c

BY MAIL—MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA
Daily and Sunday, 1 yr., $7.00; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Daily, Sunday, 1 yr., $2.00; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Sunday only, 1 yr., $1.00; Sunday only, 1 week, 15c

OTHER STATES, MEXICO AND CANADA
Daily and Sunday, 1 yr., $10.00; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Daily, Sunday, 1 yr., $2.50; Daily, Sunday, 1 week, 15c
Sunday only, 1 yr., $1.50; Sunday only, 1 week, 15c
All Subscriptions by Mail Payable in Advance.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

Tuesday, October 31, 1933.

Another Manipulative Device.

The Government's attempt to raise domestic commodity prices by offering to buy newly-mined gold above world prices has proved to be a complete failure. It has required only four days to demonstrate to the authorities that this latest experiment in monetary manipulation must go the way of its predecessors. The administration has not yet learned; however, that monetary manipulation is a very uncertain reliance upon which to base a recovery program.

So, undiscouraged, the Government is preparing to set up machinery for enabling the R. F. C. to buy gold in foreign markets, with the evident intention of forcing down the exchange value of the dollar. In other words, the objective of the abortive domestic gold-buying campaign—that is, a lowering of the gold value of the dollar—remains the same, but the method employed to effect depreciation is to be changed.

If enough gold is bought in foreign countries by offering dollars for sale, the R. F. C. can depress dollar exchange values, of course, as long as the buying is in progress. Critics of the policy do not question that fact; their objections are based on other grounds. First, they fear retaliatory action by other governments, and secondly, they do not believe that the policy of depressing dollar exchange rates will assist the restoration of a higher and better balanced domestic price structure.

A few days ago, a former British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Robert Horne, warned an American audience of the dangers of a competitive race in currency devaluation between the United States and Great Britain. "That in my view," he said, "would be one of the worst things that could happen to the trade of the world." However, the possibility of such a conflict looms with the announcement of our intention to depress the exchange value of the dollar by buying gold in world markets. Such action would have the effect of raising the value of sterling in terms of dollars and might invite defensive counter-buying on the part of the British authorities.

Moreover, if R. F. C. purchases were to be made on a large scale in France, the French might try to protect their reserves by refusing to sell gold. Such action would be equivalent to abandonment of the gold standard and would produce further exchange demoralization. Consequently, there is grave danger that vigorous prosecution of the R. F. C. gold-buying campaign in world markets would precipitate an international contest in currency devaluation, the end of which can not be foreseen. World markets exist, of course, wherever there are foreign central banks willing to sell gold. In addition, there is the London open market into which newly-mined gold, mainly from South Africa, finds its way.

If the administration is paying the way for an agreement with the British authorities to limit fluctuations in the dollar-sterling exchange rate, the danger of international currency chaos inherent in the new program would be obviated. In that event the announced purpose of buying gold to exert a continuing pressure upon the dollar exchange rate would have to be abandoned in favor of a plan necessitating a measure of exchange stabilization.

Suppose, however, that the R. F. C. is permitted to proceed without interference to boost the world price of gold in terms of dollars. How would American trade and industry benefit by this kind of monetary manipulation? We have succeeded already in bringing the exchange value of the dollar down to about two-thirds of its gold parity and we are still far from the 1926 price goal set for the recovery campaign. We are a good deal farther away from it as regards the prices of certain basic farm commodities than we were in mid-summer, when the exchange value of the dollar was higher than it is at present. In other words, we have already discovered that the level of internal prices does not reflect changes in the external value of the dollar.

The British experience has offered even more striking disproof of the theory that exchange depreciation necessarily raises the level of domestic prices. During the past two years, with sterling heavily depreciated, Britain's domestic price level has remained remarkably stable, despite the fact that British foreign trade constitutes an important percentage of the total trade of that country.

Neither facts nor theories support the view that the domestic value of a currency unit (hence the level of domestic prices) is determined by its value in terms of other gold currencies. Nevertheless, in the belief that the gold value of the dollar can be manipulated to raise domestic prices to any desired extent, the administration apparently proposes to undertake to "bear" the dollar in the exchange markets of the world. We abandon one attempt, patiently doomed to fail, only to try another that will not only be disappointing but may do much incidental harm before it, too, is discontinued.

The Migratory Army.

The Emergency Relief Administration is making unprecedented plans to provide direct aid for the men and boys who are roaming through the country seeking work or eking out a bare existence from the local assistance extended to transients. Morris Lewis, National Director of Transient Activities, estimates that there are more than 1,250,000 homeless men. The help they obtain at present usually is limited to a modest meal and lodging provided by a city that forces them to move on the next morning.

The proposed care of these transients will be unique in that it will be the only relief activity financed exclusively by the Federal Government. The program, as explained by Mr. Lewis, is to establish from five to twenty centers in the various States where homeless and unemployed men can be rehabilitated. Central registration bureaus conducted by the State emergency relief administrations will send applicants to the center best suited to their needs.

The men will be divided into groups according to age and capacity. They will be expected to work on community projects, and if they desire to secure clothing or transportation to their former homes, they will be given extra work in order to earn the necessary funds. Since September 21, twenty-four States have received $488,000 for transient relief, and it is expected that the complete national system will be in operation by the first of the year.

Facilities for study and recreation will be provided at the relief centers, which are to be under the direction of persons technically trained for such responsibilities. Mr. Lewis is of the opinion that 90 per cent of the transients are men who normally would have had permanent jobs and are representative of the average American community. Experience thus far indicates that the cost of caring for transients according to established standards vary from 35 to 55 cents a day for each man.

Edward H. Sothern.

An artist who lived and worked for the highest ideals, Edward H. Sothern dies at the age of 73 years, leaving a name which illuminates the annals of the theater. He was born an actor. His father, "the elder Sothern," was a gifted actor whose chief creation, "Lord Dundreary," became one of the delights of the stage. In his sketch of "Lord Dundreary," the younger Sothern told the story of the development of that character, his father's part in it, the part which accident played in making it sharply individual, and his own renditions of the character according to the traditions established by his father.

The younger Sothern studied deeply in literature, and was a finished critic. His love of the English language became more intense as he delved into its origins and peculiarities. He became a master in its use, both in writing and on the stage. The loving care with which he and his brilliant wife, Julia Marlowe, brought out the richness and flavor of Shakespeare's English gave endless pleasure to their audiences. Sothern played many parts, chiefly romantic roles when younger, and solely Shakespearean roles in later years.

The impression made by Sothern as an actor was deepened by recognition of his high character as a man. He embodied his profession, and fought manfully against the tendencies which degraded the stage. Although he had not appeared on the stage for several years, he lived and breathed its delights. His writings, all too scanty, are a contribution to the literature of the drama, and should be studied and digested by followers of the stage.

Julia Marlowe, Sothern's charming associate on the stage, had won fame for herself before she became his wife. No more attractive figure has appeared in recent years than Miss Marlowe in "As You Like It." When she and Sothern collaborated in rendering Shakespeare's plays they succeeded in presenting them with incomparable beauty. They set a standard which will remain as an inspiration and ideal for future interpreters of Shakespeare.

History From An Ax.

An ancient ax is causing a stir in archeological circles about Washington. This simple instrument, it appears, has upset all previous calculations as to when human beings first roamed these parts. Scientists have been estimating that the aborigines had not penetrated this region until about 200 years before Columbus made his historic voyage. But, David L. Bushnell, Jr., has thrown a primitive ax into the midst of these calculations with devastating results.

Mr. Bushnell's discovery is of special interest to Washingtonians because the ax was excavated in nearby Albemarle County, Va. It may have been used to strike down ferocious beasts on the very spot where the Capitol now stands. Back in the days when Nero was watching Rome burn an entire tribe armed with such instruments of battle may have indulged in a war dance on what is now the White House lawn. Truly this ax fires the imagination, especially the imaginations of our archeologists.

It is a simple and inoffensive weapon compared with the means of destruction employed by modern homo sapiens. But it tells a remarkable story to the students of American life in prehistoric times. Originally the ax was chipped out of shining black diabase rock. Exposure of centuries has discolored it and worn down its surface in an irregular manner. From this evidence the experts who know the resistance of diabase rock to the elements calculate its original age at about 2,000 years. One edge of the ax is worn and less discolored than the other, and the archeologist this indicates the instrument was found and resharpened several hundred years after its first use.

The Smithsonian Institution says that former estimates of man's first incursion into this vicinity must be revised. A stone ax adds to our knowledge of the past a new tentative chapter, which may be modified or expanded by the discovery of other ancient tools and fossils.

The Pennsylvania's Innovation.

Sixteen railroads operating east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac have voted to institute proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission to prevent the Pennsylvania Railroad from establishing its proposed "door to door" delivery system on December 1. The railroads dissenting from this plan are strongly supported by trucking concerns and by the American Trucking Association, which now is negotiating with the NRA for a code covering the trucking industry.

The plan contemplates the collection of freight at store doors and the delivery at the door of the consignee. Whether the Pennsylvania will operate trucks of its own or transact the business through a trucking corporation is not yet disclosed. Some indications that a trucking corporation will handle the business is afforded by the fact that two railroads interested in a carloading concern formerly controlled by the Pennsylvania voted against the proposed move to restrain the Pennsylvania from establishing the new system.

Presumably the Pennsylvania has decided upon this important step as a means of meeting the competition of the trucking industry generally. If its plan should be approved and should prove successful, railroads generally may be forced to adopt it, in view of the heavy inroads which trucks are making upon railroad freight traffic, especially for local and short hauls.

California has produced nearly $2,000,000,000 in gold and claims to have as much more left in the ground, but with no intention of plowing it under.

One theory is that if the pound and the dollar are unyoked they can cavort more freely in the field of rugged individualism.

Milo Reno insists that farmers must be guaranteed the cost of production. In which kind of dollar, Bensonian?

Big salaries for male movie stars are absolutely necessary in order to finance breach of promise suits.

France objects to the flight of gold to America, even for payment of debt.

Concerning Taverns.

By Henry H. Chamberlin, in the Boston Transcript.

Is there no way whereby some of the undesirable characteristics of the corner saloon shall not be perpetuated in the tavern?

The American people abolished the old-time saloon, not because of its name, but because of its beastliness. They believed that the saloon was a source of intemperance and that these bibulous resorts afforded a convenient medium of exchange for all sorts of intrigues between corrupt liquor interests and crooked politicians. These two evils gave the saloon a very bad name, and in many cases deservedly so.

So far as the tavern goes, there are two suggestions that might be pertinent. The first is concerned with the connection between the producers of ale, wine and liquor and the tavern keepers. It is possible, I should imagine, for a brewery, a distillery or a vintner, to run a tavern in an honest and respectable manner. But the chances for honesty and respectability would seem to be greater, either if a tavern keeper did business for himself alone, or else became a member of a larger unit, organized solely for the purpose of retailing beverages on the premises. So far as possible, then, it would seem that legislation ought to sever any connection between "the trade" and the taverns; or if this is impossible, both the taverns and "the trade" should be held strictly accountable to a State commission.

The second suggestion concerns the taverns themselves. Many of the restrictions which the liquor committee would put upon them seem to me absolutely idiotic. The requirement that the tavern should be open to the public gaze, is at least of very questionable value. Surely a tavern could be made a respectable place of resort without becoming a public spectacle. Why should exposure at an inn be any more necessary than in the case of a club or a restaurant or a hotel dining room?

But if this proposal is questionable there is another that is simply crazy. I refer to the attempt to prohibit all forms of entertainment in a tavern except that of drinking. Surely this restriction would tend to make a tavern even more beastly than the old saloon. Surely innocent and clean entertainment, good music for example, or a well-run radio set, would tend to divert the minds of the guests from the mere consumption of liquor and might be made an incentive to the temperate use thereof. Even in a tavern, it seems to me that well-chosen entertainment would promote a cheerful sobriety.

For these taverns, if we have them at all, should be places of good cheer. They should encourage decency and not disorder. Last summer, I talked with the Archdeacon of Oxford on the subject of liquor control. He asserted that the result of the last decade in England had been most gratifying. He agreed with many other responsible citizens, that the English drink problem was fast becoming no problem at all. Can we not do as well in Massachusetts as they do in Oxfordshire? I think we can, if we adopt sane methods; but in adopting these, we should bear in mind that England is a land of pubs, largely under local control, and that strenuous efforts are constantly being made to keep these pubs decent and clean and above all else cheerful. We must not forget that people can keep their self-respect and yet indulge in takes and ale.

ARTHUR J. DODGE.

Merchant Protests Against No-Parking Rule in Early Morning.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It is a great injustice to small shopkeepers that no parking is allowed before 9:30 in the morning. Why not change the law so that there shall be no parking from 12 at mid-night until 8 o'clock in the morning? This rule of no parking until 9:30 a. m. has a tendency to make business worse for small shopkeepers. I can see no good in that law and it should be changed.

P. K. RICHTER.

SLOW BUT SURE.

It has taken 50 years of work to produce the new geologic map of the United States, says the Los Angeles Times, on which work has been progressing since 1879. Every possible mineral "element" is shown on the map.

Halloween Spirits.

Letters to the Editor.

More of the Shakespeare "Mystery."

—Claim That Edward de Vere Was Author of Plays.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The issue of The Post for August 6, 1933, contained some observations of mine descriptive, in a brief way, of the new Folger Shakespeare Library, here in Washington, together with some lucubrations upon the valuable contents of that library, notably those original works of the writers, contemporaneous with the poet and dramatist, throwing light upon what his friends thought of his writings. These writings were referred to as having an important bearing upon the so-called "mystery" as to the authorship of the writings bearing the name of Shakespeare.

Due, no doubt, to the limitations of space assigned to the subject, a more or less important part of the story was omitted. The only reason why this omission might be regarded as important is the fact that the article as it stood might convey the impression that the Folger Library is not "up to date" in its collection of writings touching upon the life and works of William Shakespeare. The article in question as printed dealt only with the contention that Francis Bacon, instead of Shakespeare, was the author of the poems and plays which bear the name of the immortal bard. The parts omitted brought the subject down to the present day, and dealt briefly with the idea that Edward de Vere, seventeenth Earl of Oxford, was the real author, not Bacon or Shakespeare.

It should be recorded that the Folger Library contains a number of volumes dealing with de Vere side of "the mystery." Two volumes, 1930, 1931, by Percy Allen, discuss in much detail the writings of others of recent times, and present in full the claim that de Vere wrote and concealed within the writings a cipher to prove he was the author of the plays. It is not the purpose here to follow the windings of the volumes on this subject, but merely to call attention to what may be found in the Folger Library by those who may be interested in the so-called "mystery."

It may be said, in passing, that the de Vere "cipher" deals with such points as that the letters "eo," at the end of the name "Romero," really stands for "Earl of Oxford," or "Edward of Oxford." Also, along the same line, the words "very" or "every" where they occur, carry forward the "Vere" part of the earl's name; and so forth.

Who was de Vere? He was born "about" 1560; he sat in the trial of Mary, Queen of Scots, in 1586; also, in the trials of Essex and Southampton in 1601. He is credited with having written comedies in 1578, not preserved, and some poems. His death was recorded "in July," 1604. Therefore, after his death, or Edward of Oxford, the following ten years, there appeared, publicly credited to Shakespeare, the notable plays of Othello, Macbeth, Antony and Cleopatra, Cymbeline, Coriolanus, Timon, Winter's Tale, Tempest and so much of Pericles and Henry VIII as have been claimed to be the work of Shakespeare.

The seventeenth Earl of Oxford did not live to put any ciphers into those plays.

ARTHUR J. DODGE.

Cooperation, Not Dictation.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Business and industry are beginning to realize, if they did not fully realize the fact before, that the "self-policing feature" of the NRA, so strongly emphasized at the outset, is rapidly being subordinated to a system of compulsion and ironclad regulations which spells "regimentation" in earnest.

If employers generally have not yet reaped the expected benefits from the Industrial Recovery Act, but on the contrary have been subjected to additional burdens, it may be said with truth that they have given it their loyal support.

The nearer the NRA inclines to the original policy of cooperation, avoiding a spirit of arrogant dictation and suspicion, the more likely it will be to attain the object which all good citizens have at heart.

William Lyon Phelps

Daily Talks About Books and Authors

The Book of Esdras.

Every one who owns a copy of the Authorized Version of the Bible, which ought to mean and does not mean every living American, should make sure either that the books under the heading Apocrypha are included in the volume, or else one should secure a separate copy of the Apocrypha. The so-called Apocrypha contains some of the most magnificent literature in the world; it is full of poetry, full of human nature, and contains a considerable amount of humor.

When Shylock called out "A Daniel come to judgment!" he did not refer to the Daniel in the canonical Bible, but to a clever story in the Apocrypha. Now of all the fine passages in the Apocryphal books, perhaps the finest is in the third and fourth chapters of the First Book of Esdras. I think this narrative will be a revelation to many readers. Three young men entered a competition; each put a sentence under the pillow of King Darius, with the idea that when he woke, he would appoint a trial and give a prize to the one whose sentence was the best.

The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. The second wrote, The King is strongest. The third wrote, Women are strongest; but above all things Truth beareth away the victory. In public each man made a long and able defense of his proposition; what the third young man said of the power of women showed two things; first that he knew exactly what he was talking about, and second that human nature was exactly then what it is now. And then he concluded: "As for the truth, it endureth and is always strong; it liveth and conquereth for evermore." Then all the people shouted and said, "Great is Truth, and mighty above all things."

In the long run the Truth always wins; but why? (Copyright, 1933.)

Tomorrow—Emily Bronte.

No Stock Is Worth Its Par Value If The Public's Faith Is Below Par.

By Robert Quillen.

A famous publicist urges the Government to print $20,000,000,000 of paper money and use it to retire bonds. He says a piece of paper called money is worth as much as a piece of paper called a bond, since both are signed by the Government. And he assures us that the printing of so much paper money would pay the Nation's debt and make times good.

His scheme sounds plausible, but it is based on a fatal fallacy. This generation did not invent wisdom. The world has produced many brilliant men since national bonds and paper money first appeared.

If national debts could be paid by printing more paper, how did the smart men of other generations overlook such an easy way to solve the tax problem? The sad truth is that no government has the power to make paper money worth its face value.

You hear of "intrinsic value," but in practice a thing is worth what you can get for it. And the worth of gold or silver or a law or paper money is determined by the public's opinion of it.

Government bonds are mortgages on the Nation. Each bond bears the Government's promise to pay a specified sum on a specified date. The holder of the bond believes that the Government will pay him when payment is due and in the meantime will pay him interest on his money.

An acre of farm land in Iowa is richer than an acre on Broadway, but the Broadway acre has more value because more people want it. And no Government edict or promise can make the Iowa acre worth several million dollars.

(Copyright, 1933.)

Press Comment

Cooperation, Not Dictation.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Business and industry are beginning to realize, if they did not fully realize the fact before, that the "self-policing feature" of the NRA, so strongly emphasized at the outset, is rapidly being subordinated to a system of compulsion and ironclad regulations which spells "regimentation" in earnest.

If employers generally have not yet reaped the expected benefits from the Industrial Recovery Act, but on the contrary have been subjected to additional burdens, it may be said with truth that they have given it their loyal support.

The nearer the NRA inclines to the original policy of cooperation, avoiding a spirit of arrogant dictation and suspicion, the more likely it will be to attain the object which all good citizens have at heart.

P. K. RICHTER.

SLOW BUT SURE.

It has taken 50 years of work to produce the new geologic map of the United States, says the Los Angeles Times, on which work has been progressing since 1879. Every possible mineral "element" is shown on the map.

ARTHUR J. DODGE.

Cooperation, Not Dictation.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Business and industry are beginning to realize, if they did not fully realize the fact before, that the "self-policing feature" of the NRA, so strongly emphasized at the outset, is rapidly being subordinated to a system of compulsion and ironclad regulations which spells "regimentation" in earnest.

If employers generally have not yet reaped the expected benefits from the Industrial Recovery Act, but on the contrary have been subjected to additional burdens, it may be said with truth that they have given it their loyal support.

The nearer the NRA inclines to the original policy of cooperation, avoiding a spirit of arrogant dictation and suspicion, the more likely it will be to attain the object which all good citizens have at heart.

The Once Over.

By H. I. Phillips.

IMAGINARY INTERVIEWS.

(Mae West and Will Hays.)

Will—I've come about your pictures, Mae.

Mae—Have there been complaints?

Will—Not many.

Mae—That's too bad. I'll have to do something about it.

Will—What I want to ask you is whether you couldn't see your way clear to tone down your pictures a little. You really should be more reined.

Mae—Where would you be if the movies went in for refinement, Will? Will—The truth of the matter is that you are embarrassing me no end, Mae.

Mae—What's the trouble, Will? Will—Well, you see, every few months I issue an ultimatum to the cinema world telling it that vulgarity, suggestiveness and bawdiness will not be tolerated. Haven't you read them?

Mae—No. Are we supposed to? Will—It would be nice if somebody in Hollywood would. Well, anyhow, only this spring I issued one of my most complete ultimatums demanding wholesomeness in pictures and now you come along and glorify the woman without a sense of morals. Tell Trill Tell.

Mae—It looks like you'd just have to issue another ultimatum. You don't mind, do you?

Will—Oh, no. They're largely a habit now, you know, but it would be awfully nice if somebody would pay some attention to them.

Mae—You just keep 'em up, Will; maybe some day somebody will.

Will—How did you get your start in the pictures, Mae?

Mae—The New York courts drove me out of the legitimate theater on the ground I was not a wholesome influence in the amusement world.

Will—And now look at you!

Mae—If it hadn't been for all those court decisions I might still be in the minors.

Will—What was your first hit?

Mae—It was a little thing called "The Covered Wagon."

Will—Were you in "The Covered Wagon?"

Mae—Yes. There was a New York cop at each end.

Will—Don't you ever accept a picture that isn't about sex, Mae?

Mae—No. Do they write about anything else in Hollywood?

Will—Of course.

Mae—It's funny. I've never been told.

Will—Well, Mae, we don't appear to be getting anywhere. I'm afraid you're not a good girl.

Mae—When I am good I am very good, but when I am bad I am better.

Will (sadly)—I guess I'll just have to issue another ultimatum.

DETROIT—WASHINGTON.

Said the Big Blue Eagle.

To the Little Gray Lizzie.

"You better sign up."

If you're not too busy."

Said the Little Gray Lizzie.

To the Big Blue Eagle.

"Our attorney says."

That it isn't legal."

The income of a safety razorblademaker showed a decline for the last six months. This is despite the fact so many people have been taking cuts.

"Col. Lindbergh said he hoped to remain in Paris incognito."—News item. The trick of the year, even if he doesn't do it.

Liquor Report For Roosevelt Now Complete

Data for Rum Control and Taxation Compiled With Secrecy.

The vital interdepartment report on liquor, on which President Roosevelt is expected to base tax and regulatory recommendations to Congress, is ready for delivery to the White House, it was understood yesterday.

The report has been prepared by representatives of several Government departments concerned with liquor control and taxation under the chairmanship of Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of the Treasury.

The committee has made a thorough study of revenue possibilities of liquor, of the exact status of the country in regard to State laws in event of repeal, and of suggested methods of control.

Proceedings of the committee have been closely guarded, with strict orders against talking imposed by Acheson. However, it is known that the Treasury and its Bureau of Internal Revenue, the Customs, the Coast Guard, and the Commissioner of Industrial Alcohol took part in the deliberations.

It is understood the report will recommend base taxes for foreign and domestic liquors. All problems concerned with the comeback of liquor have been set forth for the President's consideration.

Meanwhile, the House Ways and Means subcommittee under chairmanship of Representative Sam Hill (Democrat), Washington, studying taxes, will get to the question of liquor taxes this week. The committee will call several Government officials familiar with liquor and revenue problems.

Louisiana Vote Probe Pushed

Senate Group Will Seek Fraud Proof in Long Aid's Election.

(United Press.) Senator Logan (Democrat), Kentucky, said yesterday he would accompany a special Senate committee to New Orleans November 13 in an attempt to "find witnesses who can tell whether there actually was fraud" in Louisiana's 1932 senatorial election.

The group will represent a subcommittee of the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee, investigating charges of former Senator Broussard that his defeat by John H. Overton was brought about by "fraudulent practices."

Overton is a follower of Senator Huey P. Long. Logan said that although the committee had taken considerable evidence on two former trips to Louisiana, no facts had been submitted to justify Broussard's charges.

"We want to find out just how much money was spent in that election and where it went," Logan said. "I think we should go into every election precinct in the State in an endeavor to find witnesses who can tell us whether there actually was fraud."

George 3d's Close Kin Dies in London

Sir Augustus Fitzgeorge King's Great-Grandson.

London, Oct. 30 (P).—Col. Sir Augustus Fitzgeorge, 86, great-grandson of King George III and a cousin of Queen Mary, died today.

His grandfather was the seventh son of the ruler renounced by American colonists.

Like his father, who was Commander-in-Chief of the British armies for 40 years during the reign of Queen Victoria, Sir Augustus followed an army career and had exciting adventures in many lands.

He claimed to have shot every kind of big game in the world. Until recent years he was an ardent golfer.

Farm Strike Defied To Get Babies' Milk

Wisconsin Officers Plan to Break Blockade.

Manitowish, Wis., Oct. 30 (P). County authorities today planned to break through a farm strike blockade to get milk to infants and the sick.

Negotiations between strike leaders and dealers failed. Strikers offered to sell milk for $1.80 a 100 pounds for emergency use and insisted that retailers distribute it for 8 cents a quart.

District Attorney Kenneth Healy said deputies would escort milk trucks. No milk had been received since a small quantity was brought in by train from Milwaukee and Chicago yesterday.

Widow Attacked, Suspect Arrested

60-Year-Old Woman in Critical Condition.

Springfield, Pa., Oct. 30 (P).—Accused of attacking a 60-year-old widow, Horace Dorey, 40, Sharon Hill Negro, was arrested today and immediately taken to the Delaware County Jail at Media for safekeeping. Mrs. Robert C. Creer, the victim, is said to be in a critical condition.

Police said Dorey, helper on a garbage truck, entered the yard of Mrs. Creer's home while she was drying her hair, struck her with a garbage pail and then choked her.

Roosevelt Urged To Help Veterans

Restoring Compensation Cut Asked by D. A. V.

Urging that the 10 per cent reduction in compensation be restored for World War veterans with service-connected injuries, Joe W. McQueen, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, yesterday sent a plea to President Roosevelt.

"Even the most vigorous organized advocates of reductions in the cost of veterans' relief," McQueen said, "are now declaring that at no time did they favor slashing of the money whose handicaps are traceable to the war they played in the war."

The situation is so urgent that many veterans can not wait for Congress to convene before adjustments are made, McQueen added.

Retailers' Code In Effect, Price Action Waited

District Stores Reported Using Measure to Reduce Pay.

Although the retail code affecting nearly 1,000,000 stores and several million employees officially went into effect yesterday, NRA officials predicted it would not be practically effective until the minimum retail price question has been settled.

The special committee, headed by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, to determine the allowance for labor cost probably will meet today. Before arriving at any definite figure, however, it is expected the Retail Trade Authority will confer with the Retail Trade Council, set up by the code as governing agency for the industry.

Labor Cost Added.

The labor cost allowance would be added to the invoice cost to determine the minimum selling price.

NRA headquarters received no direct report from the industry yesterday on the first day's operation. Officials do not expect any complaints or comments until some outstanding questions about the code's application are clarified by further interpretations sent out by headquarters to retailers.

District NRA officials, however, report various retail stores have chosen hours under the code which would reduce the pay of workers who already had been benefited by increases under the President's reemployment agreement.

May Classify Themselves.

Under the code, retail stores may elect to be grouped in which it shall be classified. These groups are divided according to the number of hours the shops choose to remain open. The wages and hours of labor for clerks are governed by the number of hours the store is open.

The local complaints were that home stores had chosen hours that automatically reduced the salaries of workers who had already been increased under the reemployment agreement.

It is expected that hearings will begin within two weeks on the general wholesale code, provisions of which will follow those of the retail code.

Liquor Conviction Of Toney Reversed

Appellate Court Rules He Was Not Proven Owner.

The District Court of Appeals yesterday reversed the police court conviction of Marshall Toney, charged with possession of "a large quantity of intoxicating liquor" found by police at 3301 Adams Mill road northwest.

Toney was arrested after an automobile in which he was riding circled twice the block where the house is situated. No liquor was found in his car, but a search warrant was procured and the place raided.

The Appellate Court held that the Government had failed to show that Toney held "dominion" over the raided premises and with that lacking, could not be held responsible for what the place contained. Attorneys Harry Whelan and William B. O'Connell represented Toney.

Events Today

Lecture—"South Seas and New Guinea," Mayflower Hotel, 8:30 p. m. Supper dance—Amity Club, Mayflower Hotel, 8:30 p. m.

Meeting—National Lumber Association, Mayflower Hotel, all day. Breakfast—Early Birds, Willard Hotel, 8 a. m.

Code conference—Wrecking and salvage industry, Willard Hotel, all day.

Code committee—Highway construction, Willard Hotel, all day. Code conference—Plumbing industry, Willard Hotel, all day.

Rehearsal—Rubenstein Club, Willard Hotel, 10:45 a. m.

Ball—New York State Society, Willard Hotel, 10 p. m.

Halloween dance—Reunion Association, Jr. O. U. A. M., Northeast Masonic Temple, 9 p. m.

Luncheon—Sigma Chi Fraternity, University Club, 12:30 p. m.

Luncheon—Columbia Heights Business Men's Association, Sholl's Cafe, 12:15 p. m.

Election and smoker—Georgia Avenue Business Men's Association, German's, 8:30 p. m.

Halloween dance—Gen. Nelson A. Miles Auxiliary, No. 8, United Spanish War Veterans, Pythian Temple, 8 p. m.

Luncheon—Women's National Press Club, Willard Hotel, 1 p. m.

Luncheon—Washington Association of Credit Men, Hamilton Hotel, noon.

Luncheon—Civitan Club, Hamilton Hotel, 12:30 p. m.

Meet and dance—Postal Telegraph Managers, Hamilton Hotel, 8 p. m.

U. S. Discloses Veterans Cut By 1/4 Billion

Figures Released Giving First Clue to Effect of Economies.

(Associated Press.) Measured by expenditures for last year, veterans were disclosed yesterday by unofficial sources to be contributing $23,000,000 to the Government economy program under the present plan of appropriations.

This, however, could not take into consideration deficiency appropriations that might be made to care for an excess of expenses above appropriations if such excess should develop.

A tabulation of veterans' expenses for last year, which usually would not be made public until Congress convenes, placed the amount expended at $773,016,000, as compared with $531,988,000 appropriated for 1933-34, not including adjusted service certificate payments.

Total Near $300,000,000.

If the $50,000,000 cut in funds for paying the certificates is taken into account, the reduction under 1933-34 expenditures totals nearer $300,000,000.

This compares with slashes in veterans' costs of around $400,000,000 which President Roosevelt first proposed, and which resulted in a congressional deadlock resulting in a compromise. Although some estimated at the time that the compromise would bring the veterans' costs below the $300,000,000 mark, today's figures reveal that the time just how much they apparently would fall short of the original objective.

Here are the disbursements as shown for the 1933 fiscal year which ended in June (in round numbers):

Administration, medical, hospital and domiciliary service	$389,957,000
Printing and binding	180,000
Disability allowances	35,922,000
Military and naval compensation—death compensation	184,646,000
Emergency officers' re-employment	9,968,000
Disability allowances	85,364,000
Payments to participants in yellow fever experiments	25,000
Army and Navy pensions	4,400,000
Civil War	98,272,000
Spanish War	25,389,000
War of 1812	3,000
War with Mexico	2,000
Indian wars	4,715,000
World War	12,028,000
Military and naval compensation—hospital and domiciliary service	13,517,000
State and territorial homes for disabled soldiers	757,000

Two Expenses Grouped.

This year's appropriations grouped the World War compensation and the pensions together, totaling $319,230,000, compared with $350,584,000 that went for these last year.

For military and naval insurance, $123,000,000 was appropriated, $1,000,000 for hospital and domiciliary facilities and services, $150,000 for printing and binding, something over $85,000 for administration, medical, hospital and domiciliary services, and $735,000 for homes for disabled.

The figures also show 1932-3 disbursements for military and naval compensation for World War veterans were $40,661,000 below the appropriation for that year.

Britain Denies War Upon Tariff Truce

Reports She'll Denounce Pact Called Untrue.

London, Oct. 30 (P).—Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Reports that Great Britain was likely to denounce the tariff truce reached at the beginning of the World Economic Conference were denied today in official quarters.

The import advisory committee, upon whose recommendation tariff changes are effected, has enough applications for hearings to keep it busy the rest of the year. Therefore, there is no reason for denouncing the truce, it was indicated.

Housing Director Starts U. S. Tour

Kohn, Public Works Aid, to Inspect Relief Steps.

Robert D. Kohn, director of housing in the Public Works Administration, left Washington late yesterday on a two weeks' inspection trip as far as the West Coast.

His itinerary was not announced, to prevent him being swamped by requests for assistance in cities he will visit, associates declared. It was learned, however, he will be in Cleveland today and in Chicago Wednesday.

Although nothing was disclosed as to the exact purpose of his mission, it was held probable Mr. Kohn will make preliminary negotiations for the newly organized Emergency Housing Corporation.

Navy Asks Millions For Public Works

"Deferred Repairs" Are Put at $77,000,000.

(Associated Press.) The Navy yesterday asked the Public Works Administration for $77,000,000 to carry out a program which it described as for "deferred repairs," according to the Associated Press.

The money would be used in the battleship modernization program and for repairs to vessels in service. Admiral William H. Standley said the program would furnish immediate work for many unemployed. He indicated if the full $77,000,000 was not allowed, a revised program would be submitted.

Southern States Get Funds.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration yesterday allotted $336,000 for unemployment relief to Mississippi, and $290,000 to Tennessee.

Woodward & Lothrop

10th 11th and G Streets Phone District 5300

Today—

A New Time—3:30

A New Place—The Tea Room

Seventh Floor

For the Last of the Series of Home Furnishings Talks, by an Authority on Interior Decorating—Illustrated by Actual Merchandise.

"Ten Things Wrong With the Decorating of This Room"

You will see a 14x18 foot display room incorrectly decorated—then, correctly redecorated during the demonstration. This talk will also contain "The Do's and Don'ts" of decorating, a summary of the talks which have been given each Tuesday for the previous five weeks—with special attention to window treatments and floor arrangements. We suggest that you bring pencil and pad.

TEA ROOM, SEVENTH FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

10th 11th and G Streets Phone District 5300

Today—

Wednesday

Oct. 31—Nov. 1

Specials in Trees

Japanese Cherry Trees, 5-6 feet; Siberian Elm, 4-5 feet; Silver Maple, 10-15 feet.

Peonies

—Red, Pink and White, 35c each; 3 for $1.00

Spring Flowering Dutch Bulbs

TULIPS—Darwin, Breeder, Single Early, Double, Parrot and Cottage, $2.50 per dozen; $4.50 per 100. NARS—CIBISS—Most of the popular varieties, $2.50 per dozen; $4.50 per 100. HYACINTHS—Many varieties that bloom of wide selection, $1.00 per dozen; $2.00 per 100.

Sheep Manure, 80c for 35 lbs.; $2.50 per 100 lbs. Bone Meal, 50c for 25 lbs.; $1.50 per 100 lbs. Peat Moss, 50c for 25 lbs.; $1.50 per 100 lbs. Horticultural Moss, large, 25-bushel bale, $2.25. Top Soil, 100 lbs., $1.00.

Crepe Myrtle

Red, Pink and Purple. Fine, large, healthy specimens, 79c each

Lombardy Poplars

12-14 feet tall, 35c each; 3 for $1.00

BALDERSON CO., INC.

626 Indiana Ave. N. W., Extending Thru to 617 C St. N. W.

Phones: National 9721-9723 Free Deliveries

Watching Women's Legs Just A Chore (If You're a Scientist)

U. S. Bureau of Standards "Plumb Disgusted" With Fickle Fashions.

(United Press.) If you girls don't get together and decide once and for all how much of your silk-sheathed legs you want to expose to the general public, the Bureau of Standards won't like you and you probably will go to the bad place when you die.

They're getting pretty tired out there of raising and dropping the length of stockings. Makes them feel like a draw-bridge guard on a busy day. Things were all right up until the war. Dresses swept the pavement as thoroughly as a white wing after a Shriners' parade and it didn't make a bit of difference whether stockings reached the knee or fell down around your shoe tops.

Came the war (the drums, professor) and skirts went up with the cost of living. The Bureau of Standards assembled hastily, fortified with statistics on the length of the female skin-bone, and told manufacturers that the average stocking should be lengthened from 27 inches to 31.

Ab! Those Were the Days.

Those were the days, Maggie, when you were rolling 'em, but how was the Bureau of Standards to know that the new freedom was in the air and that the Nation's ash cans were to be heaped high with discarded corsets and garter belts? They're scientists out there, and to them a knee is just another joint.

Well, dresses remained, shall we say, brief, clear up through the time when Miss Clara Bow told Mary Pickford to move over because she wasn't America's sweetheart any more. Along came Greta Garbo wearing a long gown and lo!

The flood waters of history carved new channels.

Dresses went down to the ankles. Wearily, the Bureau of Standards assembled again. Some said 26 inches, some held out for 28. They compromised on 27 and no questions asked. It happened that Miss Garbo's gowns were full and flowing, so you bane tank you have your's that way, too. Socks could be made with cotton tops, because once they got past the knee nobody would know the difference except when you got on a street car.

Now, Listen to This!

Here we are in 1933 A. D. and the bureau is at it again. It's the mode, Angeline, not the length of skirts that's bothering them this time. Dresses are sheer, which means that cotton tops are out. And there can't be any bunching about the knee either.

So the bureau has commenced with itself again, and announced that 30 inches, silk all the way, is the thing. Now let's settle down a while, girls, and give the scientists a rest. If there's another change within six months, Bureau of Standards will lose its temper and spanky-spank.

Pennsylvania Assembly To Study Liquor Control

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 30 (P).—The Legislature will meet in special session, beginning at 9 p. m. Monday, November 13, to consider liquor control and other problems not yet officially listed.

Arkansas Creditors Sue to Save Bonds

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 30 (P).—A three-judge Federal court today began hearing a suit by the Arkansas bondholders protective committee for an injunction to prevent the State treasurer from paying out more license and gasoline revenues except on $91,500,000 of State road and bridge bonds.

A temporary order recently restrained the treasurer from paying highway revenues except for maintenance.

Slain Girl's Body Found in Sewer

Pittsburgh Suburb Victim Shot Through Heart.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 30 (P).—A bullet hole through her heart, the body of an attractive girl, about 18, was found in a storm sewer on the Allegheny River boulevard today in suburban Verona.

She was not identified and was dressed only in lingerie. She weighed about 130 pounds, was 5 feet 4 inches tall, had gray eyes and dark brown hair.

THE RITZ CARLTON HOTEL

WORLD-FAMOUS

for the excellence of its service, cuisine and comfort. Whether your stay is for a night, a fortnight, or longer, nowhere else at the tariff can you find the same atmosphere and luxury.

In the heart of the fashionable shopping and theatrical district.

Madison at 46th

The Ritz-Carlton of Boston. Under the same management.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

10th 11th and G Streets Phone District 5300

Miss Nina Nestor

From the New York Salon of

Produits Nina

We particularly invite you to consult with Miss Nestor about your complexion—beauty problems. Miss Nestor is an expert, of course, in these all-important matters, and will give you a make-up (without charge) to acquaint you with the exquisite Nina Products. And we do want you to know about the exquisite three-purpose cream—

NINA GERANIUM CREAM, $3.50

HAIRDRESSING, SECOND FLOOR

Now—You Can Order Monogrammed Sheets and Pillowcases

At Special Feature Prices

SHEETS

81x99 and 72x108, each $1.85

PILLOWCASES

45x38 1/2—65c

The Post Radio Time Table

These prices prevail in Washington and vicinity

Ickes Shows Funds Allotted For Irrigation

$145,000,000 Record Used to Refute Charge by Representative.

(Associated Press.)
A charge by Representative Martin (Democrat), Colorado, that Secretary Ickes has opposed the use of Federal funds for Western irrigation projects produced a reply from the Public Works Administrator yesterday that "the record speaks for itself."
Figures were produced showing allotments exceeding $145,000,000 had been made for irrigation projects or combined power and reclamation work, including Boulder Dam and the Grand Coulee and Columbia Basin Works.

Martin said Ickes "has been thumbs down on any expenditures for Federal projects primarily benefiting irrigation and this attitude has been reflected down through the public works set up."
"Don't mention irrigation," is the word," Martin added. "This is no secret among Western members and if the West does not know it, it had just as well be told. The only show the West has to break into this game is to gang up with a united front."

The Public Works Board, over which Ickes presides as chairman, has maintained that new lands should not be brought into cultivation with public works funds while the Government is spending millions through the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to dispose of and prevent farm surpluses.

"Where we have a reclamation district more or less in disrepair, I think we have money enough to put that plant in shape," Ickes said, "because we induced people to move to these lands long ago with a promise of water."

"Where special cases are made out I am in favor of new reclamation projects, such as the Casper-Alcova project in Wyoming," he added.

Street Car Hit By Fire Truck

Injury to Fireman May Cause Him to Lose Fingers.

A fireman was injured and passengers shaken when a Washington Railway & Electric Co. street car collided with Fire Engine No. 9 at Florida and Connecticut avenues northwest, yesterday.

Fire Private N. W. Graves was taken to Emergency Hospital with a crushed hand. Physicians feared they might have to amputate some of his fingers. C. W. Smith, driver of the engine and W. H. Lambert, street car motorman, escaped injury.

The firemen were responding to an alarm turned in from 1313 Twenty-second street northwest, due to a smoky grate. The engine followed the hose cart across the intersection and smashed into the car. The apparatus was considerably damaged.

Smith was examined at the Fire Department Clinic after the crash, and then returned to duty.

2 Cleveland Girls Held in Savannah
Reported as Runaways; 1 Foiled in Escape.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 30 (AP).—Two girls, who gave the names of Marie Barkley, 14, and Margaret Murton, 13, of Cleveland, are being held for investigation by police here.

Advices from Cleveland said the girls were missing from their homes.

The Barkley girl made a ladder of bed sheets early today and escaped from the third floor women's quarters. She was captured several hours later.

Murder Suspect Slashes Officer
Man Is Held for Cleveland in Long Beach, Calif.

Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP). While being questioned by police about the killing of a Cleveland Heights, Ohio, woman in a robbery last June, Aron Arnold, 29, Negro, slashed a jailer with a safety razor blade today.

Arnold lunged at Police Inspector Walter Lentz and tried to seize the officer's pistol.

Placed in a strait-jacket, Arnold brought a razor blade into play in an effort to escape. Jailor Oscar Swanson was slashed in the leg.

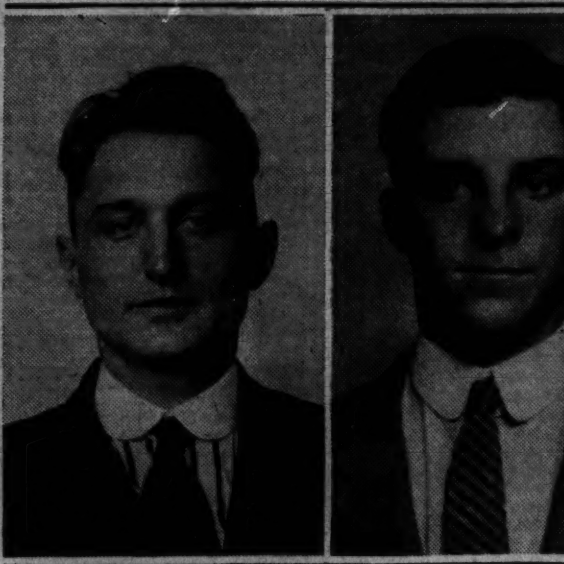

Sheet Mill Wages Remain Unchanged
Prices Assure Same Pay for Two Months.

Youngstown, Ohio, Oct. 30 (AP). Wages of sheet mill workers employed under the sliding scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers will remain unchanged for the next two months, it was announced today after the bimonthly examination of selling prices, on which wages are based.

Representatives of the union and the manufacturers found the selling price of black sheets had been unchanged the last two months at $2.55 a hundred pounds.

Sheriff Will Get Hearing.
Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 30 (AP). Gov. Sholtz today set November 7 for hearing Dan Hardie's reply to charges on which he was suspended as sheriff of Dade County.

Held on Extortion Count

Policemen Harry G. Bauer (left) and Rudolph Schleichert, members of headquarters vice squad, accused yesterday of accepting $50 from a former prisoner.

Doris Stevens To Sail Nov. 11 For Uruguay

Will Present Women's Report to Pan-American Conference.

Miss Doris Stevens, chairman of the Inter-American Commission of Women, which was created by the Sixth Pan-American Conference to report to the seventh conference, will sail for South America November 11 to make this report.

The Post regrets that in an article appearing Monday it erred in saying that Miss Stevens is the first woman delegate to the Pan-American Conference. Miss Stevens wishes it made clear that she is going to the conference to make her report as chairman of the Inter-American Commission of Women, which has its headquarters in the Pan-American Union.

Before going to Montevideo, Miss Stevens will go to Buenos Aires, where she will make a report to the American Institute of International Law, composed of five jurists from each of the Pan American countries. Miss Stevens has been nominated for membership in the institute.

From Buenos Aires, Miss Stevens will go to Montevideo, where she will meet with the Inter-American Commission of Women before the meeting of the Pan-American Conference. The commission will meet to adopt the report to be made to the conference. Sunday Miss Stevens conferred with Margarita Robles de Mendoza, the Mexican member of the Inter-American Commission of Women. Senora de Mendoza came from New York for the conference and returned Sunday night.

Jury Adjudges McLean Insane

Committee Sought to Take Charge of Affairs of Publisher.

Towson, Md., Oct. 30 (AP).—A sheriff's jury today adjudged Edward B. McLean, former Washington Post publisher, insane. Steps were begun for appointment of a committee to manage the millionaire's affairs.

Inquisition papers signed by the jurors were sent to the circuit court judges for their action in appointing such a committee.

The request that a committee be appointed came from the former publisher's estranged wife, Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, in her lunacy petition filed October 4.

Mrs. McLean was not in court. Former Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who represented her, said the principal of McLean's trust estate is about $5,000,000 and his personal property is worth about $50,000. McLean's present income was said to be $688 a week.

He is in a Baltimore County hospital.

Zone Law Invoked In Building Plans

Court Asked to Prevent Apartment Erection.

Fifteen property owners in the vicinity of Nicholson, Concord and Seventh streets, northwest, yesterday joined in filing a petition in District Supreme Court to enjoin erection of an apartment house in the neighborhood.

The court was told the District Commissioners violated zoning regulation in granting a permit for the building.

Justice F. D. Letts signed an order giving the commissioners, Israel Diamond, builder, and John W. Oshman, building inspector, until November 6 to show cause why the permit should not be cancelled. Attorney Henry L. Quinn represented the petitioners.

Hawaiian Envoys Here To Support Home Rule

A bipartisan commission appointed by Gov. Lawrence M. Judd of Hawaii arrived in Washington yesterday to defend "Home Rule" in the Territory, and will confer with Secretary of Interior Ickes tomorrow, the United Press reports.

A. G. M. Robertson, chairman, said the sole purpose of the commission will be to discourage enactment of the Rankin bill, which would remove the residential requirement for appointment as governor in the Territory.

Democrat Club Merger, to End Schism, Likely

Efforts to Mend Division of Young Members Here Gaining.

A movement is gaining headway to reunite the Young Democrats Club of Washington and the local division of the Young Democrats Club of America, prominent members of both organizations said last night.

A split between the local groups occurred last spring when a National constitution was presented for ratification. This resulted in about 30 members of the Young Democrats Club of Washington organizing a division under the Young Democrats Club of America.

The latter group accepted the constitution and was recognized by the National organization. Efforts to unite the two groups have been in progress through the summer and are now about to reach a head, it is said.

The local division of the Young Democrats of America is said to have grown from 30 to a membership of 700, while the Young Democrats of Washington has a membership of about 300. Reunion is expected to bring increased membership.

Mrs. Kavanagh, Wife Of Chicago Judge, Dies

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP).—Mrs. Herminie McGibney Kavanagh, 61, wife of Superior Court Judge Marcus A. Kavanagh, and a writer and authority on Irish folk lore, died today.

She was born in London.

Foreign Wars Group Will Install Officers

Officers will be installed tomorrow night by Peary Ship, No. 427, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a meeting in the Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Club, 1015 L street.

New officers are Peter J. Roach, captain; John J. Walsh, executive officer; Stanley R. Fuller, paymaster; Fred H. Haas, navigator; Edward J. Breen, officer of the deck; Henry C. Gowder, surgeon; Marion Stone, chaplain.

Fast Sale Met By Bank Stock

Waiver Forms to Be Sent Mt. Vernon Depositors in Merger Plan.

Officials of Mount Vernon Savings Bank said yesterday that sale of $200,000 worth of stock incidental to consolidation of that bank with Washington Mechanics Savings Bank was exceeding expectations.

The stock, which has a par value of $10 and a surplus of $10, is selling at $20 a share.

Tomorrow, it is expected that waiver forms will be mailed to Mount Vernon Savings Bank depositors. On these forms, depositors will signify agreement to the trusteeship of not more than 65 per cent of their deposits.

Under present plans, depositors will receive not less than 85 per cent of their deposits on the opening of the merged institutions. This will make $750,000 available.

Officers of Franklin National Bank conferred with Treasury Department officials yesterday on a plan for the independent reopening of this restricted institution.

U. S. Workers' Raise on Way, Babcock Holds

Congress Poll Indicates Action in January on Cut, He Asserts.

Federal workers will win restoration of part of their 15 per cent pay cut in January, E. Claude Babcock, president of the American Federation of Government Employees, predicted yesterday.

He said a poll of Congressional sentiment now being made indicated the entire reduction will be restored, perhaps within a few months. He declared this step must be taken if Federal employees "are to quit losing their homes and be able to live decently."

Babcock said the survey included 81 outright pledges to vote for an increase by senators and representatives. Fourteen others were favorable, but not pledged; 9 non-committal and 2 were opposed, he added.

Pledges were received yesterday from Senators La Follette, Wisconsin; Neely, West Virginia; Vandenberg, Michigan; Robinson, Indiana, and White, Maine. Representatives Lindsay, New York; Ludlow, Indiana; Connerly, Massachusetts; De Rouen, Louisiana; Douglas, Massachusetts; Dunn, Pennsylvania; Millard, New York; Ramspeck, Georgia; Snell, New York; Strong, Texas, and Swick, Pennsylvania.

Others reported as favorable were Senators Capper, Kansas; Duffy, Wisconsin; and Couzens, Michigan, and Representative Marshall, Ohio.

For an alert, responsive field, use Post Classified Ads for service, rentals or sales.

District Bridge Funds Topic for Trade Group

Bridge appropriations for the District under the Public Works Administration will be discussed by the committee on bridges of the Washington Board of Trade at a luncheon meeting Friday at Sholl's cafe, 1219 G street, northwest.

E. W. James, chief of the division of highway transportation of public roads, will speak. Guests will be: Clifford R. Whyte, Capt. Whitehurst and H. P. Cammerer, secretary to the Fine Arts Commission.

Group to Push NRA in Schools

George J. Davis Head of New Committee to Map Program.

A committee of school officers was appointed yesterday by Superintendent Frank W. Ballou to organize an NRA program for all District schools.

The committee will present a program of instruction and activities. Other committees will introduce the program in the various school divisions.

The committee appointed yesterday consists of Paul E. Lutz, Wilson Teachers College; Dr. L. E. Brown, Miner Teachers College; Allen Davis, Roosevelt High; Frank Daniel, McKinley High; G. D. Houston, Armstrong High; Mrs. A. I. Kinney, Eliot Junior High; Dr. H. E. Warner, Mine Junior High; H. A. Haynes, Browne Junior High; Sheldon M. Ely, supervising principal, Fifth Division; Dr. Julia L. Hahn, Third Division; L. I. Perry, Eleventh Division; George J. Davis, head of the history department, and W. M. Brewer, head of the history department. Mr. Davis is general chairman.

Chest Colds
... Best treated without "dosing"
VICKS
VAPORUB
STAINLESS now if you prefer

Pocahontas
STOVE COAL
$9.70
The ideal soft coal for hot-water or dry-air furnaces. All lumps and well screened. 2,540 pounds in every ton.
Stove Size....$9.70
Egg Size....$9.85
There is no better soft coal than Pocahontas.

B. J. WERNER
1937 Fifth St. N.E.
North 8813

Your Treat for Tonight's Parties
FUSSELL'S
Real Cream
ICE CREAM
Since 1851

Post Want Ads Pay

Come to COOKING SCHOOL and learn why

Really fresh Coffee is ground before your eyes

At The Washington Post Cooking School, Miss Ruth B. Chambers will show you many new and helpful ideas in cooking.

In her coffee demonstration she will use the A & P Coffee Trio, the three most popular coffees in the world, so that you may learn at first hand why so many millions prefer them, and how important fresh grinding in A & P Stores is in the making of perfect coffee.

Through A & P's great Coffee Service the cream of the South American coffee crops is brought direct from the growers to you. Roasted daily in A & P's own plants—rushed to A & P Food Stores—A & P Coffees reach you oven-fresh, ready to be ground to your order at the moment of purchase to your own method of making.

Yes, come to Cooking School and get acquainted with the three most popular coffees in the world—the A & P Coffee Trio.

Special Prices Effective This Week

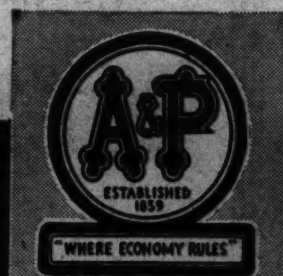

EIGHT O'CLOCK COFFEE	MILD AND MELLOW	17¢ lb.
RED CIRCLE COFFEE	RICH AND FULL-BODIED	19¢ lb.
BOKAR COFFEE	VIGOROUS AND WINEY	23¢ lb.

Equal in quality, though different in flavor, these coffees are packed in the bean, ground fresh in the store.

FREE

This convenient, bright metal coffee measuring spoon will be given free to everyone attending the Cooking School. It measures the same amount and the right amount of coffee each time—one of the best assurances of uniformly good coffee.

A & P COFFEE SERVICE

EXCLUSIVELY IN A & P FOOD STORES • THE COFFEE TO SUIT YOUR TASTE

$30,000,000 Asked for Air Bases at Sea

Corporation Assents Loan Would Be Repaid U. S. by 1945.

Request for a loan of $30,000,000 was made of the Public Works Administration yesterday by the Seadrome Ocean Dock Corporation, of Wilmington, which proposes to place five floating islands in the Atlantic, to be used as airplane landings.

E. R. Armstrong, inventor, told the public works technical board that such islands, made of steel, could be placed at 450-mile intervals and make possible regular 24-hour trips between Europe and the United States. Besides the islands, he would establish one base at the Azores.

Armstrong, insisting his plan was feasible and practical, described the islands as being of steel, fastened in place by huge anchors, some of them as much as 3 miles below the sea. The seadromes would have "legs" extending 200 feet into the sea, to assist in making them more stable, and the anchors would weigh 21,000 tons. They would be linked to the islands by cable.

Each island would be equipped with a hotel accommodating 200 persons, with a barber shop, a restaurant and other accommodations. Airplanes of all nations would be permitted to land and tolls would be charged. The corporation promised the loan could be repaid by 1945.

Experiments with models of the islands, Armstrong said, showed they had no tendency to drift. He said they would be equipped with powerful engines to assist in holding them in place and to move them about so that airplanes could land into the wind.

Sothern Funeral Plans Kept Secret

Widow Requests Details of Rites Be Suppressed.

New York, Oct. 30 (AP).—Arrangements for the funeral of Edward Hugh Sothern, eminent Shakespearean actor, who died Saturday night, were not made public today at the request of his widow, Mrs. Julia Marlowe Sothern.

His body will be cremated, as he wished. There will be a private funeral service, but at Mrs. Sothern's wish the time and place will not be revealed.

The famous actor died of lobar pneumonia in his seventy-third year.

Custody of Pair Decided by Lot

Officers From Columbus Win Robber Suspects.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 30 (AP).—Columbus detectives armed themselves with machine guns today as they brought from Dayton two alleged members of a robber gang accused of stealing $4,468 from a local cigar store.

The Columbus police won custody of the youths when they drew lots with authorities from Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Zanesville and Springfield to see which city should have the right to take them from the Dayton police, who held no charge against them.

Nazis Promise Writer Hearing

British Journalist Jailed on Espionage Charge Keeps Silent.

Berlin, Oct. 30 (AP).—Noel Panter, British newspaperman under arrest at Munich, will be taken to Leipzig at once for examination on a charge of espionage. He was described as saying, he will not speak until he appears before the magistrate.

Should the magistrate decide the allegations justify prosecution, the Briton will come up for trial before the supreme court.

British Consul General Gainer and Vice Consul Phillips saw Panter yesterday and today. Their conversation took place in the presence of an English-speaking police agent, who made a record of everything said.

Panter said the food was good, but a German prisoner also had been lodged in his cell and he feared the man might be an agent. He has been permitted to read foreign newspapers.

Mexico Acts in Plot To Overthrow Regime

Mexico City, Oct. 30 (AP).—Orders were given today for the arrest of at least one more army officer accused of participation in an abortive military plot to overthrow the government which was discovered last week. Other arrests were expected as the investigation proceeded.

Germans Will Change Their Maritime Laws

Hamburg, Germany, Oct. 30 (AP).—A commission was formed here today to revise Germany's maritime law, which in its essentials dates back to 1888, when sailing ships dominated the seas.

Prominent representatives of nautical professions, the seacoast cities, shipowners, overseas merchants and fisheries will take part.

French Leader Dies

Paris, Oct. 30 (AP).—Hubert Girault, 64, minister of colonies before the World War and war-time governor-general of Madagascar, died here today.

Greek Bootblack Sees Aegean Gleam in His 100,000th Shoe

Post Staff Photo.
If all policemen have big feet, so much the better for Nicholas Manthos. He is official bootblack of police circles. He is shown above shining the shoes of Inspector Frank S. W. Burke, chief of detectives.

Miners Charge Code Violation

U. S. Attorney Accepts Plea Asking Prosecution of Employer.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP).—Progressive Miners of America today asked the Federal Government to prosecute the United Electric Coal Co., of Freeburg, Ill., for alleged violation of the bituminous coal code.

Accepting the complaint, presented by C. C. Dreman, attorney for the union, Assistant United States District Attorney Walter E. Ackerman announced he would forward it to his superior, District Attorney Paul F. Jones, at Danville, Ill.

Dreman charged officials of the Freeburg Coal Co. sought to persuade former employees to affiliate with the United Mine Workers, rival Illinois union. He asked prosecution under the national recovery act. A $500 fine is provided daily for each offense. The code provides that each day a violation occurs shall be considered a separate offense.

United Electric mine officials denied today the company interfered with the right of employees to collective bargaining. The colliery is closed.

Boris and Carol Confer on Amity

Bulgarian and Rumanian Kings Embrace at Talk.

Ruse, Bulgaria, Oct. 30 (AP).—King Boris of Bulgaria and King Carol of Roumania conferred here today on ways to improve the already cordial relations between their two countries.

They met at Ramadan, Roumania, where thousands of peasants cheered when the two monarchs embraced. Together they boarded King Carol's yacht and sailed to Iffis city.

Carol wore the uniform of an admiral and Boris the uniform of an infantry general.

"Missourian" Conductor On Last Run; To Retire

St. Louis, Oct. 30 (AP).—Ed Mulholland, conductor of the New York Central's "Missourian," between St. Louis and New York, left here tonight on his last run. Sixty-three years old and in railroad service 45 years, he will be retired on a pension.

Mulholland, whose home is in Indianapolis, said he plans to go to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he has a home, to live.

Cabinet Resignation Is Rejected in Chile

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 30 (AP).—The cabinet presented its resignation today because two ministers wished to retire, but President Alessandri rejected the move except to replace the two members.

Arturo Montecinos was appointed minister of agriculture to succeed place of Carlos Henriquez. Matias Silva was given the portfolio of industrial development, resigned by Domingo Santa Maria.

$500,000 Lankershim Note Called Forgery

Los Angeles, Oct. 30 (AP).—Opening his defense with the statement, Mrs. R. E. Harbert betrayed the "confidence and trust" of the late Col. J. B. Lankershim and obtained his signature to a $500,000 note, J. W. MacDonald, lawyer-executor of the Lankershim estate, told a jury today he would prove the note was a forgery.

Japan Opens Night Air Mail

Tokyo, Oct. 31 (Tuesday) (AP).—A dozen new airplanes tomorrow will open Japan's first night air mail service on a route between Tokyo and Osaka. The system will permit carrying of air mail from Tokyo to Hankin (Changchun), capital of Manchukuo.

32 Years in U. S., Police Court Figure Plans to Revisit Hellas.

Nicholas Manthos, whose daily walk in life is over other men's feet, began his fourth year as official police headquarters and court-house bootblack yesterday.

Flicking a deft rag, Nicholas, 48, who lives at 328 John Marshall place northwest, began the day by shining Inspector Frank S. W. Burke's shoes. When he finished, Nicholas smiled and announced he had passed a landmark in the business. Since he first adopted his route, Nicholas asserted, back in 1929, he has polished 100,000 shoes.

"Always I do as many as 30 pairs a day," said Nicholas, rolling a cigarette. "Always I go about doing well, because people like to have Nicholas Manthos black their boots."

Once Man a Delicatessen.

Nicholas polishes the shoes of subpatrolmen and of Maj. Ernest Brown, the superintendent. Then he jaunts over to the District Court, or to Police Court, and makes the pedal appearance of magistrates and lawyers before.

Thirty-two years ago Nicholas came from a little Greek village on the Gulf of Corinth as a laborer. After a year he came to Washington and has been here ever since.

For more than 20 years Nicholas ran a delicatessen.

"But you can't keep kids around a delicatessen," grumbled Nicholas, who has eight, ranging from 18 to 4. So Nicholas began to shine his way through life, like the traditional Hellas sun.

"The work is good, and I like my customers," observed Nicholas.

Plans to Visit Greece.

Some day, when his family is educated, Nicholas hopes to visit Greece. He hopes, at this time, to take his wife, Angelina, who came to America from Laconia, with him.

"We will go back among the almond and olive trees to see my mother, if she is still alive," said Nicholas wistfully. "It is very quiet in Greece, and we will sit and have a cup of wine and look at blue water and white mountains."

Nicholas sometimes looks from the windows of back rooms at police headquarters at the squalid court outside, where the patrol wagons bring in prisoners.

"Sometimes," he ventured yesterday, "when I give a black pair of shoes an extra good shine, I see the leather sparkle, like the Aegean—when it's early morning and the fishing boats set sail."

Suicide Leaves Flower Money

Car Salesman Found Dead in Stepfather's Home With Jets Open.

Randolph Inge, 30, a salesman for Stewart Motor Co., was found dead yesterday in the gas-filled kitchen of the home of his stepfather, Archie H. Whitehurst, 1504 Spring place northwest.

Whitehurst told police he entered his home about 4 p. m. and found Inge on the floor with the gas jets open. A neighbor said Inge entered the home about 1 p. m.

A note saying "It was necessary" and containing $3.62 "for flowers" was addressed to his stepfather. A sealed note to his wife, Mrs. Martha Inge, and a brother in Richmond also was found beside the body.

Inge lived in Cabin John with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Johnson. He had a 3-year-old daughter.

My Deer!

D. C. Man Kills One With Car; Charity Gets It.

Franklin Hagy, an employee of the House Office Building, didn't plan to go hunting yesterday. But he drove into Alexandria with a 100-pound deer on the running board of his automobile.

Hagy reported to Game Warden A. W. Mills that he accidentally killed the deer when it ran in front of his automobile 35 miles west of Richmond. Hagy's car was badly damaged, but he managed to load the animal on the running board and continue to drive.

Judge William S. Snow, of the State Game Commission, turned the deer over to the Alexandria Children's Home and Day Nursery. A venison feast is planned.

3 in Rum Ring Trial Indicted On New Count

Witness Tells of Getting $100 Monthly After Gambling Raid.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30 (AP).—Three defendants in the Delaware County liquor conspiracy trial, entering its fifth week, were indicted today on another liquor conspiracy charge. Five other Chester residents were named.

The new indictment, involving operation of the Chester Republican Club, is based on a raid October 2, the day before the 3 defendants were to go on trial with 87 other persons, including State Senator John J. McClure. Since then 18 have pleaded guilty or nolo contendere, leaving 73 on trial.

Joseph Dobilitz, alleged proprietor of the club; Edward Walton, colored, and Bernard Salmon were re-indicted.

D. Harvey Sykes, former constable, finished six days of testimony by again accusing Senator McClure, Eugene F. White, chief clerk of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, and District Attorney William J. MacCarter, Jr., of abetting lawbreakers.

Sykes testified that as a result of a gambling house raid May 18, 1934, he well known in Philadelphia sporting circles, arranged to pay him $100 a month for "protection" such establishments. Sykes said these payments continued until he went to jail in 1931 on a charge of extortion. He is still a prisoner.

Sykes testified previously that McClure personally directed the protection organization and "at least $65,000" was turned over to the senator in a year and a half from liquor violators.

Driver of Auto Dies in Crash

Hyattsville Man Suffers Skull Fracture When Thrown to Curb.

Milton M. Clark, 48, 5 Charles street, Hyattsville, Md., was killed yesterday when his automobile collided with an automobile driven by Walter J. Boss, 26, 272 Kentucky avenue southeast, at Sixth and D streets southeast.

The impact threw Clark to the curb. His head was fractured and he suffered internal injuries. He was taken to Casualty Hospital by Joseph Gugliotta, 325 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, who was passing the scene of the accident. Physicians pronounced Clark dead on arrival.

Immediately after the accident, Lee, superintendent of police, He is being held pending a coroner's inquest.

Surviving Mr. Clark are his widow and four children, Mrs. Dorothy Vetter and Mrs. Cathryn Boettler, of Edmonston, and Mrs. Margaret Brewwood, and Mrs. Ella Lee of Brentwood. He was a member of the town council from the First Ward. He was a member of Mount Hermon Lodge, No. 179, F. A. and A. M., and of Ruth Chapter, No. 7, Order of the Eastern Star, both of Hyattsville. He also was active in the Tail Caders of Lebanon and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Hyattsville.

Directors Elect Chamber Officers

Dorsey W. Hyde, Jr., Stays as Secretary.

Officers of the Washington Chamber of Commerce were elected by the new board of directors yesterday.

Dorsey W. Hyde, Jr., was re-elected executive secretary; Ernest E. Hettrell, treasurer; Walter C. Balderston, general counsel, and Mrs. Marie C. Rogers, assistant secretary.

The new executive committee consists of Martin A. Leese, William C. Miller, George E. Kaneipp, and Walter C. Balderston, ex-officio, and Thomas P. Littlepage, Harry King, Frank R. Jelliff, Edward C. Baltz, Robert H. Dalgleish, Creed W. Fulton, Robert B. Swope and A. Lee Thompson.

Kidnaper Released For Aiding Victim

Atlanta Banker Testified for Youth in Plot.

Atlanta, Oct. 30 (AP).—A 17-year-old boy who took part in the kidnaping of an Atlanta bank president, and then helped the kidnap victim to escape, was released from a one-year prison sentence under a probation order today.

The boy, Pryor Bowen, and William R. Delenski were charged with kidnaping John K. Ottley, president of the First National Bank, last July in a $40,000 extortion plot.

Ottley testified that Bowen aided him to escape.

Bank Bandits Flee After Gun Battles

3 Get $3,000 in Kansas; Escape to Oklahoma.

Galena, Kans., Oct. 30 (AP).—Three bandits today held up the Galena National Bank and fled into Oklahoma with $3,000 loot, pursued by a posse, after two running gun fights with officers.

The robbers forced Thomas Mueller, assistant cashier, and Arthur McMoran, teller, to accompany them as shields from gunfire, but they soon were released.

Deputy Sheriff Burt Elliott exchanged shots with the fugitives south of Galena.

NRA Board Clears Ford of Charges

300 Complaints Dismissed as "Not Legitimate."

Detroit, Oct. 30 (AP).—More than 300 charges that the Ford Motor Co. is violating the NRA automobile code provisions tonight were dismissed as "not legitimate" by the local compliance board, meeting for the first time since its organization a month ago.

Arthur A. Terrier, chairman of the board, said that many of the charges were brought by "former disgruntled employees," and added none of the complaints were about wages and hours, with which his committee chiefly is concerned.

2 Quit Farms Jobs in Probe

Federation Officials Cited in Inquiry Here.

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP).—Disclosures before a Senate committee hearing in Washington recently resulted in the resignation of two officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation today.

They were M. S. Winder, executive secretary of the federation, and H. A. Kibler, director of information. Both resignations were effective immediately.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the federation, said yesterday before the Senate committee that Winder and Kibler had received commissions paid by commercial concerns had "prompted the committee's action."

The station told the testimony showing the commissions were accepted for moving picture and other advertising service without the knowledge of the elective officers during 1929-1930 and early 1931.

O'Neal said the services in question were terminated more than a year ago.

Reynolds Tobacco Heir Fights Dancer's Suit

New York, Oct. 30 (AP).—Decision was reserved by Supreme Court Referee John D. Davies today on whether New York courts have jurisdiction in a suit for $123,550 damages for alleged breach of contract brought by Johanna Rischke, German dancer, against Richard J. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, N. C., one of the heirs to the Reynolds tobacco fortune.

Reynolds contends he is a legal resident of North Carolina and has served illegally with the summons.

Sponsors of Navy Vessels Give Fete

Paul Wiltach Will Speak at Benefit Tomorrow.

Paul Wiltach, writer and speaker, will talk on "Mount Vernon and the Historic Potomac" at a fete of the Navy Society of Sponsors at Cotton Hall, at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The society, composed of women who have christened warships for the Navy, has for one of its activities the preparation of sons of deceased Navy and Marine officers for admission to the Naval Academy.

The fete is for the purpose of raising funds to assist in this work.

Headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, patronesses of the fete are Mrs. Claude Swanson, wife of the Secretary of the Navy; Mrs. William H. Standley, Mrs. Ben H. D. Fuller, Mrs. Albert W. Stahl, Mrs. Alice Richards, Mrs. Stanley Rinehart, Mrs. Frederic A. Delano, Mrs. Keith Merrill, Mrs. Larz Anderson and Mrs. Frederick C. Hicks.

Hibben, Wife Estates Are Valued at $51,787

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 30 (AP).—Executors reported today the late Dr. John Grier Hibben, who was president of Princeton University, left an estate of $51,787, of which $23,000 was in bonds.

Dr. Hibben and his wife, Mrs. Jenny D. Hibben, were injured fatally in an automobile collision near Rahway last May. The wife's estate was valued by the executors, the Princeton Bank & Trust Co., at $53,365.

Motorship in Distress Towed Safely to Port

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP).—Agents here for the Mexican motorship Sausal, reported in distress off San Blas, tonight announced the Sausal, they were informed, broke a crabshaft and presumably was towed into the Mexican port for repairs.

SWIM in the SHOREHAM HOTEL VENETIAN POOL

"Ultra Violet Ray"

Daily and Sunday 50c

Saturday 9 A. M. Until Noon 25c

Coolidge Baby Named Cynthia

Perpetuate Famous Initials of Grandfather.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30 (AP).—The Coolidge baby became Cynthia Coolidge today, thus perpetuating the initials "C. C." borne by her distinguished grandfather, the former President.

John and Florence Trumbull Coolidge decided to name their 1-day-old daughter after an aunt of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. Had the baby been a boy, they had planned to give him the name famous by his paternal grandfather.

Friends represented the youthful couple as desirous their child be allowed to develop as any normal baby.

One friend said: "All the Coolidges want is the right to take their youngster back to Cheshire and raise her into a good, healthy, normal child without too much interference from the public at large. They appreciate, of course, the friendly interest that has been shown."

British Work Starts For Larger Navy

Arms Firms Build Guns in New Program.

London, Oct. 30 (AP).—Armament firms at Sheffield have begun making armor plate and big guns for new warships provided in Britain's new naval building program, the United Press learned today.

The admiralty has not yet officially announced letting of the new contracts. However, increased activity at Sheffield reflects preparations of the shipyards for speed-up naval construction.

The move is inspired by the United States building program and the persistent demand by Japan for naval parity.

Much Evidence Entered In Drake Estate Trial

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 30 (AP).—The Government poured voluminous correspondence into the record today as the second week of the trial of Oscar M. Hartzell on mail fraud charges opened.

Hartzell, promoter of a purported claim to the Drake estate, is accused on 13 counts of using the mails to defraud in connection with collection of funds to pursue litigation to the famed sea captain's estate in the British courts.

26 on Missing Ships Reach Port in Safety

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Oct. 30 (AP).—With their crews of 26 men uninjured, two ships, missing on Lake Winnipeg over the week-end, reached safety today.

The Question Mark docked at Gimli and the Dauphin at Dauphin.

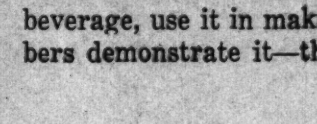

"I am Introducing A NEW TASTE SENSATION to Washington"

—Says Ruth Chambers

A BLENDED SYRUP WITH AN AMAZING FLAVOR, SUCH AS YOU HAVE NEVER TASTED BEFORE

ONE of the most remarkable things that Ruth Chambers is introducing, during the course of this food show, is a blended syrup—a flavor new to Washington and altogether delightful.

This is King Syrup—a delicious food well worth knowing about both because of its unusual food value and its remarkable adaptability to many different uses: Pour it over waffles or pancakes, mix it with milk as a beverage, use it in making cake and gingerbread... watch Ruth Chambers demonstrate it—then try it—and you will never be without it!

KING SYRUP

On Sale at All Grocery Stores

Halloween Ball Is Gay and Goofy

Huge Oranges and Sheaves of Corn Are Setting for All Sorts of Costumes in Gay Hues.

The fourth annual Halloween ball held last evening at the Mayflower under the direction of Mrs. Helen Ray Hagner was one of the most brilliant of the season. The handsome ballroom of the hotel was decorated with huge black oranges which swung from the chandeliers. The traditional black cat and witch were features in the decoration of the boxes, and the orchestra platform was banked with sheaves of corn with large golden pumpkins nestling at the base.

The ball opened at 10 o'clock when original and brilliant costumes passed by the receiving line as their wearers were greeted by Mrs. Hagner, Mrs. Theodore N. Gill, Jr., Mrs. John E. Fowler, Mrs. William Laird Dunlop, Jr., Mrs. Raymond T. Holden, and Mrs. Lutz Wahl.

At 11:30 o'clock the grand "Ball Parade" started, headed by the chairmen of the various committees and their committeemen. Mr. Clifford K. Berryman, Mr. C. Powell Minnigerode and Mr. Felix Mahoney were the judges, and awarded prizes of silver loving cups to the most beautiful, most original, and most comic costumes.

At midnight supper was served in the Chinese room, and the dancing was resumed far into the early hours.

Miss Katherine Fehet was a young miss of a very few summers in her dainty ruffled frock of orange organdie, short socks, and huge butterfly bow perched high on her head. Miss Jean Peoples, who has been visiting at Short Hills, N. J., returned in time to attend the ball. She wore a quaint old-fashioned costume, that had belonged to one of her great aunts. It was a white dress with blue polka dots, made with a very full skirt and basque. Her little straw hat, with its gay flowers, was tied on at a saucy angle.

Miss Frances Davis, of Alexandria, brought all the grandeur of the French court to the Mayflower with her costume, which once faced the footlights of Paris, when its wearer, the late Anna Held, sang, "Won't You Come and Play With Me?" The gown was of orange and green satin, and had a medium-length train trimmed with rhinestones. The Elizabethan collar was also decorated with rhinestones. Miss Davis' very blonde hair was piled high and in it she wore a bandeau of brilliants.

Lieut. Ellsworth Davis, who has recently returned from C. C. duty, wore a most unusual mixture of clothes. His shoes were one brown and one black. The typical Army khaki shirt with a dignified white tie, the formal dinner jacket, gray flannel trousers and the stately silk hat made up this outfit.

Miss Beatrice Patton's costume was amazing. Her headpiece with all of its ornamentation would have been provided hours of fun for some mischievous breeze.

The two Spanish Senoritas from Madrid were Miss Peggy English and Miss Mildred English. The former wore a frock of white and a white lace mantilla, and white sandals. Her sister's frock was of green; she also had a white mantilla and sandals.

Her escort, Mr. Winton Elliott, was another representative of the land of the bull fights. His sash of scarlet was just the right touch of color for the black shirt and black velvet bell trousers. Mr. Laverne Lintner was a young man of the Gay Nineties in his suit of black and white checks.

That much loved actor of the screen, Mickey Mouse, was there, with his big white gloves, long tail and everything; of course, he really was not Mickey, but one of Washington's debutantes, Miss Elizabeth Gill, who might well have been mistaken for a truant from Hollywood.

The retiring Ambassador of Japan and Mme. Deuchel and their family will leave Washington November 24 for San Francisco. They will sail from there for Japan on the Asama Maru.

Lady Lindsay, wife of the Ambassador of Great Britain, returned to the Embassy yesterday from New York, where she spent several days.

Secretary of State Honors Dr. Alfredo S. Klee.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, will entertain at a luncheon tomorrow in honor of the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Guatemala, Dr. Alfredo Skinner Klee, who will leave shortly for New York to sail for South America to attend the Pan-American Conference at Montevideo.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. Dorn will be guests at the dinner given by the student officers of the Army Industrial College and the Army War College in honor of Col. William A. McCain and members of the faculty at the Army and Navy Country Club the evening of November 8.

Maj. and Mrs. Parker W. West have issued invitations for an afternoon reception in honor of Secretary and Mrs. Dorn, to be given on November 12.

The new Minister of the Netherlands, Jonkheer van Haerema de With, has been appointed and will come to Washington in the near future. Jonkheer de With, who has been serving as Minister of the Netherlands in Czechoslovakia, will succeed the late Mr. J. H. van Royen, who died recently, while on a leave of absence in The Hague.

Miss Peggy Lane Returns From Italy to Study.

The United States Minister to Nicaragua and Mrs. Arthur Bliss Lane and their daughter, Miss Peggy Lane, are at the Mayflower for the week. Miss Lane recently arrived in this country from Florence, Italy, where she has been with her grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Barbour, and will remain in Washington, where she has entered the Madeira School for the winter.

Representative and Mrs. George Burnham had as their guests over the week-end in their San Diego home, Admiral David F. Sellers, U. S. N., and Mrs. Sellers, who motored down from Long Beach.

Representative and Mrs. E. W. Marland, who passed a week in Chicago after leaving their home in Potomac City, Okla., have arrived at the Shoreham, where they will occupy their apartment for several weeks.

The Chief of Naval Operations and Mrs. William H. Stanley have issued invitations for a tea Thursday afternoon, November 9, from 5 to 7 o'clock, in honor of Vice Admiral The Hon. R. A. R. Plunkett-Erle-Drax and Mrs. Drax, and the officers of the Norfolk and the Danae, British cruisers.

Luncheons to Follow Wiltach Lecture.

Mrs. Ben H. Fuller, wife of the major general commandant of the marine corps, will have guests lunching with her Wednesday after the lecture of Mr. Paul Wiltach on "The Historic Potomac," which will be given at the Carlton under the auspices of the Navy Ship's Sponsors. Mrs. Henry Williams, chairman of the committee, will be hostess at luncheon following the lecture in compliment to Mr. Wiltach. Among her guests will be Mrs. Swanson, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, and Mrs. Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, wife of the Assistant Secretary. Others who will entertain will be Mrs. Dwight Chester, Mrs. Adolphus Stanton, Mrs. Emory Scott Land, Mrs. Carlos Bean, Mrs. Clarence N. Himkamp and Mrs. Keith Merrill.

Recently Returned to Home in Capital

Mrs. Raymond C. Miller, wife of the chief of the Foreign Trade Section, Processing and Marketing Division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and former Commercial Counselor of the United States Embassy in Belgium, with their three sons, John Donald, Raymond Clendenin and Brett. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their children have recently returned to Washington after spending several years in Belgium.

Beautiful Ceremony Unites Teresa Bracey and Mr. Brown

Palms, Chrysanthemums and Roses Deck Church.

The wedding of Miss Marguerite Teresa Bracey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Bracey, of Washington, to Mr. Vernon Earl Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Earl Brown, of Champaign, Ill., took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration.

The Rev. John J. Quigley performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums, and the altar was decorated with pink roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin made on simple lines, with a high neck, and long sleeves. Her veil of lace and tulle was made in cap fashion, and fastened with a band of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia Tasset, was maid of honor and wore a pink tulle gown made on princess lines with accessories of silver. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses and delphinium. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Murray and Miss Dorothy Leese. They wore pink satin gowns, made in the same fashion as that of the maid of honor, and their accessories were of silver. Their flowers were pink roses and delphinium.

Mr. Chester William Stilson acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Adalbert Kenneth Reynolds and Mr. Vernon Harden Doane.

After the ceremony a small reception was given at the home of the bride's parents at 821 Kennedy street. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother, Mrs. Bracey, who wore a gown of Eleanor blue velvet with a matching velvet hat. She wore a corsage of Fernet roses and lilies. Later Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on a motor tour through the New England States. The bride wore a traveling costume of brown ribbed angora trimmed in rust colored satin, with matching accessories. When they return they will make their home at 5821 Colorado avenue.

Representative Joseph A. Gavan has arrived in Washington and is at the Carlton.

Gen. and Mrs. William Crozier are again in their apartment at Wardman Park Hotel after an absence of several weeks during which period they spent some time in the North.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson was among those who entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton.

Pictureque Pioneer Dance Given at Naval Affair.

An old California dance, "El Sombrero Blanco," given by descendants of pioneer California families, was part of the picturesque program arranged as diversion when Admiral David Foote Sellers, commander in chief of the United States Fleet, and Mrs. Sellers, flag officers and their wives were honored at a dinner party Friday evening at the Los Angeles Women's Athletic Club.

Judge and Mrs. N. C. Frenger, of Las Cruces, N. Mex., are spending the week in Washington at the Mayflower. They have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Livingston, in New York City. Mr. Livingston is an associate editor of the New York Daily Investment News. Mrs. Frenger is a former art chairman of the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. and Mrs. Herman P. Hyder and their son, Martin, have left Washington and gone to Chin Lee, Ariz., where Dr. Hyder will be with the Indian Service.

Sec'y Cummings Is Dinner Guest

With Wife, Is Entertained
by Mr. and Mrs. Price.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Price gave a dinner at the Shoreham Hotel last night in honor of the executive assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Walter J. Cummings.

Others in the dinner group of 12 were Mr. Justice James C. McReynolds, the general counsel of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Mrs. Stanley F. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Owsley and Mrs. Henry Alvah Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Dodge, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Washington, have returned to the Mayflower for the season. They are accompanied by their daughter, Miss Dorothy Dodge.

The Admiral
1640 Rhode Island Ave.
Luncheons
35c - 50c - 60c
Dinner Dances and Parties
Telephone METropolitan 9761

French Macaroni & Spaghetti

1-lb. pkg. Macaroni 23c
1-lb. pkg. Spaghetti 23c
1-lb. pkg. Alphabets 25c
1-lb. pkg. Vermicelli 25c

Magruder, Inc.

Best Groceries
M and 16th Sts. N.W.
Phone District 8250 Established 1875

Black and White Ball Date Down in Black and White

Younger Set Getting Ready for Gay Time in Early December.

And so it is, with the first two large balls of the season scarcely in the past, Washington's younger set is already putting down in black and white that much heralded event of each year, the Black and White Ball, to be given under the guidance of Mrs. William Laird Dunlop, Jr., in the grand ball room of the Mayflower Hotel on Saturday evening, December 2.

There has been the hilarious Tacky Ball, as jolly as "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," the costume ball of last evening, as colorful as "Strike Me Pink," and now, the dignified Black and White Ball, which will be as stately as "pomp and circumstance." The motif of black and white will be carried out as far as possible. The debutantes of this season will wear white frocks and silver wigs, and the post-debutantes will wear black or white frocks. Even the young gentlemen will be in black and white. Their evening suits providing a black background for their white gloves and boutonnières.

The grand ball room of the Mayflower Hotel will be decorated with an abundance of large white chrysanthemums in black baskets, and here and there, will be lighted black tapers. The refreshments will also follow the dark and light color scheme with chocolate and vanilla. The large cake will be half and half, with its message written in contrasting icing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Perry Conant, of Philadelphia, Pa., are guests at the Raleigh Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Fitch and their daughter, Patsy Ruth, are at the Shoreham, where they will remain all this week. They have closed their summer place at Colebrook, N. H., and will continue next week to their winter home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, of Cambridge, Mass., is staying at the Mayflower while in Washington and yesterday was a luncheon hostess at the hotel.

Mrs. M. P. Sullivan and her young daughter, are in Atlantic City for several days. While there they are stopping at the Colton Manor.

Captain Harold Stark Assumes New Duties

Capt. Harold R. Stark, U. S. N., aid to the Secretary of the Navy, who is accompanying Secretary Swanson to Washington, will be detached upon his arrival here to assume his new duties as commanding officer of the U. S. S. West Virginia, the flagship of the battleships, Battle Force, U. S. Fleet and Battleship Division 4.

Col. and Mrs. James Brady Mitchell have returned to Washington and opened their apartment at the Mayflower Hotel.

Specially Priced . . . and Specially Nice
These Pure Dye Silk
"NIGHTIES"
$3.50

Specially nice because they are beautifully made of pure dye silks . . . because the laces are unusually fine and dainty . . . because they're smartly cut and becomingly fitted . . . and because the price is so extra low!

J. H. Helans
1105 F Street

The Woman's Specialty
Shop

Shop on Connecticut Avenue

The Above DINING ROOM ENSEMBLE in detail

THE FURNITURE

A Solid Mahogany Dining Room Suite with the charm and elegance of the 18th Century. An excellent "open stock" value with a variety of additional pieces per-mitting flexible selections. Suite of 10 pieces $268

THE FLOOR COVERING

The Persian Lillihan Rug selected is ideal for this grouping. Other famous Persian weaves in our selections include genuine SAROUKS, KIRMANIS, $195 and KESHANS. Size 9x12 LILLIHAN. $195

We suggest also a Plain Broadloom—here in every shade. 9x12 size, bound—$49.00.

THE CHINAWARE

"QUEEN'S ROSE"—A delightful imported pattern carried in complete open stock. Ivory body. Floral sprays of beautiful Roses. Gold handles and gold line. SERVICE FOR EIGHT, including Cream $67.50
Soups—74 PIECES

Without Cream Soups—$57.50

THE GLASSWARE

"FAIRFAX"—A modestly priced Rock Crystal with brilliantly cut floral motif. One of our open stock patterns—GOBLETs, TALL SHERBETS, LOW SHERBETS, WINE GLASSES, COCKTAIL GLASSES, CORDIAL GLASSES, 6-oz. JUICE GLASSES, 9-oz. and 12-oz. FOOTED TABLE TUMBLERS $1.00 each

Finger Bowls, $1.35; Finger Bowl Plates, $1.50

11-inch ROCK CRYSTAL BOWL Center-piece—with hand cut decoration $3.50

2-Light CANDELABRUM—Each $3.50

THE SILVER

"POINTED ANTIQUE"—A sterling pattern that has been in vogue for generations. It is very moderate priced considering the weight, craftsmanship and finish. By the HALF-DOZEN—TEASPOONS, $7.00; BUTTER SPREADERS, $12.50; SALAD FORKS, $13.00; CREAM SOUP SPOONS, $14.75; DESSERT KNIVES, $18.00; DESSERT FORKS, $19.75; DINNER KNIVES, $20.00; DINNER FORKS, $21.00.

THE TABLE LINEN

An Italian Linen Crash with embroidery and cut-work in ecru. A smartly suitable dinner linen of $21.50 moderate price. 72x108 Cloth and 12 Napkins

A specialty of our Linen Department is the designing and hand monogramming of linens.

DULIN & MARTIN
CONNECTICUT AVENUE AND 'L'
Gifts & Home Furnishings Since 1847

Rizik Brothers
1106 Connecticut Avenue
Opposite the Mayflower
A TIMELY EVENT!
Sale of New Evening—Afternoon—Dinner
GOWNS
$25 • $35 • $45
Lovely formal fashions that are typically "Rizik" in their design . . . and exquisitely tailored of satin, lame, and velvet. Of course, they are greatly reduced for today.
Any Alterations Will Be Made in Time for Halloween.

Announcing
The Opening of Washington's Unique CLUB OF ENTERTAINMENT

The HANGAR Club

OPENING TONIGHT
HALLOWEEN FESTIVITIES

The Hangar Club swings wide, the portals to joy. Scintillating entertainment . . . entrancing atmosphere . . . joyful . . . unique . . . the smartest of Washington's smart clubs. The Hangar . . . rendezvous of smart folk and sky celebrities!

★ JOAN MOSS ★
Mistress of Ceremonies
★ CHARLIE DAWSON and his MUSIC PILOTS ★

2 SHOWS NIGHTLY.
No Cover Charge
9:30 P. M. to ?? A. M.
For Reservations:
Phone CAPTAIN VANCE
National 1111—Metropolitan 9777

★ Just Across 14th Street Bridge—Right at the Flying Field ★

Miss Skinner Plans to Wed In Few Months

Descendant of Donor of District of Columbia Engaged to Mr. Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skinner, of New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Henrietta Dena Skinner, to Mr. Irving Woodworth Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Raymond. Miss Skinner and her twin sister, Miss Eleanor Carroll Skinner, were presented to society last autumn.

The bride-elect is well known in Washington, where she has spent much time with her grandmother, Mrs. Peter N. Hill, and her aunt, Mrs. Harry Meem. Another aunt, Mrs. Charles Astor Bristed, of New York, and Lenox, Mass., formerly Mrs. Sympet Hendrick, frequently entertained for her nieces when she made her home in Washington.

Miss Skinner was educated abroad and at the Nightingale-Barnford School, from which she and her sister were graduated in 1931. Through her maternal ancestors, Miss Skinner is descended from Notley Young, one of the five original donors of the land for the District of Columbia. She is also descended from the Carroll Digges and other colonial Maryland families, as well as from Robert Livingston and Alida Schuyler Van Rensselaer.

On the paternal side Miss Skinner is the great-granddaughter of Richard Henry Dana, author of "Two Years Before the Mast." She also is directly descended from Francis Dana, first American Minister to Russia after the American Revolution, and from William Ellery, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

She is a member of the New York Junior League and is active on one of its committees for settlement work. Mr. Raymond is an assistant professor of history at Columbia University, where he was graduated in 1918, later obtaining the Ph. D. degree from the same university. He is directly descended from Richard Raymond, who settled in Salem, Mass., in 1832, and he is the grandson of the late Gen. Charles Walker Raymond, U. S. A., who was chairman of the special engineering commission that built the Pennsylvania railroad terminal and tunnel developments. He also is a grandnephew of the late Rossiter W. Raymond, engineer and editor.

The wedding will take place in the spring.

Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt had a few friends luncheon with her yesterday at the Carlton.

Mrs. Harry Normant left yesterday for New York, where she joined Mr. Normant at the Waldorf-Astoria. Mr. Normant has been in Chicago for the last week and with Mrs. Normant will remain in New York until the end of the week, returning to their home on Wyoming avenue Sunday.

Newbolds and Cushings' Dance Postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Newbold and Mr. and Mrs. William Cushings have postponed the dance they planned for Saturday evening, November 11, until Saturday evening, November 18. At that time they will entertain at 1925 F street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sipple, Jr., have returned to Washington and opened their apartment at Wardman Park Hotel for the winter season, after an absence of several months.

Mrs. William R. Merriam has gone to her winter home in Palm Beach, Fla., after spending a short time with her sister, Mrs. Eugene Griffin, in Washington, en route from Long Island where she was with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Curtis.

Miss Reba Doughton, of Laurel Springs, N. C., daughter of Representative Robert L. Doughton, arrived here a day or two ago and is at Wardman Park Hotel for the duration of her stay.

Mrs. Samuel C. Major, widow of former Representative Major, will arrive today from her home in Missouri to spend several months with her daughter, Mrs. Major Cook at her apartment in Woburn.

Mrs. Irene du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., spent the week-end at Wardman Park Hotel, returning to her home yesterday. She was accompanied here by Mrs. Philip L. Rust.

Margaret Brown Betrothed To John P. Shimmens.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brown have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Brown, to Mr. John Paul Shimmens, of Newberry, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shimmens. The wedding will take place November 28.

Miss Brown is a graduate of the Academy of the Holy Cross. Mr. Shimmens attended Notre Dame and received his law degree from Georgetown University Law School.

Mrs. K's Toll House Tavern

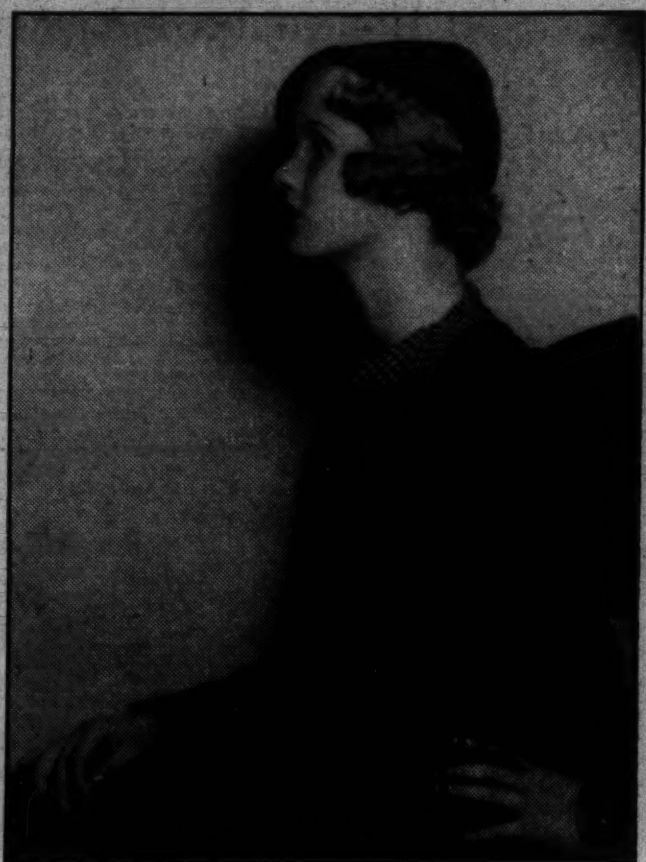

Colorful File Silver Springs, Maryland

Pumpkin Pie Season

is now on in full swing at the "Toll House." Top one of times Good Dinners with a piece made from Mrs. K's Ohio Recipe. They are the best. And served with Whipped Cream.

Phone Shepherd 3500.

Charming Virginia Visitor

MISS BETTY WILLETTS, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Willetts, of Warrenton, Va., who has been spending several days in Washington. Miss Willetts is a popular member of the younger set in the Capital as well as among the smart young people of nearby Virginia.

Gay Dinner Parties Mark Halloween

Notables at Shoreham Make it Festive Occasion.

The main ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel will be the scene of a festive entertainment celebrating Halloween tonight. Among those who are entertaining parties of friends at dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lorton, of Tulsa, Okla., who expect to spend the winter in their apartment at the hotel. They will have as guests of honor Senator and Mrs. Thomas F. Gore and Senators and Mrs. Elmer Thomas, all of Oklahoma. Among other guests will be former Representative and Mrs. Everett B. Howard, Mrs. Rex S. Walker, of Tulsa, who arrived at the hotel Monday to be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorton; Mr. Charles Boggs, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of Fairmont, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shelton will entertain for their guests from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haase. Others in the group will include Judge and Mrs. John W. Price, Judge and Mrs. Rush Holland, Mrs. Shelton's sister, Mrs. Hugh Baldwin, of California, and Mr. Allen Strowger, of Portland, Oreg. Col. and Mrs. Louis S. Chapplear, U. S. A., will be hosts to a group of eight, complimenting Maj. and Mrs. Iverson B. Summers, U. S. A., recently transferred to Washington from San Francisco.

Lieut. William A. Moffett, U. S. N., who has been spending a month's leave with his mother, Mrs. William A. Moffett, widow of Admiral Moffett, has returned to duty on the West Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Duke have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Beckett Duke, to Capt. Thomas H. Chambers, U. S. A. The ceremony was performed at Bowling Green, Va., on October 14, by the Rev. Mr. Pressinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jutaro Arakawa, of Dallas, Tex., are spending a few days at the Shoreham, following a visit in New York and Chicago. They are accompanied by their daughter, Tamane, and their son, Fuji.

Maj. and Mrs. Horace Frierson of Columbia, Tenn., are at the Shoreham for several days while in Washington to visit their son, Horace Frierson 3d. Their daughter, Miss Chloe Frierson, joined them at the hotel for the week-end. She is a student at Sweetbriar College.

Dr. and Mrs. John H. Emerson, of Philadelphia, entertained at dinner at the Little Tea House last evening, having as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Parvol, of St. Clair, Ohio, and Dr. and Mrs. Francis Windorf, of Bayonne, N. J.

Miss Ida Deikelbaum To Wed Canadian.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deikelbaum have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ida Deikelbaum, to Dr. Hy Israel, of Montreal, Canada.

Small Lots or Van Loads

OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS Carefully and Reliably

MOVED

Wherever you desire moved, you can entrust such service to us with full confidence. We have facilities and experienced men, eliminate all danger of damage to fragile goods.

Call on "Merchants" for right service, at Reasonable Prices.

Write or Phone NAt. 6900

MERCHANTS

Transfer & Storage Co. JOHN L. NEWBOLD, JR., President 922 E St.-NAt. 6900

922 E St.-NAt. 6900

Mrs. Wallace Luncheon Guest Of Club Women

Charles J. Brand Speaks on Agriculture in New Era.

Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, wife of the Secretary of Agriculture, was a guest at the luncheon yesterday of the Woman's National Democratic Club, at which Mr. Charles J. Brand, special adviser to the Department of Agriculture, was the speaker.

Mr. Brand, who talked on "Agriculture Under the New Administration," was introduced by Mrs. James T. Newton. Others at the speakers' table were Mrs. Rose Yates Forester, Mrs. Charles Warren, Miss Bertha Bolling, Mrs. Charles-J. Brand and Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Bright. Mrs. J. W. Price, Mrs. Edwin L. Davis, Mrs. Carol Cline, Mrs. J. C. Pescoc, Mrs. Leroy Lee Sawyer, Jr., Mrs. Ogilvie Shumate, Mrs. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, Mrs. George M. Morris, Mrs. Gardner Jackson, Mrs. George M. Eckels, Mrs. William J. Price, Mrs. Eleaux, Mrs. Thomas H. Stevens, Mrs. S. B. Williamson, Mrs. Robert W. Hunter, Miss Mary Edith Coulson, Mrs. L. A. Clark, Miss Eleanor Connolly, Mrs. Bennet Champ Clark, Mrs. Wilbur Marsh, Miss Anna Connolly, Mrs. Vance Russell, Mrs. Henry W. Dooley, Mrs. John Lyford Hornor, Mrs. A. F. Kempton, Mrs. Samuel Herick, Mrs. Luke I. Wilson, Mrs. C. M. Stevens, Mrs. Benjamin H. Lingo, Mrs. John Morton, Miss Florence Berryman, Mrs. William Dunlop, Mrs. Louis Greene, Mrs. Mary H. Tighe, Mrs. E. B. Prettyman, Mrs. William E. Elliott, Mrs. Pierre M. Bealer, Mrs. E. R. Woodson, Mrs. Francis R. Hagner, Mrs. W. H. Artaud, Mrs. Charles H. Tompkins, Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Mrs. A. F. Myers, Mrs. Thomas Davis, Mrs. J. Brent Clark, Mrs. John Libby, Mrs. Ernest Daniel and Mrs. Claude R. Porter also attended the luncheon.

President of the Episcopal Home for Children for the past 18 years, Mrs. David Meade Lea is an outstanding figure in Washington welfare work. Although her activities as president of this children's home occupy most of her days, she still finds time to serve as a member of the board of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, of which she was president for seven years. She also serves on the board of trustees of the Community Chest.

Mrs. Lea was a keen student of Community Chest methods long before there was a chest in Washington. She attended the first meeting ever held here looking to the establishment of a chest, at least eight years before plans for the present chest were made. She was among those instrumental in bringing the chest to Washington and has supported it loyally ever since.

Her interest in children, paramount, as evidenced by her presidency of the Children's Home for 18 years, she praises the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital for its work among the youngsters.

She says: "For 20 years I have been interested in welfare work, but my main interest is in child welfare. For that reason I am greatly pleased by the work of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. I am justly pleased with the great number of children who have had their eyesight saved by treatment at the hospital, most of these cases bring children whose eyes had not been properly treated at birth. Any movement for the betterment and care of children has my whole-hearted support."

Stuffed Flank Steak.

Have a flank steak trimmed and scored; that is, cut all over the surface in criss-cross lines. Mix together one cup bread crumbs; one small onion, chopped; one-half cup grated raw carrot; one-half cup finely diced celery; one tablespoon minced parsley; one teaspoon sugar; salt and pepper to taste, and one-third cup hot water or enough to moisten. Spread this mixture over the flank steak. Roll up as tightly as possible. Tie firmly and sprinkle with flour, pepper and salt. Brown quickly in hot fat. Then place in a covered pan and bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours. Baste two or three times during the cooking with two tablespoons butter melted in one-third cup boiling water. When done, remove the strings. Serve with brown gravy made from the fat in the pan.

M. LIPNICK

Interior Decorator

NEVER again will we be able to offer such values in upholstery and drapery materials. Finest imported fabrics at one-half and one-third their everyday sale value.

1204 18th St. N.W.

Dine and Dance RANDLE GARDENS

East of Penna. Ave. Bridge

TWO Big Features

Free Beer Monday Nite

Big Halloween Party Tuesday Nite

Popular Orchestra NO COVERT CHARGE Lin. 3327

Photography in Dark

Now Found Possible

London (U.P.)—Movies can be taken in the dark with the new infra-red ray camera.

A film of two men playing cards, invisible to the eye, but illuminated by a dull red light in one corner of the room, was distinctly clear when developed and thrown on the screen.

Large Aubusson Carpet, 2 Old Flemish Tapestries, Steinway Baby Grand Electric Piano, Early American Chairs, Oriental Rugs in all sizes, Large Quantity of Sterling Silver and Sheffield, Antique China, Valuable Paintings by artists of note, Chinese Art Objects, Antique and Modern Mahogany Furniture, Luxurious Upholstered Furniture, Fireplace Adornments and Other Articles of Virtue included in the Opening Fall Sale

by Catalogue

at Public Auction

At Sloan's Galleries

715 13th Street

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday & Friday

October 31st and November 1st, 2nd and

3rd, 1933, at 2 P. M. Each Day

Catalogues on Application to

C. G. Sloan & Co., Inc., Auctioneers.

D. C. Women in Welfare Work

Episcopal Children's Home Chief Interest of Mrs. David Lea.

MRS. DAVID MEADE LEA.

President of the Episcopal Home for Children for the past 18 years, Mrs. David Meade Lea is an outstanding figure in Washington welfare work. Although her activities as president of this children's home occupy most of her days, she still finds time to serve as a member of the board of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, of which she was president for seven years. She also serves on the board of trustees of the Community Chest.

Mrs. Lea was a keen student of Community Chest methods long before there was a chest in Washington. She attended the first meeting ever held here looking to the establishment of a chest, at least eight years before plans for the present chest were made. She was among those instrumental in bringing the chest to Washington and has supported it loyally ever since.

Her interest in children, paramount, as evidenced by her presidency of the Children's Home for 18 years, she praises the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital for its work among the youngsters.

She says: "For 20 years I have been interested in welfare work, but my main interest is in child welfare. For that reason I am greatly pleased by the work of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. I am justly pleased with the great number of children who have had their eyesight saved by treatment at the hospital, most of these cases bring children whose eyes had not been properly treated at birth. Any movement for the betterment and care of children has my whole-hearted support."

Mrs. Seamans to Speak.

Mrs. Fannie Lou Seamans, county nurse, of the health unit of Fairfax County, will be one of the speakers at the State nurses' conference tomorrow in Front Royal. She will speak on "Family Gardens and the Part They Play in Family Nutrition."

New Laws May Insist On Vitamin Lipstick

But Women Interested in Its Color, Not Good Value.

Cleopatra commanded her handmaidens to rub her body with spiced smelling oils because she thought it made her more appealing more beautiful. Perhaps it didn't, but she believed it did and so did her ardent suitors. Dipping snuff wasn't the prettiest habit in the world but the eccentric users of it thought it was a savior to their general states of health. Jimson weed was a "good for" cure for decades and it may have contained the elusive vitamins that are now generally acclaimed as one of the greatest secrets of health. Now legislation is sought against these two century old prerogatives of liberty.

As a result of the Tugwell bill aimed at the food, drug and cosmetic industries, the glamorous lipstick may be required to contain vitamins.

Word of mouth advertising has given way for most part to the printed and radio imagination-provoking statements as to the benefits of products of beauty and health.

J. B. SPUND'S MARKET

3421 Connecticut Ave. Cleveland 4400

EXCELLENT FOODS BUT ORDINARY PRICES

You know we carry the finest, most complete line of meats and groceries available . . . from the daily requirements of the small household to the specialties demanded by the mansion . . . BUT what we want you to realize NOW and ALWAYS is that our prices are surprisingly low.

Let us prove that we charge NO PREMIUM for the finest foods. WE RESPECT ECONOMY.

Small Young Virginia Turkey, lb.	31c	Legs of Lamb (Swift Premium Lamb), lb.	21c
Prime Rib Roast (New York Beef)	23c	Sweetbreads, large pairs	60c
Fresh Killed Long Island Duckling, lb.	19c	Fresh Premium Ham, lb.	16c
Fresh Killed Plymouth Rock Frying Chicken, lb.	29c	Fresh Jumbo Squabs, each	60c

See Frigidaire demonstrated by cooking experts at the School

Visit our showroom and see the new Frigidaire that uses no more current than a lamp bulb

ECONOMY

Here is a new standard of economy. A genuine Frigidaire that operates on as little electric current as one ordinary lamp bulb.

CONVENIENCE

Automatic defrosting—ice trays that slip out of the freezer at a touch of the finger—extra room for tall containers—and a compartment for frozen storage.

BEAUTY

This new Frigidaire introduces a distinctive style in cabinet design, with a finish of white Dulux and handsome chromium hardware.

QUALITY

With porcelain interior, every detail reflects that quality which has made Frigidaire the choice of a million more buyers than any other electric refrigerator.

1/4 MORE FOOD SPACE

A highly efficient, space-saving insulation gives the cabinet smaller outside dimensions, but much greater food storage capacity. See the new Frigidaires at our showroom.

COSTS ONLY $105

INSTALLATION AND FEDERAL TAX PAID

THE SUPER FRIGIDAIRE LINE FEATURES SIX NEW DELUXE ALL-PORCELAIN MODELS—WITH MANY EXCLUSIVE FEATURES—THE FINEST FRIGIDAIRE EVER BUILT

The new FRIGIDAIRE A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Be sure to see this Revolutionary Development...Come in Today

FRIGIDAIRE SALES CORP.

1401 14th Street N.W.	Cameo Furniture Co., Inc. 600 4 1/2 St. S.W.	Georges Radio Co. 2141 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W.	Palais Royal, Inc. 1114 and G Sts. N.W.
J. R. Enright Rockville, Md.	Carroll Supply Co. 717 13th St. N.W.	M. L. Hamburger Co. 828 10th St. N.W.	S. Kann Sons Co. 14 St. & Pa. Ave. N.W.
John H. Ruff Vienna, Virginia	J. E. Collins 1329 H St. N.E.	Stanley H. Horner, Inc. 1111 14th St. N.W.	Wolfe Motor Co. 2617 Georgia Avenue Silver Spring, Md.
Rush Motor Co. Hyattsville, Md.	Colony Radio Service 4835 Georgia Ave.	House & Herrmann 7th and Eye Sts. N.W.	Lewis Electric Co. 319 Window Pl. N.W.
Super Sales Company 1000 King Street Alexandria, Va.	Gardner-Stuart Motor Co. 620 H St. N.E.	H. B. Leary, Jr., & Bros. 1612 You St. N.W.	L. P. Stewart, Inc. 1440 P St. N.W.
Brookland Hardware Co. 3501 12th St. N.E.

Rabbit's Wool Soft and Cuddly For New Frocks

Brown, Green, Blue and Gray Heather Mixtures
All Pretty.

By Ruth Ann Davis.

Rabbit hair wool. It's so adorably soft and cuddly, so adaptable to frocks for the classroom, office or stadium, that the shopper goes into an ecstasy every time she finds dresses in this material.

She found some perfectly sweet ones today in a department store and is ready to sing their praises in several keys. Lots of dash, heaps of suavity and quantities of wearableness distinguish them. Made in one piece, the bodice is darted to fit the skirt, joining it in an inverted shallow V line. The high neck has a tiny roll collar and an ascot scarf which is adorned with two white angora bands. A waistline belt has a rabbit wool covered buckle. The sleeves are plain with the exception of wee square epaulettes.

Heather mixtures in brown, green, black, blue and greyish brown are the colors. Fourteen to 20 are the sizes; $5.95 is the price.

The same store has some ducky wool dresses in a knit weave. A title one has a masculine collar and an inverted pleat in its slim skirt. The price is $3.95.

From Saxony come soft plaid fabric gloves. In brown and white, they are stunning when worn with brown swaggy coats or trimly tailored suits. The gauntlets are long enough to tuck inside the cuff of a large sleeve and full enough to ripple a bit when worn outside a tight fitting one.

These washable gloves may be had in sizes ranging from 5 1/2 to 7 1/2. The price is 69 cents.

Lacy blouses have joined the high-collared parade. It wouldn't surprise us if they advanced to the very front ranks because they're so amusingly inconsistent with their masculine collar, sheer dainty material and severe lines.

Schiffel embroidery on net is the correct name of the material. It resembles a fine, firm lace. Small crocheted-covered buttons are placed on the center front closing.

These blouses in cream color only may be tucked inside the skirt or worn outside. When worn outside a narrow belt in back may be tied in a tailored bow at the waistline. Price, $1.

Genuine Venetian glass has been blown into attractive bowl-shaped vases, with wide fluting around the narrow mouth. Handwrought from ivy leaves, painted a dull green, make a unique standard for the vase.

The Venetian glass may be had in a lovely, soft blue, amber, amethyst, or pink, as well as in clear glass. The price of the vase and standard is $1.

Mohawk Indian designs, with glowing oranges, reds and yellows, have been copied for luncheon cloths that are startlingly different. Blues, greens, and browns also have a part to play in the interesting designs, made up for the most part of squares and rectangles. The weave is fairly coarse, making a rather stiff material.

In addition to the square luncheon cloths, there is material for a hawke design used for a buffet cloth, 63x18 inches. It would give a brilliant touch to the Thanksgiving dinner.

The bridge size luncheon cloth is $1. The buffet cloth is the same price. A scarf, 36x12 inches, is 59 cents. A scarf of the same length, but four inches wider, is priced at 69 cents.

Quaint colonial wallpaper designs cover the backs of shiny new playing cards. Two decks, one in green, the other in rose, are attractively wrapped in a flat box. The prim wallpaper designs form backgrounds for silhouettes of colonial men and maidens.

Other decks are gay with Italian pictures on their backs.

These pictures show a languishing maiden leaning out her tiny window to hear a serenade by a donkey driver. The colors are bold reds and blues.

The price of the cards is 50 cents for two decks.

A flannel robe is good-looking and practical for winter wear. An E street shop has some nice ones, made double-breasted, with manish revers, tailored buttons, three patch pockets and narrow sash, fringed at the ends.

A maroon robe, with scarlet revers and scarlet conventional designs on pockets, is striking. Others are in powder blue, with touches of darker blue, and reseed green, trimmed with moss green.

Small, medium and large are the sizes. The price is $4.75.

Call Ruth Ann Davis, of The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 105, for further information. Or write, including a stamped, addressed envelope.

Romney Teachers Organize. Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 30 (Spl.)—Industrial and academic teachers of the West Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind at Romney have organized the Romney State School Teachers Association, which will further professional ideals and promote social activities.

Mrs. Lillian Church has been elected president; Miss Adelaide Coffey, secretary; Mrs. C. H. McAllister, treasurer; and C. H. McAllister, program chairman.

Pierrette, Before the Masquerade.

By Katherine W. Smith.
I have my hat,
Confetti to throw,
A whistle to blow,
But
Tell me, cat,
I am anxious to know,
Have you seen Pierrot?

Center Front Closing Smart On Suit Jacket

Side Slashes Help to Give Youthful Silhouette;
Blouses Match.

The center front closing for suit jackets is held in high regard for winter and spring by the foremost designers. Those for winter wear are invariably buttoned. The spring models stress the open front in more ingenious fashion.

The scarf that is pulled through a ruff-like collar or loops is one solution to the problem of fastening without buttons. Clips and links are also satisfactory. The clips are at their best when alternated with tabs of the suit's fabric. The links are usually used on those jackets that have jabot collars. A single link at the waist is exceedingly smart.

Blouses of the same material as the suit are a new note for spring. This innovation was doubtlessly inspired by the jackets that were slashed up here and down there. Slashes, say the French designers, enhance the costume feeling. When the neckline is slashed to the waist, the blouse material must harmonize with that of the suit. Slashes up the jacket's sides, giving a youthful silhouette, also reveal the blouse beneath. If the suit is a lightweight woolen, a matching blouse is comfortable as well as new and smart.

Woman, Mother of 22 Sons, Loses All

Croydon, England (U.S.)—The tragedy of motherhood has fallen heavily on "Nanny" Heartfield, 60. She has had 22 sons and lost them all. Ten were killed in the World War; three were killed by a runaway horse, and the other nine have died of various illnesses.

What's in Fashion?

Many New Jewelry Tricks Reflect Old-Time Ideas

Directed by Amos Parrish

Information as to where jewelry of the type illustrated and their variations are available in Washington will be given by the Fashion Department, The Washington Post, on request.

New York, Oct. 31.—Jewelry, dog collars, brooches, lockets. Those are old-fashioned sounding words. But they're also some of the newest fashions in jewelry of which we've taken recent note. All done in a modern, up-to-date way, of course.

At the opening of a new play the other night we caught sight of half a dozen tiaras and bandeaux. Glistening with rhinestones in rosettes and stars and some even in the up-pointing diadem effect that makes you think of the days of the "Four Hundred."

Other smart women wore clips or side combs (another old word) of rhinestones to hold short locks in place.

Dog Collar Chokers. Chokers that recall the old dog collar were in evidence, too, some of big beads and some of rows of smaller beads with a rhinestone clasp in front. (One of these is sketched for you.)

Many an old-fashioned brooch is coming out of the jewel box to hold the modern mandarin collar in place. And if your jewel box doesn't hold an old one, you'll find plenty of old looking ones at your favorite jewelry counter.

They don't have to be used on a mandarin collar, though. (We had one sketched that way, however.) Use them on any kind of collar or to hold a scarf in place.

With High Necks. The old-time pendant necklace or locket finding a place on dresses with high necklines. The fine chain goes round the neck above the collar and the pendant hangs below.

Probably you've seen that massive gold jewelry, particularly in bracelets, that looks as though it "weighed a ton." The new trick is that it's almost as light as the traditional feather, for it is composition plated with gold. It's a "go-with-everything" kind of daytime jewelry, looking equally well on dark, neutral or bright colors.

For more formal wear the gold jewelry turns delicate, in old-fashioned all-gold designs often set with stones.

Translucent Bracelets. Another new idea we've noted is the big translucent bangle bracelet. These are worn in two's or three's in different tones of one color. Wear them over the sleeve of your street or afternoon dress or on your bare arm in the evening. And if you want to be utterly smart, wear no other color on your dress.

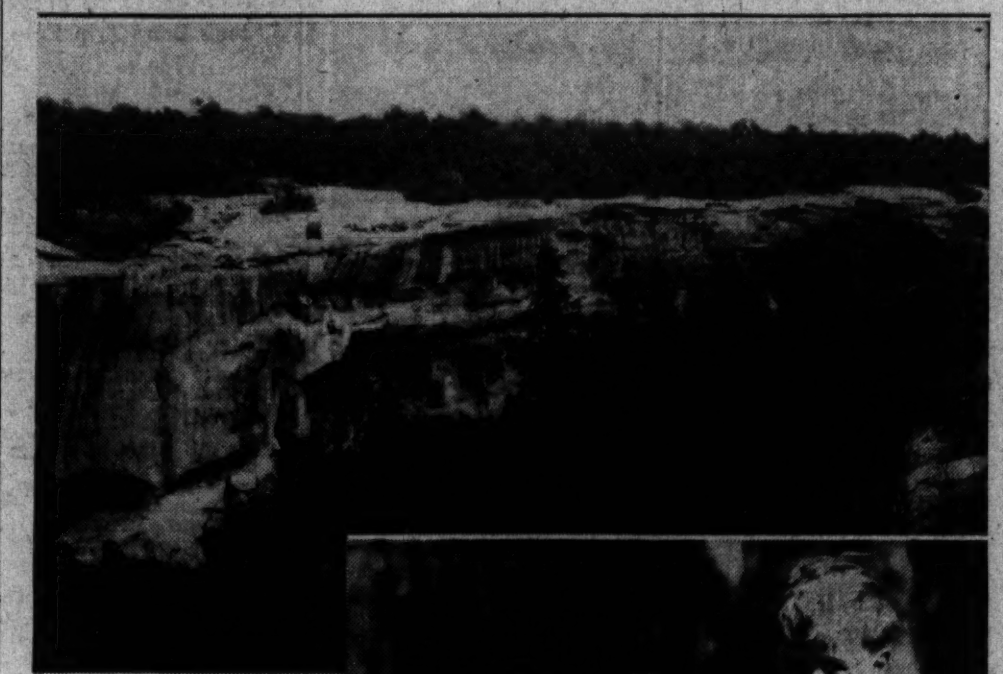

Pearls are back — real ones and not-so-real. In Paris women are wearing pearls even with their semiprecious clothes.

We saw some the other night that had a new look, and they're sketched for you on the second figure. The necklace hung down the back and was clipped onto the dress at the shoulders.

And one of the most unusual tricks we've seen is bracelets that are part of a dress, made of three rows of braid matching the dress color and finished off with three large beads of contrasting color. These were worn on each arm, like cuffs.

(Copyright, 1933.)
Tomorrow: Evening gloves and bags tie up with costume.

High Silk Hats and Limousines Scare Tots Used to Indians

Move to Perpetuate McGuffey's Reader

Editor and Educators in Marshall Co., W. Va., Launch Revival.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 30 (Spl.)—McGuffey school reader enthusiasts everywhere will be interested in knowing that a movement originating in Marshall County, this State, to revive and perpetuate the famous old grade books is to be carried into other counties and possibly into other States.

The missionary movement has been undertaken by the Marshall County McGuffey Society, which has met with marked success in its efforts in its own county. It has appointed a special committee to visit Ohio, Wetzel and Tyler Counties for the purpose of interesting other enthusiasts and organizing like societies or branches in each.

Lions, Not City Crowds, Are Choice of Martin and Aileen Finnen.

Two fearless young trail-blazers have arrived in Washington and are finding it a terrifying place.

They are fresh from Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado, where mountain lions, coyotes and Navajo Indians, that are not just painted toys, roam the canyons.

Little Martin and Aileen Finnen have been accustomed to a 77 square mile playground. So what, if you please, are they going to do in the midst of buses, whizzing automobiles, hurrying throngs of senators, diplomats and all the rest of the highly important people elbowing each other for room in the National Capital?

"Sissy and I have no place to play here," declared 5-year-old Martin today in his very first interview. He and Aileen were disconsolately looking at picture books in their sixteenth street apartment.

No Fun in This Town. "We want to go back to the Indians and the animals. There's no place here to build corrals and play like you're driving horses into them. I wish you had some nice, big mesa in Washington, and some Indians and bears."

Martin and his 3-year-old sister were the first white children born in Mesa Verde National Park. Their father, C. Martin Finnen, newly appointed superintendent of National Capital Parks, was superintendent of Mesa Verde for 9 years.

The children have never known any life but the freedom of the great Western plains. Their home was a huge, rambling affair, modeled after the prehistoric cliff dwellings found in the park. Now they must adjust themselves to houses with small rooms and quilt-patch yards.

Their one source of entertainment just now is their colored nursemaid. A stolid Navajo girl took care of them out West. Their nurse's dialect and gurgling laughter interest them. But they are a very poor substitute for the howl of the coyote, the cry of the mountain lion, and the whoop of an Indian.

Spiced Orange Nog. (Serves one large or two small.)

1/2 cup orange juice
1-3 cup evaporated milk
1-3 cup water
2 to 3 tablespoons spiced sugar syrup

Best well. Chill if desired. This is a delicious and economical drink.

Upholstery Cleaners

Safe, Thorough, Reasonable
All dirt and stains removed. Over 20 years experience. Free home demonstration.

Dls. 7516
Tiralla Process
Cleaning Co.
801 Wash. Loan & Trust Co.

Mrs. Roosevelt Pleads for Private Charity At Human Needs Conference in Chicago

Private as Well as Public Charity Must Relieve Helpless.

Chicago, Oct. 30 (P.)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt told the 1933 Mobilization for Human Needs Conference today that the people who could still afford to do so must come to the aid of the needy unemployed.

"The more relief burden you put on the Government," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "the more taxes go up. The more those who still have means to serve can do with voluntary effort, the better it will be."

The mobilization for human needs, Mrs. Roosevelt said she understood, was intended to fill in whatever gaps remain after the Federal relief program had been put into effect.

She is director of the woman's crusade division of the movement, the division which will concentrate on getting before the public a true picture of existing conditions. To the men will be left the actual collection of funds.

"There are many who feel that the Government can do everything, and who don't realize that with everything that is being done there is still suffering," said the President's wife.

"The feeling of helplessness among the needy is growing. There never was so great a need for social agencies as there is today."

"When we have enough people who want decent living conditions for everybody, we will have a real civilization," Mrs. Roosevelt declared later in an informal talk following the afternoon session.

"No intelligent person can think that feeding the body is sufficient. We find the unemployed person goes through three stages. The first year there is hope—hope that tomorrow, at next week or next month he will find a job. The second year there is a feeling of despair or revolt against society. The third year there is a feeling of lethargy."

Mrs. Roosevelt called the loss of incentive to live one of the most serious results of a depression. "Crime is bred in poor housing, poor home life and poor environment in general. Character building agencies which improve these conditions are combating crime," she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt's arrival was without display. She alighted from a train at Park Row station and entered a World's Fair automobile. There was no escort from the station to the Congress Hotel, scene of the conference.

Accompanied by U. Grant Smith, chief of protocol for the fair, she entered a side door of the hotel, rode up in a service elevator and walked through the dishwashing room to the conference headquarters. White-clad kitchen workers stared in amazement as she passed by. She gave them a smile and a cheery "good morning."

Representatives of 40 States attending the conference told Mrs. Roosevelt that women had a keen realization of relief needs, and that they were eager to do their part.

In 108 cities, they reported, money raising campaigns would be held in a few weeks, with $55,000,000 as their goal.

Present to speak at the conference were Newton D. Baker, chairman of the National Citizens' Committee; Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator; Miss Jane Addams, noted social welfare worker of Chicago, and others.

Today's conference was the opening of a Nation-wide campaign, which has the support of President Roosevelt. The week of November 5 to 11 has been set as a period of cooperative effort between the mobilization for human needs and the N.R.A.

Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins added his voice to that of Mrs. Roosevelt in calling for public support, and declaring that in many localities "the standard of relief has been far too low to maintain health."

"It hasn't been starvation, but it has been too close to it, and we are stopping this indefensible inadequacy," Hopkins said.

The Federal Government's $500,000,000 appropriation, Hopkins warned, will fall far short of providing adequate relief. He said some States have not borne their share in comparison with the amounts provided by the local and Federal Governments.

Hopkins declared the Federal Government had in no way shirked its duty, pointing to the $35,000,000 appropriation, establishment of Civilian Conservation camps, formation of the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation to provide the unemployed with beef, butter, apples and other surplus foods, and arrangements to care for the homeless and transient unemployed.

"We know that there is a great deal of malnutrition among children from families on relief," he said, in urging more adequate care.

ALE and BEER ON DRAUGHT
Harvey's
1107 Connecticut Ave.
(Marlboro Hotel Block.)

MAY WE SUGGEST MAY'S
For Delicious Food and Courteous Service.
Luncheon (Daily), 50c and 75c
Dinner (Daily and Sunday), 75c & $1.00
MAY'S RESTAURANT
2317 Calvert St.
Between the Shoreham and Wardman Park Hotels.
ADams 1783
F. MAY, Prop. formerly with Rauscher's.

OLNEY INN
New Fall Menus
Open Fires
OLNEY, MD. 12 Miles Out Georgia Ave.

LADIES' FELT VELVET AND VELOUR HATS
CLEANED AND REBLOCKED
In their original style or any shape desired.

LADIES CAPITAL HAT SHOP
1118 St. 1118 St.

The New Jelleffs

Victorian copies perfect jewelry for 1933!

$10 to $18.50 each piece

If your jewel-box doesn't hold old-fashioned jewelry, you should see these Treasure pieces at Jelleff's. Hand-wrought like antiques and museum pieces, they're old-time delicacy and beauty—make you think of "Four Hundred" days. And although they're precious in sentiment, they're not in price. Oval drop earrings, coral and lapis studs, $10; Horseshoe Brooch, cultured pearl, white sapphires, heart-shaped garnet, $15. Quaint bracelet, braided mesh, onyx medallion, $18.50.
Jelleff's Jewelry—Street Floor

"I've banished laundry worries to take up COOKING IN A BIG WAY"

The ARCADE SUNSHINE Way

Offers six major services that completely cover household laundering and cleaning needs... with scientific and sanitary methods carried out under constant expert supervision and the facilities of a great plant with the last word in equipment in every department.

LAUNDERERS
Dry Cleaners
Dyers
Carpet and Rug Cleaners
Cold Air Storage
Fur Cleaners and Remodelers

ARCADIA-SUNSHINE CO., INC.
COL. 8010

EVERY DAY is Market Day
at
NEW CENTER MARKET
5th St. N.W. K to L.
Open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays
Until 10 P. M. Free Parking.

Daring to talk about rates
FROM
$3 1/2

FOLKS
who want to stay in Chicago's Drake Hotel ought to be told they can afford it.
The rates are no higher—in fact, they are actually lower than for comparable accommodations elsewhere.
Rooms at the Drake begin at $3.50—parlor suites at $10.00. Imagine that!

Drake CHICAGO

Upholstery Cleaners
Safe, Thorough, Reasonable
All dirt and stains removed. Over 20 years experience. Free home demonstration.

Dls. 7516
Tiralla Process
Cleaning Co.
801 Wash. Loan & Trust Co.

Books

Medal for Best Child's Book
Given to Mrs. E. F. Lewis for Chinese Story.

What the Pulitzer Prize is to adult literature the John Newbery Medal is to children's literature. The award was founded in 1921, named in honor of the first publisher of books specifically for children. During the eighteenth century John Newbery's stall in St. Paul's Churchyard was frequented by the children of all London.

This year the medal has been given to Mrs. Elizabeth Foreman Lewis for her book, "Young Fu of the Upper Yangtze," the adventurous story of a young boy growing up in modern China. The publisher is the John Winston Co. It would seem that the John Newbery Medal follows even the fabled set by the Pulitzer.

Emil Ludwig's book picturing nine statesmen of modern Europe is to be called "Nine Etched From Life." McBride will bring it out in mid-November.

Padraic Colum, having spent several months in the south of France, expects to arrive in this country in December. His book, "Other Roads in Ireland," is moved to Macmillan's spring list.

The first flight by airplane over Mount Everest is related by the commanders, Col. P. T. E. Hinton and Col. L. V. S. Blacker of the British Air Force, in their book, "First Over Everest"—to be published by McBride in January. The famous snow plume and gigantic glaciers of the mountain are shown in some of the finest aerial photographs ever taken. These, by the way, were reproduced some time ago in the Illustrated London News.

A weather-cock which shows the literary breeze is veering from light fiction toward something more solid is the plea of Alfred H. King, Inc., 432 Fourth Avenue, New York, for "serious novels dealing with the contemporary scene." For the past two years they have dealt largely in "sex, sin and hammock fiction." Now they want a change. As token of their welcome to novelists, they say "our manuscript shelves are absolutely bare."

Unoriginal Innocence.
A novel, "Original Sin" by Charles Grayson King, $2.00.

All about two chums who love the same girl, so that when she becomes engaged to one the other backs off in high-minded neutrality—the "original sin" is to fall in love. When the engaged chap becomes suspected of a murder, his pal clears things up and the girl discovers it's he she really loves. On the whole Mr. Grayson's previous reputation for sophistication will have to await another attempt.

Twins in Trouble.
A novel, "THE LONG QUEST," by Christine Whiting Parmenter; Crowell, $2.

Could the theme of twins, separated at an orphanage, only spend years seeking each other, be presented in a fresh manner? Perhaps. But Mrs. Parmenter lacked either the skill or the inclination to lift this story of David and Jerry McCollum out of the rut.

These boys, victims of unsympathetic treatment in an orphan home, are eventually adopted into different family circles. As a result of an unconvincing chain of circumstances each loses trace of the other for a number of years, to the discomfort of the other people in the book.

The ending, at least, might have been interesting, but Mrs. Parmenter admits no surprises in this artless story. Consequently, if it pleases anybody, it must be some one who is very young or very sentimental.

HOPE RIDINGS MILLER.

Jeremiah Among Orphans.
A novel, "WHATEVER LOVE IS," by Robert W. Chambers. (Applenton-Century, $2.50.)

In the mauve decade, young Robert W. Chambers produced a harmless but interesting tale called "The King in Yellow." Now, a third of a century after, it is almost too difficult to believe that the same Mr. Chambers has written "Whatever Love Is," since the distance between the two is something more than a million years.

Although Mr. Chambers can not be other than "young" every line of every book he has ever produced being in the literary current of the moment—he now assumes the mantle of age to pour forth a flow of vituperative preachment against the Era of Prohibition. Through the lips of John Vynning, drifter de luxe, through the defense-platitudes of Lady Grey-Spinner, postwar product getting a divorce at Reno, through his own author's interpolations, Mr. Chambers attacks the obvious negative aspects of our day. For plot, the lady gets her man after 400 pages of political, social and economic intrigue, murders, ginkies, lavish Florida house-warmings, gay San Francisco streets, and episodes involving drunks, dope-fiends and derelicts.

In spite of its still being essentially magazine fiction, no book holds more vitriol, cynicism and nauseating superstitions and hypocrisies of the eighteenth amendment than Mr. Chambers' seventy-third novel. DON BLOCH.

Breakfast Cocktail.

(Serves 1)
1 egg yolk
2 oranges, juice of
1 teaspoon honey or sugar to taste
Pinch of salt
Beat together and drink every morning.

FURNACE REPAIRS

Complete stock of parts, tools, etc., for all furnaces and stoves.
Stove Department
Rudolph and West Co.
605 Rhode Island Ave. N.E.
Phone Pot. 6027 Nat. 4870

Tender Cuts Hold Flavor When Roasted

Broiling Also Keeps Juices of Meats From Being Dissipated.

By Ruth Chambers.

While the food value of meat remains approximately the same in the various cuts, there is a difference in the degree of tenderness between those portions of the animal which are exercised and contain, therefore, a larger amount of connective tissue, and those in which there is the least connective tissue.

Select Cuts.

The so-called select cuts of beef are the sirloin from the loin end, the porterhouse from the short loin, the prime ribs and the tenderloin. Select cuts of veal are the loin, leg and rib or rack. Of pork they are the loin, tenderloin, ham (usually smoked) and bacon. Of lamb they are the loin, leg and rib. But even the less-demanded cuts of pork, lamb and veal may be cooked by the methods used in the preparing of the select cuts.

The method of cooking these cuts is by the application of dry heat, that is by broiling, pan-broiling and roasting.

Thick Pieces Roasted.

Roasting is the method employed for cooking thick pieces of tender meat, though there is some difference in the duration and temperature of roasting.

In roasting beef, the meat is placed in an open pan without any moisture and with the fat side up. The fat melts and bastes the roast. Sear in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) for 10 minutes, then reduce the temperature to 300 degrees F. and continue cooking until the roast has reached the desired degree of doneness.

To Roast Veal.

Veal, which is lacking in fat, must have its surface protected. A covered roaster is the most convenient way. The meat is seared for 15 minutes in a hot oven, then covered and the roasting continued at a reduced temperature of 300 degrees F. for 20 minutes per pound.

To Roast Lamb.

For roasting a leg of lamb, the fell should not be removed. Use an uncovered roaster. Add no water. Place skin side down. Sear for 10 minutes, then continue at a temperature of 300 degrees F. It will require from 2½ to 3 hours including searing for a 5-pound leg and about an hour longer for a 7-pound leg.

To Roast Pork.

Pork is also roasted in an open pan. The time for roasting depends upon the size of the roast; a small roast requires more minutes per pound than a large one.

Broiling.

Broiling is a quick method of preparing tender pieces which are not so thick as roasts, such as steaks and chops. Broiling is usually done in a broiler over which is heated until very hot before the steak is put in. Place steak near enough the heating element (about 3½ inches) so that it will be nicely browned when about half done. It has been learned that searing does not keep in the juices. It is not necessary to turn the steak more than once. The time of cooking on each side depends on the thickness and the degree to which it is to be cooked. A porterhouse steak 1½ inches thick will require about 25 minutes to be medium rare.

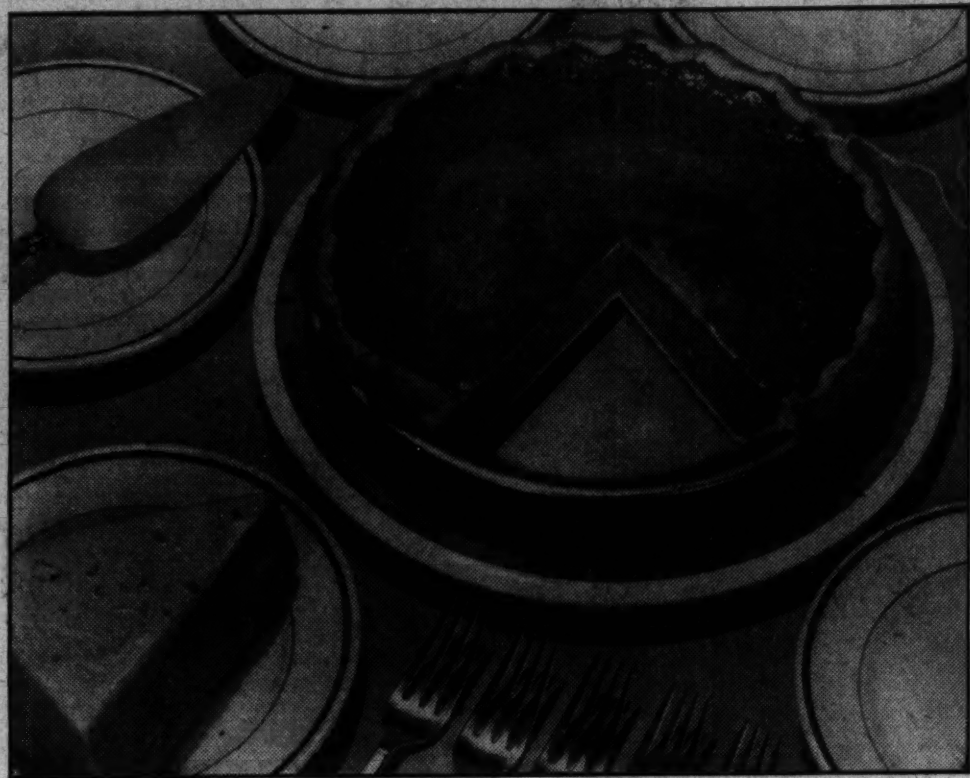

Lamb and mutton chops and tender beef steaks may be broiled. It is not a satisfactory way to cook veal or pork.

Panbroiling.

Panbroiling is a successful substitute for broiling tender meat. The steak or chop is cooked on top of the stove in a very heavy skillet, which must be very hot. At little of the suet trimmed from the meat may be rubbed over the bottom of the pan, but this is not necessary, for if the pan is hot enough the meat will not stick. Brown the meat on both sides, then reduce the temperature and cook until the desired degree of doneness is reached. Turn the meat from time to time to insure even cooking. Pour off any excess fat that may gather in the pan. The time for panbroiling steaks and chops is the same as for broiling.

What's Good to Eat
Deep Mince and Rich Pumpkin Pies
Awarded Season's Highest Laurels

By Ann Barrett.

Temperature Is Important in Keeping Crust Crisp.

Both are very much on the boards these days—hits of the season, in fact. And how they get that way might be a profitable point to explore.

In the first place, you can't get out of a pie what you don't put in. A pumpkin pie needs good pumpkin (not too watery), good spice, enough eggs and cream to make it rich—or it won't be good pumpkin pie. If the mention of cream seems a bit extravagant, I'll give you my word that evaporated (unsweetened) milk tastes just as good in a pumpkin pie. When it comes to mince pie, I'll pass up the point of that touch of something illegal that's going to be legal soon. But aside from that, mince is an important matter in mince pie, too. And having enough meat, raisins, citron and other fruits so that the pie has more than a hint of mystery.

So—if you buy your pumpkin and mince meat ready-cooked, make sure you get a brand that gives you your money's worth. And if you make it yourself, see that each separate ingredient is worthy of the grand general effect you wish to create.

Baking Important.

Of course, baking is important, too. Remember that pumpkin pie is a sort of custard, and must therefore have long, slow making at about 350 F.—except for the first 10 minutes at 450 F. to set crust quickly so it won't get soggy. (Brushing the bottom crust with unbeaten egg white before putting in the filling also helps prevent sogginess.) As for mince pie, the filling has already been cooked, you see. So the pie needs only to be baked about 20 minutes. But this should be at quite a high temperature—about 450 F.

Pumpkin Pie.

For an actual recipe, here's one for pumpkin pie that is moderately sweet, rich and spicy, but may be varied in a number of ways to suit your own taste.

It starts with 1-1/3 cups of pumpkin (thick and dry). To this you add the following (first mixed thoroughly): Two-thirds cup brown sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ginger, one-half teaspoon salt. Mix thoroughly. Then stir in the following: 1½ cups bottle milk, one-half cup cream (or evaporated, unsweetened milk), two eggs (slightly beaten) and two tablespoons melted butter. Mix thoroughly, turn into an 8-inch tin (first lined with pastry and brushed with unbeaten egg white). Bake as directed above. Served with good American cheese this will be a dessert to be proud of.

For a bit more subtle spicing, you might add one-eighth teaspoon each of clove and nutmeg. Or you might increase any or all of these spices—only remember that the pie darkens

Will you have deep, golden brown pumpkin pie all shiny on top? Or would you prefer a juicy mince pie, served warm and smelly with spice? Comedian Fred Allen decides the point nicely by choosing both as the spice increases. If you like an extra sweet pie, you might increase the sugar. You might make the pie still richer by reversing the quantities of milk and cream—using only one-half cup bottle milk and 1½ cups of cream or evaporated milk. In the matter of the eggs, you might beat yolks and whites separately, folding in the whites last—if you like a fluffy rather than custardy texture.

De Luxe Mince-meat.

Now, just in case you'd like to steer your own mince-meat through the food chopper and over the top of the stove before you pump it into a pie, here's a recipe that makes my mouth water just putting it on paper.

First, cook 2 cups lean rump beef till tender (in a covered kettle with as little water as possible). Cool and chop. Combine with 1½ pounds suet, chopped very fine. Wash and dry 1 pound currants and combine with 2½ cups seeded raisins, 4 ounces citron cut fine, 1½ cups candied cherries cut in small pieces, 4 quarts tart apples peeled and chopped, and 1 cup strawberry jam. Squeeze the juice from 2 lemons and 2 oranges, then cook the skins till tender, chop fine, and add to the other fruits.

Next, pour over these 2 cups sweet cider, 2 cups boiled cider (first boiled for 5 minutes), 2 cups of any fruit juice (in addition to the orange and lemon juice). Then add 7 cups sugar (first mixed with 1 tablespoon each of allspice, clove, nutmeg, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon mace). Put all these ingredients together in a large kettle, mix well, and cook slowly till apples are tender, stirring occasionally. Toward the end of the cooking, add 1 cup brandy or sherry flavoring. This recipe makes about 2½ quarts of mince-meat (enough for 3 good-sized pies).

Send for More Recipes.

Of course, there's more to my holiday pie story than this. I have two more recipes for mince-meat, with ways of baking it up in tarts and turnovers. I have recipes for cooking your own pumpkin, recipes for squash and sweet potato pie, raisin pie, Banbury tarts, and—just for good measure, though they aren't pie at all—a recipe for delicious squash biscuits. These recipes and more, too, with special cooking guides, are all in my newest 4-page bulletin, "How to Make Mince and Pumpkin Pies Just Right." Six cents in loose stamps only (with Kidwell's Markets Inc.

Wednesday Specials

Smoked Hams . . lb., 17½¢

Potatoes, 10 pounds . . 19¢

100-lb. bag, $1.00

The world's greatest chefs use WORCESTER SALT and so should you

The Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association has authorized the following official statement:—"Worcester Iodized Salt is suitable for all table and cooking uses of salt. Used daily as the only salt on the table and in cooking it richly supplements the iodine of diets deficient in that element and thus helps protect against goiter." Start using Worcester Iodized Salt now and take no chances. Worcester Iodized Salt comes in the big two pound (32 ounce) package. This bigger package gives you more for your money. Worcester Salt Co., America's oldest refiner of pure salt, New York.

The Family Marketer

Market Man Tells of Tomato's Long Trip From Vine to City.

"About how long does it take a tomato, for instance, to get to the home from the place in which it is grown?" asked the Marketer.

The market man put his tongue in his cheek.

"Well, when a tomato comes from California, it takes it about six and a half days."

"And I suppose somebody makes money all the way along," the Marketer concluded.

"Yes, the commission merchant makes about 10 cents on every box, and since everybody has to make a little, it's a wonder the housewife can get the things as cheaply as she does."

"Things are surely cheap," he picked up an alligator pear. "You see this pear? In 1923 that pear would have been worth $1.25, and cheap at a dollar. Now they sell at 15 and 20 cents each."

"And pear! I used to pay $14 a basket and sell them for 50 cents a pound. String beans were the same, potatoes, 3 pounds for 25 cents, and spinach sold at 35 and 40 cents a pound. Funny thing, people didn't mind spending then, even though they had to spend much more."

The Marketer sighed.

"It's a good thing I'm making low-cost menus when the costs are low," she thought.

The apple butter season is coming in! The Marketer has found a man that makes it and will sell it to you for only 15 cents a pound. Why not try some with tonight's ham hash? For apple butter belongs to ham, as corned beef to cabbage.

Eating pears are 20 cents a box, eight in a box. Cooking pears are 5 cents a pound.

The same market man sells fresh grained horse radish at 15 cents a bottle. You'll need it with your next dish of oysters.

The hash in today's menu will use up the last of Sunday's ham that the Marketer planned. Keep the bone and use it in soup. It will give a delicious flavor to it.

Ham Hash.

Chop cold baked ham with twice the mixture of cold boiled potatoes; stir in sufficient milk or water to hold the particles together. Spread the hash over the surface of a hot frying pan greased generously with fat. Cover the pan and cook over very low heat until a crisp brown crust has been formed on the bottom (about 40 to 45 minutes). Fold the hash like a plain omelet; invert on a platter and garnish with parsley.

Dinner for 4 at 87 Cents.

Ham Hash Apple Butter
Turnips and Greens
Whole Wheat Bread Butter
Milk Tea or Coffee
Pears

Ingredients, amount and cost:
Ham (one meal) 24
Potatoes 04
Turnips, 2 bunches 10
Apple butter 03
Bread, one-third loaf 03
Butter, ½ pound 04
Milk (and beverage) 07
Seasoning 02
Pears 10

Total 87

Call The Family Marketer, of The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 105, for further information. Or write, enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope.

Any good electric refrigerator is economical . . . but a

GENERAL ELECTRIC IS BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME

SAVINGS through quantity buying at "bargain-day" prices . . . savings by using "left-overs" and by eliminating food spoilage . . . make any good electric refrigerator an economical investment. It will soon pay its way in your kitchen. But be sure the refrigerator you buy is built to last. Only a G-E gives you all of these lifetime features:

- All-Steel Cabinet. Sturdy strength for years and years of service.
- Stainless Steel Freezing Chamber. Will never rust.
- Monitor Top Sealed-in-Steel Mechanism. Has unparalleled record for dependable performance free from service.

Come in today, see our complete line of G-E Monitor Top and Flat Top refrigerators. There's a size and model for every home. Prices are still within a few dollars of the lowest in all G-E history. The savings a G-E makes possible will more than meet the easy monthly payments.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.

E. C. GRAHAM, Pres.

1330 New York Ave. Nat. 6800

An open letter from Ruth Chambers to the housewives of Washington, D. C.

Dear Madam:

During the demonstrating period of the daily programs of The Washington Post Cooking School I am going to talk about Comet Rice.

I have selected Comet Rice first of all for its quality, recognized for thirty years, and also for the care used in bringing it to your kitchen, clean, wholesome and uniform. It is the only processed rice—guaranteed free from weevils and all other infestation—protected by an exclusive Comet method.

The majority of you have used Comet Rice, I know, but I'm sure I can open up a tremendous new vista of both its utility, and a delicious variety of uses that will show you how it can be made part of every day's meal planning, served alone or with meat, vegetables or fruit.

Cooking rice correctly is extremely necessary. I cook mine in the splendid Comet Rice Ball—an ingenious device that makes it easy—and I always obtain the lightness and fluffiness that makes rice so wonderful a food.

—but here's news!

These Comet Rice Balls are sold in department and other stores for 35c to 50c—but here's news! I have made arrangement with the Comet Rice Company to make a special price on them for this week. Send a coupon obtained from your grocer, or a top of a Comet Rice Package and 30 cents to the Comet Rice Company, 190 Franklin Street, New York, and they will send you a Comet Rice Ball, postpaid.

Send for one now so that you can immediately use the information I am looking forward to give you.

Sincerely,
RUTH CHAMBERS.

All Washington grocers have Comet Rice—get your package today and use the coupon or top of package for special price on a Comet Rice Ball.

COMET Rice UNCOATED WHITE HEAD

BEST COPY

AVAILABLE

Berlin-Russian Press Writing Quarrel Ended

Scribes Will Return Soon to Old Posts, After Officials Confer.

Berlin, Oct. 30 (P).—Russian and German newspaper correspondents, withdrawn from Berlin and Moscow, soon will be back at their posts.

A reliable source said tonight that Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, adjusted the differences, leading to the joint withdrawal in September directly with Konstantin von Neurath in their meeting here.

An official communique on the subject read: "After recent diplomatic conversations regarding the case of Russian and German journalists, a settlement has been reached between Foreign Minister Von Neurath and Ambassador Chichuk on the basis that both governments have agreed that the cultivation of mutual relations must not be hampered by the difference in the government systems of the two countries.

The Soviet journalists will again exercise their profession in Germany and the Germans in Russia. "Soviet Telegraph Agency and Izvestia (Moscow newspaper) correspondents will receive cards of admission to the Reichstag fire trial."

Woman, Hurt in Street, Asks $20,000 Damages

Elizabeth Yezbek, 1738 North Capitol street, filed suit in District Supreme Court yesterday against Clara T. May, of Chevy Chase, Md., and the District Government, for $20,000 damages. She charged, through Attorneys James C. Wilkes and James E. Artis, she was injured seriously October 28, 1932, when an unsecured trapdoor in front of 1629 North Capitol street caused her to fall.

Chest Talks Scheduled For Oldest Inhabitants

The Association of Oldest Inhabitants will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the old engine house at Nineteenth and H streets northwest.

Prof. E. J. Keyser will speak on the Community Chest. Committee members named to have charge of the banquet at the Raleigh Hotel, December 7, include Theodore W. Noyes, J. E. Wright, B. F. McCauley, Perry Israel, Fred Emery, J. F. Duhamel and Frank W. Dowling.

Educator's Wife Rallies After Attempted Suicide

Mrs. Violet Walker Burda, 52, wife of Prof. Francis X. Burda, instructor of physics at Catholic University, was reported recovering last night at Casualty Hospital.

Mrs. Burda was said by police to have attempted suicide Sunday.

Ship Movements

At New York.
Arrived Yesterday.
Georgic, from Liverpool.
Pennland, from Antwerp.
American Trader, from London.
General Von Staeben, from Bremen.
Volendam, from Rotterdam.
Scandinavia, from Copenhagen.
Sail Today.
Escalbur, for Berreuth.
Argosy, for Copenhagen.
Droghda, for Gothenburg.
Gerdafn, for Antwerp.
Sail Tomorrow.
President Harding, for Hamburg.
Black Star, for Rotterdam.
Chincha, for Cape Town.
Stevenson, for Bergen.
Aquitania, for Southampton.
New York, for Southampton.
Sail Thursday.
De Grasse, for Vigo.
General Von Staeben, for Bremen.
Reported by Radio.
Kosciusko, from Gdynia; due at Pier 14th street, Brooklyn, today.
De France, from Havre; due at Pier 17, North River, today.
Saturnia, from Trieste; due at Pier 17, North River, tomorrow.
Kaiser, from Mediterranean ports; due Thursday, at Jersey City wharf.

Culbertson on Bridge

Preventing a Squeeze.

Every now and then a hand pops up which is of such insidious complexity that very fine players are forced to study for several minutes before discovering the correct play. The following hand was played by Mr. Howard Schenken, the defending champion, in the recent National Individual Masters' Tournament, in New York City. Mr. Schenken found himself faced by a problem which involved so many possible variations of play that he was forced to stop in the middle of the hand and analyze each possibility separately before he could decide on his best course of action.

North, Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

The bidding (figure after bid refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

South West North East
2♠ 2♠ 10♣ Pass
SNT(1) Pass Pass Pass

1—This is a very fine inferential bid. South could see a fit in the diamond suit, and thus possibly six tricks there. If his partner had as much as one spade honor the suit was stopped; if not, it seemed that the three trump bid might be doubled as a warning, whereupon South anticipated a safe return to four diamonds.

Mr. Reith opened the three of clubs, refusing to lead either of the suits in which his opponents had indicated strength. Mr. Schenken took the Ace and returned a small club, which South won with the King. South now led a diamond to Dummy's Ace, on which Mr. Reith threw a spade; and then played the Knave of diamonds from Dummy.

Mr. Schenken was here faced by the first of his difficult problems. By refusing to cover the Knave of diamonds, although he held a fourchette in the Queen-10, he could block South from the lead after the diamond suit was established and prevent the cashing of three tricks.

This, at first glance, seemed the best course to pursue, but on further consideration Mr. Schenken realized that South, if he held as good as the nine of hearts, could abandon the diamond suit and set up enough heart tricks to make his contract. He therefore covered the Knave of diamonds and, as he expected, was allowed to hold the trick.

His second problem now developed: He could lead a club, and Mr. Reith could cash two club tricks, but after that Mr. Reith would have to unguard either his spade or heart stopper while South ran his four remaining diamonds; in other words, Mr. Reith would never get a fifth trick. Mr. Schenken, therefore, had to postpone the cashing of those club tricks and lead a spade immediately to allow West to escape the squeeze. This he did, and the contract was defeated one trick.

This analysis, of course, seems more simple in description than it is in actual play when the hands are not exposed. It required a great deal of expert card reading for Mr. Schenken to reconstruct in imagination the closed hands, and thus arrive at the correct line of play.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Soldier Ruled Suicide.

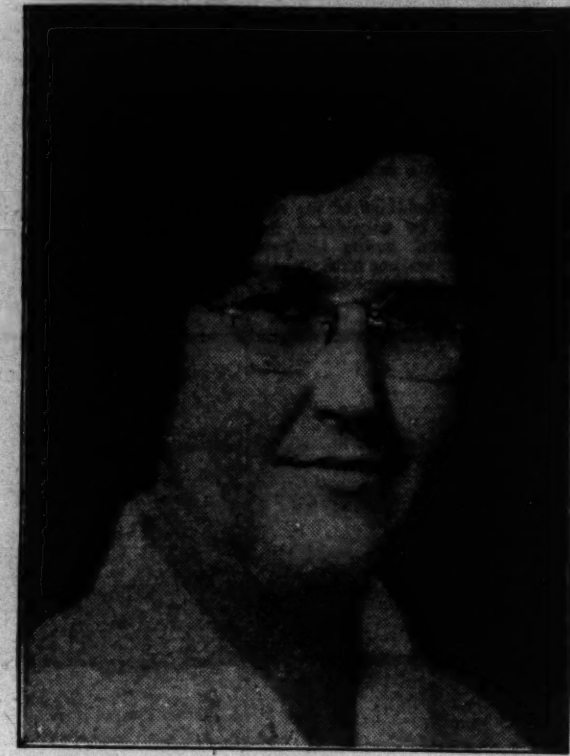

A certificate of death by suicide was issued by Acting Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald yesterday in the case of Vernon H. McCoy, 29, Carlisle, Pa., soldier, who died at Walter Reed Hospital yesterday.

The Washington Post

NEW and DIFFERENT COOKING

Famous Lecturer

Ruth Chambers

of the National Live Stock and Meat Board

SCHOOL

Opens TODAY!

2 P.M. DOORS OPEN AT 12:30

Come Early Today and Attend Every Session of This FROLIC OF GOOD THINGS TO EAT

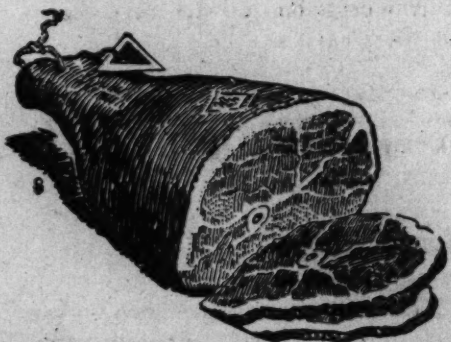

Come and learn how enjoyable a task the business of cooking and meal planning can be! ... A host of fresh, new recipes and ideas for the jaded menu-maker ... See the Parade of Foods. Applaud your favorites.

Ruth Chambers, a cooking school teacher of national renown, will show you how to prepare tantalizing and practical dishes that will surprise and delight your family when you exhibit your new-found knowledge at home. Complete instruction—Appetizers, Entrees, Salads, Desserts, Pastries, Cakes, Beverages, Meal Planning, Diet Making.

MEAT FEATURED

Miss Chambers is one of the most expert meat cooks in the country. She not only tells you how to cook meat, but tells you how to buy it. There will be a special display of the meat cuts used in the cooking school, showing what a woman may ask for when duplicating the recipes in her home.

ALL MEATS

DEMONSTRATED AT THE
WASHINGTON POST
COOKING SCHOOL

Can be bought at New Center Market. Here, dealers carry the finest meats obtainable—and have the modern refrigerating equipment and facilities to keep meats at their freshest and best... New Center Market prices are uniformly reasonable... Dealers are courteous, eager to serve and to serve you well.

NEW CENTER MARKET

5th St., K to L N.W.

FREE PARKING

Open 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.—Saturdays Until 10 P. M.

BIG DAILY GIFT LISTS

The Following Concerns Are Cooperating to Assure Your Profitable Entertainment at This Cooking School

Wilkins-Rogers Milling Co., Inc. Washington Flour	National Electrical Supply Co. The G-E Electric K. I. hen and Refrigerator	Scurlock Containerettes Comet Rice	The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. Bakar Coffee—American Coffee Corp.	National Biscuit Co. Bakery Products
La Choy Food Products Co. (Chinese Foods)	George's Radio Philco Radios	Manning-Bowman Co. Electric Coffee Urn	National Theater "Dinner at Eight" Guest Tickets	Palais Royal Housewares
Fruit Dispatch United Fruit Co.—Bananas	Center Market Retail Foods	Waters-Gaunt Co. Electric Toastmasters	Hanson Scale Co. Kitchen Scales	Packard-Washington Motor Car Co.
Frigidaire Sales Co. Electric Refrigerators	Rudolph & West Sunbeam Mixmaster	General Baking Co. Bread	American Automatic Devices Ritz Frillers	Motor Transportation
J. C. Harding Co. Royal Mince	Dulin & Martin Dining Room ensemble	Sanitary Grocery Co. Grocery Products	Chicago Flexible Shaft Co. Iron Master Electric Irons	Mangal-Herold Co. King Syrup
Boyce & Lewis Shoes	Chestnut Farms Dairy Milk and Dairy products	Lever Brothers Soap Products	Arcade Sunshine Laundry Clothing	Gude Brothers Co., Inc. Flora Decorations
	Peoples Drug Co. Flavoring Extract and Hand Lotion	Allen V. De Ford Food Products	Nachman Furniture Co. Kitchen Rugs	King Syrup Worcester Salt

TODAY, Wednesday and Thursday at 2 P.M., Friday at 8 P.M. (Doors Open at 7 P.M. Friday)

WASHINGTON AUDITORIUM

19th and E Streets N. W., Entrance on E Street or New Y

Miss Chambers Opens Cooking School Today

Washington Post Offers Valuable Instruction to Housewives.

The Washington Post's free cooking school opens at 2 p. m. today in the Washington Auditorium. The stage will be set with equipment of a General Electric kitchen. Miss Ruth Chambers, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will preside over a four-day series of classes.

Author of a daily column of menus and recipes in The Washington Post, Miss Chambers was selected to conduct the cooking school by arrangement with the country's leading live-stock raisers, packers and distributors. Today, tomorrow and Thursday classes will open at 2 p. m. An evening class on Friday will open at 8 p. m.

An innovation in cooking schools is promised Washington housewives. Not only will practical advice and demonstration be given, but a program of entertainment has been arranged for each day's class.

Meat to Be Emphasized.

Meat as a mainstay of the daily menu will be emphasized by Miss Chambers. The importance of meat in the diet has been lost in many cooking schools, which feature certain advertised products. Information on meats and their nutritive elements has been developed by the United States Department of Agriculture and colleges of 32 States.

Miss Chambers will not deal with any certain meat packer's marketing agency during her demonstrations.

On the other hand, Miss Chambers does have definite preferences for some other commodities and she will not hesitate to name the brand of foodstuffs she employs and to tell the reason.

Two Refrigerators Used.

Her kitchen will include an electric refrigerator, but in this respect even Miss Chambers has difficulty in making a definite decision between two popular makes. When she arrived at the auditorium yesterday to make her preliminary arrangements, she mentioned individual advantages possessed by the Frigidaire and by the General Electric Refrigerators and said that a choice between the two would rest upon the particular requirements of individual housewives.

The Washington Post, therefore, arranged for Miss Chambers' use of a Frigidaire on two days of the school and the use of a General Electric refrigerator the remaining day and evening session.

The Post has invited W. C. Davis, senior marketing specialist of the Department of Agriculture, to introduce Miss Chambers to her audience at the first session of the school this afternoon. Mr. Davis also will outline some of the work of the department designed to benefit the Nation's health and to discuss functions of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Society Elects Fairfax Greene.

Miss Fairfax Greene was elected vice president of the Rector's Aid Society, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, it was announced yesterday. Mrs. Maude DuVall-Rycrow was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Vital Statistics

Licensed to Marry.

John McDowell Bain, 23, Toronto, Canada, and Jocelyn Florence Hubbard, 21, 1817 Sixteenth street northwest. The Rev. C. J. Dwyer.

J. Fleming Orem, 21, 1327 Valley place southeast, and Vera E. Reid, 24, 1616 V street southeast. The Rev. J. M. Starnes.

Arthur E. Burns, 23, 831 Twentieth street northwest, and Margaret Conlin Hines, 20, 1822 Columbia road northwest. The Rev. George Rivers.

Fred E. Shirk, 21, 3000 Connecticut avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, same address. The Rev. Albert Evans.

Richard Henry Ruhl, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Paul Calvert Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest, and Sarah Wendell Clark, 22, 1815 Wisconsin avenue northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Eleanor Elizabeth Bull, 20, Wisconsin avenue northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

James C. Wells, 24, 1223 Tenth street northwest, and Katherine M. Starnes, 20, 1815 Wisconsin street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

Henry Pay Wilbur, 27, 1329 Irving street northwest, and Lida Mae Skelton, 23, 1329 Irving street northwest. The Rev. J. D. Hubbard.

New Ways to Cut Same Little Lamb

Miss Mary Bourke, 3611 R street northwest (center) looks on as Paul L. Goesser explains how to cut an American style leg of lamb. Miss Ruth Chambers (left), who will conduct The Washington Post Cooking School which begins today, also is watching the demonstration which took place in the National Press Club Auditorium last night.

New Styles in Meat Cuts Explained Here by Expert

Varied Ways for Serving Dishes Will Be Told to Housewives.

Washington husbands soon may come home to find all kinds of new dishes for dinner.

Butterfly style pork chops, bottom chuck rolls of beef, cushion style legs of lamb—all new or little known ways of serving cuts of pork, beef and lamb—were introduced to the District's retail meat dealers last night by the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Washington meat retailers, they are no longer to be called "butchers," will pass on the new styles to the city's housewives.

A specialist in the preparation of meat for the customer, Paul L. Goesser, demonstrated there is no need for the tired husband to be subjected nightly to legs of lamb, pork chops, beef stew or any of the other well-known entrees. Such interesting items as inside sixth and seventh rib rolls of beef, sirloin pork rolls and American style lamb roasts, little known today, may just as easily and often more inexpensively be bought by the housewife.

Washingtonians soon will be able to obtain these new and wholesome cuts, Goesser stated, from their retail meat dealers.

What Today Means

"Scorpio."

If October 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 8:30 to 7:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 8:10 to 9:15 a. m. from 11:30 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. and from 8 to 9 p. m.

Unless you are on your guard, fear will creep into your thought and you will be hesitant and questioning in all that you do. Children will be full of ideas and will think up all manner of games to play. People generally will be out pretty much for themselves, and the one who stops another will be conspicuous.

The child born on this October 31 will have great admiration for his parents and will more than likely pattern itself after one of them. It will be quick to sense another's feelings and to know when things are wrong. Reserved and sympathetic, it will make life worth while for its parents regardless of how badly things have been going for them.

If October 31 is the date of your birth, you do not worry as you go along through life, that things will soon pick up and be better. If your general outlook on life. For this reason you are not as careful about meeting your obligations as you might be. Rather than meeting an obligation in part today, you put off, feeling that on the morrow you will be able to do so much better.

Money goes through your fingers like water, and while you will no doubt make plenty of it during your early life, it is possible and even probable that you will see the day when you will regret that you ever spent so lavishly and carelessly. As a matter of fact, you have a healthy fear of being poor, but you do nothing definite about it.

Born on October 31, you will have your share of failures, but when the books are closed, after your name will probably be written "success." You are a prudent person, you have few bad habits, and you strive hard to conform to public opinion. You are a person of many moods and you probably have many peculiarities, but none of them ever seem to interfere with other people. You enjoy yourself in a quiet way, and strangely, unless people about you are hilarious and obviously gay, you feel that they are not having a good time. You are strict with your children, but you rule them with love. You give them everything that you think it is wise for them to have, but you are not overindulgent. Your home life should be very happy and all that you can do to make it so, you do.

Successful people born on October 31:

Kuhne Beverage, sculptress.

Richard H. Newton, P. E. clergyman.

James O. Dorsey, ethnologist.

J. B. Alishire, major general, U. S. A.

William Gibbs McAdoo, Senator.

Nicholas Senn, physician and instructor.

Philatelic Americans To Observe Halloween

A Halloween festival will feature the weekly meeting of Branch 5, Society of Philatelic Americans, at 1900 R street northwest, tomorrow evening. The November program will be announced.

For an alert, responsive field, use Post Classified Ads for service, rentals or sales.

Citizens' Group Moves to Stay Gas Valuation

Commission Is Expected to Overrule Motion at Hearing Today.

Hearings to fix the valuation of the gas companies will be resumed before the Public Utilities Commission at 11:30 a. m. today. The commission is expected to overrule a pending motion to postpone the proceedings indefinitely.

The motion was made yesterday by William McK. Clayton, chairman of the public utilities committee of the Federation of Citizens Associations. Mr. Clayton urged the valuation be dropped pending settlement of the question of ownership by a court of last resort. He contended the present ownership is in violation of the La Follette anti-trust law.

Legality of the present ownership has been questioned in court in the past, and has been sustained on the ground that a necessarily literal interpretation of the anti-trust law did not prohibit acquisition of local utility stock by a common law trust. There is not pending any other action to upset ownership of 88 per cent of the Washington Gas Light Co. stock, which was acquired in 1929 by outside interests.

Objection to conferences, which have been held between commission and company engineers and accountants, also was filed by Mr. Clayton. These conferences have been designed to get agreement on easily ascertainable facts to save time and dispute during the hearing.

Real estate holdings of the company are to be considered first. Riley E. Eigen, acting chairman of the commission, has fixed Thanksgiving Day for completion of the hearings.

'Souvenir'

Armistice Day Trial for "Vet" With German Gun.

George W. Walker, 36-year-old World War veteran, will go to trial Armistice Day charged with carrying a German Mauser pistol he brought from France as a souvenir. Walker, who lives at 1822 Ames place northeast, was arrested Friday by Policeman Ernest E. Thompson, of First Precinct, and charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. He pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Judge John P. McMahon named November 11, and placed Walker under $2,000 bond.

Mexican Will Talk On Tomb Discovery

Monte Alban Gems Topic at G. W. U. Tonight.

Senor Dr. De Daniel F. R. de la Borbolla, of the National Museum of Mexico, will give an illustrated lecture, open to the public, on "The Treasures From the Excavations at Monte Alban, Mexico," at a special assembly at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Corcoran Hall at George Washington University.

The Monte Alban jewels, said to be the richest in either of the Americas, rivaling discoveries in the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen in Egypt, are on exhibit here this week at the Pan-American Union under auspices of American Washington University and the Carnegie Institution.

The exhibit consists of thousands of jewels taken from the tombs of Mexican warriors on Monte Alban, near Oaxaca, in southern Mexico, believed to date 600 to 800 years before the Spanish conquest of Mexico. They are believed to form a link between the Mayan and Aztec civilizations.

Receiver Asks Tax Refunds To Park Bank

Earnings Reported Above Facts, He Asserts in Seeking $16,726.

Refund of $16,726.53 excess taxes paid on reported gross earnings of the closed Park Savings Bank was asked of the District Commissioners yesterday by Edward Clifford, attorney for the receiver.

The request brought to light another phase of the reported juggling of figures by which the bank was reported to have been mulcted of more than $1,500,000. Fear of discovery of the huge shortage was given as the reason for the suicide of Robert S. Stuntz, cashier, when the bank holiday was ordered by President Roosevelt last March.

The receiver contended that earnings of the bank were reported as greater than they actually were, and taxes were paid on that basis from 1924 to 1933. Banks are taxed by the District at the rate of 4 per cent on their gross earnings, less the amount paid to depositors as interest.

Overpayments were claimed as follows: 1924, $1,181.90; 1925, $496.75; 1926, $183.72; 1927, $1,112.36; 1928, $1,275.04; 1929, $1,509.62; 1930, $1,481.03; 1931, $2,185.14; 1932, $4,708.98; 1933, $2,604.03.

The request was referred to William P. Richards, assessor, for investigation. Under the law the assessor, with approval of the auditor, may make refunds for overpayment of taxes for not more than three years past. The Commissioners have authority to authorize refunds beyond that time.

Esperanto Classes Open. Free classes in Esperanto will open tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in Langley Junior High School. The classes will be held each Wednesday.

It's a Banister Shoe always for the man who wants the best—whether he judges by style, fit or service. Somehow nobody seems to have been able to make so satisfying a shoe.

Only here in Washington

1050—12th

1343 F Street

Rollfast Bicycles

SIDE-WALK BIKES, VELOCIPEDS and ROLLER SKATES. Other good wheels. Wheel foods repaired. Your shoes taken as part payment on a new one.

Hazleton Bicycle & Sporting Goods Co. 424 Ninth St. N.W.

The Collier Inn

COLUMBIA RD. at 18th St. TUESDAY DINNER

Roast Young Chicken with Dressing 55c

Broiled Tenderloin Steak with Fresh Mushrooms 60c

Tempting variety of fresh vegetables, crisp salads and home-made desserts.

Post Want Ads Pay

No. 2

Coming Bargains in Transportation THE WEEKLY PASS!

Capital Transit Company is planning another step in its program to give Washington better transportation. As an evidence of our sincerity, in our first step we offered much more in the transfer proposal than the congressional mandate required.

On December 3rd two weekly passes will be put on sale. One, priced at $1.00, will be good on all street car lines in the District of Columbia. In addition, the bearer will be entitled, on payment of two cents, to a ride on any of the Company's bus lines in the District on which a 7½-cent token fare is now accepted.

Also the $1.00 pass will be good for fare without payment of two cents on those existing feeder bus lines where a transfer between buses and street cars is now given free on payment of the 7½-cent token fare.

The other pass, priced at $1.25, will be good on all of this Company's car and bus lines in the District upon which the regular fare is 10 cents or less.

Either pass will be honored for seven days, from Sunday to Saturday, inclusive. Either may be used by bearer and will make unlimited riding possible at less than the cost of two rides per day at the regular fare rates. They will also be much more convenient than cash or token fare payments.

Capital Transit offers these passes as bargains in transportation.

John H. ... President.

CAPITAL TRANSIT Co.

Today Sun and Tide Table.

(Published by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Coast and Geodetic Survey.)

Sun rises..... 6:37 High tide... 6:38 6:48

Sun sets..... 5:10 Low tide... 6:40 12:57

Weather Conditions.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Monday, Oct. 30—8 p. m.

Forecast for the District of Columbia: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For Maryland: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For Virginia: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the North Atlantic: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the South Atlantic: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Gulf of Mexico: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Caribbean Sea: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Pacific Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Indian Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Atlantic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Arctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Antarctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Southern Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Indian Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Pacific Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Atlantic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Arctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Antarctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Southern Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Indian Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Pacific Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Atlantic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Arctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Antarctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Southern Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Indian Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Pacific Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Atlantic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Arctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Antarctic Ocean: Fair and continued warm Tuesday and Wednesday.

For the Southern Ocean

Wheat Turns Downward As Stocks Decline

Early Rise on Gold News Wiped Out in Final Trading.

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Tolled by abrupt stock market disturbances, wheat values turned sharply downward at the last today after having risen 24 cents.

The advance of wheat was based chiefly on announcement of the United States Government move to purchase foreign gold, and was also aided by almost 5,000,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat visible supply in the last week, making the total supply in sight about 4,000,000 bushels less than at this time last year.

Wheat price gains were knocked sideways, however, when securities underwrote a tumble.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as Saturday's finish to 1 1/2 cents lower; corn, 1 1/4 to 1 1/2; oats, 1 1/4 to 2 1/4, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to 12 cents advance.

Attention of wheat traders most of the day focused strongly on news that the United States Government would enter the world's gold market as a buyer.

Brisk upturns of all grain prices were witnessed as soon as business here began, wheat quickly mounting to 23 cents above low levels touched two weeks ago, the season's bottom record. Helping to strengthen the wheat market was a further rise of the Washington quotation on domestic gold.

British Exchange Jumps.

Step jumps in British exchange were construed as bullish regarding wheat, and so, too, was a decrease of wheat supplies afloat for importing countries.

Houses with Eastern connections were conspicuous early as buyers both of wheat and May deliveries of wheat, and there was also some buying of May attributed to foreign account. Government-financed agencies were active in purchasing immediate delivery wheat here today and at other leading markets.

Corn and oats advanced early with wheat, but encountered heavy selling associated with large primary receipts of corn today, 1,153,000 bushels compared with 637,000 a week ago.

Provisions averaged higher influence by likelihood of 25 cents a hundred weight compensation tax on beef as a complete year of pork.

Future Price Range.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
December	84 1/2	85 1/4	84 3/4	85 1/4
January	82 1/2	83 1/4	82 3/4	83 1/4
July	80 1/2	81 1/4	80 3/4	81 1/4
October	77 1/2	78 1/4	77 3/4	78 1/4
May	75 1/2	76 1/4	75 3/4	76 1/4
July	73 1/2	74 1/4	73 3/4	74 1/4
October	71 1/2	72 1/4	71 3/4	72 1/4
May	69 1/2	70 1/4	69 3/4	70 1/4
July	67 1/2	68 1/4	67 3/4	68 1/4
October	65 1/2	66 1/4	65 3/4	66 1/4
May	63 1/2	64 1/4	63 3/4	64 1/4
July	61 1/2	62 1/4	61 3/4	62 1/4
October	59 1/2	60 1/4	59 3/4	60 1/4
May	57 1/2	58 1/4	57 3/4	58 1/4
July	55 1/2	56 1/4	55 3/4	56 1/4
October	53 1/2	54 1/4	53 3/4	54 1/4
May	51 1/2	52 1/4	51 3/4	52 1/4
July	49 1/2	50 1/4	49 3/4	50 1/4
October	47 1/2	48 1/4	47 3/4	48 1/4
May	45 1/2	46 1/4	45 3/4	46 1/4
July	43 1/2	44 1/4	43 3/4	44 1/4
October	41 1/2	42 1/4	41 3/4	42 1/4
May	39 1/2	40 1/4	39 3/4	40 1/4
July	37 1/2	38 1/4	37 3/4	38 1/4
October	35 1/2	36 1/4	35 3/4	36 1/4
May	33 1/2	34 1/4	33 3/4	34 1/4
July	31 1/2	32 1/4	31 3/4	32 1/4
October	29 1/2	30 1/4	29 3/4	30 1/4
May	27 1/2	28 1/4	27 3/4	28 1/4
July	25 1/2	26 1/4	25 3/4	26 1/4
October	23 1/2	24 1/4	23 3/4	24 1/4
May	21 1/2	22 1/4	21 3/4	22 1/4
July	19 1/2	20 1/4	19 3/4	20 1/4
October	17 1/2	18 1/4	17 3/4	18 1/4
May	15 1/2	16 1/4	15 3/4	16 1/4
July	13 1/2	14 1/4	13 3/4	14 1/4
October	11 1/2	12 1/4	11 3/4	12 1/4
May	9 1/2	10 1/4	9 3/4	10 1/4
July	7 1/2	8 1/4	7 3/4	8 1/4
October	5 1/2	6 1/4	5 3/4	6 1/4
May	3 1/2	4 1/4	3 3/4	4 1/4
July	1 1/2	2 1/4	1 3/4	2 1/4

WHEAT—No. 3 red, 90¢ No. 1 hard.

CORN—No. 2 yellow, 45¢ No. 1 white, 45¢.

BARLEY—No. 2 white, 36¢ No. 1 white, 37¢.

CLAYTON SEED—5.75¢ 6.25¢ cwt.

CLOVER SEED—5.50¢ 6.25¢ cwt.

WINE PRODUCERS PLAN Big Advertising Drive

New York, Oct. 30.—Western wine producers will spend more than $50,000 a year for advertising upon repeal of prohibition laws, it is estimated in a weekly comment on Far Western business by the Bank of America (California). The bank's estimate is derived from pre-prohibition records, together with projected increases in production and consumption of wine products since 1919.

Inquiries conducted by the Pacific Coast branch banking institution reveal the bulk of the wine industry's advertising appropriation will be spent in the newspapers, definite opinions having been expressed that the press of the Nation is largely responsible for expressing the public's voice for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Gold Mining Is Seen Exceeding All Estimates

New York, Oct. 30.—Citing the President's program on gold as altogether constructive and one which should benefit the extractive industries, Hornblower & Weeks in their current Weekly Observations state that the gold mining industry will be particularly favored, "since the price of gold is no longer to be subject to the vagaries of international finance."

They believe that the tremendous world-wide expansion which seems ahead of gold mining over the next few years "will probably exceed any sane estimate that can be made at the present time."

Chain Store Sales Put At $7,007,000 Total

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Chain Store Age, a trade publication, says that a survey showed that chain store trade reached a peak for the year in September when many lines are recording extraordinary gains. Total average daily sales in 19 leading chain store companies for the month totaled $7,007,000, the magazine said, compared with a daily figure of $6,693,000 in August, and $6,827,000 in September last year.

Alley Construction Co. Gets Tennessee Work

Bristol, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—Tennessee Federal aid-employment projects have been awarded to the Alley Construction Co. of Bristol.

One, for $21,791.55, is the building of an overhead bridge over the Southern Railway at White Pine. The bridge, on route 32, is already in process of construction.

Work will begin in about 10 days on the other project, grading approaches to the bridge over the French Broad River at Swan's Ferry. The contract figure was $27,010.

Complete Transactions Yesterday on New York Stock Exchange

Total sales today, 1,489,130. Previous day, 378,590. Week ago, 2,132,140. Year ago, 385,000. Two years ago, 1,458,184.

January 1 to date, 885,968,527. Year ago, 378,320,300. Two years ago, 690,832,120.

Sales in hundreds.

High Low Last Chg. Bid

17 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

18 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

19 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

20 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

21 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

22 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

23 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

24 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

25 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

26 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

27 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

28 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

29 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

30 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

31 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

32 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

33 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

34 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

35 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

36 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

37 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

38 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

39 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

40 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

41 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

42 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

43 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

44 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

45 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

46 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

47 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

48 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

49 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

50 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

51 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

52 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

53 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

54 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

55 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

56 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

57 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

58 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

59 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

60 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

61 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

62 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

63 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

64 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

65 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

66 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

67 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

68 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

69 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

70 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

71 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

72 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

73 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

74 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

75 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

76 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

77 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

78 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

79 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

80 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

81 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

82 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

83 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

84 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

85 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

86 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

87 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

88 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

89 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

90 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

91 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

92 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

93 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

94 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

95 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

96 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

97 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

98 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

99 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

100 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

101 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

102 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

103 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

104 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

105 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

106 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

107 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

108 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

109 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

110 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

111 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

112 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

113 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

114 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

115 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

116 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

117 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

118 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

119 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

120 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

121 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

122 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

123 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

124 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

125 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

126 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

127 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

128 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

Sales in hundreds.

High Low Last Chg. Bid

129 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

130 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

131 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

132 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

133 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

134 Adams Exp. 100 100 100 100 100

Our FIRST Anniversary

THE EMBASSY RESTAURANT 928 14TH ST. N.W.

The Embassy Restaurant—operated by G. Galanis and J. Galanis and Sam Orfanos. Pictured above is an interior view of that establishment as well as a group of young ladies who serve you.

TODAY we erect the first milestone along the way of our progress toward becoming one of Washington's outstanding institutions—toward a career of service to discriminating patrons—marking the completion of our first year as host to Washingtonians who demand the best in food and service. It has been a pleasant year for us... a year of making new acquaintances and friends... a year of genuine satisfaction that comes from the knowledge of having done our chosen task so well, a fact that is attested by the growing attendance on the part of the people of our city.

We extend a hearty invitation to all Washington to visit us today and celebrate with us. Come with appetites whetted to enjoy a meal "fit for a King," prepared in our spotless kitchens by chefs skilled in the culinary art, from the finest foods obtainable.

So on this occasion we have arranged a special Anniversary Menu as a pledge of our continuance of the type of service that we have accustomed our patrons to expect.

We wish to add a word in behalf of our co-workers, the people who stand behind the scenes and assist us in presenting Washington with such acceptable service. The young ladies who serve you are girls of genuine refinement, alert to your every wish and solicitous for your comfort. You will always find them courteous and eager to see that you are served in a manner befitting the high standards that we have set.

ANNIVERSARY MENU

Served All Day Today

Tomato Juice or Cream of Chicken Soup
Roast Stuffed Young Tom Turkey
Cranberry Sauce
Chestnut Dressing
Choice of Fresh Vegetables
Hearts of Lettuce
Russian Dressing
Pumpkin Pie
with Whipped Cream
Rolls and Butter
Coffee, Tea or Milk

50c

THE EMBASSY RESTAURANT

928 FOURTEENTH STREET NORTHWEST

The following firms and individuals have made possible the success of the Embassy Restaurant

A. D. LOFFLER, JR., INC., 1262 5th St. N.E. Atlantic 5300

CARLIN CREAMERY CO.
1100 E St. S.W. District 1450

R. W. CLAXTON, INC.
406 12th St. S.W. National 0574

ARABIAN COFFEE CO.
918 9th St. N.W. National 7686

RAINBOW LAUNDRY
609 Princeton Pl. N.W. Columbia 7877

P. K. CHACONAS
401 Morse St. N.E. Atlantic 3426

MRS. ELEANOR J. DOYLE
"Best Wishes"

GEORGE N. NICHOLS
1112 Spring Road N.W. Columbia 2395

WALKER HILL DAIRY
830 7th St. S.E. Atlantic 0670

ALDERNEY-GREEN MEADOW DAIRY
1630 1st St. N.W. Potomac 5530

CONNECTICUT PIE CO.
"Mother Like Pies." 3159 O St. N.W. West 9028

NATIONAL FIXTURE CO., 239 President St., Baltimore, Md.

CHAS. H. JAVINS & SONS
New Center Market, National 8649

LADY LEE SHOP, 1205 F ST.
Smart Feminine Apparel

VALLEY FORGE DISTRIBUTING CO.
901 7th St. S.W. National 3021

VERSIS FOOD SPECIALTY CO.
408 7th St. S.W. National 3450

GEO. C. SHAFFER, FLORIST
14th and I Sts.

COPYRIGHT, 1933, BY THE
WASHINGTON POST PUBLISHING CO.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1933

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.
POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Boy, 4, Saves Sleeping Dad From Flames

Child Gives Alarm as Fire Sweeps Building in Twelfth Street.

Father Carries Son Two Floors to Safety;
Others Escape.

A 4-year-old child saved his sleeping father yesterday when fire of undetermined origin swept through the third floor of the building at 910 Twelfth street northwest.

The boy is Edward Loisel, son of Lester Loisel, a night linotype operator.

"Daddy, the whole place is on fire," cried the child, vigorously shaking his father.

With his son in his arms, Loisel dashed down two flights of stairs, through dense smoke, to safety. His hair was singed, but he was uninjured otherwise.

The fire caused damage estimated at between $800 and $1,200. The property is owned by William Jaeger, who lives at 912 Twelfth street northwest, next door. Jaeger was retired because of disability from the Fire Department last February after serving 14 years.

Other Tenants Aroused.

Aroused by the cries of Loisel, Jaeger roused his tenants on the second floor.

Mrs. D. G. Garmon gathered her three grandchildren, Wilton Ellis, 4; Laura Lee, 2; and Gerald, 1, and took them to safety. Her sister, Miss Olive Northern, picked up the family cat, Pretty Boy, and fled to safety.

Two Alarms Given.

On the first floor, in Charlie Kee's Chinese laundry, water from the firemen's hose seeped through and soaked the clothing in the place.

Firemen, who responded to two alarms, were directed by Battalion Chief B. W. Weaver.

Two persons were painfully burned in a fire which almost destroyed a two-story brick house at 1226 Temperance Court northwest, early yesterday.

The injured, Elizabeth Johnson, 35, and Wilbert Zachary, 38, both colored, were taken to Freedmen's Hospital and treated for first and second degree burns on legs and face. Their condition is not serious.

Girl and Officer Charge Assault

Man Denies Striking Her and Policeman.

Charles S. Arthur, 38, of 409 G street northwest, charged with assault on a policeman and a girl, was released on $500 bond yesterday when he pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial in Police Court.

Fay Clark, 20, of 1017 K street northwest, testified before Judge John P. McMahon that Arthur assaulted her in a downtown restaurant, where she is a waitress.

Policeman George E. Cooper, Second Precinct, testified Arthur kicked him as he made the arrest.

Suit Demands $10,000
For Injury to Infant

Everett Thompson, an infant, through his father, Willis C. Thompson, 1745 D street southeast, yesterday sued Georgianna E. Cornell, 906 East Capitol street, for $10,000 damages. The suit alleges Everett was a passenger in an automobile struck by a machine owned by the defendant.

Bandits Bind, Gag Victim in Elevator

Rob Night Club Operator of $1,000 and Watch.

Three young men, who left him bound and gagged in an elevator early yesterday, robbed Zebbie Goldsmith, night club proprietor, of $1,000 in cash and checks and a gold watch, according to a police report.

The bandits seized him as he stepped off the elevator on the fifth floor of the Woodley Park Towers, thrust a gag into his mouth and bound him with adhesive tape, after taking his money and watch.

New Trial

3 X-Ray Doctors Will Face
Court Again in Injury.

Action of District Supreme Court in directing a verdict in favor of Drs. Thomas A. Groover, Arthur C. Christie and Edwin A. Mettitt, co-partners trading as X-ray specialists, was an error, District Court of Appeals held yesterday in ordering a new trial.

Verdict was directed at the conclusion of the testimony on behalf of Dora E. Grubb, complainant, whose back, she said, was badly burned when she received an X-ray treatment May 13, 1929. The Appellate Court said: "In the application of the X-ray to plaintiff's back neither the physician nor nurse remained in the room and plaintiff was very seriously injured." The court said the issues should have been left to a jury to decide.

Boy Hero and Those Who Fled Fire

Those who escaped in the fire at 910 Twelfth street northwest yesterday are (left to right) Mrs. G. G. Garmon, holding Gerald, aged 1, and Laura Lee Garmon, 2; Wilton Ellis Garmon, 4, standing in front of Miss Olive Northern, holding her cat, Pretty Boy; Lester Loisel and his 4-year-old son, Edward, who aroused his sleeping father.

Halloween Fun New Trial Set Tonight Hinges In Suit Won On Big Parade By Dr. Boone

Costumed and Colorful, It Will Start Up Avenue
at 7:45 O'clock.

Fantasy, glamour, fun and fair weather are promised for the District's Halloween parade tonight. With more than 120 entries, including 30 floats and 10 bands, to say nothing of hundreds of costumed marchers, the celebration's sponsors say it will be the most dazzling Halloween seen in Washington. The parade will start from John Marshall place at 7:45 p. m. It will proceed up Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth street, south to Constitution avenue, and then to the Ellipse via the Seventeenth street entrance.

After the parade, Constitution avenue will be roped off from Fifteenth street to Seventeenth street for a band concert. Plans for a street dance were abandoned because of the congestion experienced last year. A contest will be held for all bands taking part in the parade.

If inclement weather should prevent the celebration taking place tonight, it will be held tomorrow night.

Diplomats Invited.

A police escort, including Chief E. W. Brown, will lead the parade. Following will be the grand marshal and staff, District Commissioners, distinguished guests, the celebration committee, Mary Yates, queen of the Halloween festival, and ladies of her court.

Behind the vanguard will be commercial, private and civic organizations. Among the marchers will be three Indians, riding Fort Myer horses.

Members of the Diplomatic Corps and the White House family have been invited to see the parade from the reviewing stand on Constitution avenue.

Police arrangements for the parade were completed yesterday with the appointment of special detail of 285 policemen.

Inspector L. I. H. Edwards, assistant superintendent of police, will have general supervision of all police operations. He will be assisted by Inspectors B. A. Lamb, W. G. Stott, J. F. Beckett and T. R. Bean, who will supervise the parade route.

Parking Banned.

No parking will be permitted on the following streets after 6 p. m.: Both sides of Pennsylvania avenue from Third to Fifteenth streets; both sides of Fifteenth street from Pennsylvania avenue to Constitution avenue; both sides of Constitution avenue from Pennsylvania avenue to Second street; both sides of C street from Second street to John Marshall place; both sides of Indiana avenue from First street to John Marshall place; both sides of Second street from C to E streets; both sides of Third street from Pennsylvania avenue to E street; both sides of John Marshall place from Pennsylvania avenue to Indiana avenue.

Former Bank Director
Sued on Withdrawal

John S. Bryan, receiver of the North Capital Savings Bank, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court, against Charles B. Stewart, 224 D street southeast, former director of the bank, for $1,511.

It is alleged Stewart withdrew that amount the day before the bank closed. The withdrawal, it was charged, violated the director's duty to the bank and its depositors and creditors. Also, it was contended, the withdrawal constituted unlawful preference.

River Victim Still Unidentified.

Police today still were seeking the identity of a 45-year-old man who was drowned in the Potomac near Bellvue Magazine last Saturday. The name George Mulher was found on the inside label of his dark suit.

Transit Lines' U. S. Supreme Court Building to Set World Weekly Pass Record for Marble Content in Construction

Utilities Board Permits
Trial on Street Car and Bus Lines.

Token Fare Substitutes
Will Cost $1, $1.25;
Use Unlimited.

Weekly passes good for an unlimited number of rides on street car and bus lines of the Capital Transit Co. were approved yesterday by the Public Utilities Commission at the request of the company which begins operation of the merged transportation system on December 1.

The new pass system will be inaugurated Sunday, December 3. Passes will be transferable and will be good for unlimited rides during the seven-day period from Sunday to Saturday, inclusive.

Two kinds of passes will be used. One will be sold for $1. It will be good on all car and bus lines on which a token fare is good. It will eliminate use of transfers between cars and buses between which free transfers now are issued.

$1.25 to Be Price.

A charge of $1.25 will be made for the other. This will give all the privileges of the $1 pass and, in addition, be good for unlimited rides on all car or bus lines on which the fare now is 10 cents or less.

The pass plan is to be operated for an experimental period of three months. John H. Hanna, president of the company, pointed out the passes would give purchasers unlimited transportation at less than the present minimum cost of two rides a day. A pass may be used by any member of a family or a number of persons, although good for only one passenger at a time.

Mercy Show Pass.

Riders will merely display the pass to conductors. Mr. Hanna said it would facilitate moving of traffic because no time would be lost in making change, purchasing tokens or handling of transfers.

Company fare experts believe use of the passes will increase the number of car and bus riders and add to revenues. It is not proposed to continue the system if it results in a revenue loss.

Approval of the commission was given subject to such modifications as may be necessary as a result of changes in present transfer arrangements. A so-called universal free transfer plan now is being worked out by company and commission officials. That is to be inaugurated when the Transit company begins operations.

Phone Discount Decision Sought

Commission Rushes Fight for 10 Per Cent Cut.

Swift settlement of the dispute over the Public Utilities Commission's order of 10 per cent discount on telephone bills was asked yesterday in District Supreme Court by the commission.

The discount was ordered a year ago and was challenged in court by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., which continued to collect full rates after posting $100,000 bond to assure refunds if the order was sustained.

The case also involves a valuation of $28,200,000 set by the commission and an order requiring the company to pay interest on depreciation reserves at the rate of 5 per cent.

In its request that the case be advanced for hearing, the commission asked that the depreciation ruling be separated from the valuation and rate orders.

Grass Fire at McLean Estate.

A slight grass fire at Friendship, the E. B. McLean estate on Wisconsin avenue, yesterday resulted in a fire alarm. Firemen extinguished the flames quickly.

Gypsy Prince Goes to Grave Here Today, 'Mid Tribal Pomp

Women Wail About Coffin Filled With Trappings for Next World.

Prince John Steve, son of King Baco Steve John, the regent of all the Stevens tribe, will be buried today with all the pomp and ceremony attendant upon his royal estate.

Garishly-gowned women, led by Queen Parca, gathered around the coffin yesterday in a Washington mortuary to lament the prince's departure. Old King Baco, with long drooping mustache, offered his heart to his son, so that he could live again and lead the nomads in their wanderings.

But Prince John has been well provided for his new journey. All the symbols of gypsy lore are packed in his silver bronze coffin, so that he will have plenty when he resumes his wanderings beyond the Styx.

Aged Queen Parca, leader of all the fortune tellers, tells of a dream of the doctor's office where Prince John went. She dreamed he had died. Then came the news of the prince's death. The clan was wide-

U. S. Supreme Court Building to Set World Record for Marble Content in Construction

Capital's Most Beautiful
Edifice Will Contain
75,075,000 Lbs.

May Be Ready for Use
Before Contract Date,
Dec. 14, 1934.

Sightseeing guides already are dusting off their choicest superlatives, anticipating the opening of the new United States Supreme Court Building some time next year. They are working on these for a starter and will build up from there with little urging.

It will contain, say its builders, more marble than any structure in the world.

The interior marble contract, calling for 120,000 cubic feet from Sylvauga, Ala., quarries at a cost of about $1,250,000, is the largest of its kind ever let.

It will be the handsomest edifice in the Nation's Capital, judging by most standards: have the greatest number of columns, be the most permanent of all Federal buildings—and the guides can take up from there.

Early Completion Likely.

Scheduled for completion December 14, 1934, when the contract was let to the George A. Fuller Co. 23 months ago, the Corinthian temple of justice is expected to be ready for use several months earlier, barring, among other things, too many "second guesses."

Already there have been numerous alterations of plans, especially those pertaining to ornamental sculpture. For example, it was planned at first to place immobile lions at either side of the steps leading up to the west plaza and main entrance. These have been replaced by lighting standards, less bellicose but more practical.

The classic frieze which will gird the imposing courtroom is still in painful process of birth and its subject remains unknown. Carved in Spanish marble, this embellishment consists of four panels which are being done by Adolph A. Weinman, famous New York sculptor.

The courtroom will have 24 columns of Old Convent Siena and Ivory Veins marble imported from Italy. The former is of a delicate, subtly streaked complexion giving the color impression of rose. Lighter and reminiscent of a formation of human veins are the other columns, already in place behind the bench.

Georgia Marble Used.

Along the south wall, five of the brighter columns have been set. There will be eight on either side. Two rows of four each. The walls themselves are to be of Spanish marble.

Flanking the courtroom on the north and south sides are courtyards built of Georgia marble. There will be four courtyards, glistening in stone and of such design that they may be used for social and official functions.

James Earle Fraser is the sculptor of the two groups on either side of the west entrance, between plaza and portico. What they will symbolize is still a dark secret to official here. Little about them is known except that they will be seated figures and even this is not certain.

The west pediment, forming a triangular decoration above the main portals, is being designed by Robert L. Aiken, who sculpted the Gompers memorial in bronze. Herman A. MacNeil is doing the east pediment.

Next only to the courtroom in impressiveness is the main corridor, its 36 columns of marble exuding strength, stability and uprightness. The corridor, which leads directly from doors to courtroom, is virtually done except for the marble flooring.

Cost Over $10,000,000.

Into the exterior went 265,000 cubic feet of Vermont marble. There will be 45,000 cubic feet of Georgia marble and 25,000 of Italian and Spanish in the courtroom. Multiply the total of all exterior and interior marble by 165, the approximate weight of a cubic foot, and you learn 75,075,000 pounds of the stone will go into the new Supreme Court. This includes terraces, staircases and miscellaneous trimmings which will be of the same material.

Cass Gilbert, of New York, designed the building, which will cost in excess of $10,000,000. The work is under supervision of the Supreme Court Building Commission, of which Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes is chairman. David Lynn, Architect of the Capitol and a member of the commission, is executive officer in charge.

2 in $4,000 Holdup Enter Guilty Pleas

Face 3 to 15 Year Terms in Robbery of Five,
Ten Manager.

Youth Tried in $1,000
Theft, Beating Victim,
Is Convicted.

Sentences from 3 to 15 years, face three alleged robbers, two of whom pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with robbing Morris J. Morrison, manager of the Murphy Five and Ten Cent Store, of $4,000.

Maurice Shelton and Murray W. Zelger, are alleged to have seized Morrison as he was about to deposit the day's receipts in a bank at Fifteenth street and New York avenue northwest. Shelton was captured at the scene after a battle with a policeman. His alleged accomplice was arrested the next day.

John Dallas Lawrence, 24, was convicted of robbing Robert P. White, 68, of 1136 Twelfth street, northwest, of a sum of money approximating $1,000.

White was beaten July 10 in the hallway of his apartment. Explaining possession of the money, he said he was afraid of the banks and preferred to keep it in his own room.

Government testimony showed Lawrence, unemployed, gave his wife $500; purchased a new automobile for $300 cash and made a gift of $300 to his mother. In explanation of these sums, Julian Richards, assistant United States attorney, informed the jury White was positive he had $1,000, but "might have had more."

Brownies Today Attend Party for Girl Scouts

The Brownies, little sisters of Girl Scouts, will share today in the Girl Scout birthday party at the Little House in honor of the birthday of Juliette Low, founder of the organization. Mrs. Adolphus Station, Great Brown Owl, will cut the cake, which wearers of the cook's badge are to bake in the model kitchen of the Little House. The cake will be decorated with twelve candles in honor of the Brownies, who have been organized as the junior branch of Girl Scouting for that many years.

Two representatives from each of Washington's eight Brownie Packs will attend.

Wurts Bros. Photos.

Some idea of the quantity of marble going into the new Supreme Court Building is conveyed by these photographs of the many-columned courtroom (above) and main corridor. Together they will contain 60 towering pillars weighing tons of the stone.

Lions Clubs' President Will Come Here Friday

Roderick Beddow, Birmingham, Ala., president of Lions International, will be in Washington Friday to attend a series of Lions Club meetings. Randolph Myers, secretary of the Washington Lions Club, announced yesterday.

Beddow in July, 1933, became president of the organization having 80,000 members over the world.

Debate Here on Nudism.

Nudism will be the subject of a debate in the Arlington Hotel Saturday between Isley Boone, editor of The Nudist magazine of New York, and Samuel Saloman, author and lecturer.

Last Day at $5

★
Buy Your STETSON
HAT

Today at $5

at Saltz Bros.

Tomorrow the Stetson Company
Advance the Price to $6.50

SALTZ BROTHERS

1341 F St. N.W.

Fall Fashions at SALTZ BROTHERS

Hard-Finished Worsted Suits at $29.50

WORTH $35 and $40 in today's market, they are very extraordinary values at $29.50. They consist of fine-quality hard-finished, long-wearing worsteds in the new chalk stripes, neat tick patterns and in solid shades of brown, blue, grey and oxford. Single and double breasted.

HARRIS TWEED SUITS AND TOPCOATS, $29.50

SALTZ BROTHERS
1341 F STREET N. W.

G. W. Coaches Map Defense for Power Plays of Tennessee Team

Stewart Out
Of Line-Up
Saturday

Star Guard Hurts Knee;
Regular Backs Will Rejoin Line-Up.

Back Field of Feathers,
Palmer, Pruzzet and Moses Feared.

A GLUM-LOOKING George Washington board of strategy went into a huddle yesterday to devise ways and means of stopping the grizzly Volunteers from Tennessee next Saturday at Griffith Stadium. Tennessee is the toughest opponent to invade this territory thus far and from all reports is pointing for the downtown school.

Adding to G. W.'s woes was the news that "Zuzu" Stewart will not be able to play because of a knee injury which necessitated his withdrawal from the West Virginia Wesleyan game. The team, however, will regain the services of Capt. Lee Carlin and Joe Walsh, injured backs, who have not been available the past three weeks, and Don Bomba and "Nig" McCarver, who did not play last week because of injuries.

Coach Pixlee had hoped G. W. would be at its peak for this game, but yesterday he indicated that he believes it attained top form in the Auburn game, or two weeks too soon. To meet the challenge it will be necessary to bring the boys up to this perfection again.

Len Walsh scouted the Vols last Saturday against Florida. The week before Johnny Lee acted in this capacity, and the previous week Pixlee attended to the matter personally. The idea is to obtain a cross-opinion on the team. All are agreed that G. W. will have to contend in better fashion than it has done in any previous game.

Formations Similar.
Tennessee uses power plays from formations similar to those employed by the District eleven. It sends its backs driving off tackle from spinner plays time and again.

Gradually the opposing ends necessarily are drawn in to help protect this territory, and when he shifts Tennessee takes another play at tackle, and sends the ball carrier scooting around end.

The Vols have a small army of players and therefore are able to make wholesale substitutions, which they do, regardless of who has the ball or where. Against Florida it used 33 men—three complete teams—all on par with one another. Florida has a good ball club, make no mistake about that, big and fast, but it didn't have the man power Tennessee boasted. Walsh says Florida went to pieces in the final period, almost collapsed from exhaustion.

Quite naturally, the Vols will have a similar advantage over G. W., and the only way to meet the situation is to have the Colonians at the height of physical perfection. They will hope, if yesterday's workout was an indication of what is to follow.

Fear G. W. Team.
Another obstacle in G. W.'s path is the fact that Tennessee's men have been taught to believe the Vols are the most powerful team in the East this season. "Zuzu" Stewart had been built up to a 220-pound guard, and "Nig" McCarver, a 210-pound half back, who runs the century in 10 seconds flat. The second part of McCarver's description is correct, but the first, well, not so much.

Walsh humorously observed that a Hardy Pearce must weigh around 100 pounds, by Tennessee standard. Beatty Feathers, All-American selection last year and probably the best all-round half back in the South, is Tennessee's outstanding one, but it is pointed out that Moses, Palmer and Brackett, while not as brilliant, will be just as hard to stop. Feathers, Palmer, Pruzzet and Moses comprise the regular back field.

Catholic U. Awaits
Ball Park Decision

Catholic University has been forced to postpone negotiations for a Thanksgiving Day game with North Carolina State at Griffith Stadium as a result of the failure of stadium officials to make the park available. Coach Dutch Bergman, of Catholic U., conferred with stadium officials yesterday concerning the Thanksgiving Day date and was told that decision was being withheld.

Coach Jim Pixlee, of George Washington University, which is reported to hold an option on the stadium dates, was to confer today with Clark Griffith. The Thanksgiving Day game proposed by C. U. would take place two days before George Washington's game with Kansas, and may be regarded as a V. G. W. official as a counter-attraction that imperils the guarantee to be paid Kansas.

The Catholic U.-Loyola game scheduled for Friday night at Griffith Stadium, on the eve of the G. V.-Tennessee contest, may be transferred to Brookland Stadium Friday afternoon.

Phils Get Hopkins.
Philadelphia, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Merrell (Marty) Hopkins, star third baseman, has been obtained by the Philadelphia Phillies from the St. Paul American Association Club. Gerald P. Nugent, head of the local club, announced today.

Bucky Harris Assumes Managerial Reins of Red Sox

Smiling his pleasure, Bucky Harris is pictured signing the document that makes him manager of the Boston Red Sox for 1934. Left to right are Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the team; Eddie Collins, General manager of the club, and Bucky Harris.

Dundee Strips
Brouillard
Of Title

Baltimore Veteran Wins
Middleweight Crown Decisively.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Vince Dundee, of Baltimore, Md., wearer of one of boxing's most famous surnames, won the world middleweight championship by decisively outpointing rugged Lou Brouillard, of Worcester, in a 15-round bout before a crowd of 10,000 here tonight. The vote of the officials was unanimous.

The Maryland challenger gave one of the most masterful exhibitions of boxing ever seen in Boston to win 8 rounds and earn draws in three others. Brouillard, who won the title only last August from Ben Jeby, was able to win only the first, ninth, eleventh and twelfth rounds.

Is Cheered Lushly.
The crowd cheered Dundee lustily as he smothered the champion's offensive weapons throughout the long bout and ended with a display of slugging, throwing three rights and lefts from the floor at Brouillard's chin.

Disgusted at his inability to get inside Dundee's perfect guard, Brouillard resorted to a variety of foul tactics that drew him rounds of physical perfection. They will be remembered by the crowd and several warnings from Referee Johnny Martin.

Brouillard weighed 150; Dundee, 160.
Lou pushed Dundee through the ropes, spun him around to hit him back-to-back, and then he went in and cracked Dundee on the chin coming out of a clinch as he lost his head in his efforts to bore inside the challenger's arms.

To Get Return Bout.
The only bright spot in the fight for Lou was the fact that Dundee in his contract stipulated that Brouillard would be given first shot at his title.

The sudden tumble from middleweight championship heights paralleled Brouillard's career as a well-known fighter. Just one year and a week ago he won the welterweight title by beating Young Jack Thompson in this same ring, only to lose the crown to Jackie Fields, of Chicago, the first challenger.

A 100-per cent left jab was Dundee's best weapon. Tonight, but along with it he produced numerous right swings, landed with cat-like speed at most unexpected times. An advantage in height also stood Vince in stead, and Lou found it virtually impossible to get at Dundee's head through the challenger's artful arms.

Midget Wolgast
Outpoints Brown

Takes Sizzling 12-Round
Title Fight in London.

London, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Midget Wolgast, of Philadelphia, recognized in some parts of the United States as flyweight champion, outpointed Jackie Brown, of England, also a claimant to the title, in a 12-round nontitle bout in Albert Hall tonight. No title was at stake since the little fellows met at 114 pounds, 2 pounds over the class limit, but a rematch at championship weight was expected.

Brown, who is recognized by the National Boxing Association of America as well as by Britain as world's best flyweight, gave Wolgast a strenuous time of it all the way in a battle acclaimed by ring-siders as the finest flyweight contest seen in England since the heyday of Jimmy Wilde.

The American piled up points, however, with a sharp and lightning fast left which constantly pierced the Briton's defense.

Forgotten Man

Left Behind, Half Dazed,
He Later Wins for
S. California.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—He lay under a blanket in a far corner of the dressing room—a desolate individual with No. 13 on his grid-soled jersey.
The coaches' half-time pleadings were meaningless mumbled words to his ears. He was dazed—suffering from slight concussion of the brain, the physician said later—after tackling a goalward galloping giant fully 90 pounds heavier than himself.

The team filed out for the second half. He lay there under the blanket, unnoticed. Fellow players didn't miss him.

A student manager returned for a blanket. The one in the far corner would do.

What About the Game?
Under it he found the 147-pound quarter back, with No. 13 on his jersey.

What was he doing there? He didn't know.
"Isn't it over? The game? Isn't it over?"

The student manager was telling him he would feel better if he went out and sat on the bench with the others. Together they slipped into seats, unnoticed as the opposing teams lined up for the second half kick-off.

The fourth period started. His name was called by his coach. He bounded to his feet automatically.

... warmed up ... entered the fray, No. 13 on his jersey.

Thirteen plays later ... exactly 13 ... he slanted through the line and cut back, a dancing, dodging pygmy eluding giants who would lay their hands upon him and crush him to earth.

60 Yards Through Fog.
Then he whirled clear of the mob. Sixty yards he ran—only the fog swirling around him now—and planted the ball behind the goal line.

All of a sudden, those who forgot him remembered. The team that had not missed him was slapping him on the back. The coaches were jumping up and down. The 70,000 persons in the stands were wild.

All of a sudden like, they had found the little fellow with No. 13 on his jersey and their voices echoed his name through the Berkeley stadium.

Warburton—Irvine Warburton—Cotton Warburton.
Forgotten a half hour before, he had given the University of Southern California a 6-to-3 victory over California.

Fights in Nippon.
San Francisco (U.P.)—California's official State bantamweight champion, Young Tommy, of the Philippines, has gone to Tokyo, where he has been signed for two bouts. He was accompanied by Gene Espinosa, a Filipino featherweight boxer.

Post Mortems ...
Members of the Nats call Ossie Bluege "Noisy" because he is so quiet ... and Ossie's brother, Otto, with the Cincinnati Reds, is called "Squeaky" for the same reason ... Abe Breman, former Pitt full back, who once made a fortune in the Texas oil fields, is going back for more ... at Cisco, Tex. ... he got his original start by turning pro fighter in Texas ... and receiving $800 for a bout with Fireman Jim Flynn ... then he quit the ring and invested the $800 in oil ... The Silver Spring soccer team went six years without winning a county game ... the last four years they have lost only two county games ... but have lost State championship games each year.

Wesley Ramey, No. 2 ranking lightweight, who is here with Freddie Miller, fights November 4 ... in New York on the Les Kennedy-Walter Neusel card ... according to Army authorities, keeping the back limber is the most important element of good horseback riding ... and in the cavalry a stiff back while riding is often loosened up by smacks from a noncom ... strange as it seems, there never was a good boxer who wasn't or couldn't have been a good dancer ... some of them too good.

Jones to Play
In Augusta
Golf Open

Event Carded March 22-23;
$60,000 Prizes Fixed in 16 Tourneys.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—In quest of prize money aggregating upward of $60,000, America's professional golfers soon will set forth on their annual competitive campaign through the South and Far West.

So far, according to the tournament bureau of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, sixteen open tournaments are definitely slated in Maryland, North and South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Texas, California and Mexico.

The $10,000 Miami Biltmore open, scheduled December 8, 9, 10, tops the list in prize money. The Agua Caliente open, February 1-4, will offer $7,500 for distribution.

Jones to Play at Augusta.
The return of Bobby Jones to competition for the first time since his retirement after the 1930 season, is one of the prospective features of the closing part of the big tour.

Jones has agreed to take part in the open tournament on the Augusta (Ga.) National Course, March 22-25. The former world champion participated in this layout.

The P. G. A. has proposed a code for tournament players, designed to bar traveling caddies, locker-room "squawks" and profanity on the course within hearing of spectators.

For violations, the code would carry a penalty of banishment from participation in tournaments over which the P. G. A. had any control.

The schedule of tournaments and prize money offered:
November 11-12—National Capital Open, $2,000 at Kenwood Golf and Country Club, Bethesda, Md.

January 14-15—Fourteenth Annual Mid-South Open, $1,450, Pinehurst, N. C.
February 1-4—Pittsburgh-Biltmore Open, $10,000, Coral Gables, Fla.

December 22-24—Pasadena Open, $4,000, Pasadena, Calif.
January 25-26—Riverside Pro-Amateur, $2,000, Riverside, Calif.

February 1-4—Pittsburgh-Biltmore Open, $10,000, Coral Gables, Fla.
March 15-17—Charleston, S. C. Open, $2,000, Charleston, S. C.

March 22-25—Augusta, Ga. National, $7,500, Augusta, Ga.
March 27-29—North and South Open, Pinehurst, N. C.

Collins Is Reported
On Way Out at N. C.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Rumors of the impending departure of Head Football Coach Chuck Collins from the University of North Carolina campus after a tenure of eight years were widespread tonight despite absence of official action in view of the Tarheel eleven's poor gridiron showing this year.

Collins' team has lost four out of five games to date, defeating only Davidson, losing to Georgia, Vanderbilt, Florida and Georgia Tech.

Post Mortems ...
Members of the Nats call Ossie Bluege "Noisy" because he is so quiet ... and Ossie's brother, Otto, with the Cincinnati Reds, is called "Squeaky" for the same reason ... Abe Breman, former Pitt full back, who once made a fortune in the Texas oil fields, is going back for more ... at Cisco, Tex. ... he got his original start by turning pro fighter in Texas ... and receiving $800 for a bout with Fireman Jim Flynn ... then he quit the ring and invested the $800 in oil ... The Silver Spring soccer team went six years without winning a county game ... the last four years they have lost only two county games ... but have lost State championship games each year.

Wesley Ramey, No. 2 ranking lightweight, who is here with Freddie Miller, fights November 4 ... in New York on the Les Kennedy-Walter Neusel card ... according to Army authorities, keeping the back limber is the most important element of good horseback riding ... and in the cavalry a stiff back while riding is often loosened up by smacks from a noncom ... strange as it seems, there never was a good boxer who wasn't or couldn't have been a good dancer ... some of them too good.

Post Trophy
Won by Miss Houghton

Mrs. Irwin Is Defeated,
3 and 2, in Final at Columbia Club.

Mrs. Leo Walper Takes Consolations Crown
in 1st Tourney.

THE beautiful Washington Post golf trophy, placed in competition this season for the first time, yesterday became the one-year possession of Miss Elizabeth Houghton, 25-year-old daughter of the former Ambassador to Great Britain and Germany.

Entered from the Chevy Chase Club, Miss Houghton defeated Mrs. M. E. Irwin, of Beaver Dam, by 3 and 2 in the finals of the six-day match play with handicap tournament at Columbia Country Club.

Ahead on 11 of the 18 holes, Miss Houghton played the steadier golf, and richly earned her laurels.

In the qualifying round, the new champion placed second with her net of 82.

Concedes Three Strokes.
Yesterday Miss Houghton, an 11 handicap player, had to concede Mrs. Irwin 3 strokes—one on the fifth, which Mrs. Irwin won; one on the sixth, which they halved (figuring the handicap) and another on the twelfth, which Miss Houghton took with a splendid par 5.

Miss Houghton was down only once. That was when Mrs. Irwin stuck her tee shot dead to the pin for a par 3 on the 175-yard eighth.

Miss Houghton got a 4.
That Miss Houghton can hit tremendous wood shots was best evidenced on the 474-yard par 5 twelfth. Here she split the fairway 250 yards, and overdrove the green with her spoon second.

Miss Houghton served warning right at the start that she was out to win. She pitched dead and scored her par 4 to Mrs. Irwin's 5. Mrs. Irwin evened the match with a par 4 on the second, Miss Houghton being ditched. Trapped twice, Mrs. Irwin lost the third to a 5, and the fourth to a par 3, knocking Miss Houghton's ball into the cup on the latter hole after being stymied.

Takes Four Straight.
The strain began to tell on Mrs. Irwin on the stretch. Here Miss Houghton won four straight holes to become 4 up, before Mrs. Irwin sank a 15-footer for a 4 to win the fourteenth. Miss Houghton's lead was sliced to 2 up on the fifteenth, which Mrs. Irwin took with a par 4.

Banking an 8-foot putt, Miss Houghton's second shot caught a ditch, costing her a penalty stroke. The climax came on the 112-yard sixteenth. Mrs. Irwin was ditched on her drive, while Miss Houghton was on in one, 10 feet from the cup.

Miss Houghton 3-putted for a 4, while Mrs. Irwin, stymied on her fourth, took a 5.

Miss Houghton had a 45 to Mrs. Irwin's 46 for the first nine, and had a 36 for seven holes of the second nine.

Mrs. Walper Victor.
In the consolation, Mrs. Leo Walper, wife of a driving range professional, defeated Miss Elizabeth Houghton, of Columbia, 4 and 3. Mrs. Walper shot an 89.

Prizes were presented the various winners by Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, president of the Women's District of Columbia Golf Association, which conducted the tournament, and Dave Herman, Post golf writer.

Mrs. J. W. Beller, Columbia, and Mrs. Landra B. Platt, Chevy Chase, semifinalists, received prizes, as did Mrs. William Morrison Smith, Columbia, low-net winner; Mrs. Walper and Miss Brawner.

Irish to Stop Off Here
On Way to Baltimore

In accord with its custom of stopping over in Washington the day before its game with Navy at Baltimore, Notre Dame's football team will visit the Capital City Friday, stopping at the Congressional Club to iron out the kinks in its legs before proceeding to the Monumental City.

Coach "Hunk" Anderson will lead a squad of 40 players East. No workout is scheduled here, but the boys will play a bit of golf. The following morning they will leave for the site of battle.

Md. Boxer's Nose
Broken 10th Time

For the tenth time in his boxing career, Earl Edwards, University of Maryland varsity bantamweight, is nursing a broken nose, the result of a blow received in practice.

The injury will terminate Edwards' fight career, he has been informed by specialists.

A major operation will have to be performed to restore the nose to its original position.

STEAKS
CHOPS
Olmed Grill

Winsome Winner of Post Golf Trophy

MISS ELIZABETH HOUGHTON, of the Chevy Chase Club, daughter of the former U. S. Ambassador to England and Germany, who won the first annual tournament for The Washington Post trophy yesterday at the Columbia Club links, defeating Mrs. M. E. Irwin in the finals, 3 up and 2.

Dark Horses Come to Fore
To Bemuddle Gridiron Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—A Rip Van Winkle of football, dozing off after consuming his Sunday diet of scores just a year ago, would never believe his eyes if he were to awaken today and look over the situation.

There's Michigan all right, sweeping on toward another Big Ten championship. Nebraska looks familiar in the Big Six saddle. Utah once more in manhandling the Rocky Mountain Conference.

But where are the headlines heralding the might of Southern California; the agility and ferocity of Notre Dame; the unbeaten, untied, unscored upon raiders from Colgate; the power of the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian; the eligibility of the Pittsburgh Golden Panthers for another Rose Bowl engagement?

Whence Came Dark Horses?
And where did all these dark horses come from? There's Princeton, unbeaten and loaded with sophomore power; Fordham, Army, Duke, Minnesota, Georgia, Holy Cross, Arkansas and Louisiana State University.

On the basis of last year's standings entering the crucial month of November, the situation today looks like a series of gross exaggerations. In brief, here's a thumbnail comparison of the present and a past that dates back one single year.

This is Monday, October 31, 1932. Southern California, not even scored upon, had whipped Utah, Washington State, Oregon State, Loyola of Los Angeles and Stanford, and was waiting to pounce on California, Oregon, Washington, Notre Dame and, finally, Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl.

Notre Dame Pitt Victim.
Notre Dame, after piling up 117 points on Haskell, Drake and Carnegie Tech, had bowed, 12 to 0, to Pittsburgh in a tremendous upset; Colgate had scored 195 points, 35 of them against Lafayette. Among Pitt's victims was a fine Army team. Tennessee, having just beaten Duke, 16 to 13, still rode a two-year victory trail, and Auburn, with triumphs over Duke, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Mississippi, was another Southern terror.

Notre Dame had been tied by Oregon State and barely beat California, 6 to 3. Notre Dame has been whipped on successive Saturdays by Carnegie Tech and Pittsburgh, the latter bowled over by Minnesota. Lafayette held Colgate to a scoreless tie. Tennessee dropped two in a row to Duke and Alabama before beating Florida.

In fact, if it wasn't for Army beating Yale, 21 to 0, even Rip wouldn't believe it.

FOOTBALL
Geo. Wash. U.
vs. Tennessee
Saturday, 2:30 P. M.
GRIFFITH STADIUM

General admission, 50c. Box, $1.00. Res. Grand Stand and Lower Boxes, $1.50. Upper Boxes, $2.50. Tickets on sale at Stadium, 1115 F St. N.W., and Gode's, 1215 F St. N.W.

This Morning

With Shirley L. Fovich

I SEE by the papers that Connie Mack has expressed great surprise at the reports that he will ship Lefty Grove and Max Bishop to Boston in baseball's biggest deal of the decade. Well, here is another surprise for Mr. Mack: Pitcher Red Sox will go to the Red Sox in the same deal.

Far be it from this department to trade off Mr. Mack's ball players for him, especially such valuable chattels as Grove, Walberg and Bishop, but on this particular occasion I am willing to take the rap if this department is wrong.

Mr. Mack and the Red Sox can take their own good time about announcing the deal, but it is quite likely, you can lay to that, Methinks that when the football season has passed its peak and the gentlemen are ready to capitalize on the publicity at the proper time, then there will be enough fuel to keep the hot stove league at white heat all winter.

The Time Is Here.
The transfer of Grove to the Red Sox could come at no more logical time for the Athletics. In another season, Owner Tom Yawkey, may not be in the mood to unbutton his fat bankroll to the extent of buying such a costly performer as Grove. He is new as yet to baseball and gripped with the determination to spend and spend until he can put a winner in Boston.

In another season, Yawkey may learn that cash cannot always buy a pennant. The Chicago Cubs, with unlimited resources at their command, could not win last season. After a few costly disappointments in the purchase of rookies and veterans, Yawkey may not be so eager to lay out the line in such bulk as a Grove purchase demands.

And another year may find Grove's value revised sharply downward. There were indications last season that the great southpaw had started to slip. Teams that used to count themselves fortunate to escape a shut-out with Grove in the box were finding him for 10 and 12 hits per game regularly. For the first time in his eight years in the big leagues, Grove did not have the same blinding speed.

Athletics in Red.
Hard hit by declining gate receipts and with the Sunday baseball law by no means a certainty in Philadelphia, the Athletics would realize a prodigious sum by the sale of Grove, Walberg and Bishop. Even in 1931, its latest pennant-winning years, the Philadelphia Club wrote red figures into its ledgers and the past season saw the receipts strike a new low for the last half dozen years.

The gamble that Yawkey takes in his purchase of the three Athletic veterans is tempered by the knowledge that Boston will react greatly to the presence of a winning team in the American League. Not necessarily a pennant winner, but a contender, Hub fans have been starved since 1918 for first-division baseball.

The Boston Braves, with only an outside chance to win the flag in the waning days of the season, drew 130,000 to four games in the Hub, with the Giants, which is an accurate index to the manner in which the Boston fans will support a contending club. Yawkey, who took leave from his Wall Street offices to see the games, was an interested visitor to Boston.

World Bolster Sox.
Grove, Walberg and Bishop would certainly transform the Red Sox into a contender under the leadership of Bucky Harris, who took over the managerial reins at Boston during the week-end.

It was the Red Sox who helped knock the Yankees out of the 1933 race and the Boston club absorbed more defeats by one-run margins than any other team in the league. With George Pipgras, Henry Johnson, Bob Kline, Bob Welland and Gordon Rhodes as the nucleus of their 1933 pitching staff, the Red Sox with Grove and Walberg added in 1934 would lift a booming voice into the distribution of 1934 honors.

AMERICAN

MARCHES AHEAD!

Sarron and Miller Compromise on Heinie Miller as Fight Referee Tomorrow

Portner Bout Puzzling to Ring Fans

Some Look for Syrian's Speed to Net Decision Over N.B.A. Champ.

Battlers Taper Off in Training; Four Other Bouts on Card.

FOLLOWING a long, heated conference yesterday between the promoters of Portner's Arena and representatives of both contestants, Heinie Miller was named to referee the ten-round bout between Freddie Miller, N. B. A. featherweight champion, and Pete Sarron tomorrow.

Sarron's handlers had previously declared in favor of Charley Short, who usually referees the Portner bouts, but Miller's staff wanted Charley Baum, of Baltimore. Heinie Miller was named as referee as a compromise, which proved agreeable to both parties. No changes will be made in the judges, George King and Denny Hughes officiating in that capacity as usual.

Lighten up Training.

Sarron and Miller lightened up their training yesterday to evade the ever-present specter of stalemate, which apparently is hovering over them both. Sarron worked a round on the light bag and shadow-boxed, wearing 12-ounce gloves, for two rounds, then wound up by working two rounds with a southpaw sparring partner. Miller did the usual gym routine and climaxed the performance with four fast rounds against Mickey Genaro.

Opinion regarding the outcome of the fight is fairly evenly divided among the ringwise. Some feel Sarron will upset preflight predictions of so-called experts by thumping out a nice, safe decision over the crown wearer. Others believe Miller will have little difficulty fathoming the Birmingham battler's whirlwind attack to work out a decision. Some are even predicting a knockout for the N. B. A. champion, but this is generally believed not probable by those who have seen Sarron perform against top opposition.

Miller Shifts Patches.

Miller has shown great shiftness and plenty of punching ability with both hands in his gym workouts here. Unlike most southpaws, the N. B. A. champ packs plenty of wallop in his right—and he knows how to use it. His left is, of course, the more potent of his two fists, and the one he handles with the greatest facility.

Sarron supporters are figuring him to win by outsparring and outdazzling his opponent as he has so many opponents in the past. They point out that the challenger has fought one very close bout with Fidel La Barba, a bout so close that many conceded the fight to the challenger. He has two draws with Tommy Paul, with whom Miller experienced great difficulty.

Three sixes and a four will round out the card.

Thorn-Gen. Keefer M. A. Golf Victors

Win Pro-Senior Stakes in Tourney at Chevy Chase.

Arthur B. Thorn, former Woodmont pro, and Gen. Frank R. Keefer teamed yesterday at Chevy Chase to win top low net honors in the pro-senior sweepstakes conducted by the Middle Atlantic P. G. A.

Thorn recorded a 75, playing from scratch, while Gen. Keefer shot a 81-13-78. Their winning net was 153.

Second prize went to Leo Walper, unattached pro, and Gen. Robert H. Allen. Walper had a 73 and Gen. Allen 84-2-82 for a net total of 155.

Gen. H. P. McCain, with 86-7-79, and Bob Barnett, Chevy Chase pro, with 77, finished third with a 156.

Combined low gross prize went to Gen. Allen with 84-73-157.

L. R. Aiken led the seniors in medal scoring, winning a prize with his 82.

In the individual pro sweepstakes, there was a four-way tie at 73 between A. Houghton, Kenwood; Cliff Spencer, Beaver Dam; Ralph Beach, Suburban, and Leo Walper.

Twelve teams participated.

Oklahoman Wins Golf After Two Play-Offs

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—John B. Bass, of Ponca City, Okla., tonight was declared winner of the first national handicap championship tournament conducted by the Handicap Golfers Association of America.

In announcing Bass' victory, Robert Murray, the association's executive secretary, explained that he won the final play-off from nine other finalists with a net score of one under par for 36 holes.

Second place went to W. F. Zentler, of Scarsdale, N. Y., who finished all square with par. D. M. Wood, of Tacoma, Wash., and H. L. Dalton, of Charlotte, N. C., were tied for third with net scores of two under par.

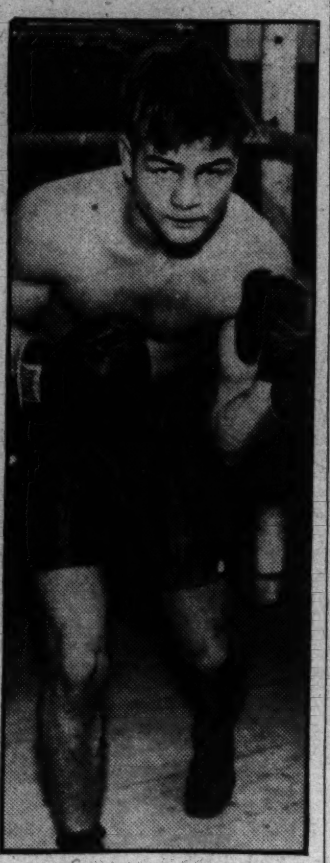

The competition, which is to be an annual event, was completed by members of clubs throughout the United States, and two play-offs were necessary to decide the ultimate winner.

Tackle Named Captain.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30 (AP)—O'Brien, veteran tackle, will captain the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers in their game next Saturday with Missouri at Columbia.

O'Brien, a former Omaha South High School athlete, is playing his third year with the Huskers and is one of the leading linemen of the Middle West.

Champ Fights Here

FREDDIE MILLER, N. B. A. featherweight champion, who meets Pete Sarron in a non-title bout at Portner's Arena tomorrow.

Grid Eyes Turn To Michigan, Illinois

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—A half-dozen big games, topped by the Fordham-St. Mary's intercollegiate clash at New York, and the Michigan-Illinois brawl at Champaign, feature this week's national football schedule.

The other four outstanding encounters bring together Duke and Auburn, and Georgia and Florida in the South, and Oregon and Utah, and U. C. L. A. and California in the Far West.

Prebattle blueprints indicate that the heaviest fighting will occur at Champaign, when Illinois, dark horse of the Big Ten, smashes into the conference-leading Wolverines after two weeks of intensive preparation.

55,000 Crowd Expected.

More than 55,000 fans are expected to watch Jim Crowley's Fordham Rams, unbeaten and untied, attempt to repel the invasion of St. Mary's galloping Gaels at the Polo Grounds. The Rams, who shaded mighty Alabama, 2-0, will be favorites over the Gaels, already beaten twice on the Pacific Coast.

Down South, Duke stakes its perfect record against the strong Auburn eleven, which rejoined the winning column by beating Tulane after two straight defeats. Duke will be favored. The Georgia Bulldogs, who smashed New York University, will try to keep their slate clean against Florida's capable squad. The Gators suffered their first defeat Saturday by Tennessee.

The Postillon Football Contest

The Post herewith presents the second of its weekly football contests in conjunction with The Postillon, this newspaper's radio program broadcast over Station WMAL by Harris B. Hull.

Again the contest is based on 40 of next Saturday's outstanding games, selected from the schedule by Shirley L. Povich, Sports Editor of The Post, as the feature games of the week. Each fan is invited to test his own powers as a prophet or football expert by predicting the result.

The coupon below is for your convenience, although it is not necessary to use The Post chart. In the left-hand column, headed "Your Selection," fans are invited to submit their scores. On Saturday night The Postillon announcer will broadcast the results in the same order. The "Result" column provides you with a convenient form on which to record the final scores as they are broadcast.

To the fan selecting the greatest number of winning teams, The Post will award free four choice seats to the George Washington-Washington and Jefferson game at Griffith Stadium one week from Friday night.

To the fan placing second in the contest three choice seats for the game will be given. To the fans placing third, fourth, fifth and sixth will go two choice seats each.

Each fan is limited to one entry. Priority of receipt will govern in case of ties.

1932 Scores	LOCAL	Your Selection	The Result
—	George Washington-Tennessee
—	Boston College-Georgetown
25	Catholic U.-Loyola (Balt.)
7	Virginia-Maryland

1932 Scores	EAST	Your Selection	The Result
—	Brown-Princeton
14	Bucknell-Western Maryland
—	Colgate-Tulane
0	Cornell-Columbia
14	Fordham-St. Mary's (Calif.)
—	Harvard-Lehigh
—	Pittsburgh-Centre
12	Syracuse-Penn State
0	12 Navy-Notre Dame
34	West Virginia-Marquette
6	Yale-Dartmouth

1932 Scores	MIDWEST	Your Selection	The Result
7	18 Chicago-Wisconsin
19	Detroit-Holy Cross
0	32 Illinois-Michigan
—	Michigan State-Kansas State
6	21 Missouri-Nebraska
0	7 Northwestern-Minnesota
7	7 Ohio State-Indiana
21	6 Oklahoma-Kansas
—	Purdue-Carnegie Tech
0	0 Tulsa-Oklahoma A. & M.

1932 Scores	SOUTH	Your Selection	The Result
12	7 Alabama-Kentucky
7	18 Duke-Auburn
12	33 Florida-Georgia
6	0 Louisiana-South Carolina
0	13 N. C. State-North Carolina
12	0 Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech
7	20 V. P. I.—William-Mary
32	6 V. P. I.—Washington-Lee

1932 Scores	SOUTHWEST	Your Selection	The Result
0	27 Baylor-Texas Christian
7	0 Centenary-Texas A. & M.
14	14 Southern Methodist-Texas

1932 Scores	FAR WEST	Your Selection	The Result
—	Oregon-Utah
—	Santa Clara-Rice
6	0 Stanford-Olympic Club
—	U. C. L. A.-California

Mail or send your selections to The Postillon at the Washington Post. Contest entries must be post-marked or in The Post's offices by Friday at midnight.

Name

Address

Halloween—The Goblins'll Git You if You Don't Fight

—By Pierotti

G. U. Offensive At Peak for Eagles

Aerial Attack to Feature Against Boston College at Hub Saturday.

DISSATISFIED with the brand of tackling exhibited in Saturday's game with William and Mary, Coach Hagerty yesterday moved to improve Georgetown's play in this department as the team prepared for its next game with Boston College at Boston.

Word that the squad would be at full strength by Saturday, with exception of Mack Stanley, whose knee injury will keep him on the shelf the remainder of the season, served to dispel some of the gloom from the Hilltop. The wound of the William and Mary defeat, however, was too deep to permit any rejoicing.

Offensively Georgetown is nearing its peak. It was outmuscled Saturday, but more than made up for any disadvantage in this by a potent aerial attack that saw 8 passes completed in 18 attempts for gains totaling approximately 100 yards. Forward passing will be utilized to its fullest extent against B. C.

Williamson to Be Back.

Frank Williamson will be back at one of the tackle positions for the game. He played a commendable game at center, with both wrists taped to prevent further injury to them, against William and Mary. Capt. Fred Callahan, regular center, has recovered sufficiently from a leg injury to assume his post at the snapper back position.

Hagerty's most difficult task appears to be restoring the morale of his men, who were disheartened by their defeat which came as the result of their own error. An intercepted pass, turned into a 90-yard touchdown, after Georgetown had worked the ball from its own 31-yard line to the enemy's 10, spelled disaster.

It was enough to break the morale of any team. A victory over Boston College would go far toward alleviating the anguish in the hearts of the players.

Sportsmen's Show Starts Here Sunday

Exhibition Will Be Held in District A. A. Office.

The Annual Sportsmen's Show and Live Game Exhibition, under the auspices of the American Automobile Association, will be held, beginning Sunday and extending throughout the week in the large lobby offices of the District of Columbia Division of the A. A. A., in the Mills Building, at Pennsylvania avenue and Seventeenth street northwest.

Exhibits of every type of shotgun, shells and equipment will be displayed, as well as live species of pheasant, quail, duck, geese, grouse and deer.

Aside from the live game and hunting equipment, there will be exhibits from the United States Biological Survey and National Forest Service, with stuffed specimens of a wide variety of popular game animals.

Junior Soccer Today.

Junior soccer teams of Mount Rainier and Maryland Park are to clash in a county championship contest this afternoon at Maryland Park, at 3:30 o'clock. The Mounts already are out of the title running, in which Hyattsville is leading, and the Parkers must win to stay in the race.

Scribe McAlwee Golf Victor Despite Great Hooks, Slices

Armed with a set of borrowed golf clubs and a philanthropic handicap, Ben McAlwee yesterday punted, drop-kicked and passed himself into a one-year struggle 'hold on the Cleland Cup in the tenth annual competition among sports writers for this traditional award.

The winner's score over the Army War College course was 41-41-12-70. Walter Dewey ("Fire When You're Ready") Haight was second with the aid of a 41-45-86 gross and a handicap of 10 and Roddy

Bob Considine led in the morning round, but located a sandtrap in the afternoon and when last seen was headed for China via the most direct route. Shirley Povich's first shot was a well-placed mashie into a bird's nest on the balcony of an officer's quarters. His second shot of the day was made with a niblick, brassie, stepladder and a pair of fire tongs. He took something over 3 on the hole.

Brassie Finds Rest.

Francis Stan set a record by holding out his brassie on the 273-yard fifth hole. The ball went in the river, but Stan's club was nestly alloys, with a 517 game and 1,441 set.

Hitting the Headpin . . .

Sanico Flour bumped the Jumbo Bread team out of first place in the Sanico League on the Convention Hall drives, while Green Bag Coffee team carried away the individual and team honors. Norman Schlost (Green Bag Coffee) led with 144 and 373, which aided in boosting his team's high game to 540 and set to 1,547.

With Groat and Steele starring, Mount Pleasant took team game and set honors with 1,525 and 1,525, respectively, at Convention Hall, last night. Steele took high game with 137 and Groat's set of 364 was unsurpassed.

Orioles Name Ogden As General Manager

Baltimore, Oct. 30 (AP)—Charles H. Knapp, president of the Baltimore Orioles Club of the International Baseball League, today announced the resignation of Henry P. Dawson as general manager of the club and made known the appointment of Jack Ogden to the post.

Ogden gained fame as a pitcher for the seven-time pennant winning Orioles during the days of Jack Dunn from 1920 to 1927. He returned to the Orioles last season, after a round of several major and minor league clubs. Dawson is expected to remain with the Orioles in another capacity. Ogden's one-year contract starts November 1.

Bear Grider Injured.

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Luke Johnson, regular end on the Chicago Bears, of the National Professional Football League, fractured the outer bone of his right ankle yesterday and probably will be lost to the team for the rest of the season. Coach George Halas said he did not know who would replace Johnson for the undefeated Bears, who open a three-game invasion of the East Sunday.

Team Has New Name.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30 (AP)—Nebraska Wesleyan University's athletic teams today became the "Plainsmen" instead of the "Coyotes." The name was chosen from 75 submitted after a mass meeting of students who voted to "bury the coyote" and adopt a new name.

Navy Conceded Good Chance To Nip Irish

Squad, Pleased With Win Over Penn, Returns to Work Today.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (Sp.). This was another "stock-taking" day for the Navy varsity football squad, and instead of buckling right down to preparation for another hard assignment, the Notre Dame game in Baltimore Stadium Saturday, the regulars were given a day off and whiled away a good bit of the afternoon looking at movies of their victorious battle with Pennsylvania.

As the pictures were thrown on a screen in the gymnasium, Head Coach Rip Miller and his assistants called attention to the blunders in their play against the Quakers, though they did not forget to praise the plays that went off well.

The defeat of Penn. has served as a boost of Navy stock, at least among the rank and file of followers of the team, and the feeling is practically general that the Middles have a better chance of subduing the Ramblers than at any time since the two institutions inaugurated their series seven years ago. But there is nothing resembling overconfidence among the staff of coaches, and it will not be allowed to pervade the ranks of the players.

Head Coach Miller discouraged this today when he said regardless of what has gone before, Notre Dame still looms as a giant, and it is a question when the South Benders will begin to click in a manner of which they are capable. The mentor said he was gratified over the Penn. victory, but that his pupils will have to play supertoolball to win Saturday.

2 Madeira Teams Victors at Hockey

Holton Arms Elevens Bow; Five Games Saturday.

Both color teams representing the Madeira School in field hockey were successful in defeating the Holton Arms elevens in the first of the projected interprivate school tournament games held at the Madeira field last Saturday. National Cathedral came through its pair of games unbeaten, also, having won the first and tied the second game played with the Mount Vernon teams.

Although ragged in spots, both teams showed excellent promise. Selection committees on hand regarded the work of several members of all four teams with evident interest for possible selection to the all-armed members team to be chosen in November.

Next Saturday both color teams of Holton Arms and Mount Vernon will play each other at the Holton Arms field. The Purple team of National Cathedral meets the Madeira Whites on the playing field of the former, and the Madeira Reds will play the National Cathedral Golds at Madeira.

The Ellipse will feature a game of all-Washington clubs, the Marjorie Websters and the Eagles. The game is one postponed from October 28.

There will be an all-Washington practice game on the Ellipse tomorrow afternoon.

Game at Gonzaga.

The prep school football game Thursday between Gonzaga and Georgetown prep will be played on the Gonzaga field instead of the Garret Park Stadium as listed in The Washington Post yesterday.

Pegler

Says Ghosts of Former Yale Grid Stars Were Absent Saturday.

By Westbrook Pegler.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—If my breathing, moving document about the Army-Yale game of last Saturday p. m. seemed to miss some of the inward strategy of the contest, may I be allowed to explain, please, that this was due to the fact that, between glares at the players who were performing down there on the carpet in the actual, living meat, I was straining my eyes in an effort to catch a few squints of those ghosts of yesterday who are always tearing up and down those hallowed grounds on autumn afternoons.

Now, personally, I had never laid eyes on any of those spooks and I had always intended to make a special point on looking them up some time because I am a sport writer with eyes to see and space next to pure reading matter in which to tell the circulation all about it and it has made me sore to be scooped year after year on such things.

Has Never Seen Ghosts.

But never yet had I caught me so much as a fleeting fancy word, meaning fast peek at the ghost of Win Lovejoy or the ghost of Lefty Flynn or the ghost of—nope, wait a minute—I was just going to say the ghost of Charlie Brickley, but Brickley's ghost runs up and down the field at Harvard.

Anyway, at Harvard, Yale, Princeton or wherever, I never saw me any of those ghosts, although I do remember one time up when a cloud of mist came over the turf, which is all right, and an old salt-water dog and I looked a fellow around if that was the team of the dead. No, no, no, that this mist was just common fog, and anyway, the team of destiny was a Princeton team. I should have remembered that myself, but you know how you will slip up sometimes? Carpentier was the orchid man, Michigan's team was the point-a-minute team. Red Grange was the galloping ghost, Dempsey was the Ol' Manassa Mauler and Babe Ruth was, and the Ol' Bambino. Am I right?

Well, so last Saturday, I settled down and said to myself, "to hell with the football game, I am going to seek around and around from now till dark and if any of those steam clouds start galloping up and down the field, they aren't going to scoop me this time."

Looking for Steam Clouds.

I was looking for steam clouds because my only idea of the appearance of a ghost is just what I learned when I was starting out to be a newspaper comic artist. Away back in yesterday, when you draw a ghost in a picture you make a sort of swirling spiral of vapor, something like a conventional Kansas twister, and you draw it on top and a face drawn into the cloud. Then you label the cloud "Purdue jinx" or "over-confident" or "Pop Warner."

But I was alert to spot any spooks in whatever guise they might show up, and I will say that for once, though I didn't see any myself, I got at least a draw because nobody scooped me on any.

In fact, during the intermission I turned to Mr. Robert Harron, who knows pretty much of all that is all about the game, and said, "Up to now, have you happened to see the ghost of Hinky Haines out there rallying and inspiring the Bulldog breed to rise to the heights and storm the rampart of glory?"

"Hinky Haines," Mr. Harron said, "What for would the ghost of Hinky Haines be rallying and exhorting the Bulldog breed? Hinky Haines' ghost rallies and exhorts the Nittany Lions. He is a Penn State ghost."

"I mean Hinky Dink," I said hastily. "I mean the immortal Hinky Dink, who weighed only 85 pounds and fought his way to the heights of undying fame among the Giants of football."

"Hinky Dink," said Mr. Harron, "is a politician who used to run a dump on South Clark street, in Chicago. What in the hell is the matter with you, any way?"

Ghost Has Water on Knees.

"He means Frank Hinky," said Mr. Paul Barnett, the Yale press agent. "No, Frank Hinky's ghost isn't out there today. Hinky's ghost has got water on his knees and may be out for the season."

Ah, yesterday, an indomitable spirit of brave immortals hovering over the standard-bearers of the Bulldog breed. Where were you boys between the hours of 2 and half-past 4 last Saturday afternoon? (Copyright, 1933, by the Chicago Tribune.)

Maryland Courtmen Drill for Hard Season

University of Maryland's varsity basketball squad, minus those still out with the football team, has started practice in preparation for an old line schedule ever faced by an Old Line courtier.

Prospects for a strong team are unusually bright this season, and Coach Burton Shipley is hopeful of garnering another Southern Conference championship, a feat attained three years ago.

Returning veterans from the 1932-33 five are Rufus Vincent, center, and higher scorer last season in the conference; Spencer Chase and Yowell, forwards, and Bucky Buscher, Bob Snyder and Warren Evans, guards. Vincent, Buscher and Snyder are still out for football. Scheele and Johns are promising candidates from last year's freshman team.

The Old Liners open their season December 18 against Michigan at College Park, followed by Indiana on December 30, also at home.

The Marion A. C. 115-pound class eleven will practice tomorrow night at Sixth and the Avenue southeast. Dill Beck and Robert Kobre are requested to report.

General Lejeune, Under Strong Ride by Porter, Shows Way Home at Laurel

Pretty Wise Beaten by
A NoseShow to Prince Tokalon;
Winner Nets Backers
$8.80 Mutuel.Escapade, McKinney Up, Wins Steeplechase as Red Bridge Falls.

EARL PORTER, the boy who out-Westroped young Jack Westrop, at Rockingham and then moved over to Empire City to then New York turf fans with his daring work aboard horses, put on a jockey show at Laurel yesterday for the benefit of customers from Maryland, the District and various other points.

It is true that the horse deserves some credit, but it was the "go-getter" riding of young Earl that brought General Lejeune home in front of a fair field of claimers competing in the fifth race. This contest was probably the feature of the Charity Day program.

It is doubtful which was the more tired, the horse or the boy, as General Lejeune came back to the winner's circle. Both gave all they had in an "all-out" finish that found General Lejeune ahead by a nose at the finish line. The barely beaten entry was Pretty Wise, a long shot, which appeared about to steal the race before Porter found just enough speed in his mount to cop the purse. The heavily played Prince Tokalon was third, after being off poorly.

Pays $8.80 Mutuel.

General Lejeune was lukewarm in the betting and rewarded the faithful with an $8.80 mutuel.

One of the best week-day crowds of the meeting saw the card run under ideal racing conditions. Form players had few chances to cheer. Escapade in the 2-mile steeplechase being the only favorite to score.

Rigan McKinney, the gentleman rider, turned in a masterpiece of horsemanship in winning with Thomas Hitchcock's gelding, Bagatelle, poorly ridden by Jockey P. Thordyke took a nasty spill, sliding on his face. He escaped serious injury, however.

It seemed that everybody at the track thought Dangerous Game would win the opener, a dash for maiden 2-year-olds foaled in Maryland. But the heavily-backed colt experienced bad racing luck and finished third. Sir Tobey won the event by nearly two lengths and paid $4 for $2. Tremolo was second by a length. Dangerous Game was rated third to the stretch turn, where he ran into a mass of interference trying to get through on the inside. Sir Tobey, having gained command turning for home, was ridden out to win.

Her Gold Long Shot.

The long-shot brigade continued to click when Her Gold, paying $4.80, nosed out Tullioho for the second purse. Sequoia lost the place by a length. Bartering Kate, on which many checkers were lost, was out on top to the eighth pole, where the field closed in all around the Bradley fly. Her Gold and Tullioho both made up a lot of ground and fought out the important issue in the closing strides. Sequoia ran well placed all the way.

Some Knight, coupled with The Gen, showed a very impressive performance to win the sprint affair, fourth on the card, up and coming apprentice J. Lowry brought the gelding from last to first, finishing a length clear of Silverdale, with the heavily backed Ladfield a close third. Some Knight which paid $19, took the overland route. He caught Silverdale inside the last furlong and was going away. Ladfield was shut off when starting his move after rounding out of the back stretch.

Lowry Wins Another.

Apprentice Lowry earned a double by booting home Unencumbered in the sixth event. Paying the remunerative odds of $13.60 for $2 the Sweep On gelding outlasted Parity to score by a head. Glorione was another head away in the third hole. Parity cut out most of the running and held on grimly when caught but Unencumbered's challenge proved a little too strong. Prince Abbot added to the success of long shots when he beat Lotta Airs by a head to return $19.20 in the seventh event. Black Tarvet was three lengths out of the pack. The latter and Lotta Airs fought it out until Prince Abbot, closing with full steam, got to the front in the final strides.

LAUREL RACES

OCTOBER 31 TO OCTOBER 31
INCLUSIVE

Thirty Minutes to Track by Special B. & O. S. R. train leaving Union Station, Washington, at 12:15 and 12:40 P. M.

FIRST RACE AT 1:30 P. M.

General Admission Inc. Tax $1.65

BUSSES TO
LAUREL RACESDirect to Track
ROUND TRIP 75cLeave 11th St. and Pa. Ave. NW, opposite Star Office.

12:15 P. M.

W. M. & A Motor Lines, Inc.

Information Nat. 7715, Nat. 4212,
Lincoln 7290.

Strange as It Seems

—By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Andy Varipapa, New York bowler, professional, holds the world's record for six games, with an average of 274.2 pins. He also has several record trick shots, the strangest of which is his two-ball strike in which the first ball never reaches its objective.

In this shot Varipapa rolls the first ball down the center of the alley, causing it to come to rest in front of the pins. Then, with his second ball, he throws a hook that curves around the dead ball to hit the head pin and score a strike.

John Hix's Drawings of "Strange as It Seems" Are Shown on the Screen at RKO-Keith's.

American continent is the Diplu-phidae, or opossums. These range from New York State to the southern tip of South America and comprise 23 species. Only two of these species of opossums live north of Mexico. Another marsupial family lives far south in South America, but only the opossum is native in North America.

All other marsupials, the family name for all pouched animals, are native of the Australian district where they dominate all other mammals.

Tomorrow—The 115-yard galn.

Shikat, when meeting Olsons, Steinke, and other second raters is an entirely different rasser from the Shikat who enters the ring against top-notchers like Steele.

Shikat, a prime favorite here, has been down the grade of late and a loss here Thursday probably not only will cost him a bout with Jimmy London, but also may be the cause of him being asked to roam in other pastures for a while.

This being the case, he may be counted upon to do his best. With Shikat out to win, too, another thriller appears to be in the offing.

Two rough boys, whose knees are important parts of their rassing equipment, meet in the semifinal, George Zahner and Steele. The pleading Dick Rainers. Two of the three curtain raisers arranged to date pit Vanka Zeleniak, the Siberian Tarzan, against Lou Plummer and Son Jennings against Floyd Marshall.

Laurel Entries.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $700. Claiming: 3-year-olds and upward.

1. Guiding Light, 113. 2. Reptile, 115. 3. Sir Tobey, 117. 4. Tremolo, 119. 5. Dangerous Game, 121. 6. Bartering Kate, 123. 7. Sequoia, 125. 8. Her Gold, 127. 9. Prince Tokalon, 129. 10. Ladfield, 131. 11. Some Knight, 133. 12. The Gen, 135. 13. Silverdale, 137. 14. Unencumbered, 139. 15. Parity, 141. 16. Glorione, 143. 17. Prince Abbot, 145. 18. Lotta Airs, 147. 19. Black Tarvet, 149. 20. Royce, 151. 21. Prince Abbot, 153. 22. Lotta Airs, 155. 23. Black Tarvet, 157. 24. Royce, 159. 25. Prince Abbot, 161. 26. Lotta Airs, 163. 27. Black Tarvet, 165. 28. Royce, 167. 29. Prince Abbot, 169. 30. Lotta Airs, 171. 31. Black Tarvet, 173. 32. Royce, 175. 33. Prince Abbot, 177. 34. Lotta Airs, 179. 35. Black Tarvet, 181. 36. Royce, 183. 37. Prince Abbot, 185. 38. Lotta Airs, 187. 39. Black Tarvet, 191. 40. Royce, 193. 41. Prince Abbot, 195. 42. Lotta Airs, 197. 43. Black Tarvet, 201. 44. Royce, 203. 45. Prince Abbot, 205. 46. Lotta Airs, 207. 47. Black Tarvet, 211. 48. Royce, 213. 49. Prince Abbot, 215. 50. Lotta Airs, 217. 51. Black Tarvet, 221. 52. Royce, 223. 53. Prince Abbot, 225. 54. Lotta Airs, 227. 55. Black Tarvet, 231. 56. Royce, 233. 57. Prince Abbot, 235. 58. Lotta Airs, 237. 59. Black Tarvet, 241. 60. Royce, 243. 61. Prince Abbot, 245. 62. Lotta Airs, 247. 63. Black Tarvet, 251. 64. Royce, 253. 65. Prince Abbot, 255. 66. Lotta Airs, 257. 67. Black Tarvet, 261. 68. Royce, 263. 69. Prince Abbot, 265. 70. Lotta Airs, 267. 71. Black Tarvet, 271. 72. Royce, 273. 73. Prince Abbot, 275. 74. Lotta Airs, 277. 75. Black Tarvet, 281. 76. Royce, 283. 77. Prince Abbot, 285. 78. Lotta Airs, 287. 79. Black Tarvet, 291. 80. Royce, 293. 81. Prince Abbot, 295. 82. Lotta Airs, 297. 83. Black Tarvet, 301. 84. Royce, 303. 85. Prince Abbot, 305. 86. Lotta Airs, 307. 87. Black Tarvet, 311. 88. Royce, 313. 89. Prince Abbot, 315. 90. Lotta Airs, 317. 91. Black Tarvet, 321. 92. Royce, 323. 93. Prince Abbot, 325. 94. Lotta Airs, 327. 95. Black Tarvet, 331. 96. Royce, 333. 97. Prince Abbot, 335. 98. Lotta Airs, 337. 99. Black Tarvet, 341. 100. Royce, 343. 101. Prince Abbot, 345. 102. Lotta Airs, 347. 103. Black Tarvet, 351. 104. Royce, 353. 105. Prince Abbot, 355. 106. Lotta Airs, 357. 107. Black Tarvet, 361. 108. Royce, 363. 109. Prince Abbot, 365. 110. Lotta Airs, 367. 111. Black Tarvet, 371. 112. Royce, 373. 113. Prince Abbot, 375. 114. Lotta Airs, 377. 115. Black Tarvet, 381. 116. Royce, 383. 117. Prince Abbot, 385. 118. Lotta Airs, 387. 119. Black Tarvet, 391. 120. Royce, 393. 121. Prince Abbot, 395. 122. Lotta Airs, 397. 123. Black Tarvet, 401. 124. Royce, 403. 125. Prince Abbot, 405. 126. Lotta Airs, 407. 127. Black Tarvet, 411. 128. Royce, 413. 129. Prince Abbot, 415. 130. Lotta Airs, 417. 131. Black Tarvet, 421. 132. Royce, 423. 133. Prince Abbot, 425. 134. Lotta Airs, 427. 135. Black Tarvet, 431. 136. Royce, 433. 137. Prince Abbot, 435. 138. Lotta Airs, 437. 139. Black Tarvet, 441. 140. Royce, 443. 141. Prince Abbot, 445. 142. Lotta Airs, 447. 143. Black Tarvet, 451. 144. Royce, 453. 145. Prince Abbot, 455. 146. Lotta Airs, 457. 147. Black Tarvet, 461. 148. Royce, 463. 149. Prince Abbot, 465. 150. Lotta Airs, 467. 151. Black Tarvet, 471. 152. Royce, 473. 153. Prince Abbot, 475. 154. Lotta Airs, 477. 155. Black Tarvet, 481. 156. Royce, 483. 157. Prince Abbot, 485. 158. Lotta Airs, 487. 159. Black Tarvet, 491. 160. Royce, 493. 161. Prince Abbot, 495. 162. Lotta Airs, 497. 163. Black Tarvet, 501. 164. Royce, 503. 165. Prince Abbot, 505. 166. Lotta Airs, 507. 167. Black Tarvet, 511. 168. Royce, 513. 169. Prince Abbot, 515. 170. Lotta Airs, 517. 171. Black Tarvet, 521. 172. Royce, 523. 173. Prince Abbot, 525. 174. Lotta Airs, 527. 175. Black Tarvet, 531. 176. Royce, 533. 177. Prince Abbot, 535. 178. Lotta Airs, 537. 179. Black Tarvet, 541. 180. Royce, 543. 181. Prince Abbot, 545. 182. Lotta Airs, 547. 183. Black Tarvet, 551. 184. Royce, 553. 185. Prince Abbot, 555. 186. Lotta Airs, 557. 187. Black Tarvet, 561. 188. Royce, 563. 189. Prince Abbot, 565. 190. Lotta Airs, 567. 191. Black Tarvet, 571. 192. Royce, 573. 193. Prince Abbot, 575. 194. Lotta Airs, 577. 195. Black Tarvet, 581. 196. Royce, 583. 197. Prince Abbot, 585. 198. Lotta Airs, 587. 199. Black Tarvet, 591. 200. Royce, 593. 201. Prince Abbot, 595. 202. Lotta Airs, 597. 203. Black Tarvet, 601. 204. Royce, 603. 205. Prince Abbot, 605. 206. Lotta Airs, 607. 207. Black Tarvet, 611. 208. Royce, 613. 209. Prince Abbot, 615. 210. Lotta Airs, 617. 211. Black Tarvet, 621. 212. Royce, 623. 213. Prince Abbot, 625. 214. Lotta Airs, 627. 215. Black Tarvet, 631. 216. Royce, 633. 217. Prince Abbot, 635. 218. Lotta Airs, 637. 219. Black Tarvet, 641. 220. Royce, 643. 221. Prince Abbot, 645. 222. Lotta Airs, 647. 223. Black Tarvet, 651. 224. Royce, 653. 225. Prince Abbot, 655. 226. Lotta Airs, 657. 227. Black Tarvet, 661. 228. Royce, 663. 229. Prince Abbot, 665. 230. Lotta Airs, 667. 231. Black Tarvet, 671. 232. Royce, 673. 233. Prince Abbot, 675. 234. Lotta Airs, 677. 235. Black Tarvet, 681. 236. Royce, 683. 237. Prince Abbot, 685. 238. Lotta Airs, 687. 239. Black Tarvet, 691. 240. Royce, 693. 241. Prince Abbot, 695. 242. Lotta Airs, 697. 243. Black Tarvet, 701. 244. Royce, 703. 245. Prince Abbot, 705. 246. Lotta Airs, 707. 247. Black Tarvet, 711. 248. Royce, 713. 249. Prince Abbot, 715. 250. Lotta Airs, 717. 251. Black Tarvet, 721. 252. Royce, 723. 253. Prince Abbot, 725. 254. Lotta Airs, 727. 255. Black Tarvet, 731. 256. Royce, 733. 257. Prince Abbot, 735. 258. Lotta Airs, 737. 259. Black Tarvet, 741. 260. Royce, 743. 261. Prince Abbot, 745. 262. Lotta Airs, 747. 263. Black Tarvet, 751. 264. Royce, 753. 265. Prince Abbot, 755. 266. Lotta Airs, 757. 267. Black Tarvet, 761. 268. Royce, 763. 269. Prince Abbot, 765. 270. Lotta Airs, 767. 271. Black Tarvet, 771. 272. Royce, 773. 273. Prince Abbot, 775. 274. Lotta Airs, 777. 275. Black Tarvet, 781. 276. Royce, 783. 277. Prince Abbot, 785. 278. Lotta Airs, 787. 279. Black Tarvet, 791. 280. Royce, 793. 281. Prince Abbot, 795. 282. Lotta Airs, 797. 283. Black Tarvet, 801. 284. Royce, 803. 285. Prince Abbot, 805. 286. Lotta Airs, 807. 287. Black Tarvet, 811. 288. Royce, 813. 289. Prince Abbot, 815. 290. Lotta Airs, 817. 291. Black Tarvet, 821. 292. Royce, 823. 293. Prince Abbot, 825. 294. Lotta Airs, 827. 295. Black Tarvet, 831. 296. Royce, 833. 297. Prince Abbot, 835. 298. Lotta Airs, 837. 299. Black Tarvet, 841. 300. Royce, 843. 301. Prince Abbot, 845. 302. Lotta Airs, 847. 303. Black Tarvet, 851. 304. Royce, 853. 305. Prince Abbot, 855. 306. Lotta Airs, 857. 307. Black Tarvet, 861. 308. Royce, 863. 309. Prince Abbot, 865. 310. Lotta Airs, 867. 311. Black Tarvet, 871. 312. Royce, 873. 313. Prince Abbot, 875. 314. Lotta Airs, 877. 315. Black Tarvet, 881. 316. Royce, 883. 317. Prince Abbot, 885. 318. Lotta Airs, 887. 319. Black Tarvet, 891. 320. Royce, 893. 321. Prince Abbot, 895. 322. Lotta Airs, 897. 323. Black Tarvet, 901. 324. Royce, 903. 325. Prince Abbot, 905. 326. Lotta Airs, 907. 327. Black Tarvet, 911. 328. Royce, 913. 329. Prince Abbot, 915. 330. Lotta Airs, 917. 331. Black Tarvet, 921. 332. Royce, 923. 333. Prince Abbot, 925. 334. Lotta Airs, 927. 335. Black Tarvet, 931. 336. Royce, 933. 337. Prince Abbot, 935. 338. Lotta Airs, 937. 339. Black Tarvet, 941. 340. Royce, 943. 341. Prince Abbot, 945. 342. Lotta Airs, 947. 343. Black Tarvet, 951. 344. Royce, 953. 345. Prince Abbot, 955. 346. Lotta Airs, 957. 347. Black Tarvet, 961. 348. Royce, 963. 349. Prince Abbot, 965. 350. Lotta Airs, 967. 351. Black Tarvet, 971. 352. Royce, 973. 353. Prince Abbot, 975. 354. Lotta Airs, 977. 355. Black Tarvet, 981. 356. Royce, 983. 357. Prince Abbot, 985. 358. Lotta Airs, 987. 359. Black Tarvet, 991. 360. Royce, 993. 361. Prince Abbot, 995. 362. Lotta Airs, 997. 363. Black Tarvet, 1001. 364. Royce, 1003. 365. Prince Abbot, 1005. 366. Lotta Airs, 1007. 367. Black Tarvet, 1011. 368. Royce, 1013. 369. Prince Abbot, 1015. 370. Lotta Airs, 1017. 371. Black Tarvet, 1021. 372. Royce, 1023. 373. Prince Abbot, 1025. 374. Lotta Airs, 1027. 375. Black Tarvet, 1031. 376. Royce, 1033. 377. Prince Abbot, 1035. 378. Lotta Airs, 1037. 379. Black Tarvet, 1041. 380. Royce, 1043. 381. Prince Abbot, 1045. 382. Lotta Airs, 1047. 383. Black Tarvet, 1051. 384. Royce, 1053. 385. Prince Abbot, 1055. 386. Lotta Airs, 1057. 387. Black Tarvet, 1061. 388. Royce, 1063. 389. Prince Abbot, 1065. 390. Lotta Airs, 1067. 391. Black Tarvet, 1071. 392. Royce, 1073. 393. Prince Abbot, 1075. 394. Lotta Airs, 1077. 395. Black Tarvet, 1081. 396. Royce, 1083. 397. Prince Abbot, 1085. 398. Lotta Airs, 1087. 399. Black Tarvet, 1091. 400. Royce, 1093. 401. Prince Abbot, 1095. 402. Lotta Airs, 1097. 403. Black Tarvet, 1101. 404. Royce, 1103. 405. Prince Abbot, 1105. 406. Lotta Airs, 1107. 407. Black Tarvet, 1111. 408. Royce, 1113. 409. Prince Abbot, 1115. 410. Lotta Airs, 1117. 411. Black Tarvet, 1121. 412. Royce, 1123. 413. Prince Abbot, 1125. 414. Lotta Airs, 1127. 415. Black Tarvet, 1131. 416. Royce, 1133. 417. Prince Abbot, 1135. 418. Lotta Airs, 1137. 419. Black Tarvet, 1141. 420. Royce, 1143. 421. Prince Abbot, 1145. 422. Lotta Airs, 1147. 423. Black Tarvet, 1151. 424. Royce, 1153. 425. Prince Abbot, 1155. 426. Lotta Airs, 1157. 427. Black Tarvet, 1161. 428. Royce, 1163. 429. Prince Abbot, 1165. 430. Lotta Airs, 1167. 431. Black Tarvet, 1171. 432. Royce, 1173. 433. Prince Abbot, 1175. 434. Lotta Airs, 1177. 435. Black Tarvet, 1181. 436. Royce, 1183. 437. Prince Abbot, 1185. 438. Lotta Airs, 1187. 439. Black Tarvet, 1191. 440. Royce, 1193. 441. Prince Abbot, 1195. 442. Lotta Airs, 1197. 443. Black Tarvet, 1201. 444. Royce, 1203. 445. Prince Abbot, 1205. 446. Lotta Airs, 1207. 447. Black Tarvet, 1211. 448. Royce, 1213. 449. Prince Abbot, 1215. 450. Lotta Airs, 1217. 451. Black Tarvet, 1221. 452. Royce, 1223. 453. Prince Abbot, 1225. 454. Lotta Airs, 1227. 455. Black Tarvet, 1231. 456. Royce, 1233. 457. Prince Abbot, 1235. 458. Lotta Airs, 1237. 459. Black Tarvet, 1241. 460. Royce, 1243. 461. Prince Abbot, 1245. 462. Lotta Airs, 1247. 463. Black Tarvet, 1251. 464. Royce, 1253. 465. Prince Abbot, 1255. 466. Lotta Airs, 1257. 467. Black Tarvet, 1261. 468. Royce, 1263. 469. Prince Abbot, 1265. 470. Lotta Airs, 1267. 471. Black Tarvet, 1271. 472. Royce, 1273. 473. Prince Abbot, 1275. 474. Lotta Airs, 1277. 475. Black Tarvet, 1281. 476. Royce, 1283. 477. Prince Abbot, 1285. 478. Lotta Airs, 1287. 479. Black Tarvet, 1291. 480. Royce, 1293. 481. Prince Abbot, 1295. 482. Lotta Airs, 1297. 483. Black Tarvet, 1301. 484. Royce, 1303. 485. Prince Abbot, 1305. 486. Lotta Airs, 1307. 487. Black Tarvet, 1311. 488. Royce, 1313. 489. Prince Abbot, 1315. 490. Lotta Airs, 1317. 491. Black Tarvet, 1321. 492. Royce, 1323. 493. Prince Abbot, 1325. 494. Lotta Airs, 1327. 495. Black Tarvet, 1331. 496. Royce, 1333. 497. Prince Abbot, 1335. 498. Lotta Airs, 1337. 499. Black Tarvet, 1341. 500. Royce, 1343. 501. Prince Abbot, 1345. 502. Lotta Airs, 1347. 503. Black Tarvet, 1351. 504. Royce, 1353. 505. Prince Abbot, 1355. 506. Lotta Airs, 1357. 507. Black Tarvet, 1361. 508. Royce, 1363. 509. Prince Abbot, 1365. 510. Lotta Airs, 1367. 511. Black Tarvet, 1371. 512. Royce, 1373. 513. Prince Abbot, 1375. 514. Lotta Airs, 1377. 515. Black Tarvet, 1381. 516. Royce, 1383. 517. Prince Abbot, 1385. 518. Lotta Airs, 1387. 519. Black Tarvet, 1391. 520. Royce, 1393. 521. Prince Abbot, 1395. 522. Lotta Airs, 1397. 523. Black Tarvet, 1401. 524. Royce, 1403. 525. Prince Abbot, 1405. 526. Lotta Airs, 1407. 527. Black Tarvet, 1411. 528. Royce, 1413. 529. Prince Abbot, 1415. 530. Lotta Airs, 1417. 531. Black Tarvet, 1421. 532. Royce, 1423. 533. Prince Abbot, 1425. 534. Lotta Airs, 1427. 535. Black Tarvet, 1431. 536. Royce, 1433. 537. Prince Abbot, 1435. 538. Lotta Airs, 1437. 539. Black Tarvet, 1441. 540. Royce, 1443. 541. Prince Abbot, 1445. 542. Lotta Airs, 1447. 543. Black Tarvet, 1451. 544. Royce, 1453. 545. Prince Abbot, 1455. 546. Lotta Airs, 1457. 547. Black Tarvet, 1461. 548. Royce, 1463. 549. Prince Abbot, 1465. 550. Lotta Airs, 1467. 551. Black Tarvet, 1471. 552. Royce, 1473. 553. Prince Abbot, 1475. 554. Lotta Airs, 1477. 555. Black Tarvet, 1481. 556. Royce, 1483. 557. Prince Abbot, 1485. 558. Lotta Airs, 1487. 559. Black Tarvet, 1491. 560. Royce, 1493. 561. Prince Abbot, 1495. 562. Lotta Airs, 1497. 563. Black Tarvet, 1501. 564. Royce, 1503. 565. Prince Abbot, 1505. 566. Lotta Airs, 1507. 567. Black Tarvet, 1511. 568. Royce, 1513. 569. Prince Abbot, 1515. 570. Lotta Airs, 1517. 571. Black Tarvet, 1521. 572. Royce, 1523. 573. Prince Abbot, 1525. 574. Lotta Airs, 1527. 575. Black Tarvet, 1531. 576. Royce, 1533. 577. Prince Abbot, 1535. 578. Lotta Airs, 1537. 579. Black Tarvet, 1541. 580. Royce, 1543. 581. Prince Abbot, 1545. 582. Lotta Airs, 1547. 583. Black Tarvet, 1551. 584. Royce, 1553. 585. Prince Abbot, 1555. 586. Lotta Airs, 1557. 587. Black Tarvet, 1561. 588. Royce, 1563. 589. Prince Abbot, 1565. 590. Lotta Airs, 1567. 591. Black Tarvet, 1571. 592. Royce, 1573. 593. Prince Abbot, 1575. 594. Lotta Airs, 1577. 595. Black Tarvet, 1581. 596. Royce, 1583. 597. Prince Abbot, 1585. 598. Lotta Airs, 1587. 599. Black Tarvet, 1591. 600. Royce, 1593. 601. Prince Abbot, 1595. 602. Lotta Airs, 1597. 603. Black Tarvet, 1601. 604. Royce, 1603. 605. Prince Abbot, 1605. 606. Lotta Airs, 1607. 607. Black Tarvet, 1611. 608. Royce, 1613. 609. Prince Abbot, 1615. 610. Lotta Airs, 1617. 611. Black Tarvet, 1621. 612. Royce, 1623. 613. Prince Abbot, 1625. 614. Lotta Airs, 1627. 615. Black Tarvet, 1631. 616. Royce, 1633. 617. Prince Abbot, 1635. 618. Lotta Airs, 1637. 619. Black Tarvet, 1641. 620. Royce, 1643. 621. Prince Abbot, 1645. 622. Lotta Airs, 1647. 623. Black Tarvet, 1651. 624. Royce, 1653. 625. Prince Abbot, 1655. 626. Lotta Airs, 1657. 627. Black Tarvet, 1661. 628. Royce, 1663. 629. Prince Abbot, 1665. 630. Lotta Airs, 1667. 631. Black Tarvet, 1671. 632. Royce, 1673. 633. Prince Abbot, 1675. 634. Lotta Airs, 1677. 635. Black Tarvet, 1681. 636. Royce, 1683. 637. Prince Abbot, 1685. 638. Lotta Airs, 1687. 639. Black Tarvet, 1691. 640. Royce, 1693. 641. Prince Abbot, 1695. 642. Lotta Airs, 1697. 643. Black Tarvet, 1701. 644. Royce, 1703. 645. Prince Abbot, 1705. 646. Lotta Airs, 1707. 647. Black Tarvet, 1711. 648. Royce, 1713. 649. Prince Abbot, 1715. 650. Lotta Airs, 1717. 651. Black Tarvet, 1721. 652. Royce, 1723. 653. Prince Abbot, 1725. 654. Lotta Airs, 1727. 655. Black Tarvet, 1731. 656. Royce, 1733. 657. Prince Abbot, 1735. 658. Lotta Airs, 1737. 659. Black Tarvet, 1741. 660. Royce, 1743. 661. Prince Abbot, 1745. 662. Lotta Airs, 1747. 663. Black Tarvet, 1751. 664. Royce, 1753. 665. Prince Abbot, 1755. 666. Lotta Airs,

The Legal Record

Gasoline Alley

Monday, October 30, 1933.

Court of Appeals.

Present—Chief Justice George E. Martin, Associate Justices Charles E. Smith, William H. Miller, and Lawrence C. Gray.

No. 1007. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1008. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1009. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1010. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1011. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1012. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1013. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1014. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1015. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1016. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1017. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1018. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1019. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

No. 1020. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

District Supreme Court.

Assignment for Tuesday, October 31.

No. 1021. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1022. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1023. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1024. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1025. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1026. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1027. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1028. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1029. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1030. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1031. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1032. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1033. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1034. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1035. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1036. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1037. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1038. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1039. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1040. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1041. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1042. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1043. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1044. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1045. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1046. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1047. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1048. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1049. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1050. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1051. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1052. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1053. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1054. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1055. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1056. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1057. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1058. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1059. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1060. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1061. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1062. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1063. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1064. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1065. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1066. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1067. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1068. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1069. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1070. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1071. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1072. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1073. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1074. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1075. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1076. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1077. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1078. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1079. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1080. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1081. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1082. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1083. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1084. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1085. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1086. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1087. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1088. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1089. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1090. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1091. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1092. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1093. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1094. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1095. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1096. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1097. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1098. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1099. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1100. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1101. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1102. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1103. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1104. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1105. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1106. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1107. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1108. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1109. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1110. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1111. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1112. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1113. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1114. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1115. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1116. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1117. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1118. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1119. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1120. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1121. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1122. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1123. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1124. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1125. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1126. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.No. 1127. Phillips v. Phillips. Judgment affirmed with costs. Appeal from the District Court of the District of Columbia.

I KNEW I TRADED AND GOT A BUNCH OF WOOL AND
A FEW MUTTON
CHOPS BUT I DIDN'T KNOW
I GOT A PET.

HE COMES TO GET HIS HEAD SCRATCHED
UNCLE AVERY.

I DON'T UNDERSTAND
IT YET. T.N.T.'S REPUTATION
AS A BAD ACTOR SEEMS TO BE TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

PROBABLY
HE WAS MEANT TO BE.

IT'S LIFE YOU OUGHT HEAR
BAD THINGS ABOUT FOLKS BUT
WHEN YOU GET TO KNOW THEM
THEY'RE NO WORSE THAN ANYBODY ELSE.

T.N.T. IS
A MONEY.

IT'S LIFE YOU OUGHT HEAR
BAD THINGS ABOUT FOLKS BUT
WHEN YOU GET TO KNOW THEM
THEY'RE NO WORSE THAN ANYBODY ELSE.

T.N.T. IS
A MONEY.

IT'S LIFE YOU OUGHT HEAR
BAD THINGS ABOUT FOLKS BUT
WHEN YOU GET TO KNOW THEM
THEY'RE NO WORSE THAN ANYBODY ELSE.

T.N.T. IS
A MONEY.

IT'S LIFE YOU OUGHT HEAR
BAD THINGS ABOUT FOLKS BUT
WHEN YOU GET TO KNOW THEM
THEY'RE NO WORSE THAN ANYBODY ELSE.

T.N.T. IS
A MONEY.

IT'S LIFE YOU OUGHT HEAR
BAD THINGS ABOUT FOLKS BUT
WHEN YOU GET TO KNOW THEM
THEY'RE NO WORSE THAN ANYBODY ELSE.

T.N.T. IS
A MONEY.

Roper Praises
Bar's NRA AidAt Duke University, He Says Lawyers Can Help
Program Greatly.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 30 (U.P.).—The American Bar Association is arising to the needs of the present-day situation, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper declared tonight in an address on "Opportunities and Responsibilities of Lawyers and Law Schools in These Critical Times."

Roper spoke before the bar of Duke University, of which he is an alumnus. He returned today to the campus for the second time since he became a Cabinet member last March.

"The success of the New Deal and the success of the President's entire program for National recovery will depend in no small measure upon the attitude of the lawyers of this country, in properly informing and truthfully guiding the people," Roper said.

"Those lawyers throughout the country who have volunteered their services without compensation to NRA headquarters in various cities are fulfilling high functions of social duty. Their example may well be cited as one which all lawyers can follow in rendering a great social service to their community."

U. of Md. Pledging Today.

The eleven University of Maryland social fraternities will observe the annual pledging ceremony today. Silence period began Sunday night.

L. L. PERKINS

United States District Court
Phone National 9075 1512 K St. N.W.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of an act

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia

AUCTION SALES

(Continued.)

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1933.

THOMAS J. OWEN & SON, Auctioneers.

1431 Eye Street N.W.

TRUSTEES' SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

BEING TWO-STORY BRICK DWELLING CONTAINING SIX ROOMS

KNOWN AS 208 DOWNEY STREET NORTHEAST

By virtue of a certain deed of trust recorded in Liber No. 5724 at folio 407 of the land records of the District of Columbia, and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned trustee, at public auction in front of the premises on THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1933, at THREE-THIRTY O'CLOCK P. M.

the following described premises, to-wit: A certain lot in the District of Columbia and being numbered sixty-eight (68) in subdivision made by Jacobus, Jr., and recorded in Liber No. 73, folio 14, of the land records of the District of Columbia.

The balance of the purchase price to be paid one-fourth of the purchase price in cash, the balance to be paid in installments of one-third and one-third, respectively, with interest at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum, payable quarterly, on the first day of each month, beginning on the first day of the month of January, 1934, and continuing until the full payment of the purchase price has been made.

The purchaser shall take the premises subject to the existing mortgage of the United States Trust Company of New York, recorded in Liber No. 5724 at folio 407, and to all other liens and encumbrances.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all taxes and assessments due on the premises at the time of sale, and to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

The purchaser shall also be bound to pay all other charges and expenses of the sale.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS

LOANS SECURED ON AUTOS.
1004 EYE ST. N.W. MET. 8662.

MONEY TO LOAN

26
MONEY TO LOAN on reasonable basis of good character. 2000 LINCOLN SERVICE
Bldg., Suite 200, Woodward Bldg.
Phone National 2003.

ON diamonds, watches, jewelry, silverware and all valuable personal property. Lowest rates. Reasonable. Quickest Service.
FIDELITY PLAN CORP., 1409 L St. N.W.

WANTED—TO BORROW

28
LADY OWNER seeks to renew $7,000 1st trust on home in high-class residential section at 1502 21st St. N.W. Intersection at once. Box 63, The Washington Post.

INSTRUCTION COURSES

BUSINESS COURSES—Our individual instruction courses save time and money.
Foster's Business College, Nat. 4717.

BALANCING machine open! Fast electric machines, each with 1000 lbs. weight.
Instruction; reasonable. AD 8000.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS for stenographers and typists. Special classes for night covering required subjects. Best night school in Washington. Call enrolment. 1400 L St. N.W. Commercial
Bldg., 1st floor. Phone 3000.

CONTRACT BRIDGE STUDY—Lessons
open every day. Mrs. Dixie T. Wright, certified teacher. 1400 L St. N.W.
Met. 2181.

FRANCHISE—Conversion courses or private tuition. Young Frenchman, 1400 L St. N.W.
Teacher from Paris. Call DL 4615 after 5 p.m.

GREEN'S SCHOOL OF BEAUTY CULTURE
Night and day classes. Terms. Madam
Louise in charge. AD 8623. 1235 Natl.
Press Bldg.

PERKINS STENOGRAPHY—Steno. shorthand classes. All levels. 1400 L St. N.W.
Call DL 4615 after 5 p.m.

W. F. DALRYMPLE, Ph.D.
(Formerly of Central H.) Private tutor
1100 New York Ave. N.W. Phone 3000.

PREPARE FOR A BETTER POSITION
Gress shorthand for beginners. Review classes for stenographers and typists.
Classes 60 to 160 words a minute for all classes. 1400 L St. N.W.
English, Latin, French and other languages. Day and evening. Register now.
STENOGRAPHY SCHOOL, 1400 L St. N.W.
Home Bldg., Nat. 1748, 1750.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM.
Special preparation for stenographic and typist examinations. Courses prepared for every subject. Stenographic and typist. General tests every day and evening. 1400 L St. N.W.
The Civil Service Preparatory School.
1400 L St. N.W. Phone 3000.

CIVIL SERVICE COURSES
SPEED INSTRUCTION FOR STENOGRAPHY
AND TYPEWRITING. Special classes for stenographers and typists. 1400 L St. N.W.
English, Latin, French and other languages. Day and evening. Register now.
STENOGRAPHY SCHOOL, 1400 L St. N.W.
Home Bldg., Nat. 1748, 1750.

Typists and Stenographers
Instruction and practice in all subjects contained in civil service examinations for junior and senior positions. Stenography, day and evening. Register now.
MOUNT PLEASANT SCHOOL.
1400 L St. N.W. Phone 3000.

FOR SECRETARIES
Typists and Stenographers
Instruction and practice in all subjects contained in civil service examinations for junior and senior positions. Stenography, day and evening. Register now.
MOUNT PLEASANT SCHOOL.
1400 L St. N.W. Phone 3000.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS
Stenographic. $1,400-$1,620
Typist. $1,400-$1,620
Special coaching for subjects in dictation, shorthand, typewriting, English and French. 1400 L St. N.W.
The Civil Service Preparatory School.
1400 L St. N.W. Phone 3000.

BOYD SCHOOL
1333 P St. (opp. Post) Nat. 2340

DOGS—CATS—POYS
KITTENS—Pedigreed tabbies; browns and silver; Irish setters; reasonable. 1700
Mass ave. S.E.

PETS BOARDED; nearby country 1700
Mass ave. S.E. 1700 Mass ave. S.E.

POPPERS—Boston ball terriers; pedigree;
King Charles; 1333 Kennedy St. N.W. GE 3378.

POPPERS—BOSTON TERRIERS; PEDIGREE;
PROCTER ADAMS 3180 20th St. N.W.

PERKINSON'S BOSTON AND IRISH TERriers. Strong, healthy, beautiful and lovable.
See Highway 10, Route No. 211.
10 miles west of Fairfax, Va.

HORSES—CATTLE
RIDING HORSES—Will provide good home, feed and care for your riding horse for $100 a month. 1700 Mass ave. S.E.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE 35
ADDRESSOGRAPH—Hand power, electric cabinet, typewriter, office furniture, electric typewriter; bargain for cash. Call Col.
8919 for appointment.

ANTIQUES—Desk, chest of drawers, dining room and bedroom furniture. 1400 L St. N.W.
Call 8919 for appointment.

BEAUTY PARLOR EQUIPMENT—Complete,
all up-to-date. 1400 L St. N.W. Call
1024 N. Capitol St. AD 4711.

BOLLE—Large, elegant, steel truss, roof trusses, and doors on terms. 1400 L St. N.W.
Call 1024 N. Capitol St. AD 4711.

CASH REGISTERS—New and second-hand;
cash registers, 1400 L St. N.W. Call
1024 N. Capitol St. AD 4711.

DANCE COSTUMES—Suitable for Halloween, 10-12-14 years; good condition. 2777.

DIAMOND RINGS, antique and modern jewelry; sacrifice prices. 1800 45th St. N.W.

DIAMOND—Beautiful dinner ring. $25.
Call after 5 p.m. 1400 L St. N.W.

DIAMOND—Sealed—only any length delivered anywhere. $100. 1400 L St. N.W.
Call 1024 N. Capitol St. AD 4711.

FURNITURE—Cherry, mahogany, china
cabinet, 4 chairs; refs. GE 9104.

FURNITURE—Oak dining-room, china
cabinet, 4 chairs; refs. GE 9104.

FURNITURE—Oak dining-room, china
cabinet, 4 chairs; refs. GE 9104.

PIANO—Rebuilt Steinway grand, mahogany case, $1500. 1400 L St. N.W.

PIANOS FOR RENT—Up to $250 and 50¢ per mo. 1400 L St. N.W. Call 1024 N. Capitol St. AD 4711.

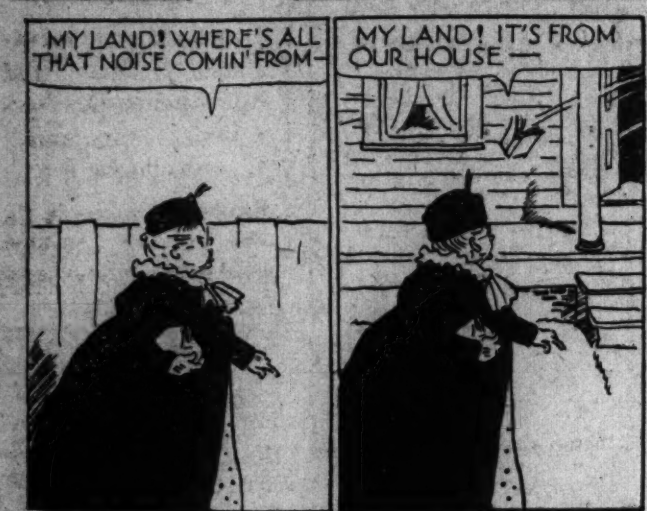

RUG BUYERS—Have few imported rugs;
Oriental, Chinese, Persian and other patterns; sizes (7x10, 9x12, 11x13, 12x14, 13x15, 14x16, 15x17, 16x18, 17x19, 18x20, 19x21, 20x22, 21x23, 22x24, 23x25, 24x26, 25x27, 26x28, 27x29, 28x30, 29x31, 30x32, 31x33, 32x34, 33x35, 34x36, 35x37, 36x38, 37x39, 38x40, 39x41, 40x42, 41x43, 42x44, 43x45, 44x46, 45x47, 46x48, 47x49, 48x50, 49x51, 50x52, 51x53, 52x54, 53x55, 54x56, 55x57, 56x58, 57x59, 58x60, 59x61, 60x62, 61x63, 62x64, 63x65, 64x66, 65x67, 66x68, 67x69, 68x70, 69x71, 70x72, 71x73, 72x74, 73x75, 74x76, 75x77, 76x78, 77x79, 78x80, 79x81, 80x82, 81x83, 82x84, 83x85, 84x86, 85x87, 86x88, 87x89, 88x90, 89x91, 90x92, 91x93, 92x94, 93x95, 94x96, 95x97, 96x98, 97x99, 98x100, 99x101, 100x102, 101x103, 102x104, 103x105, 104x106, 105x107, 106x108, 107x109, 108x110, 109x111, 110x112, 111x113, 112x114, 113x115, 114x116, 115x117, 116x118, 117x119, 118x120, 119x121, 120x122, 121x123, 122x124, 123x125, 124x126, 125x127, 126x128, 127x129, 128x130, 129x131, 130x132, 131x133, 132x134, 133x135, 134x136, 135x137, 136x138, 137x139, 138x140, 139x141, 140x142, 141x143, 142x144, 143x145, 144x146, 145x147, 146x148, 147x149, 148x150, 149x151, 150x152, 151x153, 152x154, 153x155, 154x156, 155x157, 156x158, 157x159, 158x160, 159x161, 160x162, 161x163, 162x164, 163x165, 164x166, 165x167, 166x168, 167x169, 168x170, 169x171, 170x172, 171x173, 172x174, 173x175, 174x176, 175x177, 176x178, 177x179, 178x180, 179x181, 180x182, 181x183, 182x184, 183x185, 184x186, 185x187, 186x188, 187x189, 188x190, 189x191, 190x192, 191x193, 192x194, 193x195, 194x196, 195x197, 196x198, 197x199, 198x200, 199x201, 200x202, 201x203, 202x204, 203x205, 204x206, 205x207, 206x208, 207x209, 208x210, 209x211, 210x212, 211x213, 212x214, 213x215, 214x216, 215x217, 216x218, 217x219, 218x220, 219x221, 220x222, 221x223, 222x224, 223x225, 224x226, 225x227, 226x228, 227x229, 228x230, 229x231, 230x232, 231x233, 232x234, 233x235, 234x236, 235x237, 236x238, 237x239, 238x240, 239x241, 240x242, 241x243, 242x244, 243x245, 244x246, 245x247, 246x248, 247x249, 248x250, 249x251, 250x252, 251x253, 252x254, 253x255, 254x256, 255x257, 256x258, 257x259, 258x260, 259x261, 260x262, 261x263, 262x264, 263x265, 264x266, 265x267, 266x268, 267x269, 268x270, 269x271, 270x272, 271x273, 272x274, 273x275, 274x276, 275x277, 276x278, 277x279, 278x280, 279x281, 280x282, 281x283, 282x284, 283x285, 284x286, 285x287, 286x288, 287x289, 288x290, 289x291, 290x292, 291x293, 292x294, 293x295, 294x296, 295x297, 296x298, 297x299, 298x300, 299x301, 300x302, 301x303, 302x304, 303x305, 304x306, 305x307, 306x308, 307x309, 308x310, 309x311, 310x312, 311x313, 312x314, 313x315, 314x316, 315x317, 316x318, 317x319, 318x320, 319x321, 320x322, 321x323, 322x324, 323x325, 324x326, 325x327, 326x328, 327x329, 328x330, 329x331, 330x332, 331x333, 332x334, 333x335, 334x336, 335x337, 336x338, 337x339, 338x340, 339x341, 340x342, 341x343, 342x344, 343x345, 344x346, 345x347, 346x348, 347x349, 348x350, 349x351, 350x352, 351x353, 352x354, 353x355, 354x356, 355x357, 356x358, 357x359, 358x360, 359x361, 360x362, 361x363, 362x364, 363x365, 364x366, 365x367, 366x368, 367x369, 368x370, 369x371, 370x372, 371x373, 372x374, 373x375, 374x376, 375x377, 376x378, 377x379, 378x380, 379x381, 380x382, 381x383, 382x384, 383x385, 384x386, 385x387, 386x388, 387x389, 388x390, 389x391, 390x392, 391x393, 392x394, 393x395, 394x396, 395x397, 396x398, 397x399, 398x400, 399x401, 400x402, 401x403, 402x404, 403x405, 404x406, 405x407, 406x408, 407x409, 408x410, 409x411, 410x412, 411x413, 412x414, 413x415, 414x416, 415x417, 416x418, 417x419, 418x420, 419x421, 420x422, 421x423, 422x424, 423x425, 424x426, 425x427, 426x428, 427x429, 428x430, 429x431, 430x432, 431x433, 432x434, 433x435, 434x436, 435x437, 436x438, 437x439, 438x440, 439x441, 440x442, 441x443, 442x444, 443x445, 444x446, 445x447, 446x448, 447x449, 448x450, 449x451, 450x452, 451x453, 452x454, 453x455, 454x456, 455x457, 456x458, 457x459, 458x460, 459x461, 460x462, 461x463, 462x464, 463x465, 464x466, 465x467, 466x468, 467x469, 468x470, 469x471, 470x472, 471x473, 472x474, 473x475, 474x476, 475x477, 476x478, 477x479, 478x480, 479x481, 480x482, 481x483, 482x484, 483x485, 484x486, 485x487, 486x488, 487x489, 488x490, 489x491, 490x492, 491x493, 492x494, 493x495, 494x496, 495x497, 496x498, 497x499, 498x500, 499x501, 500x502, 501x503, 502x504, 503x505, 504x506, 505x507, 506x508, 507x509, 508x510, 509x511, 510x512, 511x513, 512x514, 513x515, 514x516, 515x517, 516x518, 517x519, 518x520, 519x521, 520x522, 521x523, 522x524, 523x525, 524x526, 525x527, 526x528, 527x529, 528x530, 529x531, 530x532, 531x533, 532x534, 533x535, 534x536, 535x537, 536x538, 537x539, 538x540, 539x541, 540x542, 541x543, 542x544, 543x545, 544x546, 545x547, 546x548, 547x549, 548x550, 549x551, 550x552, 551x553, 552x554, 553x555, 554x556, 555x557, 556x558, 557x559, 558x560, 559x561, 560x562, 561x563, 562x564, 563x565, 564x566, 565x567, 566x568, 567x569, 568x570, 569x571, 570x572, 571x573, 572x574, 573x575, 574x576, 575x577, 576x578, 577x579, 578x580, 579x581, 580x582, 581x583, 582x584, 583x585, 584x586, 585x587, 586x588, 587x589, 588x590, 589x591, 590x592, 591x593, 592x594, 593x595, 594x596, 595x597, 596x598, 597x599, 598x600, 599x601, 600x602, 601x603, 602x604, 603x605, 604x606, 605x607, 606x608, 607x609, 608x610, 609x611, 610x612, 611x613, 612x614, 613x615, 614x616, 615x617, 616x618, 617x619, 618x620, 619x621, 620x622, 621x623, 622x624, 623x625, 624x626, 625x627, 626x628, 627x629, 628x630, 629x631, 630x632, 631x633, 632x634, 633x635, 634x636, 635x637, 636x638, 637x639, 638x640, 639x641, 640x642, 641x643, 642x644, 643x645, 644x646, 645x647, 646x648, 647x649, 648x650, 649x651, 650x652, 651x653, 652x654, 653x655, 654x656, 655x657, 656x658, 657x659, 658x660, 659x661, 660x662, 661x663, 662x664, 663x665, 664x666, 665x667, 666x668, 667x669, 668x670, 669x671, 670x672, 671x673, 672x674, 673x675, 674x676, 675x677, 676x678, 677x679, 678x680, 679x681, 680x682, 681x683, 682x684, 683x685, 684x686, 685x687, 686x688, 687x689, 688x690, 689x691, 690x692, 691x693, 692x694, 693x695, 694x696, 695x697, 696x698, 697x699, 698x700, 699x701, 700x702, 701x703, 702x704, 703x705, 704x706, 705x707, 706x708, 707x709, 708x710, 709x711, 710x712, 711x713, 712x714, 713x715, 714x716, 715x717, 716x718, 717x719, 718x720, 719x721, 720x722, 721x723, 722x724, 723x725, 724x726, 725x727, 726x728, 727x729, 728x730, 729x731, 730x732, 731x733, 732x734, 733x735, 734x736, 735x737, 736x738, 737x739, 738x740, 739x741, 740x742, 741x743, 742x744, 743x745, 744x746, 745x747, 746x748, 747x749, 748x750, 749x751, 750x752, 751x753, 752x754, 753x755, 754x756, 755x757, 756x758, 757x759, 758x760, 759x761, 760x762, 761x763, 762x764, 763x765, 764x766, 765x767, 766x768, 767x769, 768x770, 769x771, 770x772, 771x773, 772x774, 773x775, 774x776, 775x777, 776x778, 777x779, 778x780, 779x781, 780x782, 781x783, 782x784, 783x785, 784x786, 785x787, 786x788, 787x789, 788x790, 789x791, 790x792, 791x793, 792x794, 793x795, 794x796, 795x797, 796x798, 797x799, 798x800, 799x801, 800x802, 801x803, 802x804, 803x805, 804x806, 805x807, 806x808, 807x809, 808x810, 809x811, 810x812, 811x813, 812x814, 813x815, 814x816, 815x817, 816x818, 817x819, 818x820, 819x821, 820x822, 821x823, 822x824, 823x825, 824x826, 825x827, 826x828, 827x829, 828x830, 829x831, 830x832, 831x833, 832x834, 833x835, 834x836, 835x837, 836x838, 837x839, 838x840, 839x841, 840x842, 841x843, 842x844, 843x845, 844x846, 845x847, 846x848, 847x849, 848x850, 849x851, 850x852, 851x853, 852x854, 853x855, 854x856, 855x857, 856x858, 857x859, 858x860, 859x861, 860x862, 861x863, 862x864, 863x865, 864x866, 865x867, 866x868, 867x869, 868x870, 869x871, 870x872, 871x873, 872x874, 873x875, 874x876, 875x877, 876x878, 877x879, 878x880, 879x881, 880x882, 881x883, 882x884, 883x885, 884x886, 885x887, 886x888, 887x889, 888x890, 889x891, 890x892, 891x893, 892x894, 893x895, 894x896, 895x897, 896x898, 897x899, 898x900, 899x901, 900x902, 901x903, 902x904, 903x905, 904x906, 905x907, 906x908, 907x909, 908x910, 909x911, 910x912, 911x913, 912x914, 913x915, 914x916, 915x917, 916x918, 917x919, 918x920, 919x921, 920x922, 921x923, 922x924, 923x925, 924x926, 925x927, 926x928, 927x929, 928x930, 929x931, 930x932, 931x933, 932x934, 933x935, 934x936, 935x937, 936x938, 937x939, 938x940, 939x941, 940x942, 941x943, 942x944, 943x945, 944x946, 945x947, 946x948, 947x949, 948x950, 949x951, 950x952, 951x953, 952x954, 953x955, 954x956, 955x957, 956x958, 957x959, 958x960, 959x961, 960x962, 961x963, 962x964, 963x965, 964x966, 965x967, 966x968, 967x969, 968x970, 969x971, 970x972, 971x973, 972x974, 973x975, 974x976, 975x977, 976x978, 977x979, 978x980, 979x981, 980x982, 981x983, 982x984, 983x985, 984x986, 985x987, 986x988, 987x989, 988x990, 989x991, 990x992, 991x993, 992x994, 993x995, 994x996, 995x997, 996x998, 997x999, 998x1000, 999x1001, 1000x1002, 1001x1003, 1002x1004, 1003

Read The Washington Post's Comics to Start Every Day With a Smile

"Cap" Stubbs

Rehearsals

By Edwina

Walt Mason, Himself

Against it. I am opposed to every plan that has been framed by mortal man. "I am against it," I observe, when statesmen show some modern curve and talk of measures that might aid in jacking up the Nation's trade. Perhaps I ought to wait a spell, and study all those measures well before I say they are a fraud, designed to swipe the poor man's wad. But I'm impatient to be heard, and swear such measures are absurd, and those who frame them are cheap skates, who'd spoil the whole United States. In home affairs I am the same; I am opposed to every game that calls for paying out a bone, that to my granddaddy was unknown. My relatives, all men of worth, are scattered over all the earth, and they're against all sort of things, and their united protest rings whenever there is talk of change, of measures novel, new and strange. Because of us plans meet defeat, and progress goes on leaden feet, and slumps wad, should be soon dispersed hang on for years and do their worst, and trade revivals which appear blow up and sink in mid-career, and while blue ruin is in sight, we pride ourselves on being right. "We are conservative," we say; "we'd have things done the good old way, we stick to landmarks tried and true, we are opposed to all things new, we are against whatever looks like something dug from modern books." The wonder is we are so proud of being an "against it" crowd.

(Copyright, 1933.)

Today's Crossword

ACROSS.

- 1 Stuff with a soft substance
- 5 Old
- 9 Writing material
- 14 Encourage
- 15 Title
- 16 Amount
- 17 Straight lines
- 18 Legislative
- 21 Coats with metal
- 22 Fodder pit
- 23 Dead
- 24 Still
- 25 Official papers for foreign travel
- 27 Was under obligation
- 29 Remains in expectation
- 30 Cover
- 31 Tablet
- 32 Foundation
- 33 City in Czechoslovakia
- 36 Article
- 37 Destiny
- 38 Card with three spots
- 39 Symbol for sulfurium
- 40 Freedom from disease
- 42 Regretted
- 43 Mottled appearance in mahogany
- 44 Shelter
- 45 Infant

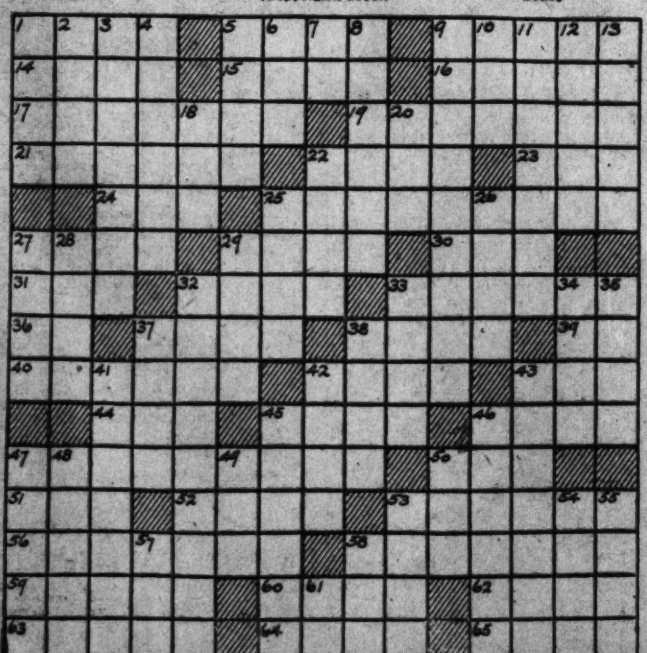

DOWN.

- 1 Stinging insect
- 2 Brother of Cain
- 3 Decomposed
- 4 Assured
- 5 Insects
- 6 Aeriform fluid
- 7 Type square
- 8 Cease
- 9 Dressed in a full suit of plate armor
- 10 Literary fragments
- 11 Old explosive devices
- 12 Chances by vote
- 13 Musical characters
- 18 Meshed fabric
- 20 Elevated railway
- 22 Water excursion
- 25 Pallid
- 26 Greasy
- 27 Large marine fish
- 28 Diminish
- 29 In the company of
- 32 Moon
- 33 Victim
- 34 English school
- 35 Necessity
- 37 Wingless insect
- 38 Pipe
- 41 Obanged
- 42 Grade
- 43 Act of reposing
- 45 Struck noisily
- 46 Threaten
- 47 Log floats
- 48 Accustom: var.
- 49 Electrified
- 50 -male ruff
- 53 Heavy wagon
- 54 Cards next below the Jack
- 55 Primordial Italian house
- 57 Fall behind
- 58 Cotton-sewing machine
- 61 Note of the scale

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle.

MAPS NAP PATH
ALEX EVA ASEA
CANT BARONIAL
ERGOT TEN ALL
UNAWARES
ALI FOR PALE
DENOTE HEALER
DASH SER LEG
OBDUATE
SEW YON SALAM
PRETENSE SURE
AIDA EEL TIME
TEST ETA EAST

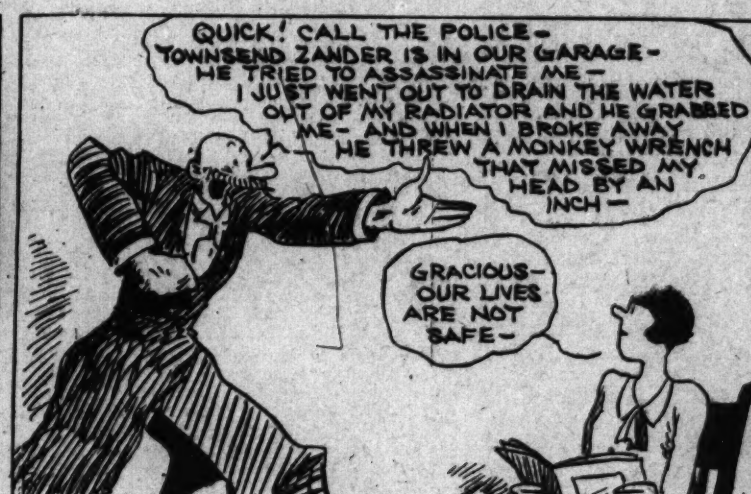

(Copyright, 1933.)

Napoleon and Uncle Elby

The Gumps

Townsend Again

Dixie Dugan

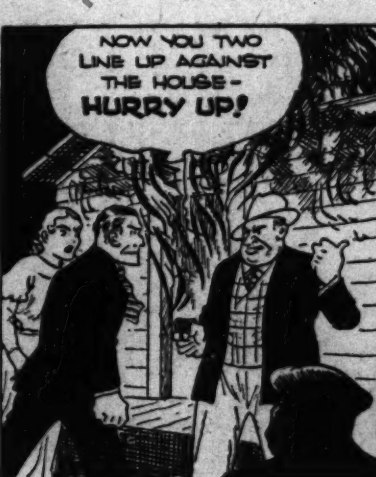

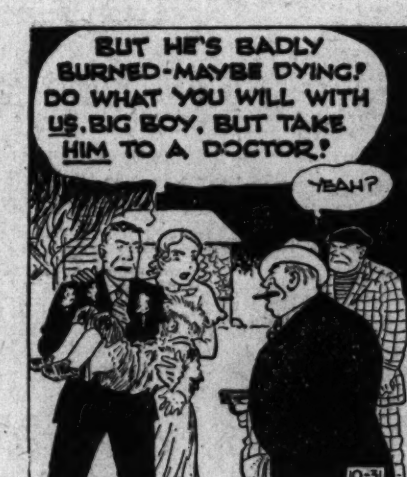

Wise Old Lady!

By J. P. McEvoy and J. H. Striebel

Dick Tracy

(Copyright, 1933, by the Chicago Tribune)

Up Against It

Baby Mine

MAH SAYS THE MAN NEXT DOOR IS SO NEAT-PEEKED HE CAN'T PASS A MAIL-BOX WITHOUT FEELING IN HIS POCKETS.

By Ham Fisher

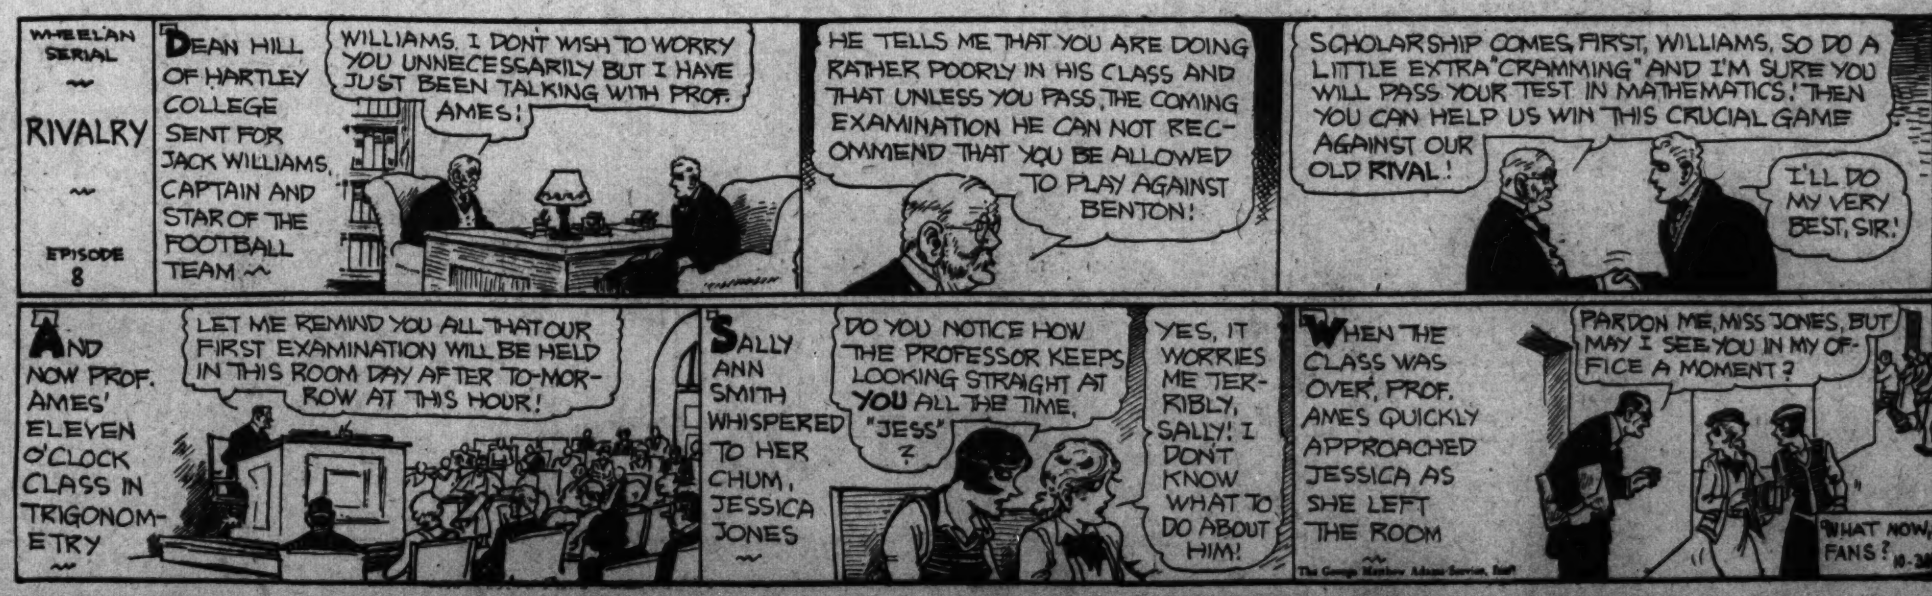

Joe Palooka

Caught

Minute Movies

(All rights protected by the George Matthew Adams Service. Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

By Ed Wheelan

Theaters and Night Clubs Make Elaborate Plans for an Hilarious Halloween

Midnight Show At All of the Film Theaters

Special Programs in Night Clubs; New Stars in Offing; Gossip.

Presumably a matter of some interest, if not positive importance, over the tea cups this morning, where the apple-bobbing, candle-blowing and over-the-shoulder mirror-gazing may best be done after dark tonight.

As a first aid to those intent on keeping alive the spirit of Halloween with a little carnival-making and indoor whoopee after nightfall, it may be pointed out again that practically all of the familiar spots for nocturnal merrymaking, as well as at least one new one, have made elaborate plans to accommodate gay multitudes from the first fall of darkness to the first crack of dawn, with all of the black cats, witches-on-broomsticks, papier mache pumpkins, noise makers and other concomitants of a festive dedication to the perpetuation of gay traditions thrown in.

The downtown motion picture houses, almost without exception, have laid careful plans to continue their performances well past midnight. The last stage bill will be begun at 9:30 and the last showing of the picture at 10:30 p. m.

RKO-Keith's similarly is stretching its day over into the early hours of Wednesday, with a final projection of the screen feature, beginning at 12 midnight.

Loew's Palace and Columbia theaters have extended their schedules to present their feature pictures for the last time beginning at 12:20 a. m., and 12:10 a. m., respectively.

Manager Rodney Colver of the Rialto announces that no change in his schedule will be made, but that all patrons of the late performance tonight will be presented with appropriate Halloween favors with the compliments of the management.

Night Clubs Gay Spots.
Among the night clubs, it is worthy of note that Washington's newest and most novel night spot will be thrown open to the public tonight at 9:30 when the Hangar Club will roll wide its doors.

Located in what was formerly the headquarters of the Ludington Line, the new club's decorations, entertainment, staff and cuisine will carry out the aeronautic motif to the extreme. Just across the road from the Washington Airport, even the atmosphere is charged with the spirit and commotions of aviation, planes and passengers arriving and departing throughout most of the night.

Music, as modern as the theme of the decorations, will be furnished by Charles Dawson and his "Musical Pilots," an importation from New York. A floor show, staged twice nightly, also imported from Broadway, will be presented and will be changed weekly.

A last-minute flash from the management is to the effect that Miss Joan Moss, singer and dancer, has been engaged as mistress of ceremonies. Miss Moss has just completed an engagement in Los Angeles and arrived in Washington only last week.

For their Halloween presentation at Pete Macias' new High-Ho Club, the Caninos, popular Spanish dancers, will offer a completely new program of numbers, featuring the "Cordova," a classic Spanish dance. Although performed many times by Escudero, that greatest of all Gypsy choreographic artists, the "Cordova" has never before been adapted to ballroom uses. Maestro Macias, incidentally, promises many novelties for tonight in the nature of soups, mrs. unprogrammed specialties and the like.

Company of 24.
The Shoreham, with its unparalleled environment, is presenting a company of 24 artists brought down especially for the occasion from New York and its own usual charm.

Walter Von Herbulis, at his popular Club Michel on Thomas Circle, has made every provision for overflow crowds that he confidently expects to be attracted by the size and excellence of his special floor show, the charm of Harry Albert's dance music and the surprises that are in store for his patrons.

The Russian Troika, with its distinctive atmosphere and entertainment, lends itself especially well to the exotic and colorful observance of Halloween and will greet the gala night with a comprehensive program of delightful novelties and the distinguished music of Sasha Shigrinsky's Orchestra.

At the Madrilion, Leon Brusiloff has made similar provisions for an evening of lively and irresistible dance tunes as a background for Host Borra's diverting floor show.

So if you can not manage to have a gay and festive time this Halloween, the fault would seem to be no one's but your very own. There it is, go get it!

In Search of "Shanghai Lil"

The dynamic and versatile James Cagney, as he appears in the final sequences of "Footlight Parade," opening Thursday night with a special 8:30 performance at the Metropolitan Theater. The artist has caught Mr. Cagney as the pensive, dancing glib in quest of his inamorata in one of the song hits of the picture. Mr. Cagney will astonish you with his "hoofing."

the band presents a charming pair of local dancers in effective "sister" routines.

The Warners Go Ga-Ga!

The Warner Brothers officials, it seems, are greatly excited over the acquisition of the versatile services of a brilliant young woman for whom they confidently predict great things within the short period of a year.

Sergava is the name of the new star just signed to a Warner contract. She is modestly described as a "composite of glamour, exoticism and beauty such as never before has been seen on the screen."

She was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, in 1910, and was forced to flee the revolution with her parents. Safe in Constantinople, she attended a French convent for two years. Eventually she reached New York after having spent some time in Italy and Greece. She became a ballet dancer with Mordkin, Fokine and others of the greatest stars of the classic school. She danced in Los Angeles at the Philharmonic Auditorium and appeared in Grand Opera productions in Philadelphia. She is a talented pianist. Among her other accomplishments are painting and singing. Her hair is red-gold and she wears it long. Her eyes are slate colored. She is 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 96 pounds. The first picture in which Sergava will appear on a Washington screen is "Bedside," starring Warren William.

Outside of these few meager accomplishments, quoted, of course, from the ecstatic Warner blurb, she seems to have nothing much to commend her!

Tallulah Bankhead, who crops up in these dispatches with more or less regularity, will be presented by Guthrie McClintic in "Queen Bees," "Jazzbel" in New York City on Tuesday night, December 12. There will be no preliminary performances out of town, according to this latest advice from Ray Henderson, chief mimeographer for the McClintic-Cornell enterprises.

This production has been delayed many weeks by Miss Bankhead's serious illness from which she is now happily recovering.

No Movie During Tour.
Another of Mr. Henderson's valuable contributions to these vagrant notes would be the news that may already have been anticipated in some quarters that the talking picture of Rudolf Besier's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," will not be released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer until July 1, 1934, in view of the extensive tour Katharine Cornell will make this winter in a repertory comprising this romance as well as "Romeo and Juliet" and "Candida."

As Miss Cornell consistently has declined to appear on the screen, she has arranged her forthcoming tour to include as many one-night stands as possible. In these cities she will act "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

In order to prepare adequately for the premiere performance of "Footlight Parade," the Warner Brothers extraordinary musical production, starring James Cagney, Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh and a host of others, which will open its engagement at the Metropolitan Theater on Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock, the last showing of "The Kennel Murder Case," with William Powell, Eugene Pallette, Mary Astor and Helen Vinson, will begin Thursday afternoon at 3.

The sale of tickets for the Metropolitan boxoffice as well as at the ten Warner neighborhood theaters in the Capital.

"Replying to Yours—"

For the benefit of those who have made inquiry by telegraph and otherwise, it may be said that the Ad. Menken whose photograph is on display in a window at the corner of Fifteenth street and New York avenue as a stage star of

Miss Ringold Cast as "Aida" In Post Opera

Tickets for Presentation Obtained by 4,500 News Subscribers.

Margaret Ringold, one of the most widely known of American-born operatic sopranos, yesterday was cast in the title role of "Aida," one of a series of eight grand operas.

The Washington Post, with the cooperation of the International Opera Company of New York is bringing to its readers this month.

In announcing the selection of Miss Ringold to take the leading dramatic part in what is probably the most popular of the Verdi operas, Maurice Frank, director of the opera company, said:

"Miss Ringold has sung 'Aida' in most of the important opera houses of Europe. I know of no one better fitted for a proper presentation of this important opera to Washington music lovers than she."

4,500 Obtain Tickets.
"Though Miss Ringold was born in New York City, she, like the majority of American opera stars, made her reputation in Europe, where she has done most of her outstanding work. She began her musical education in New York, continued it in South America and completed it in the opera houses of Germany, France and Italy."

"Her principal work since returning to this country has been with open-air operas in New York and Chicago and with the Cincinnati opera company."

More than 4,500 music lovers in the Capital area have taken advantage of The Post's offer to give readers reserved tickets for the operas, which open the week of Sunday, November 19, in Washington Auditorium, at half the opera company's prices, a check of the sales records at the Stief piano store, 1340 G street northwest, disclosed yesterday.

Seats Sold by Mail.
A copy of today's Post and 30, 46 or 55 cents is all that is required to secure a reserved seat to any of the operas with the exception of a special Saturday afternoon performance of "Aida" for high school music students of the Washington area, for which seats are selling at 25 and 40 cents.

Each opera—"Pagliacci," "Carmen," "Gloconda," "Rigoletto," "Traviata," "Faust," and "Trovatore"—will be presented complete and with the usual grand opera trappings, costume, chorus, ballet and orchestra.

Persons unable to make ticket purchases at the Stief store may mail their orders together with an identifiable portion of The Post to the International Opera Company, in care of the store or the Washington Auditorium.

Learn the power of tiny messages in Post Classified Ads. Low cost and quick response. Just phone National 4205.

Film Table

Feature pictures and stage shows scheduled:
RKO-Keith's—"Private Life of Henry VIII," at 11:43 a. m., 1:44, 3:45, 5:46, 7:47, 9:48 and 12 midnight.
Palace—"Tm No Angel," at 11:35 a. m., 1:40, 3:45, 5:50, 7:55, 10 p. m. and 12:20 a. m.
Loew's—"Meet the Baron," at 11:15 a. m., 1:35, 4:35, 7:30, 10:10 p. m. and 12:45 a. m. Stage shows at 1:05, 3:50, 6:40, 9:20 and 11:55 p. m.
Columbia—"Headline Shooter," at 11 a. m., 12:30, 2:10, 3:50, 5:30, 7:10, 8:50, 10:30 p. m. and 12:10 a. m.
Metropolitan—"Kennel Murder Case," at 11:40 a. m., 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:40 and 9:40 p. m.
Tivoli—"Too Much Harmony," at 2:30, 4:20, 6:05, 7:50 and 9:40 p. m.
Ambassador—"Ever in My Heart," at 8:15, 9:05 and 9:55 p. m.

Miss Ringold Cast as "Aida" In Post Opera

Tickets for Presentation Obtained by 4,500 News Subscribers.

Margaret Ringold, one of the most widely known of American-born operatic sopranos, yesterday was cast in the title role of "Aida," one of a series of eight grand operas.

The Washington Post, with the cooperation of the International Opera Company of New York is bringing to its readers this month.

In announcing the selection of Miss Ringold to take the leading dramatic part in what is probably the most popular of the Verdi operas, Maurice Frank, director of the opera company, said:

"Miss Ringold has sung 'Aida' in most of the important opera houses of Europe. I know of no one better fitted for a proper presentation of this important opera to Washington music lovers than she."

4,500 Obtain Tickets.
"Though Miss Ringold was born in New York City, she, like the majority of American opera stars, made her reputation in Europe, where she has done most of her outstanding work. She began her musical education in New York, continued it in South America and completed it in the opera houses of Germany, France and Italy."

"Her principal work since returning to this country has been with open-air operas in New York and Chicago and with the Cincinnati opera company."

More than 4,500 music lovers in the Capital area have taken advantage of The Post's offer to give readers reserved tickets for the operas, which open the week of Sunday, November 19, in Washington Auditorium, at half the opera company's prices, a check of the sales records at the Stief piano store, 1340 G street northwest, disclosed yesterday.

Seats Sold by Mail.
A copy of today's Post and 30, 46 or 55 cents is all that is required to secure a reserved seat to any of the operas with the exception of a special Saturday afternoon performance of "Aida" for high school music students of the Washington area, for which seats are selling at 25 and 40 cents.

Each opera—"Pagliacci," "Carmen," "Gloconda," "Rigoletto," "Traviata," "Faust," and "Trovatore"—will be presented complete and with the usual grand opera trappings, costume, chorus, ballet and orchestra.

Persons unable to make ticket purchases at the Stief store may mail their orders together with an identifiable portion of The Post to the International Opera Company, in care of the store or the Washington Auditorium.

Learn the power of tiny messages in Post Classified Ads. Low cost and quick response. Just phone National 4205.

AMUSEMENTS

RKO KEITH'S
NOW PLAYING
(8:00, 10:00, 12:00 a.m.)
and Tonight an added
HALLOWEEN MIDNIGHT SHOW
NO SPOOKS!
NO GOBLINS!
BUT...
The most extraordinary picture you ever saw
THE PRIVATE LIFE OF HENRY THE 8TH starring
CHARLES LAUGHTON
Continuous Performance
Last Feature at 12 O'CLOCK MIDNIGHT
Coming
CONSTANCE BENNETT in a dramatic innovation with GILBERT ROLAND
"After Tonight"

NEXT SUNDAY 4 P.M.

TIBBETT IN PERSON

Baritone Solo of Concert
Overtures and Songs in Full Two-Hour Concert
CONSTITUTIONAL SALE
Seated $1.50, $2.50, $3.50, $4.50, $5.50, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50, $9.50, $10.50, $11.50, $12.50, $13.50, $14.50, $15.50, $16.50, $17.50, $18.50, $19.50, $20.50, $21.50, $22.50, $23.50, $24.50, $25.50, $26.50, $27.50, $28.50, $29.50, $30.50, $31.50, $32.50, $33.50, $34.50, $35.50, $36.50, $37.50, $38.50, $39.50, $40.50, $41.50, $42.50, $43.50, $44.50, $45.50, $46.50, $47.50, $48.50, $49.50, $50.50, $51.50, $52.50, $53.50, $54.50, $55.50, $56.50, $57.50, $58.50, $59.50, $60.50, $61.50, $62.50, $63.50, $64.50, $65.50, $66.50, $67.50, $68.50, $69.50, $70.50, $71.50, $72.50, $73.50, $74.50, $75.50, $76.50, $77.50, $78.50, $79.50, $80.50, $81.50, $82.50, $83.50, $84.50, $85.50, $86.50, $87.50, $88.50, $89.50, $90.50, $91.50, $92.50, $93.50, $94.50, $95.50, $96.50, $97.50, $98.50, $99.50, $100.50, $101.50, $102.50, $103.50, $104.50, $105.50, $106.50, $107.50, $108.50, $109.50, $110.50, $111.50, $112.50, $113.50, $114.50, $115.50, $116.50, $117.50, $118.50, $119.50, $120.50, $121.50, $122.50, $123.50, $124.50, $125.50, $126.50, $127.50, $128.50, $129.50, $130.50, $131.50, $132.50, $133.50, $134.50, $135.50, $136.50, $137.50, $138.50, $139.50, $140.50, $141.50, $142.50, $143.50, $144.50, $145.50, $146.50, $147.50, $148.50, $149.50, $150.50, $151.50, $152.50, $153.50, $154.50, $155.50, $156.50, $157.50, $158.50, $159.50, $160.50, $161.50, $162.50, $163.50, $164.50, $165.50, $166.50, $167.50, $168.50, $169.50, $170.50, $171.50, $172.50, $173.50, $174.50, $175.50, $176.50, $177.50, $178.50, $179.50, $180.50, $181.50, $182.50, $183.50, $184.50, $185.50, $186.50, $187.50, $188.50, $189.50, $190.50, $191.50, $192.50, $193.50, $194.50, $195.50, $196.50, $197.50, $198.50, $199.50, $200.50, $201.50, $202.50, $203.50, $204.50, $205.50, $206.50, $207.50, $208.50, $209.50, $210.50, $211.50, $212.50, $213.50, $214.50, $215.50, $216.50, $217.50, $218.50, $219.50, $220.50, $221.50, $222.50, $223.50, $224.50, $225.50, $226.50, $227.50, $228.50, $229.50, $230.50, $231.50, $232.50, $233.50, $234.50, $235.50, $236.50, $237.50, $238.50, $239.50, $240.50, $241.50, $242.50, $243.50, $244.50, $245.50, $246.50, $247.50, $248.50, $249.50, $250.50, $251.50, $252.50, $253.50, $254.50, $255.50, $256.50, $257.50, $258.50, $259.50, $260.50, $261.50, $262.50, $263.50, $264.50, $265.50, $266.50, $267.50, $268.50, $269.50, $270.50, $271.50, $272.50, $273.50, $274.50, $275.50, $276.50, $277.50, $278.50, $279.50, $280.50, $281.50, $282.50, $283.50, $284.50, $285.50, $286.50, $287.50, $288.50, $289.50, $290.50, $291.50, $292.50, $293.50, $294.50, $295.50, $296.50, $297.50, $298.50, $299.50, $300.50, $301.50, $302.50, $303.50, $304.50, $305.50, $306.50, $307.50, $308.50, $309.50, $310.50, $311.50, $312.50, $313.50, $314.50, $315.50, $316.50, $317.50, $318.50, $319.50, $320.50, $321.50, $322.50, $323.50, $324.50, $325.50, $326.50, $327.50, $328.50, $329.50, $330.50, $331.50, $332.50, $333.50, $334.50, $335.50, $336.50, $337.50, $338.50, $339.50, $340.50, $341.50, $342.50, $343.50, $344.50, $345.50, $346.50, $347.50, $348.50, $349.50, $350.50, $351.50, $352.50, $353.50, $354.50, $355.50, $356.50, $357.50, $358.50, $359.50, $360.50, $361.50, $362.50, $363.50, $364.50, $365.50, $366.50, $367.50, $368.50, $369.50, $370.50, $371.50, $372.50, $373.50, $374.50, $375.50, $376.50, $377.50, $378.50, $379.50, $380.50, $381.50, $382.50, $383.50, $384.50, $385.50, $386.50, $387.50, $388.50, $389.50, $390.50, $391.50, $392.50, $393.50, $394.50, $395.50, $396.50, $397.50, $398.50, $399.50, $400.50, $401.50, $402.50, $403.50, $404.50, $405.50, $406.50, $407.50, $408.50, $409.50, $410.50, $411.50, $412.50, $413.50, $414.50, $415.50, $416.50, $417.50, $418.50, $419.50, $420.50, $421.50, $422.50, $423.50, $424.50, $425.50, $426.50, $427.50, $428.50, $429.50, $430.50, $431.50, $432.50, $433.50, $434.50, $435.50, $436.50, $437.50, $438.50, $439.50, $440.50, $441.50, $442.50, $443.50, $444.50, $445.50, $446.50, $447.50, $448.50, $449.50, $450.50, $451.50, $452.50, $453.50, $454.50, $455.50, $456.50, $457.50, $458.50, $459.50, $460.50, $461.50, $462.50, $463.50, $464.50, $465.50, $466.50, $467.50, $468.50, $469.50, $470.50, $471.50, $472.50, $473.50, $474.50, $475.50, $476.50, $477.50, $478.50, $479.50, $480.50, $481.50, $482.50, $483.50, $484.50, $485.50, $486.50, $487.50, $488.50, $489.50, $490.50, $491.50, $492.50, $493.50, $494.50, $495.50, $496.50, $497.50, $498.50, $499.50, $500.50, $501.50, $502.50, $503.50, $504.50, $505.50, $506.50, $507.50, $508.50, $509.50, $510.50, $511.50, $512.50, $513.50, $514.50, $515.50, $516.50, $517.50, $518.50, $519.50, $520.50, $521.50, $522.50, $523.50, $524.50, $525.50, $526.50, $527.50, $528.50, $529.50, $530.50, $531.50, $532.50, $533.50, $534.50, $535.50, $536.50, $537.50, $538.50, $539.50, $540.50, $541.50, $542.50, $543.50, $544.50, $545.50, $546.50, $547.50, $548.50, $549.50, $550.50, $551.50, $552.50, $553.50, $554.50, $555.50, $556.50, $557.50, $558.50, $559.50, $560.50, $561.50, $562.50, $563.50, $564.50, $565.50, $566.50, $567.50, $568.50, $569.50, $570.50, $571.50, $572.50, $573.50, $574.50, $575.50, $576.50, $577.50, $578.50, $579.50, $580.50, $581.50, $582.50, $583.50, $584.50, $585.50, $586.50, $587.50, $588.50, $589.50, $590.50, $591.50, $592.50, $593.50, $594.50, $595.50, $596.50, $597.50, $598.50, $599.50, $600.50, $601.50, $602.50, $603.50, $604.50, $605.50, $606.50, $607.50, $608.50, $609.50, $610.50, $611.50, $612.50, $613.50, $614.50, $615.50, $616.50, $617.50, $618.50, $619.50, $620.50, $621.50, $622.50, $623.50, $624.50, $625.50, $626.50, $627.50, $628.50, $629.50, $630.50, $631.50, $632.50, $633.50, $634.50, $635.50, $636.50, $637.50, $638.50, $639.50, $640.50, $641.50, $642.50, $643.50, $644.50, $645.50, $646.50, $647.50, $648.50, $649.50, $650.50, $651.50, $652.50, $653.50, $654.50, $655.50, $656.50, $657.50, $658.50, $659.50, $660.50, $661.50, $662.50, $663.50, $664.50, $665.50, $666.50, $667.50, $668.50, $669.50, $670.50, $671.50, $672.50, $673.50, $674.50, $675.50, $676.50, $677.50, $678.50, $679.50, $680.50, $681.50, $682.50, $683.50, $684.50, $685.50, $686.50, $687.50, $688.50, $689.50, $690.50, $691.50, $692.50, $693.50, $694.50, $695.50, $696.50, $697.50, $698.50, $699.50, $700.50, $701.50, $702.50, $703.50, $704.50, $705.50, $706.50, $707.50, $708.50, $709.50, $710.50, $711.50, $712.50, $713.50, $714.50, $715.50, $716.50, $717.50, $718.50, $719.50, $720.50, $721.50, $722.50, $723.50, $724.50, $725.50, $726.50, $727.50, $728.50, $729.50, $730.50, $731.50, $732.50, $733.50, $734.50, $735.50, $736.50, $737.50, $738.50, $739.50, $740.50, $741.50, $742.50, $743.50, $744.50, $745.50, $746.50, $747.50, $748.50, $749.50, $750.50, $751.50, $752.50, $753.50, $754.50, $755.50, $756.50, $757.50, $758.50, $759.50, $760.50, $761.50, $762.50, $763.50, $764.50, $765.50, $766.50, $767.50, $768.50, $769.50, $770.50, $771.50, $772.50, $773.50, $774.50, $775.50, $776.50, $777.50, $778.50, $779.50, $780.50, $781.50, $782.50, $783.50, $784.50, $785.50,